HARDWARE

I sometimes wonder where it all goes—we unload every day and put up stock, refill the bins and shelves. Today we unloaded Armstrong linoleum, Bolce paint, stepadders, poultry netting, fence, steel posts, nails, door guards, screen doors, letters for mail box names, keys for our key machine, lawn mowers, grass sickles, thermos jugs, fishing tackle, curtain stretchers, hand tobacco setters. We sell a lot of different items every day and I know we don't have or sell it all. Greger brings in Bolce paint about three times a week.

Clay Kerns bought a mule collar and pad, also some bolts for his mather-in-law, Mrs. Vest, over Verona way, then he bought himself a glass fly rod. We had more fishermen Saturday—we sold fish tackle and licenses all day. Mrs. J. P. Brothers called for me to send her 24 ft. of Armstrong linoleum and one of those Walkerware heavy aluminum dish pans. Joe Kennedy, up at the Gay 90's, bought a lot of fence and steel fence posts. Elsie Jack was in getting wool bags and twine—it is time to shear sheep, and we have the bags, twine, knives, combs and the electric Shear-master—you can shear your own.

I have a 54-inch double drain kitchen sink, made by Murray, and it is heavy as well as saw white for only $129—a bargain. Now is the time to buy a Dayton shallow well pump with 18-gallon tank for $76.50, also a Jet Dayton pump for $99.50. We have a shipment of hydraulic hose and couplings for those tractors, also steering knobs and seat covers for tractors. We also sell a lot of calf buckets, cow and calf weaners, mule traps and rat poison, of which we have a dozen kinds.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Works from over on Hemphill Road, were in today and bought two rooms of yard goods Armstrong linoleum, a 12x12 rug, and lots of Bolce paint. Brewster delivered Mrs. Bessie Webster down at Zion Station, a new Maytag washer. Earnest Price and wife bought Armstrong linoleum, then Earnest bought a Pfeiffer reel—he is a fisherman. Hugh Arnold and India Lee blew in today from California—both look fine and I believe they are glad to get back to Old Kentucky. Rev. T. C. Crume, came from Florence, bought a set of harness for his mules, and Mrs. Crume bought a lot of Bolce interior liquid satin wall paint. This is another new Bolce paint customer. They tell each other what fine point Bolce is and what a wonderful job it does and costs so little. Mrs. Crume was back for more of the Bolce liquid satin flat wall paint—we sell lots of it.

About that time Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fooks came in and Brewster showed them our line of new Perfection electric ranges—they always buy the best, so Brewster installed the best Perfection electric range he had.

this afternoon—Mrs. Fooks looked super on it—that is the fast service you get at Conrad Hardware.

Mr. Webster, over Kenton way, a brother of James Webster of High School Court, went several places for 12-inch hay frame clamps, but when he came to Conrad's we stopped his hunting. Wm. Hopkins bought a Mastercut rotary mower for his wife to use. Omer Kite was in a few minutes, sold every time he came to Walton it cost him $10 or more, but he had the $10 to buy what he wanted. Mrs. Arthur Linton bought Armstrong linoleum and Bolce interior glass. Mrs. Ethel Sheppard bought two Armstrong rugs.

Mrs. Lulu Grimes and Mrs. Preston Woods were buying Bolce quick drying white enamel—this is the whitest white enamel anyone ever used—ask Mrs. Grimes, she recommends it very highly. Chick made Mrs. Wendell Downing a set of clothes posts out of 1½-inch pipe; he also made Mrs. Wm. Upton two clothes line props out of ½-inch pipe. Claude Elliott from Knoxville, stopped and bought a Red Jacket sealer in pitcher pump to put in his milk house. We just received another shipment of Armstrong rugs in 9x12, 12x12 and 12x15 in beautiful new patterns.

Some fellow came in, who was a stranger to me, bought the best sickle grinder I had—said it always paid to buy the best—that's what I have always said—the best is the cheapest. Just put up a new shipment of Dr. Hess poultry and stock tonic, also a fresh barrel of Dr. Hess dip and disinfectant, also a new stock of rural mail boxes and name plates—everyone should have their name on a new or even an old mail box. Those power lawn mowers sure are selling—people I never saw before stop and buy a Mastercut or Eclipse—they know what they want.

Mrs. Neil Anderson, who just moved into the Jack Roberts house on Verona Road, bought a 9x17 foot piece of Armstrong linoleum. Mrs. Howard Moore got a lot of Armstrong linoleum and a screen door. Claude Robinson bought a lawn mower for her yard. Mrs. J. P. Brothers from Limaburg, and her daughter and mother were in again today—her mother, Mrs. Deans, bought a Maytag washer and plastic window shades; Mrs. Brothers bought paint brushes, paint and kettles. Monford Craft was getting Paris Green and Rotanone to be ready for potato bugs and bean beetles.

Spencer Reed bought an Eclipse rotary power lawn mower—it sure cuts that grass. Russell and Kate Sparks were in—Kate was buying Bolce paint, and sold a found a pointer. Here come Faye Sparks with a quart of orange shellac to return, and it wasn't even my brand—probably came from Sears Roebuck, but never argue with a lady, especially Faye, so I gave her the money for the shellac—she's a fine young lady.

Kenton Elementary PTA

The final meeting of the season of the Kenton Elementary School P.T.A., will be held this evening at 7:30, in the school. Miss Alice Williams, parliamentarian, will install the following new officers: Mrs. Wootson Ashcraft, president; Mrs. Robert West, secretary, and Mrs. Dwight Maddox, treasurer. The annual reports of all committees will be read. Group singing has been arranged, and refreshments will be served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Free Hospital Care

The demand in Congress for tighter rules governing free hospitalization for veterans has caused people to ask this question: Can any veteran, even though off, get free care? If his disability is service-connected, he can. For other disabilities, he gets hospital care at no charge, only if he signs a statement under oath that he is "not financially able to pay." But not this: The law provides that the veteran's own statement, "shall be accepted as sufficient evidence" that he can't pay. So, the Veterans' Administration, as a rule, doesn't do any checking.

O.E.C. Chapter, 493

Two new members were initiated in the O. E. S. Chapter, 493, Independence, last week (May 12). The candidates were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carson.

During the business section of the meeting, it was suggested to hold another initiation for new members coming into the chapter next month. The next regular meeting will be at 8 p. m., Tuesday, June 9, at the Independence Bank Bldg.

High School Graduates

Draft age will not be lowered to any great extent, after all. In most places, boys will be fairly safe until they are at least 19. The law allows taking them at 18½, but that isn't likely.

To help you consider all the possibilities, here is a list of five choices open to a boy getting out of high school this year: 1—Enter college, aiming for deferment; R.O.T.C. students have a good chance. 2—Enlist in the Navy or Air Force; if willing to serve four years. 3—Volunteer for immediate induction in the Army; for two years duty. 4—Enter an apprentice-training course, offering deferment up to two years. 5—Take a job and wait for the draft call.

WHITES TOWER—By Ernest J. Ryle

Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Ryle and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schrader of Cincinnati, Mrs. Wm. Gower and daughter, Debby, of Erlanger, and "Chuck" Reindinger and wife of Covington, called on this writer and wife, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Maude Brumback was on the sick list several days last week.

In spite of the rain, the firemen's supper was a big success and quite a neat sum was realized towards the purchase of a new pump for the Independence company.

Cyril Moorman and Mrs. Ringenback were visitors to Whites Tower, last Wednesday. They live in Latonia.

TOBACCO YIELDS UP

Tobacco yields in Grant county last year averaged 1,640 pounds an acre, or more than double yield in the early '30's, says Robert Hume, county agent for the University of Kentucky. Farmers have learned to fertilize heavily, Hume said. They use soil tests as a guide to grow good crops of wheat and witch to turn under as green manure. They also keep tobacco on land which is not subject to erosion.

My Conscience

Lesson for May 24, 1953

FOLLOW your conscience; but be sure you do not have the conscience of a donkey. This advice is old but still good. It is never right to go against your conscience; but it is very important to have your conscience right in the first place. Conscience is never quite automatic. It is not born in us so much as it is built-in. If it were born in us, that is to say if we were made so that we would never have to have any one explain to us the difference between right and wrong, and would always know by instinct just what is right in every situation, then not only would we all agree (which we don't), but if a child were brought up, say, by wolves, then he would know right from wrong just as unerringly as if he had been brought up in a Bishop's household. What is born in each of us is the capacity to tell right from wrong. Just as we are born with the capacity for speech. We have to learn to talk, likewise we have to learn right from wrong. Conscience is also the capacity for knowing what is right without thinking about it. It is a kind of moral habit, just as walking is a balancing habit.

I Am Not Alone

The best, the most reliable conscience in this world is the Christian conscience. A Christian has certain automatic moral attitudes; or rather these tend to become automatic with practice. Watch a trained first baseman catch balls thrown to him. He will tap the base with his toe without stopping to think or look around. He was not born with that habit; but he can learn it to perfection, and perfection comes with practice. As the athlete's habits are in line with the rules of the game, the Christian's moral habits—his conscience—will be in line with the principles of Christ. One of these principles is laid down by Paul in I Cor. 8:7-13. It is this: I should never act as if I were the only person involved. I must always think how my actions will touch other persons. I am not alone in this world; I depend on others and they on me. Will my action help to make others strong or will it make them weak?

My Body Is a Temple

Another Christian principle is laid down by St. Paul in I Cor. 6:18-20. It is this: My body is a temple of the Holy Spirit. To put that as boldly as possible: God makes his home in every Christian; that is where God especially lives, in this world. Now the more clearly we can remember that, the more intensely we can believe and appreciate it, the more God-like our lives will be. This does not mean we never have to stop and think. It does not mean we have an automatic conscience. It does not mean that whatever we may take a notion to do will be all right, since we are the children of God. What this does mean, as St. Paul preached and practiced it, is that by "practising the presence of God" we more and more reliably think, "What would Jesus want me to do? What would the Christ-like thing?" A man of ordinary self-respect will not drag himself through the mud; but the Christian conscience shrinks from dragging the Holy Spirit through the mire.

Invitation to Think

How does all this work out in practice? The intelligent Christian reader is invited to do some thinking about this. Let us suppose there is a party and alcoholic drinks are served. The "polite" thing to do is just to do what most others do, or in other words count noses to see what is right. But what is the Christian thing to do? What other persons will be affected by my action, and how will my behavior affect them? Then what about the Holy Spirit within me? What would God have to say? Or again, thinking over his everyday habits—habits of speaking, thinking, acting—the Christian will ask: How many other people are involved in this habit of mine? Does it help them? Or does it get in their way, irritate them, rouse bad feelings in their minds? And what about God? Even if no one but God knows what I think, or what I do, what he thinks about it is the most important point of all. If I were God, what would I think of me?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four broad reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE WORLD IN HIS HAND

Got the world in your hand young man? You have the best part of it. Your hand is on the church door—it will open a world of love and hope and fulfillment for you, a world of goodness that you can hold on to.

There will be other doors that open on other things, plenty of them, things that won't seem fair, that will hurt, that will let you down. Hold on to the world you have. Enter it often.

Some of us have tried other doors. When we did we lost the look that is in your eyes.

Some of us have found your door and your look again after years of searching.

Hold on to the world you have young fellow. Someone who loves you put that door within your reach, someone with wisdom enough to know that you can never find a world worth clinging to outside the Church.

Bird's-eye view of a NEW KIND of Railroadings!

THERE'S GOOD REASON why the Southern Railway System today probably has more new and modernized yards and terminals than any other railroad in the country.

Our modern Diesel locomotives—we soon will be 100% Dieselized—have been doing a record-breaking job of hauling our freight cars between terminals. But that wasn't enough. A new kind of railroading was needed in terminals, too—so that time gained out on the line wouldn't be lost by cars "loafing" in old-fashioned yards.

That's why the Southern has been building new, ultra modern "push-button" yards like the $10 million yard shown above—modernizing existing yards—improving freight handling methods all along the line.

From this new kind of railroading is coming faster, better-than-ever service to the growing Southland we serve.

RAIN

I don't know if it is safe to mention that word rain or not—we have had so much of it, and it has put farmers so far behind, also tobacco plants are ruining with wildfire and blue mold, some are getting too large, and no ground ready to set. But we are going to have a real hay and grass crop, also this is making the ground wet and it was dry before all this rain started, for we had no water all winter, plenty of damp days but no water fell. So, maybe we were supposed to have this wet spell.

Today, Brewster delivered a Maytag washer to Mrs. Deans, over at Limburg, also took Mrs. J. P. Brothers 24 feet of Armstrong linoleum. He took Emmett Ward 63 feet of galvanized pipe and a lot of fittings, also delivered Rev. T. C. Crume six kegs of nails; picked up Charles Colcord's washer at Hagedorn's, where it had been repaired, also a lawn mower for Shang-Lu Motel. Chick sold Mr. and Mrs. Fisk a lot of linoleum and paint. Robert Bell bought Blue Stone, lime, DDT and Fermate for his plantbeds—he also bought two steel drums for water.

We just received some paddle pumps for pumping water out of ponds. We have one outfit, all you have to do is slip it on your tractor power take-off shaft, drop the hose in the water and start pumping. We have another shipment of steel chairs and porch swings. Mr. Bell, over Union way, bought a Jamesway hay carrier, track, rope and pulleys, all complete for his barn. Lloyd Yates came in, in a hurry, for a Dalton Special fishing plug—said the fish were really biting on that plug. In about an hour Junior Simmons came in after a plug—I told him about Yates, so he bought a Dalton Special and went fishing—he caught two 4-lb. bass, but I haven't heard from Yates. If I can just have the right bait at the right time, I am OK with the fishermen.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ryan came in for a Maytag washer motor—they also bought a Sunbeam iron and a drop-in water heater. Bill and Frances McCormick were in getting a few small items, but we had a stove trade—I traded them a gas heater for an oil heater.

Wednesday, a bad, rainy day—all the farmers buying Blue Stone, lime and Fermate for those plantbeds. This rainy, drop weather is ruining some of the beds. Bernard Spaulding bought an Eclipse rotary lawn mower. Leon Hall bought a Mastercut power rotary mower. We sell lawn mowers every day—have to keep them coming from factory. We received a new shipment of glassware, which we have been very low on since last Christmas, as factory has been on strike, but we have tumblers and pitchers now.

Just unloaded another shipment of that Chief rubber base flat wall paint—it sure sells and does a wonderful job—have not had one complaint. Mrs. Earnest McCain, from Crittenden, bought more Armstrong linoleum—this is the second lot she has bought this spring. We just received some night crawler harness, and floats that whistle when the fish grab that hook. Fishing would really be good if the rain would stop. Looks like we are going to get our fishing lake over between Varano and Crittenden—that will help the sportsmen, also the business men.

Mrs. Dolores Alexander bought more Armstrong linoleum. Mrs. Caesar Arnett bought Bolce white enamel and Bolce liquid satin flat wall—she really likes that Bolce paint. Elmer Granger backed up to the side door and unloaded two large rolls of Armstrong linoleum and several Armstrong rugs—he said those 400-lb. rolls of linoleum hurt his back. We sell linoleum every day—I wonder where it all goes, but Armstrong linoleum has the best finish and is easy to keep. Price Changer bought a screen door—we have a very nice line of screen doors, sliding screens, door guards, and hardware for all windows and doors.

Have you seen the new ornamental screen door guards we have in the wide and narrow bars. Tobacco setting time is about here—get a new Bemis horse or tractor setter. We also have a lot of perfection hand setters. A rainy Saturday and more people wanting to go fishing and couldn't. Mrs. Lula Howard bought the most beautiful pattern of Armstrong linoleum for her kitchen. We sold a lot of fishing tackle, but no one could use it—bought when it stops raining. Russell Littrell bought a tool and sickle grinder—getting ready for that hay crop. Russell Baker had to come and get two new tobacco canvases—the cattle run through his plantbeds and ruined the canvases. Kate Sparks had to have two new window shades. Melvin Jones came in and told Brewster if that Mastercut rotary power mower would cut his grass he would buy it, so Brewster took it up on Edwards Avenue and never brought it back, because those mowers will really cut the grass, high or low, and we really have a crop of grass this year.

Ed Hetzel came in and bought two fish bait—he said those bass were biting. Charles Walton brought his Dayton water pump over for Brewster to overhaul. Clarence Struve bought a gallon of green Bolce interior gloss for their kitchen. Louise Stephenson bought Bolce enamel, interior glass and border for her kitchen. Mrs. Caldwell Taylor was buying curtain rods, jordan's and a lawn broom—these preachers wives are workers. Don't forget those tobacco setters—it is about time to use them. SHOP AT CONRAD'S!

As a special token of their friendship, the senior F. H. A. girls gave Mrs. Stambaugh a silver tray and a silver dish. The centerpiece for the buffet table was a decorated cake saying, "Thank you, Mrs. Stambaugh."

Booth Hospital Fund Campaign
Now Under Way In Boone County

The Booth Memorial Hospital Building and Development Fund campaign has been launched and will again include Boone County in this important drive to raise funds to help enlarge the present facilities.

Bill Scroggin, Verona, has been appointed chairman of Boone County in this hospital building fund campaign and has in turn selected outstanding civic leaders in each Boone county town, who with their different groups will solicit funds and pledges in the next few days. Mr. Scroggin is optimistic in this particular drive, even though coming at the time when many other fund raising campaigns have just finished, because the people of Boone County depend entirely on all city hospitals for immediate aid in hospitalization. We have not had a major disaster in our county and we hope it never comes for there are no darker thoughts than those of the suffering that surely fallows in the wake. The lack of proper medical care and hospitalization at that time could well be imagined.

Mr. Scroggin feels that it is the civic duty of every Boone County to give all aid possible to any hospital development within our county. Next week a listing of leaders will be made.

"I have visited some of the Arab cities around here, Haifa being the main one. It is supposed to be the largest city in Arabia, with a population of around 100,000. Practically all the buildings are made of some sort of sun dried clay. The streets are very narrow and crooked with no sidewalks or paving. A great many date gardens are located there as, of course, all the cities are built in oases.

"I was very interested in the operation of donkey water, as we call them. Donkeys are used to raise sheepskin, attached to ropes, full of water from wells to empty into irrigation ditches for the watering of the gardens. Also saw some of their baths, which are pools usually fed by springs. The men bathe on one side of a rock wall and the women on the other. As you probably know, all Arab women are veiled and no man is ever supposed to see their face except their husbands. He can marry as many as he can support, however, he is not supposed to have more than four at a time.

Large Crowds Attend
DeMoisey CelebrationJoe Rouse Is A Candidate
For Re-election

Joe Rouse, Verona, announces his candidacy for re-election as the nominee of the Democratic party for State Representative of the 54th District (Boone and Gallatin Counties), subject to action of the Democratic primary, Saturday, August 1, 1953.

Mr. Rouse is the son of the late Moses F. and Emma Finnell Rouse, was born and reared on a farm in Boone County, near Limburg. He received his education, through the sophomore year, at Limburg and Burlington schools. He moved, with his family, to Florence where he graduated from Florence High School in 1936. The following year he attended the University of Kentucky, as a student in the College of Agriculture.

Joe, as he is usually called, was married to Katherine Harris of Verona in 1939, who, at present, is a teacher in the Verona school. Mr. Rouse now owns and operates a farm near Verona, where he lives with his wife and three children. He is also engaged part time in sales work for his brother, Chas. B. Rouse, in Specialty Sales, Florence, Ky. He is a member of New Bethel Baptist Church at Verona, where he has served for the past several years as Deacon, Sunday School

Joe Rouse

Superintendent, and Choir Director. Mr. Rouse has been a member of the Boone County Farm Bureau for the past seven years and has served as a director from Verona precinct for five years. He has been active in several other local programs and campaigns.

In making his announcement to the voters of these two counties, he makes the following statement:

"I am filing as a candidate for State Representative because I feel that the people of Boone and Gallatin Counties need true representation of their desires. I enter into this campaign with no strings attached to me, save to do the will of the voting public. The farmer, the independent business man, the professional man, the laborer and all should be heard and considered with the same consideration. In serving as your State Representative in the 1952 session of the General Assembly, I have no regrets or apologies for any vote cast. I feel that I voted as possible, that we may have a nation that not only claims to be 'Christian,' but that conducts itself in such a way as to prove it. Again I call to the attention of all, I Corinthians 10:31, 'Whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God.'"

"It will be impractical for me to try to contact every voter of these two counties before the election in view of the fact that the office which I seek is compensated only for the sixty day session in the two-year period. It is necessary for me to earn a living for my family, and since I am actively engaged in farming and sales work, I will not be able to make a house-to-house canvass. However, I intend to see as many as possible and to ask those of my friends who will to speak a word in my behalf. I will appreciate your support and will, in turn, promise you unbiased representation. Register before June 2nd, and vote. Have a voice in the government under which you live."

The president named Mrs. Robert Wescott, Miss Nell Neilhoff and Mrs. Frank Jackson on a nominating committee for next year's officers.

The club celebrated Home Demonstration Week with a tea at the community house with homemakers' families and friends attending. On display were rugs, bed spreads, toys and a bath mat. We enjoyed a short program, including a talk by the county president, Mrs. Lloyd Watson, and the homemakers creed by Mrs. Albert Martin. Cake and punch was served and the evening enjoyed by all.

Personal Interest and Sick List

Nellie O'Neal is home again after spending three months in the hospital on Kyles Lane. During these months Nellie has improved so much that convalescing at her home would be better for her.

Since the sudden death of her parakeet, Mrs. Delaney of Main Street, has purchased a Fox Terrier puppy.

Bob Dennis is expecting a visit from his cousin, William Frances, and family from Utah, the first of June.

Rev. John Dawson of Banklick Station Road, discovered his car broke and called the Independence Fire Dept. Upon arriving at the scene, the auto was too far gone and a complete loss was reported.

William Clark of Banklick Road, ran into Mr. Hopkins' auto and dented the side in.

Morie Brewster, who is in the hospital, has been in a serious condition. However, she is now improving and able to eat more wholesome foods.

Both of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Simpson's children are under the doctor's care.

Art O'Neal of Main Street, is home on a 13-day leave from Virginia, where he is stationed at Ft. Lee.

Knuthole Baseball

Last Friday and Saturday, the "A" and "B" teams played at Simon Kenton High School and won both games. For a good game of local baseball, these boys can't be beat, and you should attend these games played by the Independence Knuthole team and add your support—you will be amazed the way these boys handle difficult plays as a unit.

Last year, this team ranked second in the league and they are out for first place this year. Just go to one game and you'll be a regular rooster.

See Kentucky First

This week winds up the last semester of schooling for the children and begins summer vacationing to all parts of the country. Some people have reservations made at various places and will spend a week or two in complete relaxation and just doing something different than the usual schedule throughout the year. Some folks are still contemplating just where to go to enjoy their week or two weeks, they have coming. These people are the ones that should concentrate on "Seeing Kentucky First."

Kentucky has rolled out its carpet of bluegrass, scenery and resorts for the summer tourists, who spend through money there every year to make the state the ninth largest in tourist income, because of the better places that this state has to offer the many thousands of visitors and Kentuckians touring their state.

The state is busily expanding and improving its attractions. Within the last few years Wolf Dam has provided great new resting and fishing spots. Now, 24 state parks and Mammoth Cave are for your convenience.

Indiana State Fair

Dates of the Indiana State Fair of 1953 are September 3-11.

Dr. C. T. Coleman to Be Honored

Dr. Clarence T. Coleman, Mayor of Frankfort for four terms, is a native of Kenton county, having lived on the old Coleman place on Taylor Mill Road in his younger days. Dr. Coleman is the brother of our Mayor, Clifford Coleman, who now resides on Klette St., Independence.

It seems that Mayorships run in the Coleman family, which dates back to their grandfather, who settled in Kenton county as a pioneer from Virginia.

Dr. Clarence Coleman graduated in medicine at the University of Louisville in 1907. He first practiced at Delaplane, Franklin county. He opened his office in Frankfort, January 1, 1913. His wife is the former Mary Cook King of Fleming county, whom he married in 1905. They have two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Penn of Frankfort, and Dr. Robert Coleman of Omaha, Neb.

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce has scheduled an all-day celebration in honor of Dr. Coleman's 71st birthday, Saturday, June 1, on the grounds of the old State House. Dr. Coleman has personally invited his brother and close friends from this area to attend this great celebration.

30th of May, Holiday

The Post Office, bank and all stores in Independence, will be closed Saturday, May 30, in observance of Memorial Day.

Mildred Autan's baby has an inflamed throat.

Thanks and Appreciation

Members of the Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the women in this community for their generous help in cooking, serving and the cleanup work they did on the day and evening of the 16th annual Firemen's supper, held at Simon Kenton's cafeteria, May 16.

C. H. Dorsey, who has been chairman of this program for 16 years, stated that not only the people of this community gave donations and their time for this evening, but from Covington, nearby highways and from mother counties. Mr. Dorsey also stated that persons from Cincinnati, attended the supper.

Each and everyone's cooperation and help has made this supper the most successful one this fire department has ever had, and members wish to thank everyone who helped in any way.

Fire Auxiliary

The next regular meeting of the Independence Ladies' Auxiliary of the Volunteer Fire Department will be held at the firehouse, Thursday, May 28. All old and new members are urged to attend this meeting for the monthly discussion on neighborly matters.

Hobo Hike

The Girl Scouts of Independence are planning a Hobo hike, scheduled for Thursday, June 4. The end of this hike will be at their cabin site, where one-half of the troop will entertain the other half, by singing, Scoutcraft, and all around good program, planned by their leader, Miss Madeline Selman.

Girl Scout Cabin Raising

Last Saturday, work was begun on the building of the Girl Scout cabin on Banklick Road. Robert N. Knox, chairman of the building program, stated that last Saturday morning, he and five men had cleared the site, cutting down sufficient trees for the uprights to be used. These men spent the afternoon setting these uprights in proper places. Folks, this very good building program has begun and from now on to the finish, your help will be needed.

Miss Madeline Selman, leader for the Girl Scout troop, has announced that Saturday, June 6 will be the old time cabin raising, and would like to see a great number of people attending this occasion, not only for your help, but for bringing back this old time custom. More information concerning what to bring, etc., will be printed in this column next week. One thing about this cabin raising, you can bring your whole family, including your children, because of the great open spaces around this area. The children can play and have a grand time in safety, while the parents are hi-hoing in this program.

Cicadas (17-Year Locust)

If your garden or farm, like many others in the Eastern states, is being invaded by the periodical cicada, "17-year locust," the Agriculture Department will give you advice on how to control these insects. The Department has a new publication on the subject, "The Periodical Cicada, Leaflet 340." You can get a free copy by writing to the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Exercise

Watch this! Strenuous exercise in hot weather, if you're not accustomed to it, can be harmful. If you are getting along in years, better cut down a bit on your exercise in summer.

O.E.S. Officer's Meeting

The regular meeting of O. E. S. Chapter 493 officers will be held in the bank building at 8:00 p. m., Tuesday, June 2. Preparation for initiation will be on the program.

Fire Department Meets

WHITES TOWER—By Ernest J. Ryle

There is one little thing we would like to get off our chest and it is this: It is the people in town who have dogs and cats they don't want. It seems to be the rule or the practice to just drop them at Whites Tower. Now there is going to be somebody exposed and their name published, as we have organized and are watching for license numbers at cars following this practice.

At present, we have 23 dogs and 43 cats in this vicinity. We try to take care of our own but we have reached the limit and the next "stray" that is dropped here, the party or parties will get a lot of publicity they do not want.

Bobby Brumback and wife are entertaining a new arrival at their home since the 18th, Jocelyn Lynn.

Kenton Elementary P.T.A.

The last meeting of the season of the Kenton Elementary School P.T.A. was held recently. Jerry Finnell, a student, read the devotional. Reports of all committees were given, and Mrs. Wootson Ashcraft gave an interesting report on the State Convention.

Mrs. George Fisk was appointed vice president for one year, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Clarence Klump. Mrs. George Knorr played the piano and Mrs. Wootson Ashcraft led the group in singing four selections.

Installation of officers was held. The Kenton Elementary School P.T.A. received the acorn award, the membership award and the gold leaf award. It was decided that maps be purchased for the school as a project of the year. Mr. Bailey's fifth grade room won the attendance award for May. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Church Baseball Teams

One of the grandest sports in a small community is the church sponsored ball teams. It brings all members of churches together for an evening of sportsmanship, gaiety and all around good, clean recreation.

These ball teams also help the men who spend their day in an office or factory, as many of us do, to acquire the exercise needed to obtain relaxation when they return home from a game of competitive ball. The growing boys need exercise of this sort to stretch those growing muscles, making them more healthy and keeping in the peak of condition—also a ball game teaches the boys the useful subjects of sportsmanship and the initiative of obtaining a goal with competition.

The wives and mothers get away from those four walls they see every day and are able to enjoy the games as much as the players, whether they are interested in the score or not—by just being away from the every day minute schedule. A ball team, composed of members of a congregation of a church is an ideal, and worthy project—more of them should be listed to the league printed below.

In the Kenton County Rural Softball League for 1953, the following church teams will participate: Piner, Grover Tyner and Jim Beighle, managers; Oak Ridge, Charles Foley, manager; Independence Christian, Chester Land and Randall Wagner, managers; Visalia, Joe Setters, manager; Hickory Grove, R. B. Taylor, manager; Kenton, Mr. Roden and Edward Workman, managers; Walton, Rev. C. N. Taylor and O. J. Struve, managers; Wilmington, Wayne Bridges, manager, and Oak Island, Cherman Barberick, manager.

The first of these games are scheduled for May 25, and the scores, if available, will be placed in the Independence column. Would like for all managers to forward to me the scores of their games and the date of the next game to be played, so all entries may be printed.

What Never Fails

Lesson for May 31, 1953

WHAT do you wish for, most of all? What do you pray for, most of all? You wish and pray for many things, and this is right; but what is above all? If you take your New Testament seriously, there can be no question about that. You will want above all the thing that is worth more than everything else; you will not be content to ask for less than the greatest thing in the world. You will ask God for love.

Better Than Miracles

Remember, when St. Paul or Jesus talked about love they were not thinking about the thing you hear about from the jukebox at the corner drugstore. They were not thinking about the sort of thing that comes and goes and leaves headaches and heartaches behind. They were not thinking of the kind of love that wants to get, but of the kind of love that wants to give. They meant the kind of love God has and is: the kind of love that transforms the persons to whom it is given. The kind of love that Jesus lived out there in Galilee, the kind that can be lived on any street in the world. The kind of love the Cross stands for. This kind of love, Paul said, is better than miracles. Indeed, miracles are no account without it. When Paul talks of "speaking with the tongues of men and of angels" he is not meaning eloquence, oratory. He means (as you can see from 1 Cor. Chap. 12) the miraculous "gift" of tongues which the Corinthian church knew. Some of the members there could speak with tongues, some couldn't. Those that could, despised those that couldn't. That's not the point Paul means to say. The measure of a Christian is not miracles, but love.

Mightier Than the Mind

Love is also better than something else we all admire and would like to have as much of as possible. It is better and mightier than mental genius. The world around us is full of mysteries. A child can ask questions the wise cannot answer. If it only knew! is a thought that has occurred to every one. Each of us thinks he would be happier if he knew all the answers. We feel sure we could do more and be more if our minds were even just a little sharper than they are. But Paul reminds us that even if our prayers for insight and wisdom were all answered

CLOSED --- DECORATION DAY! Open Friday Until 9:00 P. M.

Get all your weekend needs before nine o'clock Friday night—we are all going fishing Saturday, and will be closed. Fishing tackle, licenses, shells, thermos jugs, garden tools, tobacco setters and repairs, lawn mowers, lawn hose, sprinklers, Bluestone, Farnate, Rotenone, fly spray, sprayers, grass sickles, scythes, garden hoses, garden plows, paint, screen wire and grass shears are a few of the items selling now. We received a factory shipment of lawn hose today—50 ft. of plastic hose with a 5-year guarantee for only $4.95, or 50 ft. of a better grade with a 10-year guarantee for only $7.95. We have already sold several window fans—we have a 20-in. window fan for only $49.50. Brewster installed one today for Mrs. Julia Rouse, and Leon Hall put one in his bedroom—this is a real fan and cheap for the size. We have small fans, both table model and window fans, but most people buy too small a fan.

I just received 2,500 hand fans for the churches—will you please stop in and ask for fans for your church, as I do not have time to distribute them—they are free for the asking.

Ryle Ewbank and son, Robert, were up today—Ryle bought 5 gallons of that good Bolce outside white paint—he said "I wanted snow white paint and paint that would stay off, so I told him how to use this Bolce paint, and I believe it will not peel. James Messmer, Burt Powell and Annie were over looking for Farnate and Bluestone to put on their plantbeds. When they get that big lake over there, all they will have to do is fish. Two ladies came in I did not know and said their neighbor got some of that Chief rubber base flat wall paint and it was beautiful—they selected the color and a roller, and away they went satisfied.

Mr. Smith, over Verona way, bought a used power mower I had just overhauled—he grass is growing too fast! Wimp Steinhauer bought his wife a Huffy electric mower. A fellow came in for screen door hinges and catch, asked him where he lived—he said on Riggs Road, off Taylor Mill—the houses must be thick on that road because it is a dead end road and very short—I know I have at least ten customers on that road.

A fellow came in for Bluestone and said he had been all over Grant county and they were out. Harold Vest wanted guard plates for a Ford-Ferguson tractor—I showed him how to put them on the guard, so he decided to bring all the guards over and let us put them on. Ira Cornelius bought a water fountain for his chickens. Miss Belle Walford and Harold Rosensteel were over today—Miss Belle bought a fountain for her baby chicks. Amy West called for poultry netting to keep her chicks in the pen.

Roy Gullion came over for 30 ft. of galvanized pipe to change his television aerial. Georgia Stephenson bought a gallon and a quart of that snow white Bolce quick drying enamel—she has used it for years. Mrs. Menefee, who owns the Menefee Hatchery at Flingsville, came in just as we were closing, for a gallon of Bolce white quick drying enamel—she says every time she buys it, it gets whiter and she also has used it for years.

Mr. Bolce's son, Robert, Jr., who travels this territory now, brought down several cartons of paint today. He wanted to know what we did with all the paint—we get about three orders a week, but we carry a large selection of paint and paint for most any use. While he was here, a young man wanted paint to paint his car, then a young lady wanted gold paint for her shoes, a lady wanted iron enamel for around her grate, another wanted screen enamel, a man wanted white paint for a brick house, a farmer wanted to paint his tractor, a lady wanted to paint a bedroom, another her workroom with that Bolce interior gloss.

I don't know the correct name for a point dealer like us—they call over the phone about the point, they want to know what color, then what kind, then how much will an average room with two doors, four windows, ceiling one color, walls another, one coat or two, will you deliver it and if my husband likes it I will put it on, if not, I'll call you back and you can bring me another color—but it is all in being a point dealer.

We thought we had all the shipments put away for this week, but here came Groger with a whole truck load of nails, screen wire, Bolce paint and a shipment of housewares; then Huey's driver backed in with Mastercut lawn mowers, 20-in. window fans and a shipment of rubber base wall paint from Chicago, then the mail man brought a shipment of point brushes from Linzer Brush Co. All we had to do was put all this away and wait on customers. Then Howard Denner came in and bought a Bemis tobacco setter, which Brewster delivered.

Mrs. Beulah Stephenson bought a gallon of white creosote paint and linseed oil, also a wool bag and strings. We just received a lot of new patterns in border for your painting and paper hanging. Brewster filled a lot of guards with new plates for Harold Vest and is that some job. Mrs. Lorena Myers and Mrs. Emma Flynn bought themselves a new straw hat for summer. Opal Simpson and his boys bought fishing tackle—lookout fish, the Simpsons are after you.

Licenses On Sale For L-Z Drivers By Circuit Clerk

Most circuit clerks are now selling 1953-1955 driver's licenses to persons whose last names begin with "L" through "Z." The sale of licenses is starting a month earlier this year to avoid the July rush and the $1.00 penalty for late renewal, according to the State Department of Revenue, Frankfort.

Drivers in the "L" through "Z" name group are required to purchase two-year licenses for $2.00 before July 31. Vehicle operators whose last names begin with "A" through "K" and who have licenses will not be required to buy another license until 1954.

If a person is obtaining his first driver's license in Kentucky, he will be required to pass a State Police examiner's test, or show a valid out-of-state license to his circuit clerk. If his name begins with "A" through "K," the license will last for one year and the fee will be $1. Persons on active military duty who drive in Kentucky are required to have a Kentucky driver's license, except when operating an official vehicle with a U. S. Government operator's permit.

Circuit Clerk R. S. Hensley, Burlington, warns drivers not to mail licenses to his office as the application blanks must be signed before a license can be issued. The various precincts will be visited by the clerk and his deputies during the month of July. Dates and places will be announced at a later date.

TOBACCO FLEA-BEETLES

Tobacco flea-beetles have been found in some of the tobacco which has been set in the county, according to Joe Claxton, County Agent.

To control these flea beetles, dust containing 10% DDT may be used. Apply this by means of a rotary hand operated duster or a plunger type duster at the rate of 4 pounds per acre. A DDT spray may be used, 2 pounds of 50% wettable DDT powder in 100 gallons of water, 50 to 80 gallons per acre.

If the above DDT recommendations are used, the flea beetle should be controlled in the field.

For other information on tobacco insects, see circular 437 in your county agent's office in Burlington.

"Boone Day" Program June 7 In Powell County

Mrs. Roy C. Nestor, Regent, Boone County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has been requested by Bayless E. Hardin, Secretary-Treasurer of the Kentucky Historical Society, to extend a cordial invitation to the people of Boone County to attend the Kentucky Historical Society's annual Boone Day program, which will be held June 7, at Pilot Knob, Powell County.

This should be of special importance to the people of this county, which was named after the brave pioneer, Daniel Boone, because it was at this knob that Boone got his first glimpse of "the beautiful level of Kentucky," which he tells about in his narrative.

Since near the middle of the last century, the Kentucky Historical Society has celebrated June 7 as "Boone Day," because it was on that date in 1769 that Boone first reached the top of Pilot Knob. "Boone Day" has usually been held at the Old State House, Frankfort, but it was decided to spend the day this year at Pilot Knob to arouse public interest in this historic spot.

BOONE WOODLANDS

needed to build up, the productive capacity of a great woodland. It is true that natural regeneration of the trees will, in time, produce more trees, but it may be necessary to plant the area with high quality trees to obtain a woodland which will produce to its maximum capacity.

To help owners increase and continue the productivity of their woodland, the Division of Forestry has set up a Cooperative Forest Management Service. Persons desiring this service, should apply to the district forester. He will make a preliminary examination of the woodland accompanied by the owner or his representative, after which a written report is submitted to the owner with recommendations for the proper management of the area. If there are trees ready for harvesting, and if the owner decides he wants to cut them, a marking and selling agreement is signed, after which the forester goes through the woods marking the trees to be removed and estimating their volume. Through this procedure the owner will have a better idea of what kind and how much timber he has. In order to help the owner realize the greatest financial return from the sale of his forest products, the names of operators who may be interested in purchasing his material are supplied. In addition, he will be given a sample sale agreement which will aid him in preparing a suitable contract to avoid misunderstandings between seller and purchaser. The only charge for the above services is a small fee based on the volume of the trees marked, if a marking job is needed, to partially defray the expense of the work involved.

Boone County is in the Bluegrass Forest District, which is one of eight administrative districts in the Division of Forestry. All state and private forestry activities within the district are in charge of a district forester. Inquiries concerning reforestation or woodland management assistance should be directed to him at Box 22, Williamstown, Ky.

TRIBUTE TO B. F. BEDINGER

Ben F. Bedinger was born, reared and has lived all of his life in the Richmond neighborhood, a citizen highly respected by all who have been privileged to know him.

In that neighborhood, there was erected 119 years ago, Richmond Presbyterian Church. Mr. Bedinger has been a member of this church all of his life and is now its oldest member and Elder. While the church has always been well kept, the cemetery was sadly neglected. Twenty-seven years ago, the late Judge Lassing, John Taylor, E. T. Collins, Mr. Bedinger, and J. M. Collins formed the Richmond Cemetery Association and took over the cemetery. Mr. Bedinger has continuously been a director and secretary-treasurer, and the general supervision of the cemetery has always been in his hands. It is probably the best kept cemetery in Boone County, and is a credit of the county, and to Mr. Bedinger, who did the job.

Now comes the sad part. At our last annual meeting, Mr. B. F. Bedinger, on account of his health, asked to be relieved of the duties of secretary-treasurer and general supervisor of the cemetery. It was with sorrow and much regret that the directors accepted his resignation. He served 22 years without any compensation whatsoever, except the satisfaction of seeing the results of a job well done.

"Mr. Bedinger: The officers, directors and lot holders salute you and are grateful to you for your unselfish devotion to Richmond Cemetery."

At the same meeting, Stanley Ranson was elected manager, with supervision of the cemetery, and Mrs. Stanley Ranson was elected secretary-treasurer. We feel confident that they are good selections.

Serve By Sharing

Lesson for June 7, 1953

A FIELD of soy beans in North Carolina; 97 head of steers in Colorado; a calf and eggs in Blossom, Texas; 1500 boxes of apples in Washington, hogs in North Dakota and chickens in Wisconsin. What ties all these together? These and hundreds of other products grown on farms were "Lord's Acre" and "Lord's Livestock" projects last year. Thousands of people in every part of the nation have been joining in such plans for more than 22 years now. The idea is to dedicate to the Lord's service a field, some head of cattle, whatever the farmer or housewife owns or can grow. The projects are varied; they are generally successful; but the greatest success has been in the happiness and satisfaction of those who have worked on these things.

Dr. Foreman

Themselves First

The innumerable people who shared in dedicating their work in this way to God and his cause, have simply turned into action and experience what St. Paul laid down long ago to the church at Corinth. The Corinthian Christians were city people, not country people; but they were poor, not rich. Paul is urging them to give what they could, as they could; and in doing so brings out at least four principles of right giving.

First and foremost is that the best givers had first of all given their own selves to the Lord. The church has learned long ago that St. Paul was right. You can't expect big contributions or hard work from those who are still essentially selfish. You have to convert a man's heart before you can convert his money. And even if you gave God everything but yourself, you would not yet have given the very thing He wants most of all.

Sharing the honor

"They simply begged us to accept their gifts and so let them share the honor of supporting their brothers in Christ." So Philippians translates II Cor. 8:4. Paul is describing the way in which the churches up in Macedonia had contributed to what we would call the benevolent funds. Christian giving is all in the way the giver looks at it. If it is thought of as a burden, if it is thought of as something the preacher keeps begging for, a kind of chore at best, then of course the giving won't be much. It will be only enough to keep from giving nothing at all. But giving in the cause of Christ, for the use and help of God's people, is an opportunity, not a chore. There is all the difference in the world between the giver who says (in effect), "Well, if you must have something... and the one who says, "Do let me get in on this."

The Lord Loves

The Bible does not encourage any one to fancy that he can buy his way into God's favor. God's smile is not for sale. God loves a cheerful giver, even though He seldom turns away givers of any sort. A sour and selfish man might be high-pressure into gloomily squeezing a few dollars into the church budget, and those dollars will do some good; but the Bible does not suggest that God cares much for that sort of giving. Giving till it hurts may be good; but giving till it doesn't hurt is better! We remember Jesus' comment on the offering of the wealthy Pharisees and the poor widow. Is there any one who can think God loved her and them alike?

Carrying Through

So there are three principles of Christian giving: personal dedication, a sense of privilege in sharing God's work, and enthusiasm. As Paul puts it (again Philippians' translation): "Show that you can complete what you set out to do with as much efficiency as you showed readiness to begin." (II Cor. 8:11.) A good Lord's Acre project calls for more than enthusiasm in the springtime. It has to have hard work most of the summer. The work of the church, and indeed every undertaking for the welfare of mankind, is best carried on not by those who blow all their steam at once, but by those who save up some steam for the long steady pull. Long mileage is worth more than a flashy start.

THE FOURTH "R"

Some American pioneers believed that the limit of education was the teaching of "readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic." How far education has gone beyond that crude ideal!

It has dared so many spectacular things that unless Man's spiritual progress keeps pace with his scientific achievements, the results may destroy him.

What we need most today is education in the most important "R" of all—Religion.

Here is where the Church—through its Sunday Schools and Vacation Church Schools—steps in to help save civilization from itself. We must strengthen the fourth "R" or the other three will mean nothing.

Unless education is made to include the knowledge and the use of moral and spiritual facts, all the rest will be vain.

If you are not interested in the Church and its educational program, think of it in terms of what it can do for your children. Think of it in terms of insurance against what must be a black future for us all if the higher values are neglected.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization survives. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible study.

TOBACCO SETTERS

This is tobacco setter season now and we have several Bemis setters left and a lot of Perfection hand setters. Some are buying other grand setters but wonder where they will get repairs for them. A fellow just walked in and wanted seven different parts for a Bemis—all I had to do was hand them out and he went to work, but you can't do that with other setters. When you buy anything with working parts, always find out where the repairs are coming from. Buy a Bemis setter and you will always be glad—it may cost a little more but you won't be sorry later.

Emerson Smith from Union came over and bought a Bemis tobacco setter. Ralph Sparks bought one of those mounted paddle pumps that fit on the power take-off to pump water for setting tobacco. We have several 275-gal. tanks for hauling water, or put them on skids for gasoline and take it right out to the field. Tobacco setters, repairs and transporter solution for wire worms were in demand today. Delaney Johnson wanted his sprayer repaired. Scott Lancaster wanted his hand tobacco setter repaired—I soon fixed them and sent them home.

Ernest McCain from Crittenden bought a Bemis tobacco setter. We sold several Perfection hand setters—most of them to strangers from the North end of the county. Brewster took several venetian blinds over to Mrs. Robert Argue at Filingsville, and installed them—she had ordered them about ten days ago. We sold R. P. Hughes a hand lawn mower and Fred Jones a used power mower. C. A. Johnson, who lives at Fredericksburg, Texas, has been on the sick list, but is much better now. Hugh Arnold can't catch these Kentucky fish—he was buying new bait today.

William Brown, over Piner way, was buying horse collars, trying to get one to fit—he took home three and brought the others back. Mamford Crafts came in for an alfalfa hay fork and corn drill brush. We sold a lot of Bemis setter parts today. Buy a Bemis setter so you can get repairs, if you ever need them. Mrs. Menefee, who operates the hatchery at Filingsville, bought a lot of Armstrong lineoleum. Ray Elliott bought a Jomesway electric brooder, so he can have fried chicken.

Lon Wilson bought Bolce casine water mix paint, gate hinges and plastic bags for deep freezer—we sell lots of these plastic bags for strawberries now. Sold more harness today, to a fellow I did not know. We sell some parts of harness nearly every day. They come here from all parts for bolts—we carry a very large stock, most all sizes and kinds, up to seven-eighths of an inch in diameter, but we have calls for bolts we do not stock and I doubt if very many hardware stores do.

Well, they all did just as I asked them to do—they tried to buy it all Friday. They were waiting on the front steps for us to open up and they never quit, or even slowed up until 9 o'clock Friday night. We sold most everything in the hardware line, Allen Rust, who has moved over to Fiskburg, came for screen wire, window shades, electric wire, hand saw, bit broom, bits and plane. Mary K. Black bought a 12x12 linoleum rug. Another lady who I did not know bought a 12x15 rug. We sold several of those 9x12 rugs for $4.95. R. L. Clinckham bought a Bemis tobacco setter, then came Stanley Bailey from Gardnersville, and he also bought a Bemis setter.

Raymond Baker bought a 1/2 h.p. electric motor. Mrs. Emma Flynn needed new batteries in her flashlight. Mrs. Ruth Glenn bought a 9x12 Armstrong rug and a lot of Armstrong yard goods—they are moving to the Ryle apartments. Rev. and Mrs. Hoffman bought paint for their kitchen and front porch at the Methodist parsonage. A Kenton county lady came back for more Bolce white undercoat and a gallon of Bolce white enamel. Mrs. Ed Hopperton bought a gallon of transporter solution to put in water to kill wire worms in tobacco.

Russell Littrell just came in for transporter solution—you put 1/2 pint in a 50-gallon barrel of water when setting tobacco—usually takes about a quart per acre. A fellow from Corinth stopped and bought the used horse-drawn tobacco setter I took in last week on a trade. Everett Jones takes out about two Perfection hand setters every day. We sure sell those setters and we carry all the parts for them. We also have valves and springs for those Master setters, we sold several years ago.

Russell West and Harold's wife came after screen doors. We have some very nice metal lawn chairs for $4.95, also a better grade in flat spring steel frame for $9.95, then we have the wad folding deck chairs for $3.49 and $3.75. We also have several models of croquet sets from $4.95 to $15.95. Some fellow called for galvanized water pipe and that is one thing we have plenty of. I bought all I could get last winter. We sold out of those water pumps you mount on your power take-off on your tractor, but we have more now and we also have plastic pipe and the fittings.

We just received a new shipment of weed and brush killer, sprayers, dust guns and several kinds of bug and fly killers. We also have been selling a lot of containers for strawberries—the round containers, the plastic bags and boxes. Just most anything you need for the home or farm, give CONRAD a visit or a ring!

4-Year-Old Is Contest Winner At Verona Ranch

First prize in last Sunday's amateur show at Verona Lake Ranch, went to little four-year-old Becky Jones of Fiskburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, who amazed the audience with a song and dance number that practically "stole the show." A guitar solo by Olie Griffith, Walton, won second place. Even though a little nervous in his first attempt in an amateur contest, he soon overcame initial stage fright, and even surprised some of the home folks. Third place went to the Charles Flynn trio of Florence. Their piano, trumpet and drum trio was very well received. Jimmie Skinner and Roy Lunsford were in raze form with some good comedy and old time songs.

This Sunday will bring several new amateurs to Verona Lake Ranch and another good show is expected. Each Sunday, for the rest of the summer, the amateur contest will be a regular part of the show and at the close of the season all of the winners will compete for the grand championship prize of $50.00. The regular Sunday awards are: First, $15; second, $10; and third, $5. This Sunday will feature a Wild West Show, for both young and old, by Cleve LaRue, when he brings a bit of the Old West to the new horse show arena. Trick horse, dog act, and plenty of expert roping will be seen.

GENERAL BUTLER LAKE TO OPEN FOR FISHING

Fishing at the lake in General Butler State Park, near Carrollton, will be reopened to the public, July 1, according to an announcement today by Commissioner of Conservation Henry Ward, of Frankfort.

The lake has been closed for the last year because of a re-stocking program being carried on by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. By imposing restrictions until July, the department expects the bass and broom fishery to improve considerably.

The lakes at all other state parks are now open for fishing.

Polio Workers To Meet June 19 In Florence

Mrs. George Morith, chairman of the Boone County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has called a meeting of the chapter, and all interested friends for Friday evening, June 19, at the Florence Community Center. A covered dish meal will be served of 6:30 p. m. and the meeting will begin at 8:00 p. m.

All interested Boone county residents are welcome. Make reservations with Mrs. Mabel Sayre, Florence 1565; Mrs. George Morith, Florence 716, or Mrs. William Foote, Florence 526. The chapter is anxious to have all workers in the Mothers March present.

Stuart S. Schlogetter, Louisville, state representative for the National Foundation, will be present to speak to the group on the latest developments in Gamma Globulin and other promising work in the cure and prevention of polio. This information should be particularly interesting at this time of the year when the months of polio frequently reaches epidemic or near-epidemic heights are just ahead.

Boone County Chapter has completed two successful years of organization. Several weeks ago, the following were elected to serve for the coming year: Mrs. George Morith, Chairman; Mrs. George Byrne, Vice Chairman; Mrs. William Foote, Secretary, and John McVay, Treasurer.

During the last March of Dimes drive, $1668.65 was collected by the schools, Mothers March, individual collections and the Iron Lung banks. The following report is submitted:

|---------------|------------|
| Constance | $ 24.45 |
| Florence | 827.42 |
| Walton-Verona | 349.71 |
| Union | 78.16 |
| Bellevue | 25.00 |
| Burlington | 220.93 |

| Hebron | 111.94 |
| Total | $1,668.65 |
| Expenses | 89.25 |
| Net | $1,580.40 |

Half of this amount was sent to the National Foundation and half was placed in the treasury of the local chapter.

Army Worms On The March In Boone County

The army worm has marched into the wheat, barley, corn, tobacco, hay fields, and pastures of Boone county.

The army worm is closely related to the cutworm, but has different habits. When young, these light-striped caterpillars are pale green, turning to greenish brown when full grown. Most abundant following cold, wet springs, the true army worm often can be found in pastures in great numbers completely stripping off the grass foliage. When this food supply is exhausted, they may march in armies into fields of small grains and corn, causing enormous damage.

100% tophouse or 100% chlordane at 1 1/2 to 2 pounds per acre sprayed or dusted on the portion of the field where the worms are feeding will give excellent control of these pests, as well as of cutworms. Treated forage should not be harvested or pastured for THIRTY days after the application of these insecticides. A poison bait made up of 25 pounds of bran and one pound of paris green or two pounds of 100% chlordane, which is slightly moistened and broadcast at the rate of 25 pounds per acre during late afternoon where the worms are feeding or in front of their line of march, will also give good control. There is not so much danger of insecticidal residues from poison baits as from the dusts or sprays.

Girl Scout Cabin

The Girl Scout cabin is well under way, but more help is still needed. We hope that those fathers who were unable to work the past weekend, can come this weekend and complete the building project. We need the help of many hands to make the work lighter for the faithful few who have been working so hard to see that the cabin is ready for use in July for a week's camping.

So come on dads and bring your hammers and saws to the camp site about 9 a. m., Saturday, June 13. Mothers can come with the family and bring a picnic lunch and have a nice outing. The children will enjoy wading in the creek and they will be under watchful eyes.

A regular meeting of the Scouts will be held Thursday at the Independence Fire House. Instructions in making Buddie burners will be given and arrangements will be made for the all day meeting the following Thursday.

Homemakers Meet

The Independence Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Walter Moser for their May session. Mrs. John Leslie presiding. The meeting came to order with the saying of The Lord's Prayer, and members answered roll call to "the most important thing to happiness in the home."

An article on the care of flowers and lawns was read by Mrs. Logan Wayman, exterior beautification leader. Mrs. Aaron Nienhaus, reading chairman, reported 42 magazines, 11 books and four Bible books read. The read a poem, "Candle Dipping," by Clare Thurston. Miss Zelma Byerly gave hints on buying and laundering the new cottons.

The second lesson on "The Basic Wardrobe," was given by Mrs. J. C. Reynolds and Mrs. Charles Davis modeled all different types of hats, collars, scarves and accessories.

It was reported that Kenton county had 100 members present at the annual District meeting at Cynthiana, in April. Four members attended from the Independence club. Mrs. Chas. Davis told other members of the program and how the homemakers originated.

Those present were Mrs. Cleo Snelson, Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Carl Fortner, Mrs. Logan Wayman, Mrs. John Leslie, Mrs. Foster Armstrong, Mrs. William House, Mrs. Aaron Nienhaus, Miss Zelma Byerly, Mrs. H. L. Witt, Mrs. Moser, and Mrs. Wm. Summey, who served as co-hostess.

Rural Mail Boxes

It has been reported by the Independence Postmaster, Robert X. West, that many persons have taken a small area around their Rural Mail boxes and have planted flowers and various low growing shrubs, repaired, pointed and properly planted the supports or posts in the ground, making the rural carrier's job much easier and able to give more efficient service. So many persons have beautified their homes and yards, but have neglected the most important little compartment, their mail boxes. The next time you have a lawn mower, a point brush or a pack of flower seed in your hands, give your mail box a few minutes of beautification and you will be amazed what a difference it will make.

Mr. West wants to thank those who have helped in placing their rural mail boxes in tip-top condition and have added a little color to their boxes during "Rural Mail Box Improvement Week." Many rural patrons have noticed the mistakes a substitute rural mail carrier can make while the regular carrier is on vacation. Many of these errors could be lessened if names were on the mail boxes.

Masons to Meet

The next regular meeting of Bradford Lodge will be on June 12, at 8:00 p. m., in the Independence Bank Bldg. All members are urged to attend.

Color TV

Latest prediction comes from a TV manufacturer who says color sets in homes are two years away, and, he adds, first sets on the market will cost $1,000.

Social Security

It's a good idea to check up periodically on the amount to your credit in your Social Security account. An error that has stood for more than 3 years, 2 months, and 15 days, can't be corrected. You're entitled to ask for this information as often as once a year. Take only filling in a few blanks on a printed postcard form. You can get it from your Social Security Administration field office. Ask for Wage Statement Request, Form OAR-704.

Booster Shots

Youngsters should get booster shots for tetanus every two years. Along with these shots, most doctors give inoculations for diphtheria and whooping cough. Typhoid shots are worthwhile for children who will be fishing or swimming in water where there's a possibility of contamination.

The New Banklick Baptist Church has successfully completed a Vacation Bible School. Commencement services were held last Sunday.

It has also been reported that Bro. John Dawson, pastor, is devoting full time in this field and anyone desiring to call on him may do so at the parsonage.

Good Soil Care Makes Roundup Land Yield 134 Bushel Corn Crop

GROWING 132.4 bushels of corn per acre on roundup land when rainfall was 4 inches below normal, was the record achieved last year by Andrew Cross, who farms near Letart Falls, Ohio.

Cross says he got those yields by giving the soil a full feed of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

When Cross bought the farm in the spring of 1952 he found most of the land in poor shape. Some fields had been idle for 50 years because they were thought too unprofitable to till.

Working in cooperation with a fertilizer company, Cross decided on the same fertilizer treatment for all 127 acres of corn land. First he limed at the rate of 3 tons per acre. Then he plowed down 600 pounds per acre of 10-10-10, followed by 300 pounds drilled in at planting time. Next, he sidedressed with 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Cross' planting rate was designed to give about 16,000 stalks per acre.

Neighbors said the field that averaged 132.4 bushels of corn per acre had yielded about 100 bushels once before. Other fields that made from 80 to 111 bushels would have yielded only 25 bushels without the fertilizer.

Mrs. L. L. McGregor of Hopkins county is in the second year of a five-year landscaping plan.

Free Christians

Lesson for June 14, 1953

WHEN Paul speaks of Christians as "dead to the law" or "free from the law" he is not thinking of what we call the law of the land. Paul was very careful to observe the laws of his own Roman Empire, as well as all local laws. Furthermore, when Paul speaks of Christians' freedom from law he does not mean that a Christian can afford to turn his back on the Ten Commandments, even though when he says "law" he is usually thinking about those Ten Commandments and all they involve. Let us see what is meant by saying Christians are dead to the law.

Law As A Curse

Paul speaks more than once of the "curse" of the law, as for example in Gal. 3:13—Christ "redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us." Now it may seem odd and even perverse to think of law as a curse, especially a good law. And particularly the law of God; how can that possibly be a curse? To understand this we have to think our way back into Old Testament times. There were certainly some people, like the unknown poet who wrote the 119th Psalm, who loved the Law and found joy in studying and keeping it. But for every such man there must have been numberless others who found the law just what Paul at one time his life had found: a sort of standing threat on God's part. "Do this or else—I don't do that or else—" Don't we know people in our times who think of God as keeping a sort of record book full of black marks,—who think of God as keeping up with us just in order to take down everything bad we say or do or think? A person who is not very conscientious may think gaily, "I'll get by;" but a conscientious person who realizes what a high standard the law calls for, may live in terror lest God demand vengeance for every broken law, great or small. Now the Christian can breathe freely; he is free from such terrors because whatever curse there may be in the law, Christ has taken upon himself.

Law As A Condition

Then the Christian is free from the law as a condition of God's favor. "When shall I be good enough for God to love me?" Is a question no one ought to ask. The Christian is one who has recognized that God's love does not wait for our obedience. A mother does not wait till her baby is old enough to understand her and obey her before she will love him. And even when he is old enough to understand, if he disobeys she may disapprove and punish him, but she will not stop loving him. If God had waited to love us till we were good enough to love, we would be waiting yet. It is God's gracious love that produces what goodness we have, not the other way around. Doing what God wants done is absolutely right and we should try our best every day to do just that. But it is absurd to think that God's love is like a thermometer that goes up and down with the temperature of our obedience. We can't earn our way into God's favor. As we were noticing last week, the smile of God is not for sale.

Law As A Cage

Again, law for some people is a kind of cage. Inside its narrow pattern they carefully live. They do what they must, what the law compels; but beyond that they will not go. They are only as good as they have to be. Now the Christian is free from the law as a cage, just as he is free from its curse and as a condition. The Christian loves by faith, hope and love; and these take him clear beyond the limits of law. A husband who does for his wife and family only what the law requires will be a poor husband. A citizen who will do no more for his country and community than just not to break any laws, is not the best type of citizen. A soldier who will not go beyond the line of duty will deserve no medals. A "Christian" who does no more than barely try to keep from breaking the Ten Commandments is never the high-level Christian. A Christian is free. He is law-abiding; but he does not live "under" law, he lives under Grace. It is a different atmosphere.

THE CHURCH

...as GOD sees it

Man and God see things differently. That's why man needs the Church—it helps him see things God's way.

But, strangely, even the Church itself looks different to man and God. To man the Church appears to be an organization. It has leaders, officials, boards, members. It has a charter, owns property, sometimes has a mortgage. And even though its aims are the highest in life, still its members are imperfect human creatures like ourselves.

To God the Church is an organism, a living thing. It is the Spirit of Christ touching men's hearts, forgiving their sins, awakening their faith. It is the Word of Truth commanding the attention and changing the lives of men, women and children. It is Divine Power transforming human sorrow to joy.

Man can learn how to see the Church as God sees it. But never by looking down upon the Church. Only by going inside the Church to worship God, and looking UP.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PLANS MORE VEGETABLES

Plans are under way in Edmonson county for large scale production of tomatoes, cucumbers and okra. More than 1,100,000 plants of the Voliant variety of tomatoes were set on 400 acres.

Approximately 185 growers of cucumbers attended a series of six meetings conducted by John Gardner, UK horticulturist, in cooperation with Steve A. Callahan, county agent.

A complete okra production program was presented to about 170 farmers. It is expected that around 200 acres of this vegetable will be grown, stations being set up at five points in the county.

FESCUE TOPS PASTURE PROGRAM IN HANCOCK

Kentucky 31 fescue is creating much interest in Hancock county, says Chas. L. Goff, county agent for the University of Kentucky. "No other pasture grass has done nearly as well. Some fields of fescue and ladino clover have carried up to three yearlings and older cattle."

Goff said that farmers who have had a well-planned pasture program for three years have more grass than they can use while other farmers are short of pasture. Most of the new pastures contain fescue and ladino clover.

In Spencer county, six bulldozers have worked all spring in reclaiming land in bushes and unproductive timber.

Reports from several counties state that aphids have caused serious damage this spring to cover crops and alfalfa.

DELAYED BIRTH CERTIFICATES

Many people who are expecting to apply for Social Security retirement insurance payments spend money unnecessarily for delayed birth certificates, according to Joseph T. Ware, manager of the Covington office of the Social Security Administration. The Social Security office would prefer to see the evidence on which these delayed birth certificates are based, and will almost always ask to see it even if a certificate is produced as proof of age.

In many cases, the government has records which make it unnecessary for a retiring worker to prove his age. Occasionally one is asked for proofs, and wives, widows and dependent parents must almost always do so. The best proofs are, of course, certificates of births recorded in infancy, or certificates of infant baptisms. But if these can not be obtained, many other proofs are acceptable. Among the best are, old insurance policies showing the date of birth, family bible records made a long time ago, employment records, passports, school records, Confirmation certificates showing the dates of birth, and the statements of near relatives.

Ware added that the family record should never be torn or cut out of the bible, and that its value as evidence is destroyed if any attempt is made to change the date. He also said that statements of relatives must be made on forms prepared by the Social Security Administration, and these should be requested and used instead of having an affidavit drawn up and sworn to before a notary.

When a photostatic copy of a proof is submitted, the original must also be furnished for examination by an employee of the Social Security Administration.

For further information concerning proofs of age or anything else pertaining to retirement or survivors Social Security insurance payments, visit, write, or telephone the Social Security Administration at 19 Post Office Bldg., 7th & Scott Sts., Covington. The telephone is HEmlock 5274.

BURLEY TOBACCO

I suppose a lot of us saw something last night we never expected to see and that was the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. It was very colorful, for a country supposed to be broke, but they did a nice job spending those American dollars we sent over there. We sold a little bit of everything today—water pumps, tobacco setters, Bolce point, mower sections, guards, all kinds of bug killer for gardens, plow shovels, water hose, sprinkler, grease gun, tire pump, hay rope, metal flower boxes, lawn chairs, and lots of other items.

Rolla Haddix brought over 50 ft. of hay rope and had me splice 100 ft. more to it—that is hard on the fingers, but I made it. Forest Marsh needed a plunger for a Tiger tobacco setter—we didn't have one, so we had the steel, the boys down at B-M garage made the piece, and Chick finished it—he is ready to go. Brewster delivered J. W. Doolin a Bemis tobacco setter. Lee Lea Dixon and wife bought three 9x12 Armstrong rugs—they are moving to Crittenden. Mrs. Earl Snake and daughter, Betty, bought a 14-ft. piece of Armstrong lineum. Mr. Denton, up at Midway, bought more Bolce interior gloss paint.

Frances Chapman bought gray porch and deck enamel for their porch floor. P. R. Connelly came in from Russell Springs, today—he took back some of that Tobacco Setters 1½ 5/8 Ratonone for bean bottles—says he has a fine garden and nice tobacco crop—bought a new rifle and it is ready to squirrel hunt. Francis Baker and family were in today—he bought cow bells and a sickle grinder. They called today for hand Perfection tobacco setters, and we have plenty of them—we also have a couple Bemis tobacco setters, too.

We set up several metal lawn chairs today—they are the best chairs we have ever had—they come in green, yellow and white. Ruth Worthington bought 42 feet of screen wire and two metal lawn chairs. Every once in a while you see a fellow go down the street, maybe at a distance, you know you have seen him before, just like today when Joe Stephenson got in town, and a few days ago when Ronnie Cleek and Tommy Johnson were here—these fellows don't change much but you don't see them every day, like you do a couple years ago. Joe came home to see about his dog, who is in the hospital for treatment.

What other country in the world would send a son all the way from Korea to Kentucky to see his dad. Then some people talk about Russia taking the U.S.A. All those who really think that are the ones that should be sent to Russia. This is the greatest country and most wonderful people in the world—all others are jealous of us and our way of living. What other country would fight a nation and whip her, then turn around and loan her money and feed her—that is the reason we are so great, and always will be.

Mr. Stringer, who has a large farm on Verona and Mud Lick Road, bought a two-row crank type duster—there are two straps that go over your shoulders that you carry the duster by, then you turn a crank and you dust two rows at a time. Albert Rhodes, Jr., came after one of those pumps that runs off the power take-off on your tractor—we have sold several of these and they work. Here came Portwood and wife from Kenton county—everybody knows Port—he sure has a wonderful woman to live with him this long, but Port is OK, and has a lot of friends. Mrs. Portwood bought a 12x15 lineum rug and two of my best metal lawn chairs.

Ted Cress from Burlington, stopped in on his way to Cumberland Lake and bought an ice chest, straw hat and thermos jug. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Houston, over on Taylor Mill Road, bought more paint and were looking at a New Perfection oil heater for next fall. People won't believe me when I tell them Perfection makes the best oil heater on the market, but go buy one at Sears Roebuck, or buy a Norge, Superflame, Estate, Duo Therm—but right now, I have already sold four Perfection oil heaters for fall, to people who have tried other brands of oil heaters.

Same thing in Perfection electric ranges. You get more for your money when you buy that $349 Perfection electric range than in any other brand of ranges on the market. Compare Perfection with any of them and see if I'm not right. Grandma Clifton and Sarah were in but I didn't have time to argue with them. Some fellow from Covington, stopped in inquiring about the paint we sell—we have sold so much about the paint at Conrad Hardware out of Walton, he wanted to try some.

We had heard about 40 hand tobacco setters. We sell the Perfection and we have some left. Just received a shipment of bolce twine, also another shipment of that 20-inch window fan to sell for $49.50—get one before they are all gone. Grigor brought in a lot of Armstrong rugs, in all sizes. Virgil Chapman's wife just bought a 9x12 woven rug pattern. Mrs. R. L. Bent Mistle. Agnes Kenney called for a patch swing.

We have sold 50 Perfection hand tobacco setters and 11 Bemis tractor setters. I don't know how many gallons of transplanter solution and paddle pumps for pumping water to set tobacco. John Wood just stopped in and bought a 6-qt. White Mountain ice cream freezer. Beckham Shields and Mr. Williamson came in and got a Bemis tobacco setter and an Eclipse mower. I sold Neal Anderson, Verona Road, a Mastercut power rotary lawn mower—he came in today and said that "it is the best lawn mower I ever saw or used. It cuts smooth and any height grass or weeds." When you need it bad and in a hurry, call CONRAD, your hardware man—if it can be had, I'll have it!

FATHER'S DAY SERVICE

Rev. Charles A. Vaughn, pastor of the First Christian Church, Walton, said today he believes "Fathers and men should be given special recognition one day a year, on Fathers Day, the same as mothers on Mothers Day." He will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "Fathers, You Are Great." Mr. Al Fields of Flax, Ind., has been invited to bring a special Fathers Day service at the morning worship service.

Regular worship services will be conducted at 8:00 Sunday evening. A brief report on the Chi Rho camp at Butler Park, held this week, will be given by Patricia Worthington, Patsy Jones, Nora Perick, Judy Young, Louise Brewer, Elizabeth Grubbs, Betty Lou Northcutt, and Stephen Vaughn. Following this, Rev. Vaughn will deliver an evangelistic sermon.

The following girls have completed work for this step: Janice Ryle, Esther Cain, Eileen Lucas, Glenna Gutridge, and Karen Cain.

IN F.O.P. LEAGUE

Bob Eades has again entered the baseball for the club, but we feel that in any way we have bettered our community, or helped the less fortunate, all the effort has been worthwhile. It is our purpose and aim to continue to work for other good projects to develop our members in intellectual, endeavor, social friendship and community service."

"We wish to take this opportunity," the spokesman added, "to thank each person who assisted us in our work this past year, as we realize it is only through your help and cooperation we were able to accomplish these achievements."

Hillbilly Wedding At Verona Lake Ranch, Sunday

A really true "Hillbilly Wedding in June," will take place on the stage at Verona Lake Ranch, Sunday afternoon, June 21. This will be the first wedding held in the outdoor setting of the huge shaded amphitheater and the church is of considerable interest to the many people who find their way over to Verona Lake Ranch for various occasions.

In addition to this colorful wedding ceremony, there will be a fiddlers' contest, stage show, and Wild West show. A full afternoon's entertainment program has been planned that should delight both young and old.

New Fire Truck

The new fire truck that was in Independence, last Monday, June 8, was recently purchased by the Lexington Fire Department. Richard Campbell, from whom the Independence Fire Department purchased a new truck, had it stop here to show the firemen what features it possessed that will be the same on our new truck. Although the size of this demonstrator was larger than any one we now have, the one purchased by our department is still larger, will better and faster movability, and requires less man power to operate.

Girl and Boy Scouts

The leaders of the Independence Boy and Girl Scout Troops are planning another summer swimming party, to be held at Rosedale pool. The manager of the pool has consented to a cut-rate price for these troops. Transportation facilities are always the hardest part of all in completing these plans and in carrying them out. So, if someone will donate their time and truck or just their truck on a Saturday or Sunday, more of these outings could be had throughout the summer.

There's only one answer...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost?

That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Free—Then What?

Lesson for June 21, 1953

TWO kinds of people pay little attention to law. One kind is made of very bad citizens, so bad that sometimes they lose their citizenship. The other kind is made up of those who are the best citizens. Sometimes they even receive medals or other honors from their communities or from the state. How can this be?

The answer is that the first kind live far below the law; the second kind live far above it. Criminals and crooks are lawless because they are anti-social, they are enemies of society and do not want to be a part of the community. But the other kind of people go far beyond the law, as we saw last week. The best husbands probably do not know what the laws are which govern husbands' treatment of their wives. The best fathers may not know what the statutes are which prescribe the duties of parents. These husbands and fathers are far better than any law could make them.

Law In One Word

All this is true of the law of God, too. His laws are not a precise number of statutes and ordinances. His laws are not a code like a federal code or a municipal code. The entire law of God is summed up, Paul says, in one word, that is: Love. Now Paul would not for a moment deny that we ought to love God supremely. But here he is thinking about loving one's neighbor as oneself. No law, no shelf-full of statute books, no encyclopedia of decisions by the Supreme Court, can cover all cases. But love does cover all cases. You cannot always tell what the law says in a given case. Maybe the law says nothing at all. But love always has something to say. Love always has an answer.

We Know Love

Even if you do not know what the law is, you always know what love is. Because we do know, naturally and always, what it is to love ourselves. Loving yourself means keeping your own interests at heart, giving yourself the benefit of the doubt.

The divine law of love is: Be just as much interested in others as you are in yourself. Be willing to take trouble for them, watch out for them, give them the benefit of the doubt, think ahead for them. When St. Paul talks about Christians being free, he does not mean being free from love, but for love. What is it that ties us down and keeps us from loving our neighbor? Isn't it our love for ourselves? The Christian way of life is to be free from our own demands so as to be free to serve others.

When The Bible Does Not Speak

Some people think of the Bible as a kind of rule-book. Well, there are rules in it, and some of them are applicable to our modern problems. But we have some problems in modern living that the Bible says nothing about. For instance: Shall a Christian use tobacco? Is it a sin for the Christian to bear arms? These and many other questions are not dealt with in the Bible, as flatly and sharply as "Thou shalt not steal." For this reason, many Christians think that if the Bible does not mention some problem in so many words, they are free to do as they please about it. By no means. The Christian is free from the law as a curse, as a condition of God's favor, or as a cage; but he is never free from the law of love. And since God is love, and since love is the law of our life as Christians, then the Bible always does have something to say about every situation. It has at least this to say: What does love—God's kind of love—suggest?

Freedom And The Spirit

Some Christians have made the mistake of thinking that if a person is spiritual enough, he will be set free from all human obligations. They have supposed that the law of love, in the sense of love to one's neighbor, is on a lower plane somehow than love of God; and that if a man once gets up in the stratosphere of the divine love, then he can simply forget the world outright. No one who takes his New Testament seriously can make that mistake. Read in Gal. 5:22-23 Paul's list of the fruits of the Spirit. These are not ripened in solitude, but in company with others and in their service.

GOD'S MASTERPIECE?

The rose comes very close to man's standard of perfection. Its delicate beauty seems to mock every effort of the artist or camera to capture it. But is the rose really God's masterpiece? Hardly!

For its beauty is passive. It brightens life only for those who seek it out and gaze upon it. And in but a few days it withers and is ugly.

God's masterpiece is MAN. For with all his waywardness and selfishness, Man is capable of reflecting the love of God. When he lets God touch his life he is able to bring happiness and faith to others. He doesn't have to wait until he is noticed. He can actively bring spiritual blessings to his fellow men.

As the gardener cultivates the rose, the Church cultivates the lives of men. Always it strives to help us become all that God wants us to be.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Democracy, not civilization, neither survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rev. C. N. Ogg and family are at home following a pleasant vacation, the past week, with friends at Pennington Gap, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brewsough are the proud parents of a son, born recently.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Idol, who were united in marriage Saturday evening at the local Baptist church by Rev. Ray Johnson. Following a reception in the dining room of the church, the happy couple departed for a bridal trip of undisclosed destination. The bride is the former Doris June Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Emma Taylor of Shelby Street, and Mr. Idol is the son of Mrs. Viola Idol of the Dixie Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Benson of Dayton, Ohio, his sister, Mrs. Marie Kinman, and father, John Brown, have concluded a pleasant vacation at Planet Court and Wolf Creek dam, where the party enjoyed fishing. They landed 120.

Blayne Miller and J. B. Simpson were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller.

The Christian Adventure camp for youth will be held at Bethel, Visalia, Ky., June 22-26. Rev. C. N. Ogg is teaching a class there in Christian living.

Floyd Roberts of Mt. Zion Road, was transacting business in Owensboro, Ky., and Indianapolis, Ind., Monday and Tuesday.

Felicitations are extended Thomas Doyle and bride, the former Jo Ann Burke, for whom the marriage ceremony was performed Saturday evening in the local Methodist church by Rev. C. N. Ogg. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Hotel Gibson, Cincinnati, for the bridal party.

The Methodist Men of the Covington District will have a reunion at Camp Ernst, Saturday and Sunday, June 20-21. The speaker will be Mrs. C. C. Long.

Miss Rita Wisenbach, R.N., of Covington, was a guest of Miss Elizabeth Rouse, Tuesday night of last week, and with Miss Rouse and mother attended the monthly club meeting at St. Paul Church. Miss Wisenbach is maternity supervisor at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Lida Scott, 79, who made her home with her son at 1106 Park Drive, Park Hills, succumbed Thursday at Booth Hospital, Covington. She leaves her son, Maurice Graham, Superintendent of the Cincinnati Office of the Kentucky Central Life and Accident Insurance Co. Mrs. Scott was a member of the Christian church, and services were from the McClure funeral home, Sunday at 2 p. m., Flemingsburg, Ky. Burial was in the cemetery there. Sympathy is extended Mr. Graham in his loss.

Felicitations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Don Markesbery on the event of the birth of their second son, Richard Bryan, at St. Elizabeth Hospital, June 11. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodward of Mt. Zion Road, entertained very graciously Sunday at dinner, for Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tonner, Mrs. Kirby Marshall, Howard Thompson and the Perry Allens.

Mrs. Pauline Worthington and sons, Johnny and Tommy, of Louisville, were guests of her sister, Mrs. John E. Rouse, and other relatives the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Tubby) Youell are being congratulated over their infant son, Bobby Lewis, who was born June 11 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Montgomery county farmers told UK County Agent Floyd McDaniel they consider treating plant beds with methyl bromide gas cheaper than buying and hauling wood.

SPRAYING TOMATOES TOMATO DISEASES

Spraying tomatoes with copper fungicides or organic compounds will prevent leaf blight and fruit rot, according to the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Since spraying is a preventive measure and not a cure, tomato-growers should not wait until disease symptoms appear. Ordinarily tomatoes should be sprayed about 30 days after the first blooms appear, and then every seven to 10 days. More frequent spraying may be needed in wet weather.

Sprays are considered more effective than dusts, because they stick to the plant better, but if the plants are wet, dusts may be used to advantage.

Farmers in Franklin county ordered 20,000 strawberry plants in March, about equally divided between Blakemore and Tennessee Beauty varieties.

Several farmers in Fayette county are planning to install irrigation equipment for tobacco and grass.

A BUSY MONTH

John Hopperton and wife were in today—John got the best Case pocket knife I had, and also bought a quart of transplanter solution to kill those wire worms. Mrs. Moore bought strainers and a dipper. Then came Edward Roberts and wife—Ed is having gun trouble; he has a new gun, I sold him last year, and he says the barrel is too short; it won't kill those squirrels in the top of some trees—I guess we will have a gun trade. Clint Blankenketter from Florence, and his grandson were up getting repairs for their tank sprayers—Clint bought a Perfection hand tobacco setter; he said Minter Martin told him that Perfection was the only good one. Do you suppose Minter ever used one?

Mrs. Laura Works came after screen wire—she has been remodeling her apartment, and it is for rent now. Charley Denlinger came up for a gallon more of that Bolce outside white paint—he is another Bolce paint user. Some lady came in the side door for a two quart White Mountain ice cream freezer—I handed her one, she paid me and away she went. We have sold several freezers this year, also lots of thermos jugs and water coolers.

We received a shipment of thermos jugs, carry-all boxes for your cold drinks and food, ice cream freezers and croquet sets for you and the children. Mrs. Eva Hall was in today—first time I had seen her this spring. O. C. Long from Beaverlick, was up today—he has been very sick and just out of the hospital, but he is much better now. Albert Rhodes, Jr. and wife bought a lot of Armstrong linoleum. Caesar Arnett and wife were in today buying screens, cow spray, and Caesar bought a piddle pump to mount on his tractor, and we are going to make him a 10-ft. spray to spray his corn for weeds.

Just unloaded 1100 lbs. of bug dust, such as Rotonec, DDT, Methoxychlor, Lindane, Asanote of Lead and Paria Green, also liquid cattle spray and household fly spray. Mrs. Robert Rich, from Erlanger, had me send her a 20-inch window fan to cool her kitchen—Brewster took it down and installed it for her, and it worked perfectly. Joe James said he wanted 2 gallons of that good Bolce white interior gloss—he said it is white and stays white. I have a 15-gallon pour-in type electric dairy water heater—they have been scarce.

Stanley Bailey from McDardensville, stopped and got 10 pounds of Paria Green for his tobacco. Brewster made Caesar Arnett a 10-ft. spray boom today and it looked like a factory job. Chick overhauled a bicycle for Chas. Praither—it looked like a small job, but it took hours. Chick delivered Mrs. Stone some stove pipe for her water heater and Mrs. Roland Glenn a 9x12 rug. Pete Black stopped for one of those Dayton water systems; he has sold several to these farmers for their dairy barns and milk houses—buy a Dayton water system as low as $76.50 and quit pumping water by hand—there is nothing like having a lot of good water right where you need it—just turn the faucet.

We checked over and straightened up our linoleum rugs today—we have the most beautiful selection of rugs in stock, most any size and all prices, even as low as $4.95. We received a lot of new Perfection electric ranges, priced from $194.95 to $419.95—look our ranges over before you buy—compare price and quality with any electric range on the market—Perfection even has a heavier cabinet and more insulation.

Saturday was a very busy day. We sold a little bit of everything, including two 5-shovel cultivator plows, a lot of linoleum and gallons of Bolce paint, a pony binder, several Case pocket knives, wash tubs, foot tub to Henry Penick to wash his big feet in. Mr. and Mrs. Klein, over an Taylor Mill, bought a lot of rubber base porch paint—their neighbor, Mr. Houston, had pointed his porch with rubber base—that is the way I sell so much paint. I sell a good quality and one neighbor tells the other one, which is the best advertising I can do.

The Ford brothers, Paul and Clay, are doing some plumbing for their mother and also for Paul. Mrs. Smith over at Union, Gilbert Smith's mother, bought a 12x15 Armstrong linoleum. I sold two lots of linoleum to strangers. Scott Lancaster bought the best sickle grinder I had. Jess W. Thornton called for more Bolce outside white paint—have you seen Jess's house? If he can make a house look like that, what could a painter do, but you don't have to be a painter to put on Bolce paint—it just flows on and dries to a glossy finish.

The Baptists had Jarman put in a new Murray cabinet sink at the parsonage for our new preacher's wife, Mrs. C. N. Taylor. Have you heard Rev. Taylor preach? If not, you have missed something, because both the old and the young, say they never heard anyone like him—doesn't matter what denomination you belong to, go hear him. He deserves more praise than he will ever get from human beings, although he has received a lot already. We have sold several of these Murray sinks and they really are nice—a very heavy cabinet with good doors and drawers—it is snow white, not ivory, like some.

Just like that Bolce white paint, it is snow white, not a blue white like some I have seen. These New Perfection electric ranges are snow white with a like white oven. They are beautiful and do they cook? So clean, so economical, and no danger of fire. Do it with electricity, the safest and best way to do so many different things, but in the end you are always glad you did it with electricity.

Methodists to Observe Birth Of John Wesley

Rev. G. W. Hoffman, pastor of the Walton Methodist Church, has announced that The World Methodist Convocation of Evangelism will take place in Philadelphia, Pa., June 26-28. There is to be great meetings, addressed by world leaders in Methodism.

On Sunday, June 28, a great mass meeting will be held at Franklin Field, at which 67,000 people are expected to attend. Methodist laymen of Philadelphia have set a goal of 1,000 which they hope to win for Christ. These will be received into membership of the Methodist Church on Sunday, the time of the mass meeting.

This will be the greatest Methodist world-wide evangelistic meeting ever held, the local pastor said. The Methodist Church has set apart the entire year of 1953 as a period of world-wide evangelism. The faith of the Methodist leaders is for an ingathering, during the year, of 250,000 members.

June 28 will also mark the observance of the 250th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley, who, under God, brought the Methodist Church into existence. This anniversary will be observed by the Walton Methodist Church at 11 a. m., June 28. All members are urged to be present.

3-DAY BOONE FAIR

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of

Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows

It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power

When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy

Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide*

The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car

This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can swerve in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other makes. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line

Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

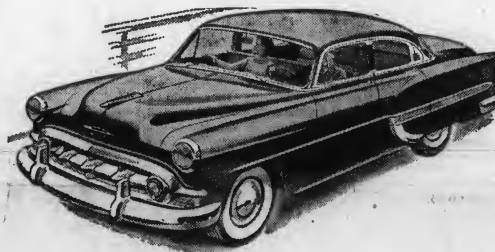

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car

Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

This is the 1953 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

ARTIFICIALLY BRED

The first American Breeders Service calves to be born in Northern Kentucky, were dropped June 11, 1953, twin bulls. Dam was Northern Kentucky's Double Footprint; sire was Barta Omsby Fobes, 850298. He has 16 daughters, average, 15,000 lbs. milk, 534 lbs. butterfat.

Owner of cow and calves is Chas. J. Grift, Covington, Ky., Route 5, and the technician was Robert Jackson of the Northern Kentucky Proved Sire Service.

We believe that it is the function of artificial breeding to offer its users a product of known excellence, rather than to make a proving ground of its users' herds. American Breeders Service studs—and no others—offer dairy-men the exclusive use of Sires Proved Great. The average of their proofs places them in the top 2% of all bulls proved in DHIA in the country.

The average proofs of their bulls for the Camel Stud are as follows:
5 Brown Swiss bulls, 13,165 lbs. milk, 528 lbs. butterfat,
12 Guernsey bulls, 10,329 lbs. milk, 494 lbs. butterfat,
11 Holstein bulls, 14,806 lbs. milk, 554 lbs. butterfat,
11 Jersey bulls, 9,489 lbs. milk, 509 lbs. butterfat.

Who Can Be Glad?

Lesson for June 23, 1953

EVERYBODY with a grain of sense wants to be happy. Most sensible people also know the kind of happiness they want, though some of them have not yet found the way to get it. What we really want is a happiness that will not melt in the rains of "misfortune," will not slip from our grasp in the nights of sorrow, will not be blown away by the winds of disappointment. What we want, in short, is happiness that will last. Furthermore, if we are grown persons and not children, we want a happiness that goes much deeper than the surface. We don't want one that is tied to things. We want a happiness that reaches the inside of our lives and is not a mere glamorous finish on the outside.

Handicaps of Happiness

That very practical friend of God and man, Saint Paul, is a solid example of how true happiness can prevail over the most disheartening handicaps. Many a man in his situation would say to himself: Happiness is just not possible for me. If things were only different, I could be happy. But consider the handicaps of Paul's happiness. He was a Jew in the Roman Empire, and a Christian among Jews—a member of a minority group either way you take it. He was in a situation where his future was most uncertain. If Paul had waited for "security" he never would have known happiness to his dying day. He was never a well man; at the time of the Philippian letter he was a prisoner. Freedom, health, security, power—he lacked all these. But he did not lack happiness. If Paul could find happiness, so can any one.

The Christian Secret

If happiness is a secret, it is an open one. You do not have to join some mysterious order, there are no dues, you do not have to make some tremendous pilgrimage to learn the secret of true happiness. It is a secret known to Christians, and the Christian brotherhood is no closed fraternity, its doors are wide open as the gate of heaven. Paul put the main point into three Greek words which in English mean: "To live is Christ." What he meant his life showed plainly.

For one thing, he looked out at the world through the eyes of Christ. Nothing could quite discourage him, take the heart out of him; for he was as sure as Christ is sure that this is God's world and "He is the ruler yet." His hands were Christ's hands, his work was Christ's work. One of Jesus' last words was "that my joy may be in you." Paul knew what that meant. Furthermore, Paul's self was devoted to Christ. He knew that his life, uncertain as it was to himself, was not uncertain to God. He knew himself to be gripped by the power of the Son of God. He knew he was a son of destiny—not his own destiny alone but Christ's. So he could face the future as our Christian poet Whitman faced it.

Why Aren't All Christians Happy?

A prize-winning photograph was taken by a news photographer in Louisville, Kentucky, a year or two ago. All he did was to take an unposed picture of a street corner where perhaps 25 persons were waiting for the light to change. Not a happy face in the lot. Is it possible that not one in that group was a Christian? On the contrary, it is most likely that a majority of those unhappy faces belonged to church members. It looks as if we were wrong in saying that happiness is a Christian secret.

No, the truth is that plenty of Christians have not yet discovered it. Many Christians are like people who have inherited great wealth and do not know it, or do not dare to believe it. They say, in church, they believe in "God the Father Almighty," but weekdays they show that they either don't believe He is almighty, or don't believe He is truly their Father. They sing, on Sundays, "I'm the child of a King," or "How firm a foundation,"—but on weekdays they act as if they were orphans in the universe, they are as wobbly as if they had no foundation at all. They sing, maybe, "Standing on the Promises," but if you asked them point-blank, "What promises of God are you standing on?" they would not have the least idea, because they didn't mean what they sang.

GOD and the City

You may not think about it while crossing the ferry, but God plays a mighty part in the life of a city!

A city is coldly impersonal. Its millions jostle one another in the subways and crush each other in the elevators, yet everyone is a stranger. You never get to know the fellow who has his elbow in your face or the lady on whose toe you are standing.

But under the hustle and confusion flows a stream of human and divine love. Sympathy and kindness and understanding express themselves in a million unnoticed acts. Prayer and faith unite multitudes in a bond of reverence and hope.

God is in the city! He is the One who is a stranger to no one... and to Whom no one is a stranger.

That's why in the city, just as in your town and mine, folks turn to the Church to satisfy that universal longing to be Known... and Understood... and Loved!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LICE MAY STUNT FLOWERING PLANTS

Green or black plant lice or aphids that are found on ornamental and flowering plants must be controlled or they will stunt the growth and decrease the bloom by sucking plant juices. Wet sprays, such as nicotine sulfate (Black Leaf 40) or Lindane are effective controls, said Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky horticulture department. There are also dusts which can be used.

SUMMER

How many people said, I'll be glad when summer comes? Well it is here—a nice hot one, which is fine for hay and grain, also for gardens and crops, with a little rain, which we generally get. Summer is the time to go on a picnic—now for this occasion we have cold drink chests, thermos jugs, camp stools, deck chairs, fish tackle, ball and bat, ice cream freezers, charcoal, and a charcoal grille—better take some sulphur or kerosene for the grasshoppers. Leonard Caldwell just came in and bought a 20" window fan—it will cool him off. Most people buy too small a fan and complain it will not put out the air, but when you get a 20" fan, you get air. Frank Wood came in and bought a 12" oscillating fan for the church at Napoleon—they have a large fan but needed a small one for the choir. Brewster and Chick filled 28 guards for Ira Stephenson—this is a job to put in new ledger plates. We sold a lot of lawn hose and sprinklers, also binder twine—several bales went out today. We are selling baler twine and bales. Albert Rhodes and wife came back for more Armstrong linoleum.

William Spaulding and wife bought a drop-in electric water heater—this is something we sell nearly every day. Caesar Arnett came after his piddle pump and sprayer boom we made for him; he also bought 2-4-5 weed killer to spray his corn. We sell a lot of weed killer, also the brush killer for cleaning fence rows, and other bushy spots. Mrs. W. H. Poe and daughter were in today—they bought three gallons of weed killer to spray their corn field. Farmers are using more of this every year.

Now is the time of year to buy your wife a Perfection electric range and keep her from cooking on a hot coal or kerosene stove—we have them as low as $195, up to $419, and I will compare these ranges, point for point and dollar for dollar, with any other range. When you buy Perfection you buy the best for the least money. I have been selling Perfection all heaters since 1941 and have sold other brands, but always sold a lot of Perfection and had no trouble—already this summer I have had three of my good customers tell me they wanted a New Perfection all heater next fall. Why? Because their neighbor has one and they know what those Perfections will do.

Mrs. Mort Rust, Mrs. Tom Marshall and daughter, Ellen, were in today—I had not seen Ellen for years—she looks fine, only a few silver hairs now and then, but all of us between 40 and 50 have some. Now is a good time to buy a power mower—we don't want to carry these over for next season. Come in and we will be like Rockefeller—we will give you a whole of a deal. Just received a lot of new metal chairs for $4.95 and $9.95. Also a shipment of window fans—a 20" window fan for only $49.50—try and beat that price.

I just received my first shipment of Carrier air conditioning units—Carrier is the oldest company in the air conditioning business. Mrs. Will Waller was in today looking over linoleum and buying a few small items. Chick repaired a pitman rod for Clyde Morton. One of the fellows out at Boone Lake stopped in and had me shake up a couple quarts of Bolce paint he had had for years—he said I really like that Bolce paint. I have used it for years and it does a very nice job inside and out.

Some body tried to tell me I should sell Sherwin-Williams paint, but I soon told her that Bolce paint was no far ahead of Sherwin-Williams paint there was no comparison. Who do you think pays for all that advertising Sherwin-Williams does? You do when you buy that paint. Bolce don't have to advertise—one job sells another and one customer tells another. There must be a large crop of bean beetles this year—we sure sell Rotone to kill them and it will do the job if you put it under the leaves with a dust gun.

Have you tried or seen one of the new bug and insect lights you hang on the wall with a 25-watt bulb in it and uses lindane so rid your place of all insects—they cost $8.95 and will last all summer, then you can refill them next year for $1.95. You can throw away the fly swat and sprayer. This light will do the work and you can rest. We sold those 20" window fans Saturday. Jay Webster and Bee bought one; so did Roy Dickey. Roland Glenn bought a Dominion table fan; Oakley Easton bought a 20" counter fan for his restaurant.

This hot weather sure makes the fans move, and we have plenty of them, but at the rate they are going we will soon be out of a fan, buy now. Last year everyone was out of fans in August. Looks like we are going to have another hot and humid summer, so buy a good fan and a nice hammock and get under a shade tree—we have some very nice hammocks and lawn chairs in metal and wood.

Leslie Hoffman just came in and I said, Leslie when are you going to buy that New Perfection electric range, and she said, right now, so you never know about these women—they give you a lot of surprises but Leslie will buy when and what she needs—Brewster will install it Tuesday. I suppose most of you know that W. H. (Pete) Chapman, over at the Boone-Gallatin line, died last week. Floyd was telling the other day that Pete sold all spring he wouldn't live until his birthday, when he would be 80 years old—he died 6 hours before his birthday—Pete was a good man with a lot of friends, but as I've said before, the good men die and the "crenny" ones live on and on—

Drivers Licenses On Sale Here July 17-18

Circuit Clerk To Visit All Precincts

R. S. Hensley, Boone County Circuit Clerk, yesterday reminded motorists that July 31 is the deadline for obtaining motor vehicle operators' licenses. He emphasized, however, that the deadline applies only to motorists the initials of whose last names are in that portion of the alphabet running from L to Z. This year those persons will be given licenses good for two years. The penalty for failure to obtain licenses by July 31 will be $1.00.

Mr. Hensley said the new regulations require that every motorist in the L to Z category file and sign a reapplication form before he can procure his new operator's license. Applicants can not send for their license, but must apply in person.

However, Mr. Hensley and his deputies will visit the various precincts throughout Boone County from 12 noon until 8 p. m. in order to give residents who work out of the county an opportunity to obtain their license without having to lose time from their work. The dates and places of Mr. Hensley's and his deputies visits are:

Hebron—Hebron Garage, July 11.
Verona—Verona Bank, July 13.
Petersburg—Petersburg Food Market, July 14.
Citizens Deposit Bank, July 15, 4 to 8 p. m.
Walton—City Building, July 17-18.
Constance—Ellis' Store, July 20, 12 to 5 p. m.
Taylorsport—Sprague's Store, July 20, 5 to 8 p. m.
Union—Union Bank, July 21.
Florence—Firehouse, July 24-25.
And finally, in order to accommodate as many persons as possible, Mr. Hensley said his office in the Courthouse at Burlington, would remain open all day Saturday, July 18 and 25.

ENTERTAIN RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Carnes entertained several of their relatives, June 21, including Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sparks and C. W. Sparks of Verona; Mrs. Ann Dugger, Mr. Edith Black and daughter, Mary Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stephenson and two sons, Larry and Garry, and Miss Hymer Toppert, all of Walton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toole and son of Owen; Mrs. W. C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carnes and family.

University Tries to Develop Better Strain of Duroc Hogs

The University of Kentucky announces that seven of 10 registered Duroc sows and gilts in the Western entuck Experiment Substation herd at Princeton have qualified for the Official Duroc Production Registry with their spring litters. The experimental work points to the development of strain of Durocs that produce pork more efficiently and profitably, and also the kind of lean bacon that consumers prefer.

Three 2-year-old sows at the Princeton substation weaned an average of 9.67 pigs with an official 5-day weight of 39.12 pounds per pig and a litter weight of 378.2 pounds.

One of these sows qualified for the official registry with each of three litters. Her record includes weaning 10 pigs with an average weight of 33.15 pounds at a litter weight of 331.5 pounds at 56 days in the spring of 1952. In the fall of 1952, nine pigs from this sow averaged 35.78 pounds, with a litter weight of 322 pounds when 56 days old. Then, in the spring of this year, 11 pigs from this same sow averaged 39.29 pounds, with a 56-day litter weight of 432.18 pounds.

Four gilts with their first litters this spring qualified by weaning an average of nine pigs, each weighing 33.29 pounds, with a 56-day litter weight of 299.6 pounds.

Two pigs from each of the top six litters will be fed a standard ration in drylot until they average 200 pounds, and then they will be slaughtered and their carcasses studied.

Raymond Chapman, Adair county, is using potash and boron on three-year-old alfalfa.

Because will showed up in tobacco last year, many farmers in Powell county are growing disease-resistant varieties.

More soil samples were tested this spring in Anderson county than during the entire year of 1952.

There will be good singing and fine gospel messages. The church extends a cordial welcome to all its friends to visit them during these services.

Duval of Burlington

F. E. Duval, a Contract Representative of the Kentucky Exc-Serve Men's Board, will be at the Courthouse in Burlington, Monday, July 6, from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m., to assist veterans and their dependents in claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service.

Careful Driving Urged For July 4th Weekend

A warning to Kentucky motorists to take it easy on the highway over the Kentucky 4th of July was issued today by Charles B. Jones, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee for Highway Safety, Frankfort.

Despite the fact that the Fourth comes on Saturday and most working persons will not have a three-day holiday as they had last year, traffic will be heavy and caution necessary, Jones said. He pointed out that seven persons died on Kentucky highways on Memorial Day, which also came on a Saturday.

Jones warned motorists about planning trips that are too strenuous for the weekend and which result in their driving home exhausted late Sunday in order to be at work Monday morning.

"The driver who arranges his holiday so that he can get home early enough while driving at a reasonable rate of speed is following a prime rule of safety," he said. "High speed late at night while the driver is tired and suffering from slowed reflexes is one of our biggest causes of highway deaths."

Kentucky's highway safety record through June 21 showed a big improvement over the same period in 1952. Deaths during the 1953 period totaled 322, against 348 last year.

The State Police summary of accidents compiled through April and released last week showed deaths occurring at the rate of 8.3 for each 100-million vehicle miles driven during the first four months of this year. The rate through April of last year was 8.6.

Farm News—Here and There

Of the 150 to 175 species of birds found in Kentucky in an average year, about 15 are winter residents.

Hart and Warren county homemakers are learning leathercraft, and are making billboards, coin purses and hand bags. Powell Robinson, Webster county, has used the improved pasture program for the past four years, the farm producing all the feed for his cattle.

Plans for a safety program to be carried throughout Metcalfe county are sponsored by the county Extension advisory council.

Laurel county homemakers displayed lamps, lamp shades and picture frames in a store window during Home Demonstration Week.

Jim Knott and W. A. Hamilton, Jr., of Meade county are building large Creighton style poultry houses, following plans from the UK engineering department.

With cool mining on the decline in Perry county, the number of gardens has increased greatly over recent years.

LEGION MEETING TONITE

According to Ralph M. Scott, Commander of Johnson-McElroy Post, 277, American Legion, there will be a meeting tonight (July 2) at 8:30, in the home of "Ab" Ryan on Beaver Road. All present and past Legion members are urged to be present as matters pertaining to each and every one will be discussed. The possibility of building or securing a home for the Legion will also be discussed, as a regular place of meeting is urgently needed.

All members please contact all past members who have not as yet signed up for this year and have them attend this special meeting, which will be of interest to all veterans—World War I, World War II, and those who have served during the Korean conflict. Please try to attend this meeting, Mr. Scott said.

Additional Water Mains To Be Laid In City of Florence

Expansion of the water distribution system in Florence and vicinity may enable the Boone County Water Commission to establish a water district in this county.

This developed this week when William Fitzgerald, city clerk of Florence, revealed that plans had been made to extend the city distribution system.

Mr. Fitzgerald said contracts had been awarded to lay mains on a portion of U. S. Highway 25 and portions of Roger Lane, Edward Avenue and Circle Drive, also on portions of Burlington Pike and Kothyn Avenue. Legislation also is being prepared to install mains on the remainder of Circle Drive and Roger Lane. The city also is advertising for bids for 600 feet of main on Valley Drive and is considering placing mains along U. S. Highway 42, Woodland and Grand Avenues and Scott Drive.

Residents of other areas have expressed a desire for completion of the water system. Extension of the mains would mean approximately 700 customers.

The Boone County Water Commission figured on only 250 customers, and the extension with the added number of water users would more than compensate for the loss of Elmers, where the city council refused to enter into a contract with the Boone County commission.

Breeders Have Daughter

Those present were Mrs. Pearl Bedinger, Mrs. Lula Hudson, Mrs. Rebecca Brown, Mrs. Florence Struve, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. Fannie Howard, Mrs. Roger Arnold, Mrs. Bea Kite, Mrs. Cecil Sargent, Mrs. J. L. Arnold and Janet.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Cecil Sargent in July.

3 Fire Departments Battle Blaze 4 Hours

A fire of undetermined origin caused more than $50,000 damage early Tuesday morning to the Hamilton Grade School, located on the Beaver and Big Bone Road, in Boone County.

The blaze destroyed the second floor and severely damaged the first floor of the two-story brick structure. The building, which was remodeled several years ago, had ten rooms.

Firemen from Walton, Florence, and Burlington fought the fire for more than four hours. The alarm was turned in at 3:15 a. m. by Frank Sebree, who lives near the school.

The blaze had spread through the entire second floor by the time the three companies arrived. The firemen drew water from three ponds in the vicinity and took preventive action to keep the fire from spreading to two nearby homes. H. N. Ockerman, superintendent of Boone County schools, and H. Richard Elliston, architect, inspected remains of the building Tuesday to determine the possibility of building a new school, using the old foundation and walls.

Mr. Ockerman estimated the damage to the building and contents at $50,000.

A special meeting of the Boone County School Board was called for Wednesday to discuss the findings of Mr. Ockerman and Mr. Elliston.

Bible School Commencement

Commencement exercises were conducted at the Independence Baptist Church last Friday evening for the Daily Vacation Bible School. The average daily attendance for the week was 176, the largest number to ever be enrolled. There were 27 workers and more could have been used.

Last Sunday there were 260 in Sunday School. Many of the new Sunday School rooms were used, and next week the new pews and furniture for the pulpit is expected to arrive and there will be more room in which to accommodate more people. "For the glory of the Lord," a spokesman said. "Visit the Independence Baptist Church and hear the Word preached as it is written."

Christian Pastor To Celebrate 1st Anniversary Sun.

One year ago Sunday, Rev. Charles A. Vaughn preached his first sermon at the First Christian Church, Walton. The choir sang the beautiful anthem, "Bottle Hymn of the Republic," with special arrangements by Fred Waring. The choir will repeat this anthem at the 11 a. m. service Sunday. Rev. Vaughn will preach on the subject, "Christian Freedom."

Rev. Vaughn said he would like a special anniversary present of all members and friends being present.

During the past year, the First Christian Church has made great progress—Twenty-one members have been added to the church and many members have become actively interested in the total church program; nearly $2,000 was given in missions and benevolence, and the general giving of the church has been increased; the church building debt has been paid off, and several items have been purchased which are useful in promotion of the work of the church. Plans are under consideration to advance the total work in all organizations in the year ahead.

Rev. Vaughn said that the greatest improvement of the church has been along spiritual lines. He also said that his conception of a good church was one that did not strive to make a great show or stress emotional outbursts, but that went about daily doing the will of the Lord. The church must cultivate the same characteristics of a family, love, sacrifice, compassion and service. "Jesus came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The Christian Church emphasizes love, sacrifice, service and daily Christian living, the pastor said.

Rev. Vaughn would like to express his deep gratitude to the many friends and his family have made in Walton, the past year.

Auto Insurance

You hold an automobile liability insurance policy issued on the basis that no one in your household, under the age of 25, drives. Then, during the year, one of your children reaches driving age and gets a drivers license. Does your policy protect you if he begins using the car? Yes, even though your company may require you to give notice of such a change and you neglect to do so. When the policy comes up for renewal, however, don't forget to make the change. You'll pay a higher premium, but there will be no question of whether you are covered.

College Costs

Be prepared for bigger bills for your college-bound boy or girl next fall. The tuition fees, board and room—all are up. There's no uniformity about rates or increases, so it might pay to look around. The Central Association of College Business Officers reports tuition, in general, will be 15% higher than in 1952-53. Among big-name private institutions generally, fees of $700 to $900 will be common; for leading women's colleges, $1,800 to $2,000. State universities are cheapest, as a rule. At these, about $130 is the average; at private colleges, around $450.

For board and room, the College Business Officers estimate $225 is the average dormitory rent, $432 for meals. Eastern colleges cost most, up to $1,000.

Used Car Prices

If you're car buying, here's a point to consider: Used cars are a better buy now than a year ago. That shows up in average retail prices put out by an affiliate of the National Automobile Dealers Association. Some typical examples: A year-old Buick Riviera is now selling for $2,245; last summer a Riviera would cost $2,345. A year-old Chevrolet this June cost $1,565; last June, $1,735.

Mahrmeier-North Marriage

The marriage of Miss Delores North, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. North, to Mr. Clifford Mahrmeier, son of Clifford L. Mahrmeier, both of Independence was solemnized Saturday, June 20 in the Independence Christian Church. The couple is now making their home on Oliver Road, Independence.

Some of the more important items developed during the recent Northern Kentucky Firemen's Association meeting will be given by members who attended.

HOMEMAKERS BUY TREES AND SHRUBS

The Association of Homemakers Clubs in Harrison county has contributed more than $585 in the past three years for trees and shrubs planted on the grounds of the Harrison County High School, and for their summer care. Eventually the trees will be identified with markers, giving their names and the names of the donors, said Miss Elizabeth Donnell, home agent for the University of Kentucky.

INSPECTORS ASSIGNED TO ASSIST VETERINARIAN

Two full-time inspectors, employed by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Husbandry, have been assigned to work in Kentucky in cooperation with the state Division of Livestock Sanitation, according to an announcement today by State Veterinarian Dr. L. L. Breck.

The men will assist state personnel in making inspections of raw garbage cooking plants to insure that garbage is cooked properly before being fed to hogs for commercial use. They will also assist in the orderly movement of hogs within Kentucky and across state boundaries.

This additional personnel, Breck explained, will assist the state in remaining free of the infectious swine disease, vesicular exanthema, which has reached national emergency proportions. Kentucky is one of eight states free of the disease.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture: Romans 1-3
Devotional Reading: Psalm 111.

God Is Righteous

Lesson for July 5, 1953

MAYBE it is because righteous is not a singular word. (Is there any rhyme for it?) Maybe it is because the word has a hard ring to it in some ears. It seems to suggest something rigid and un-benign, like a poker or a fence-post. Anyway, for some reason or other, we do not hear much about God's being righteous. Words like "love" or "mercy" are used more often. We hear of the high and holy God, the almighty, or we hear of the loving Father of all. But we do not hear often enough of the God who first and last and always is the righteous God.

A Righteous God Or None

The Bible's God is a righteous God. But the writers of the Bible did not shiver when they wrote that word. They did not believe and tremble. In fact, nobody who gives the question the serious thought it deserves would be interested in God if he were not righteous. An un-righteous God would be no God at all but a kind of devil. Righteousness means being right, first of all. It means seeing things as they are, seeing past the surface to the heart of things. No one who sees men and character dimly or crookedly can be righteous.

But righteousness is more than being right. It means being right-in-action. It includes being just and fair, though it is more than that, too. Some one might be fair because the rules compelled him to be. He might be fair to others so that they in turn would be fair to him. Righteousness means not only justice in act, but justice in desire. It means the love of justice and not only the practice of it. Righteousness—the Bible word—in addition means desirability. The original meaning of the word was simply "straight."

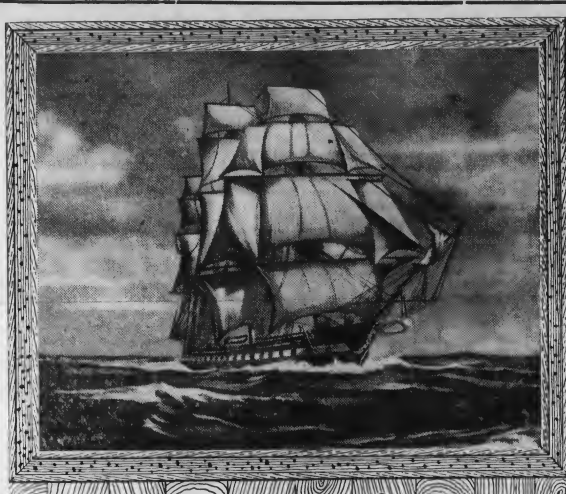

Justice For All

God is like men in one respect. His actions speak louder than his words. The writers of the Bible Old Testament and New, more often speak of God's righteous acts than of his righteous words. It remained for the Apostle Paul to sum up the case for God's righteousness. It is shown, he says—demonstrated, that is to say—in two ways. These two ways are enlarged on in the early chapters of Romans as well as elsewhere in Paul's writings.

First of all, the justice of God expresses His righteousness. God is no " respecter of persons." In other words, He plays no favorites. Paul's own people, the Jews, had misunderstood what it meant to be the "chosen" people. They had supposed it meant they were God's favorites, though the prophets had long tried to explain that "chosen" meant chosen for service, appointed. Some people today think that "Nordics" or Americans or some other group is God's chosen people. His favorites. His pets to speak. No, the Bible teaching is that in God's sight all men stand on an equal footing.

Redemption For All

If this were all that could be said, we of the human race would be in a hopeless hole. As Paul shows, the fact that God treats all men alike in the long run, is no comfort at all; it only means that the verdict "Guilty" must be pronounced on all. Comparing what we are with what we ought to be, not even we ourselves can honestly say much for ourselves. If God's righteousness were nothing but an even-handed justice, it would be a startling news. It is more. The other way God shows His righteousness is in His mercy. In His coming to us in Christ. He has made salvation—that is, the setting-free from the deadly whirling wheeling of sin and destruction—He made this free to all. He forces mercy on and forgiveness only to a selected few—or that matter, only to a selected many—then while He might be called merciful. He could hardly be called righteous. If God saved everyone, regardless He would still not be righteous. He saves those who have faith, that is, those who humbly accept what they realize they can never earn—the transforming love of God. For one of the glorious things about God—that He is not only righteous—He shares His righteousness.

OLD IRONSIDES

Thanks to a succession of victorious engagements with British men-of-war, and a stirring poem by Oliver Wendell Holmes, the U. S. Frigate Constitution found an honored harbor in the hearts of Americans.

Launched in 1797, this gallant battle-wagon of the early American Navy well deserved her nickname. Again and again the sailed in defense of Freedom; and Time alone, of all her foes, put her out of action.

We cherish Old Ironsides as a symbol of the courage that has so often preserved the liberties our forefathers purchased so dearly. And, more than ever before, we are coming to appreciate the part the Church plays in strengthening our nation—the Church which those first Americans brought to these shores that they might worship God unhindered in a free new world.

For, transcending even Time, the Church fortifies our Freedom with the Faith in which always it has flourished!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FLORENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Luchte departed Monday by plane for Chicago, to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Osmun of U.S. 42, and his brother, Carl, and wife of Cleveland, Ohio, are at home following a fishing trip to Cumberland Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott of Price Pike are the center of felicitations over the birth of a son June 22 at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Also being congratulated are the paternal and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Markesbery. The little lad has been named Jeffery Walter. The Russell Bethel family of Akron, Ohio, have been vacationing here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Lantz were at Kentucky Lake the past week for a well earned vacation.

Miss Elizabeth Rouse attended a nurses' meeting at Cleveland, Ohio, recently.

Riddell's Florence Food Market has recently undergone a complete change for the better. A new stock room has been added to the rear of the building thus allowing more shelf and counter space to display merchandise; also the interior of the interior of the store has been redecorated and new doors have been installed in front.

J. T. Stephenson is in Colfax, Ill., for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stephenson and other relatives.

Friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Cam Kennedy of Walton, learned with regret of their accident some time ago when a trailer truck forced their car off the road, causing it to turn over. Mrs. Kennedy was bruised, while he suffered a severe arm injury and is confined to St. Elizabeth Hospital. The Kennedys were former residents of the Florence community. Their many friends here wish them the best of luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ambrose have recently purchased a home on Sunset Ave., Elmore.

Friends of Wm. Markesbery regret that he has been confined to St. Elizabeth Hospital the past several days for observation. The best of luck to him.

Mrs. Richard Keyer had guests in for dinner Thursday, including Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Martin and daughter, Linda Lou, of Covington, Mrs. Earl Carpenter and Mrs. Eldridge Carpenter.

Chester Brown has recently returned from near Charleston, W. Va., where he was employed on a farm.

A Mr. and Mrs. Campbell of Westwood, Ohio; friends of the R. E. Tanners, were their guests recently.

Dairy Feeding Costs Cut, Profits Boosted With High Quality, Fertilized Pasture

Fertilized pasture adds quick pounds to beef cattle.

DAIRYMEN can cut their feeding costs to the bone by making full use of well-fertilized, high quality pasture and hay, according to the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Dairy cattle will produce between 70 and 80 per cent of their total milk capacity on pasture and hay. Beef cattle will gain well on a ration that is 75 to 85 per cent roughage. Sheep will do well on 80 to 90 per cent roughage. And the total digestible nutrients from high producing pasture are some of the cheapest that can be produced. The cost of 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients from pasture runs about 75 cents.

To get cost cutting high yields and top quality hay and pasture, three main steps are needed: 1—A soil well stocked with plant nutrients; 2—The use of well adapted mixtures of legumes and grasses; 3—Good grazing management.

Pastures can be built up and maintained at high producing levels when a balanced fertilizer is regularly added. Legume stands will produce at top levels only when they are well supplied with phosphate and potash.

Guests of the G. B. Millers during the past were W. R. Miller and wife and Mrs. Frank Hogan.

Miss Judy Cook, who was the victim of a tractor accident more than a week ago, is reported improving at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Her friends join in wishing her a rapid and complete recovery.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Huey of Union, on the rare occasion of the 72nd anniversary of their marriage, which they celebrated Monday. May they enjoy happiness, good health and many more such occasions.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the local Methodist church will meet July 9 in the home of Mrs. Paul Chaney, Burlington Road.

Miss Stella Carpenter of Covington, was visiting relatives here Sunday.

Recent visitors of the R. G. Keyers were Mr. and Mrs. Merrett Tenny and two daughters of Covington, and Mrs. Carl Kurz.

STAFFORDSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnett are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born Sunday night, June 21 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Richardson of Williamstown, and Mrs. Russell Marshall of Nicholasville, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson.

Our pastor, Rev. F. W. Johnson, was greatly surprised Thursday night of last week, at the close of revival services, when all joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to him. Everyone was then invited to the basement where cake and soft drinks were served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hanna and sons visited his parents, Sunday of last week.

We had a good evangelist and with Mrs. Moran, who was also very good at the organ, we had a fine revival here.

Mrs. Sophronia Mills was a recent weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Bellingier, and attended church here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Riggs were recent Sunday guests of their son and family.

Lice did extensive damage to alfalfa in Oldham county, practically every field in the county being affected.

The First Half Gone

The first half of 1953 is over and the boys are still in Korea, and the taxes are still high—prices of manufactured products are going higher and some farm products going down. The Republicans had better get started with all the promises they made before election—so far, nothing has changed for the better—most of us don't mind high taxes if they keep prices up and money circulating. This is the greatest country ever to exist in this old world—we are feeding and financing over half the world, so it is hard to tell what the last half of 1953 will bring. We are hoping for the better.

Brewster installed Lestie Hoffman's Perfection electric range today—that will save her a lot of time and work—just put the meal in the oven, set the timer, and when you get home it is ready to eat. If you housewives would only realize you can cook with electricity cheaper, cleaner and safer than any other way. I have never had a dissatisfied customer using a Perfection electric range. Grandma Clifton and Sarah Hodges came to town—they bought a 20" table fan, a power take-off water pump for their tractor, and a Bug-Away light to keep the bugs and flies out of the house.

This was repair day—we repaired bicycles, I helped Clarence Vest fix a plowman rod for a binder, Chick repaired two irons, Brewster sent up in a sledge hammer handle. Rev. T. C. Crume sent up for two tank sprayers. I forgot to tell you about Charley Rogers and his grass. Charley bought some of that Eden Park lawn seed I sell, he sowed it on Friday, the next Thursday he came up to tell me it was so tall he had to mow it—really a fast-growing seed—several years ago they advertised that seed six minutes to sow and six days to mow, which is about what Charley's grass did.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds came over for a gallon of Balce outside white and a gallon of rubber base porch enamel. Brewster repaired two plowman rods, two electric irons, soldered a milk bucket, repaired a hay board and threaded a set of blocks for Geo. Arnold. We received a shipment of metal lawn chairs, $4.95 set up or $4.50 in carton—get these while they last at this price. Harry Gullion came over for two gallons of weed killer to spray his corn. Pete Black took another Dayton water system for me—this one went to Eagle Station.

Charles Vest took home a 14" Dayton fan to cool off part of his house. We sure have sold the fans and have lots more to sell. Just received a shipment of bale ties, baler twine and binder twine. We also have plenty hay forks to pitch with, also two-line and grapple forks for your hay carrier, plenty of pulleys. Lucy Allphin and her mother-in-law were down today—Lucy bought a 20" window fan to cool their house.

Chick took a paddle pump mounted it on a board with a ½ h. p. electric motor and did it pump water—he sold this to James Fisher, who also bought a Jamesway hay carrier with track and hooks. Mr. Cooper, over on Green Road, bought a two-row duster to kill worms on tobacco. We have chlordane for grass hoppers and Rothane for tobacco worms. Saturday was one of those days when everyone came to town. Stella Code bought two metal lawn chairs. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Mills, over Independence way, bought a 20" window fan; Neil Dudgeon bought a Dominion table fan, as did E. M. Bumpus.

Uncle Bob Salmon and wife were in getting nails—they are building a new kitchen, all modern and everything, then a new bathroom next. Buddy Whitson bought two screen doors, complete with hardware. Clarence Combs bought Balce outside paint—he is going to paint his house while on vacation. Mrs. Russell Littell came in for a gallon of Balce outside white and a gallon of gray porch enamel. We sold lots of Armstrong linoleum—I saw three 12x15 rugs go out and a piece of 9-ft. roll goods, also a 9x12 rug.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis bought a bride and a Buena Vista saddle for their pony. Chas. Neumeister bought a pair of check lines. Walter Johnson bought home straps—we sell some harness every day. I have three 20" window fans left for only $4.50, and that is a real buy. I also have one ½ ton Carrier room air conditioner—I have one of these in my apartment and it sure does the job—keeps the room at 80 degrees when it is 95 degrees outside. Mrs. Ray Gullion came after a 12x12 Armstrong rug, one of those woven rug designs—we carry about fifty 12x12 and 12x15 to select from.

Just received some Winchester 20 ga. single barrel squirrel guns, also a few Harrington & Richardson .22 pistols and .22 automatic Remington rifles. Just unloaded five more Perfection electric ranges. They cook on a hot gas, oil or coal stove when you can cook on electric cheaper and cooler. Perfection ranges are insulated so well that you save a lot in electricity using Perfection than some other brand.

Chick uncared more Dayton water systems today—we have any size or price you need. Ash Marktin got an 8" Black & Decker electric hand saw. Brewster took James Fisher a Jamesway hay carrier, complete with track. This is wonderful hay weather, but we need rain for crops and gardens. Bloodmobile To Visit Florence, Mon., July 13

George Washington said, "Where is the man to be found who wishes to remain indebted for the defense of his own person and property to the exertion, the bravery, and the blood of others, without making generous effort to repay the debt of honor and gratitude."

This statement of our first president is so apt today when we think of the great debt we owe our servicemen who are fighting on far-off lands to protect us and our properties so that the actual destruction of war will not be seen on this continent. We can repay what we owe these fighting men by giving blood when the Bloodmobile comes to the Florence Community Center on Monday, July 13, from 1:00 until 7:00 p. m.

There are two ways in which you can give blood for your country: The painful wounded way of men in combat, or the harmless, comfortable way of those who regularly donate to local blood banks. You are asked to join the latter group.

Also, thanks to research, the new blood derivative, Gamma Globulin serum, is this summer being administered for the first time to prevent paralysis resulting from polio. What Boone County mother doesn't tremble with fear when her child develops symptoms, during the summer season, which resemble those described by doctors as also in polio? You, the people of this county, with or without children, can give hope to these people by your donation of a pint of blood. One dose of serum can be made to combat this paralysis in polio—and it takes one pint of blood to make one dose of the Gamma Globulin serum.

So, Boone Countians, won't you roll up your sleeves and give blood Monday, July 13, at the Florence Community Center, 1:00 to 7:00 p. m. Mrs. Wm. Miller and Mrs. Roger McGuire are co-chairmen of solicitors; Mrs. Mary Damschke, chairman of canteen, and Mrs. Jack Caldwell, chairman of nurses. Call any of these ladies or Florence 84, and make your pledge.

Boone Schools Get $125,244.13

School districts in Boone County will receive $125,244.13 from the $26,212,500 common school per capita fund to be distributed among all school districts in Kentucky this year, according to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Wendell B. Butler.

The sum represents $38.11 for each person between six and 18 years old living in the districts. This per capita allocation does not take into consideration the school equalization fund, a fund of $5,573,000 which is based on need. Distribution of this fund will be announced later.

School districts in the county will receive: Boone County, $105,005.35, and Walton-Verona, $20,238.78.

"L" Through "Z" Names Must Get Driver Permits

Circuit clerks are now selling 1953-55 drivers' licenses to persons whose last names begin with "L" through "Z," the Department of Revenue, Frankfort, reminded again today.

Drivers in the "L" through "Z" name group must purchase two-year licenses for two dollars before July 31. They must appear in person before the circuit clerk or deputy and complete new application forms. Licenses may be obtained at the City Bldg., Walton, July 17-18. Circuit Clerk Hensley or one of his deputies will also visit all the other precincts in this county.

Vehicle operators whose last names begin with "A" through "K" and who have licenses will not be required to buy another license until 1954.

If a person is obtaining his first driver's license in Kentucky, he will be required to pass a state police examiner's test, or provide an out-of-state license to show that he is a qualified driver. If his name begins with "A" through "K" the license will last for only one year and the fee will be one dollar.

Persons on active military duty who drive in Kentucky are required to have Kentucky licenses, except when operating an official vehicle with a U. S. Government operator's permit.

Drivers renewing licenses must pay a penalty of one dollar if they do not renew them by the July 31 deadline.

Year of Progress Completed by Piner Baptist Church

June 21 marked the first anniversary of the founding of the Piner Baptist Church, located on Morning View, Route 1. The accomplishments during the past year have been most encouraging to Pastor Grover F. Tyner, Jr. and the members.

On a beautiful, spacious location secured for the new church, the members have erected the first unit of their church building. This future educational unit is now serving as auditorium as well as class rooms. This fine proof building has been erected mainly by the members themselves, and is almost free from debt at the end of this first year. The building is designed for full use as a place of worship, class rooms for Sunday school and Training Unions, as well as a versatile center for all groups of the church.

Through the gifts of interested members and friends the church has a fully equipped kitchen, shuffleboard courts, dart games, horse shoes, croquet, badminton, and a softball field. The church is trying to serve the members in as many areas of their life as possible. It is the feeling of the church leadership that Christianity can and must be applied to all aspects of the Christian's life.

The latest addition to the church property has been the purchase of a modern five-room parsonage, on an ideally located acre about 200 yards from the church. This addition is the second phase of the building program and enlargement by the church. It is hoped that the auditorium can soon be added to complete the full program.

The Piner church began holding services the third Sunday of May, 1952. They were organized into a church the third Sunday of June with 102 members. On the third Sunday of August the first service was conducted in their new building.

Cancer Drive Nets $921.87

Mrs. W. D. Scroggin, chairman of the Boone County Cancer Drive, wishes to thank all who contributed time and money in the recent campaign which netted $921.87.

The goal of $1,500 was not reached but workers feel a great good was done through educational endeavors. This is a vital part of the program, since only through education can cancer be conquered.

"May we do our utmost in making 1954 our banner year and send $1,500 for our share in helping to care for our own Boone County patients," Mrs. Scroggin said.

Annual Picnic To Be Held July 30-31, Aug. 1

This week, Chief Russell Groger of the Walton Volunteer Fire Department issued the following news release regarding their new fire truck and their annual picnic.

"Between the dates of July 20 and July 27, the Walton Volunteer Fire Department will receive its new fire truck. This article is intended to describe in detail all the outstanding features of the truck, but is merely written to help make known what an outstanding piece of equipment it is. The purchase price of the engine is $12,300.00. This price may seem higher than necessary, but in order to have the best possible equipment, it was necessary to pay this price. Granted there are cheaper engines, but in fire fighting the best is what you want."

"The engine is a Mack, and I need say no more. We think, as do many others, that the Mack truck is awfully hard to beat. Some of the equipment featured on this truck are: Two booster reels that are capable of handling the 400 to 500 pounds pressure that is necessary in modern fire fighting; a quick fill 500 gallon booster tank (2000 gallons more than we carry on our present truck) and as a size, it is 10 feet in length, but if any of you have seen Williams-town's new truck, ours is the same size, the only difference being that ours will have a slightly smaller horse power motor. I have briefly tried to sum up, in a few words, this new engine, and needless to say, we are very proud of it—but we come now to the very important part—how do we pay for it?"

"The fire department has never, in recent years, gone from door to door and asked people to pledge or donate five to twenty-five dollars to support your department, and we don't ever plan to do this, but we do ask, beg, plead, and coax you to come to our picnic. The people of Walton and surrounding communities have most generously supported our picnic and other projects, both with their time and money, and for this, we are humbly thankful. We ask you now to please come to our picnic, have a good time, bring your friends, and enjoy yourself. The new truck will be on the grounds for you to see and admire."

"Don't forget the dates of the picnic—they are Thursday, July 30, Friday, July 31, and Saturday, August 1, on the Walton school grounds. Again I say, please come to our picnic and see our new truck."

50th Anniversary Being Celebrated This Week by Verona Bank

The Verona Bank celebrated its 50th anniversary on July 6, and some of the highlights in this half-century of progress are given.

The first meeting of the stockholders of Verona Bank was held February 17, 1903, and the following were elected directors: G. W. Roberts, O. K. Whitson, W. T. S. Blackburn, R. O. Powers, W. M. Whitson, P. E. Farrall, J. G. Tomlin, M. H. Richards and C. C. Roberts.

The Board of Directors organized by electing W. M. Whitson, president; R. O. Powers, vice president; O. K. Whitson, secretary, and J. E. Franks was selected as cashier at a salary of $60.00 per month. The president appointed a building committee, consisting of R. O. Powers, P. E. Farrall and G. W. Roberts.

A building lot was purchased from Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton at a cost of $200.00, and the contract for building was awarded H. J. Northcutt at a cost of $1,445.00. The bank opened for business July 6, 1903, with total resources of $16,501.90, and since that time the resources of the bank have grown to over one-half million dollars.

Those who have served as directors and officers during these 50 years are: Joseph Florence, C. E. Lipscomb, Mike Dempsey, J. C. Hume, W. B. McCormick, L. C. Roberts, Matthew Cleek, G. Edgar Powers, J. E. Williams, W. B. Ambrose, J. Wood Roberts, A. A. Allphin, J. E. McCormick, William Willeford, G. C. Ransom, J. L. Hamilton, T. Renaker, T. J. Carr, Arch Noel, C. E. Baker, Blanche Ransom, C. L. Gaines, Ellen G. Hamilton and Fred H. Hamilton.

The bank has had only two presidents since its organization: W. M. Whitson, its first president, served 35 years, and on his passing the present president, W. B. Ambrose, was named. Mr. Ambrose is also president of Farmers State Bank of Warsaw, having served that bank for a number of years.

Three cashiers have been in charge during these years. J. E. Franks, the first cashier, served until he resigned in 1913, and O. K. Whitson served from that time until his passing on November 12, 1946, and G. C. Ransom, the present cashier.

The present officers and directors are: W. B. Ambrose, president; G. C. Ransom, vice president and cashier; Ellen G. Hamilton, assistant cashier; directors, W. B. Ambrose, C. E. Baker, T. J. Carr, Fred H. Hamilton, G. C. Ransom, W. T. Renaker and W. B. McCormick, secretary of the board.

"No bank could celebrate even its first anniversary," Mr. Ransom said, "without the good will and loyal support of its customers. To you who have helped us reach this current milestone we are grateful, and all of us who have had the privilege of serving you, wish to say 'thank you', and that we shall continue to do our utmost for you, goes without saying."

WE'RE GOING TO AUCTION "BEAUTENA"

(Holstein Calf)

You're Invited to Her Birthday Party

PLACE: CONRAD STEPHENSON FARM, DRY RIDGE, KY.

DATE: WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1953 - 11:00 A. M.

Beautena's a big, growthy heifer with a nice spring of ribs and very little fat. She's the type of heifer you like to see join your milking herd. Best of all, she's been raised the Purina way . . . on Purina Nursing Chow and Purina Calf Startena which means her feed cost is about 1/2 of what it would have been had she been raised on milk.

See us about how we raised her. Look the calf over. We'd like to show you how you can put the Purina Program to work for you.

Beautena will be auctioned to the highest bidder on the above date, on Mr. Stephenson's farm. The entire proceeds from which will be donated to the Grant County 4-H Club.

Why don't you plan NOW to join us on this date and see a real Dairy Program in operation.

Safety Calendars

"Too Late To Be Sorry," a large size Safety Calendar, which portrays the tragic results of careless driving will be placed in prominent locations throughout this community by the Independence Police Department, Police Judge Coleman announced today.

Manufactured by The Kemper-Thomas Co., Cincinnati, the Safety Calendar is being sponsored locally by Pettit Motors, H. & G. Stephens, Bank of Independence and Rothman Hardware. Judge Coleman declares that the vivid picture of an automobile accident on the Safety Calendar is an effective means of reminding motorists and pedestrians alike of the need for safe traffic habits; and says that his department is glad to cooperate with business firms in this venture by placing the calendars.

CIVIL DEFENSE URGED AS A CHSCHOOL SUBJECT

Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler today recommended to all Kentucky school superintendents that the topic of Civil Defense find a place in the course of study for each school next year.

"Our country is in a state of emergency," Mr. Butler said. "We are no longer free from the danger of devastating attack. Seriousness of the world situation makes it imperative that school people make whatever plans seem necessary in their community to save lives and unnecessary suffering in the cost of disaster."

Your pocketbook would stay plump . . .

if everything else were as cheap as Electricity!

Yes, you may not realize it, but electric service on your farm, while constantly being improved, costs you less today than it did at the end of the war. Your rural rate for electricity is among the lowest anywhere in the United States! So, while you may have to skimp on some household expenses to balance higher costs on other items, you can afford to use electricity generously to make your home more pleasant and comfortable, and make your farm work easier and more profitable.

THE UNION LIGHT, HEAT AND POWER COMPANY

On all these points of comparison...

Chevrolet's farther ahead than ever!

... IN NEW AND ADVANCED STYLING—The new long, low, sleek lines of the 1953 Chevrolet set new standards of beauty in the low-price field. Here you will see careful detailing and a richness of appointments always before found only in much costlier cars.

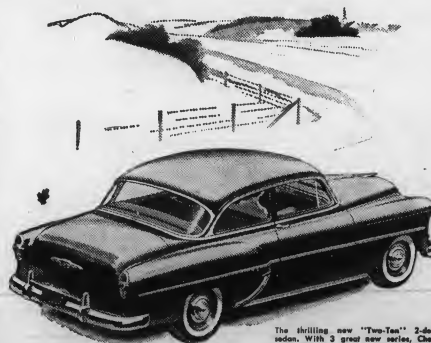

... IN HIGH-POWERED PERFORMANCE—The most powerful engine in the low-price field! The entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in combination with new Powerglide* brings you new high-compression power and a wonderful gain in economy, too. In gearshift models you will find the advanced high-compression 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

... IN SMOOTH, SIMPLE AUTOMATIC DRIVING—Expect faster getaway with Powerglide's new automatic starting and passing range . . . and new economy, too. Chevrolet's new Power Steering* takes over 80 per cent of the work of steering, makes parking unbelievably easy.

... IN ECONOMY AND VALUE—Now, you'll get many more miles out of every gallon of gasoline. You'll save on over-all operation and upkeep, too. Yet Chevrolet remains the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

... IN AMERICA'S FAVOR—Again this year—as in every single postwar year—more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. In fact, latest official registration figures show that Chevrolet is over 25% ahead of the second-place car. Nearly 2 million more people now drive Chevrolets than any other make.

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only. Power Steering available on all models.

Christian's Code

Lesson for July 12, 1953

THE Christian is not "under law," as Paul says, but "under grace." This does not mean that a Christian can live as he pleases, any old way good or bad. There is a code of behavior for Christians. Only the Christian's law is not like a city's laws or the rules of a game. The nearest thing we have to a code is certain great principles of behavior, the foundation-lines for our house of life. One of the most familiar chapters of the whole Bible is Romans 12, where Paul sets down in pretty plain words what kind of behavior may be expected of a Christian. The passage Dr. Foreman is so familiar, in fact, that it can too easily be read with the eyes only and not with the mind. So this column will depart from its usual method, and simply present, for the most part, some of the important sentences or phrases from this classic chapter, first in the old King James translation and then in various other more recent ones in English. They will be numbered as follows:

1 King James translation (1611 A. D.)
2 Revised Standard Version (1949)
3 Moffatt's translation (1922)
5 Weymouth's (1930)
6 Phillips' (1947) ("Letters to Young Churches")

(Where a number does not appear, it is because that version is not notably different from some of the others.) These translations will perhaps suggest to the thoughtful reader that there is more in Scripture than any one translation can fully bring out.

1. Present your bodies a living sacrifice . . . your reasonable service. 2.—your spiritual worship. 4.—your rational worship. 6.—an act of intelligent worship. (verse 1)

1. Be not conformed to this world. 4. You must not adopt the customs of this world. 6. Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould. (verse 2)
1. Let love be without dissimulation. 2. Let love be genuine. 3. Let your love be a real thing. 5. Let your love be sincere. 6. Let us have no imitation Christian love. (verse 9)
1. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. 2. Hate what is evil; hold fast to what is good. 3.—with a loathing for evil and a bent for what is good. 4. You must hate what is wrong, and hold to what is right. 5. Regard evil with horror; cling to the right. 6. Let us have a genuine break with evil and a real devotion to good. (verse 8)

1. Be kindly one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. 2. Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor. 3. Put affection into your love for the brotherhood . . . 5. Let your love of the brethren be true mutual affection. 6. Let us have real warm affection for one another as between brothers, and a willingness to let the other man have the credit. (verse 10)
1. Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit . . . 2. Never flag in zeal, be aglow with the Spirit. 3. Never let your zeal flag; maintain the spiritual glow . . . 4. Not wanting in devotion, but on fire with the Spirit. 6. Let us not allow slackness to spoil our work and let us keep the fires of the spirit burning. (verse 11)

1. Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. 2.—be constant in prayer. 3. Let your hope be a joy to you; be steadfast in trouble, attend to prayer. 4. Be happy in your hope . . . 5.—full of joyful hope, patient under affliction, persistent in prayer. 6. Base your happiness on your hope in Christ. When trials come endure them patiently; steadfastly maintain the habit of prayer. (verse 12)

1. Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath. 2. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God. 4. Do not take your revenge, dear friends, but leave room for God's anger. 6. Never take vengeance into your own hands, my dear friends; stand back and let God punish if he will. (verse 19)

You can see that the "code of the Christian" simply is the way Jesus lived!

THE JOY OF LIVING

Ever notice how some people associate the joy of living with moments of care-free relaxation, while others seem to find equal happiness in both work and leisure?

Which seems most natural? Was man created with the capacity for finding happiness in his spare time only or was he endowed with a genius for reaping joy from both work and play?

Before anyone surrenders to the cynicism of the first theory, he owes it to himself, his neighbors and his God to give the second a real try.

For centuries the Church has been helping men to discover the deep and lasting joy of purposeful living. When your life has a purpose, linked to the Purpose of God . . . then every day reveals anew the joy of living!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Symptom is extended the family.

METHODIST WSCS MEETS

Circle 1 of the W.S.C.S., Walton Methodist Church, met in the home of Mrs. Sallie Miller, July 2, with Mrs. George Hoffman, president, presiding at the business session. Mrs. Miller was program leader and the topic, "Laborers for Christ."

Members present were Mrs. Robert Conrad, Mrs. Pearl Bedinger, Mrs. Geo. Hoffman, Mrs. Carrie Rouse, Mrs. Lotta Powers and Miss Katie Roberts.

Mrs. Anna Ferguson, a guest, gave an interesting description of the Methodist camp on Chandler Mountain near Birmingham, Ala., which consists of several hundred acres. Daniel Hutton, a war chaplain, has charge of the entire camp. He has given it an Indian name, Camp Samatenga. Methodist churches of the district can send groups of young people for one week. There are well built cabins, recreation of all kinds, Bible teaching and the worship of God.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Miller, assisted by her daughter, served delicious refreshments.

I wonder sometimes where it all goes—I know we only sell a small percentage that is sold in Northern Kentucky, but we sell a lot every year—of course there are more houses and homes to maintain every year; always something new or repair work to be done. I watch and wonder every day what goes with all the different pieces of material we sell—a door lock, several pair window lifts, sash locks, screen door, springs, padlock, hinge hasp, gate hinges, bolts—I would like to know how many tons of bolts and pipe fittings we sell every year. But go to CONRAD for he has it!

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stepson bought a room of Armstrong linoleum; Noel Walton, our County Surveyor, bought a Carrier air conditioner unit for his home; R. C. Durr bought more Bolce outside white paint—he is painting a house at Nicholson; J. C. Reynolds and wife, over on Taylor Mill, bought a 20" window fan and three of the best lawn chairs I had; Clarence Combs is painting his house while on vacation—they always use Bolce paint, inside and out. The ladies over at Beacon Life Motel were in buying electric fans, a broom and case scissors.

Kenny Vest came after more binder twine—he said the twine I had was the best they had ever used, and it is cheaper. We just set up more porch swings—we can't keep in them. We also ran out of Buena Vista saddles and riding bridles, but we have more now. If you are going to buy a fan this season, you had better do so soon—I called several distributors in Cincinnati and all were out—the fans are in retail stores and that is not many.

Price Chaney just came in for a pair of both room scales and a new plastic toilet seat—they are remodeling their bathroom. James B. Fisher was in today, paying his account—we have been hauling it out to him for the past two weeks—he bought 50' of the best plastic water hose and a nozzle—Jim's vacation is over now and he has to go back to work. Robt. Griffin had me fix him nine pieces of pipe for his spray boom to spray his corn. He also bought a gallon of Rothene to spray his tobacco for worms.

Mrs. T. C. Crume was back again today for more Bolce outside white paint—she bought a few other articles—one was a lamp adapter to wire a kerosene lamp. Oh yes, all you ladies who have been calling and asking for Glomarene to clean your rugs, I have it the next time you need it—I am a little slow, but I try to have what you ladies want. Mrs. Laura Works is painting her house with Bolce paint—the whitest paint and the most body—try it!

A very nice young couple from Canada stopped here today—they were going to the Smokies, but the weather got too hot so they turned around and went back home.

I tried to get them to go on down to Lexington and see the horses and farms—they said they would come back in September—they lived on a farm 60 miles North of London, Canada, which is fine farming country. Friday was another whirlwind, they kept us in a run all day—I guess we should have stayed open until 9 o'clock, but by six we were ready to quit. Gertrude Gabbard bought Denver a lawn chair to sit in.

Mr. and Mrs. Garmon, over in Kenton, bought a pony saddle and two lawn chairs; Stanley Parker bought his wife a beautiful 12x15 Armstrong rug; Jim Elliston said he wanted to try that Bolce outside white paint he heard so much about—he got 10 gallons, also oil, turp and brushes, to paint his house. Mrs. Laura Works was complimenting Bolce paint—how white it was and the painters how easy it goes on. Ervin Huff bought a 14" Dayton fan to use in his kitchen up at the Dinner Bell Restaurant.

Omer Speagle bought a tank sprayer and a gallon of Rothene to kill the tobacco worms. We have Rothene in liquid and powder, either spray or dust for tobacco worms. We also have Aldrin and Chlordane for grasshoppers. I don't know where all the strangers come from—we sell so many items to people we never saw before, such as hot plates, water heaters, medicine cabinets, garbage cans, step-on-cans, screens, bug lamps, electric fans, lawn hose, metal chairs, grass sickles, weed cutters, fish tackle, pipe, pipe fittings and bolts of all kinds.

Mrs. Earnest Haddix bought a lot of Bolce interior paint, brushes and rollers for her new home. Sharon Grubbs is also getting into the paint business, decorating their apartment. J. C. Benton bought one of those fence chargers that the weeds burn off instead of grounding out the fence. Ryle Eubanks from Warsaw came up and bought two 20" window fans and a 12" GE table fan—he is going to cool things off in Warsaw.

I wish you fellows would agree on which is the best fly spray—one will say, give me a gallon of Tobacco States stock spray, that is the best on the market—another one will say, give me a pound of 50% Methoxychlor, that will keep flies off for three weeks—another one will say, DDT really kills flies, that is what I want—so we have to carry it all. Just like Rothene in dust and liquid for tobacco worms, then we have Chlordane in powder, wet and dry, also Aldrin in liquid for grasshoppers.

Mrs. Witty bought a quart of brush killer to spray fence crows along the railroad, also a screen for her window. Tony Chapman bought the Omer Whitson house, and got a screen door guard—these keep the children from pushing the screen out.

Simon Kenton Cannery Opens Next Tuesday

Appointments Should Be Made—Holly 4411

The community cannery at Simon Kenton High School, Independence, will open Tuesday, July 21, for the canning of foods. Products to be canned must be at the cannery between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 1:00 p. m. in order to get them processed by cannery closing time. Appointments should be made the day before canning by calling J. A. Coywood, Holly 4411, between 9:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m.

The price of cans will be 6 or 8 cents per can, depending on the size. This covers the cost of the can, plus the use of the cannery, which includes fuel, electricity and labor for firing the boiler.

At the beginning of the season, the cannery will be open on Tuesdays. As the canning season reaches its peak, the cannery will be open Tuesdays and Fridays. If appointments justify, the engineer will fire the boiler and have the cannery ready for use Tuesdays thru Fridays.

In the past, you will need to bring your own seasonings, towels, pot holders or gloves. To facilitate your canning, bring your own knives and dish pans and sufficient fuel to get your product canned quickly and efficiently.

Cannery policies are: (1) The cannery is not responsible for any food or filled cans left in the cannery; (2) the cannery will not be responsible for accidents in or around the cannery or damage to equipment due to improper handling; (3) no small children or pets should be brought into the cannery during hours of operation; (4) each patron is responsible for leaving the cannery and equipment clean and in good condition, with small equipment put in its proper place; (5) pay for all canning costs before removing cans from cannery.

The following are responsible for the management and operation of the cannery this year: Supt. J. A. Coywood and Helen Richardson, appointments and information; Mrs. Gayle McElroy and John L. Gony, supervisors; Mrs. Mildred Popp and Mrs. Pearl Stephenson, cannery teachers; and Walter Howe and Clifford Coleman, engineers.

City Delivery In Florence Denied By P. O. Dept.

Lawrence L. Aylor, Florence Postmaster, submits the following report on the long-avoided decision of the Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., relative to establishing City Delivery in the City of Florence.

In a letter from Washington, dated July 7, 1953, the following statement is quoted from the Bureau of Post Office Operations, Division of City Delivery: "Reference is made to the reports of the Inspectors concerning the investigation of the feasibility of establishing city delivery service at your office. The requested establishment of city delivery service is disapproved since the population is 2,100, which is below the 2,500 requirement, the building lots on each street are not fifty percent built up with houses erected and many of the streets are not paved."

Further quotations from the letter of the Inspectors who made the investigation are: "A careful study has been made and it has been definitely determined that your office does not meet the necessary requirements for city delivery service. No sidewalks are provided on U. S. Highways 25 and 42, which would make it necessary for a carrier to walk in the roadway. Both highways are heavily traveled and would be a hazard for the carrier. Great portions of the town have small subdivisions, each being isolated from the other. This presents a major problem. The majority of the new subdivisions do not meet the necessary requirements in that neither sidewalks nor a paved road are provided and they are not built up 50 per cent. Several of the streets meet the requirements, but are isolated."

"We hope," Mr. Aylor said, "that in the not too distant future, we will be in a position to apply again. It is up to all of us to make the necessary corrections so that we may have the service we so rightly deserve."

57% of Kenton County Farmland Has Conservation

Of the farm land area of Kenton County, 57%, or 41,536 acres, has soil conservation plans, according to S. W. Durr, Chairman of the Kenton County Soil Conservation District.

There are 44 farms on which conservation plans have been applied and 446 farms on which these farmers are in the process of completing their plan of conservation.

Grassland farming is very popular. Farmers working with the Kenton County District have renovated, treated with lime, fertilized and reseeded 6,520 acres. In addition, these farmers have fertilized and managed 15,650 acres of pasture land for higher production. "We can hold more soil on our Kenton County hillsides with grasses and legumes, raise more pounds of milk and beef per acre than in any other way," Mr. Durr said.

O. V. Steger, of the Soil Conservation Service, said that over 650 acres of row crops had been planted on the contour, one mile of terraces built, 18 stock water ponds and lakes constructed, 15 acres of waterways established, three acres of trees planted, 513 acres of woods protected from fire and livestock grazing during the last six months. These are only a few of the many conservation measures being put on the land by farmers working with their Soil Conservation District.

The supervisors, George Eubanks, Willard Benson, Joe Neumeister, Chris Beck or Mr. Durr, will be glad to help you put conservation on your farm. All you need to do is contact Soil Conservationist O. V. Steger at the Independence Courthouse. His telephone number is HOLLY 8581.

To Be Placed In Operation July 24

In a surprise move, to most everyone, the City of Walton began the installation of parking meters the past week, on Main Street, between the L&N crossing and Readnor Coal & Feed store. Fifty-six of these meters have been installed and are ready for operation, however, enforcement of regulations will not begin until Friday, July 24, 1952. Parking, through these meters will be limited to two hours, and it will cost you 1 cent for each 12 minutes you wish to park, or 10 cents for the two-hour limit. Of course you may add another dime for another two hours.

In the parking meter area there are no parking areas and loading zones, which are to be marked. For violation of the parking regulations, it will cost the offender from $1.00 to $5.00, depending on the extent of the error.

All this was brought about through an attempt to secure a stop light from the State Highway Department. It is expected that the light will be installed soon. The state told the city that certain parking regulations must be enforced. Among these was that there should be no parking on Depot Street nor on High Street, between the bridge and Main Street.

To afford free parking space for those coming to Walton, the city is preparing a free parking lot, with no time limit, behind the Dixie State Bank and adjoining property. This lot will be ready for use this week. Entrance to this area may be had from Depot Street or from the driveway alongside Ryan's Hardware and Dry Goods store. This is a nice lot, so use it.

Auxiliary Police Sought by The Ky. State Police

The Kentucky State Police is seeking more auxiliary police officers, according to an announcement by Sergeant Spencer M. Payne, Civil Defense officer for the Department.

Payne explained that auxiliary policemen serve on a voluntary basis without pay. In case of enemy attack they would help State troopers control highway traffic and assist with injured and homeless persons.

"Auxiliary troopers receive training similar to regular Kentucky State Police officers," Payne said. "This includes police radio, first aid, traffic control and accident investigation. Movies are shown at regular meetings and each man spends some time with a State trooper on highway patrol duty."

Auxiliary troopers have no power of arrest and do not carry firearms unless authorized by the State Police commissioner, Payne said. Though the State Police can't provide uniforms they have authorized the wearing of one which is inexpensive and serviceable.

To be an auxiliary trooper you must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of Kentucky, physically qualified and available for training and duty and not in an essential emergency job such as fireman, doctor or policeman.

Persons interested in becoming auxiliary troopers should contact the commanding officer of the nearest State Police post, Payne said.

How Do You Stand,
JOE?

Let's bring the issues of the campaign out in the open so that all of the citizens of Boone and Gallatin Counties may be informed.

(1) A Constitutional Amendment is proposed to eliminate the present method of distributing School Funds by the State to the local school districts. The parents, the teachers, and the taxpayers are vitally interested in this matter. HOW DO YOU STAND, JOE?

(2) According to reports appearing in the daily newspapers, you were second on the list of State Representatives who signed a petition to release two (2) members of the United Mine Workers Union convicted of beating a non-member, non-union worker near Morganfield, Kentucky during the organization labor dispute two years ago. The convicted men only started serving the sentence March 28, 1953 after losing appeals in Kentucky and Federal Courts; the battle was even carried to the United States Supreme Court. Can you explain this action and tell us HOW DO YOU STAND, JOE?

(3) When you were a candidate for the legislature two years ago you and some of your more ardent supporters did a good job of "Vote Getting," on the grounds that you were strictly opposed to all forms of gambling and sale or use of intoxicating liquors. According to the record, you were strangely silent on March 17, 1952, when H.B. 430 was under discussion and voted on by the House of Representatives. As a member of the House of Representatives you must have known that H.B. 430 was prepared, designed, introduced and supported by the liquor interests to legalize the sale of intoxicating liquors at race tracks in Kentucky. HOW DO YOU STAND, JOE?

P. S. Your constituents would like an IMMEDIATE ANSWER to these questions.

Scout Swimming Party

Who has a truck that may be borrowed, or will transport the Scouts to and from the Rosedale Swimming Pool, Rosedale, on a Saturday or Sunday?

The Scouts are prepared and ready, the leaders will provide protection and guides and the parents are willing to let their children go, but transportation is needed. Anyone who will furnish or provide the truck or who knows of a better solution, please call Bob West, Holly 8601.

News Items Needed

It seems the clubs, fraternities and community organizations in and around Independence have dropped all activities lately. No news items have been received. Any societies or members of an organization can mail or phone their items of interest to Bob West, P. O. Box 587, Independence, or phone Holly 8601. I know, during the summer, many folks are going on a visit or trip or attending annual conventions, or doing something for the benefit of the community, so, if you know of any news, let me know.

This year the Independence firemen have obtained new games, new prizes, and better all-around enjoyment for all provides funds for the operation expenses. As you now, folks, this picnic pens needed to keep the fire trucks and ambulance in first class condition throughout the coming year, in which to serve you most efficiently. One of the calls that the firemen will receive this year may be from you and this picnic will help you to help the fire department. Parking areas will be provided close to the picnic area. Come one, come all!

The remodeling, when completed, will provide a window for Money Orders, call boxes, Parcel Post or Postage Stamps, and will promote faster service, both now and at Christmas time.

Drivers Licenses

Remember, folks, two weeks are all you have left in which to purchase your driver's licenses and it would be better to get them right away to avoid the last minute rush. Deputy County Clerk, Geo. A. Damon, at the Independence Court House, will be on hand from Monday through Saturday to issue your license.

Wreck Last Saturday

The wreck in Independence, last Saturday, between a truck and an auto revealed slight damage to either vehicle, and no injuries to the drivers. County Patrolmen were on hand to make a report of the accident.

St. Cecilia Ladies Society

Just A Thought: Has anyone ever overestimated the cost of building a house?

Korean Rotation

For your boy in Korea or Japan, the Army is planning a fixed tour of duty, if true sticks. The aim is to replace the present point system that gives extra credit, and so earlier return, for combat and certain other kinds of service. Under the new plan, all men would spend equal time in Japan or Korea, probably sixteen months. However, the rotation plan would not be scrapped until 90 days after a true date. And points earned before then would count toward shortening the 16-month term.

Firemen's Meeting

Monday, July 20, there will be a regular meeting for all members of the Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department. This is the last regular meeting before the picnic and all members are urged to attend. Those who will be there should contact all other members so as many as possible will be present.

Vacation Shutdown

For those closing up their homes before going on vacation trips, here's advice from the Department of Agriculture: Guard against insect increase by cleaning the kitchen and putting food in containers; shelves sprayed with DDT will kill stray weevils; chlordane along baseboards and sink is most effective against roaches; vacuum floors—moths breed in lint and hair that collects in cracks and corners.

Florida Fruit Shipments

The last regular Florida fruit shipments from the Rankin Citrus Grove has been received at the fire house, and a number of people have found that tree ripened oranges and grapefruit are by far much juicier and healthful. This fruit will be available through the Independence Fire Department beginning next December. It has been found that group shipment is much lower, both in price and in freight handling costs.

Fire Run

A run was made to William Wolzing's on Richardson Road, where his double garage, being used as a storage for hay, was closed. Much roofing had to be torn away to enable firemen to reach the fire.

and the hay had to be pulled out and away from the garage.

Mr. Latham, a neighbor of Mr. Wolzing, who volunteered his help, felt thru the roof into the hay, but received no injuries and continued lending his assistance.

The Florence Fire Department arrived to back the local firemen, should this fire have broken out again or if the water supply had failed.

After an hour of probing and extinguishing the flames the firemen were able to leave. Chief Tilford Mereson estimated damage at $300.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Jeff Austin of Staffordburg Pike. We hope for his early recovery.

Farmers in Martin county complained that the corn root worm killed plants about the time they came up.

To The Democratic Voters of Boone County

I, James C. Cubbage, candidate for Senator of the 26th Kentucky Senatorial District, in which Boone county is included, submit the following formal statement to the voters:

1. I was born in Owen county, November 25, 1910, however, I have lived most of my life in Henry county, in the City of Pleasureville, where I now reside. I am a graduate of Pleasureville High School and attended Georgetown College. I am married and have a daughter 13 years old.

2. I have always taken an active interest in public and civic affairs. For the past 22 years I have been a member of the Pleasureville Baptist Church. I am a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and organized the East Henry County Farmers and Business Men's Club, serving as president for two terms. This club has a large membership devoted to the interest of rural problems. For the past five years I have been chairman of the Pleasureville City Council and feel that I have been somewhat instrumental in freeing this city of indebtedness for the first time in over 30 years.

3. For over 20 years I have actively worked for and supported the interests of the Democratic Party, serving as secretary of the Sixth Congressional District of Young Democratic Clubs, two terms as president of the Henry County Young Democratic Club, publicity and program director for the 1952 state convention of Young Democratic Clubs, and presently I am state treasurer of this organization.

I feel that I am well qualified to serve the interests of the farmers and small businessmen as well as other groups of this district, since in the operation of a general insurance agency in a rural community, I am reminded daily of the problems confronting these people. Likewise, educational problems within our district and state have long been of vital interest to me, and I will work hard for improvement of our schools. I have similar interests in the state and county highway programs, and believe that five years service, approximately 12 months of which was spent in Boone county, with the Engineering Division of the Kentucky State Highway Department gives me a working knowledge of our road problems. I have always been a strong supporter of a better rural and intra-state highway system.

4. I have pledged to these and other groups that I will be a "Working Senator," keeping in touch with them relative to their legislative interests and desires. At your request, I will meet with any recognized group or individual. It is my firm conviction that I can best represent my senatorial district by keeping in personal contact with the people of this district. To these people I have pledged that after evaluating the information obtained, I will, to the best of my ability, at all times, vote the will of the people. The pledges I make to you can be kept because I am not a candidate under the domination of influences outside this district and the State. I am running to be your State Senator.

5. In traveling in your county the past few weeks I have been gratified and greatly encouraged by your many kind remarks and acts concerning my candidacy for Senator. Although it is physically impossible to contact each of you personally, I am sure you can and will appreciate the tremendous task I have had in making a campaign in a district which embraces seven counties, consisting of a population of approximately 70,000 in 122 precincts. I sincerely hope, if you are among those whom I have not yet been able to see, you will understand that as your Senator I will look forward to meeting with you or hearing from you in the future.

You may rest assured that all communications, regardless of nature, will be promptly and courteously recognized. I have an earnest and sincere desire to serve and to be of service to the people of this district and to the State of Kentucky at all times.

To the people of Boone county, I simply and honestly say, "Thanks," and ask your support now and on August 1.

Sincerely,
JAMES C. CUBBAGE

One World

Lesson for July 19, 1953

"ONE world" sounds simple. But even these simple words stir a great many different ideas in different people's minds. Some, when they hear the phrase, laugh a loud cynical laugh. "One world"—? Nonsense! Anybody who calls himself a one-worlder is obviously soft in the brain. Look at the facts of life in 1953. Do you see any symptoms whatever that the world is ever going to be one? Others, when they hear these two simple words, think, "Why not? It ought not to be so difficult. If you put the entire living human race into one box it would not have to be more than half a mile on each side; you could dump it into the Grand Canyon and lose it. If the whole of mankind were drowned in Lake Champlain (about 600 square miles) the level of that lake would not rise six inches. Why can't we all get together instead of tearing each other's throats all the time?"

How Christians See It

Christians, when they are wise, do not think the idea of one world is absurd, nor do they think it easy. Let us brush aside two one-world notions that Christians who take their Bible seriously cannot accept. One of these is the notion that the world is, now, really one whether we know it or not. It is not one. It is not even two. It is a mess of little worlds all more or less at war. People sometimes talk of differences of race and class and creed as if they made no difference. But they do make a difference; and no amount of soft-talking is going to make a man who has to earn his living, look at life the way a man does whose grandfather left him so much he doesn't have to work. The native African who has been shoved off the best land, can't possibly be "one" with the white settlers who shoved him off.

But It Ought to Be

On the other hand, the Christian does not give up, cynically, and think that nothing can be done about this. The Christian, when he is close to the thought and ideal of Jesus and of Paul, or in other words the Christian who takes God's revelation seriously, sees every reason to believe that the world ought to be one. He believes that God "made of one all the nations of the earth" (Acts 17:26)—that we are all akin, that "the Colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under the skin." The Christian can see that in spite of the terrific differences the separate human beings—and there is no reason to try to iron these out or to wish all mankind to be made in an identical pattern—the Christian can see that what we human beings have in common is more important than what we do not have in common. We have all the same Creator, the Father-God of all. We are all from the same origin. We are all created for the same purpose—as one church expresses it, "to glorify God and to enjoy him forever." The Commandments, Love God and Love your neighbor as yourself, are not copyrighted by any church. They are not private rules, they are God's will for all human beings. The world ought to be one!

How It Can Be

And the world can be one—in Christ. As J. B. Phillips translates Paul's words in Eph. 2: "Christ is our living Peace. He has made a unity of the conflicting elements... He reconciled both (Jew and Gentile) to God by the sacrifice of one Body on the Cross, and by this act made utterly irrelevant the antagonism between them... It is through Him that both of us now can approach the Father in the one Spirit." Missionaries can tell you how true this is. In every land and climate and race on earth, there are Christians at this very day. Let us never forget this. There are Christians in Russia, there are Christians inside the Arctic Circle and along the steaming rivers of the rainforests of the Equator. On the face of it, nothing could be more unlikely than that an American, an Englishman or a Swiss (for example) could go to tribesmen in West China so savage that even the Chinese in a thousand years have not made a dent on them, and those same savages make (through Christ) brothers and sisters. But it has been done! Every time you are helping missions you bring the One World nearer.

HARVEST TIME...

When the harvest comes the farmer reaps his grain, threshes and stores it, and soon it is on its way to the markets of the world.

The girl pictured above, posing amid the wheat shocks, takes the mind back to the days of Ruth of the Bible when the maidens of Judea gleaned the fields and gathered the sheaves behind the reapers of Boaz.

But sowing and reaping are not confined to the earthly fields of the physical world. In our moral and spiritual relations we are constantly scattering seed and reaping the results of our sowing.

If we cultivate the field of the spirit, and sow good words, good deeds and good thoughts, we will have an abundant harvest of the fruits of the spirit—peace and joy, hope and faith and love.

Those who sow to the spirit will find the Church an invaluable helper and the Bible an infallible guide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest labor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For the sake of the Church. (2) For the sake of his own soul. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Please go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Rouse and daughter, Miss Ruth, of Hillside, Ill., were guests during the past week of Mrs. Eva Delahunty. A native of Boone county, Mr. Rouse and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Lute Bradford, Mrs. Laura Head and other friends; also a cousin, Mrs. Minnie Samuels, of Sparta. Many years have passed since Mr. Rouse has visited his native land and needless to say he noticed many changes to the extent that nothing looked natural to him.

Following services at Hopeful church Sunday morning, members of the church and Bible school enjoyed a picnic on the farm of Alvin Dringenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson and children of Houston, Texas, were guests several days recently of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Jones of Burlington Road.

Wilbur Drake and wife spent a part of his vacation with his mother and other relatives at Sweetwater, Tenn.

Pvt. Billy Noel of Camp Breckinridge, Ky., enjoyed the weekend here with his wife and other relatives. He expects to be transferred to another location soon.

Mrs. W. C. Green of Cincinnati, is a guest in the home of her brother, Dr. Harry Daugherty, and is assisting with the care of their mother, Mrs. Minnie Daugherty, who is confined to bed with a fractured hip bone.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kyle of Kylewood Place, Burlington Road, were recently visiting his mother at Harrodsburg.

Rev. W. C. Butt, new pastor at Hopeful Lutheran Church, was calling in the community the past week.

Karl Keim and family of Tucson, Ariz., who are on a vacation tour via New York and other points are due to arrive here soon for a visit with relatives.

Sympathy is extended the family of Harold Crigler for whom las trites were held Friday afternoon from the Hebron Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Harry Whaley and son enjoyed the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Thompson, of Morgan, Ky.

Lieut. and Mrs. J. F. Daugherty, their son, J. F. III, and daughter, Mary Katherine, are leaving July 22 for San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Lieut. Daugherty expects to be stationed for two years at Rodriguez Hospital. The best wishes of the community go with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Idol moved Saturday to their new home on Gibson St., on the site of the old fair grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chaney were host and hostess with a dinner party at their home on Burlington Road, Sunday evening of last week. Guests enjoying hospitality were: Lieut. and Mrs. J. F. Daugherty and children, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Daugherty, and Dr. N. A. Jett.

Guests of the Geo. B. Millers during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Graham and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller. Dr. Geo. H. Riley, who has been recalled to military duty, is stationed at Charleston, W. Va. Mrs. Riley and their children, Charles W. III and Sharon, will join him soon.

Miss Judy Cook, who is still confined in St. Elizabeth Hospital, is gradually improving from shock and injuries suffered in a tractor accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Haines of Russell Street are moving to Indianapolis, Ind., in August as Mr. Haines has been transferred thereby his employer.

Mrs. Paul Chaney was hostess to the W. S. C. S. of the Florence Methodist Church, Thursday, July 9, at her home on Burlington Road. The opening prayer by Mrs. C. R. Marshall, District, was followed by the reading of reports. The president, Mrs. Chaney, then turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. S. West, vice president, who introduced Mrs. O. W. GROWING PAINS

For the past several years, the town of Walton has had growing pains—not enough streets, not enough houses, not enough water, water system too small (we are using 93,000 gallons of water per day with the same system that was built in 1931, with less than 100 meters.) The town council gets a lot of criticism, but they try to give the taxpayers all they can for their money. Those seven men meet from one to three times a month for a salary of one dollar per month, to listen to and try to remedy all the complaints, pay all the bills, and try to spend your tax money to the best advantage.

We get very little praise but lots of criticism, but drive over your town and see the difference of now and six years ago. Northern Kentucky is growing and Walton is in a hot spot and is, as I have said before, the best 1350-populated town in the state, not to be a county seat town—let's keep it on the upward move. Some Monday night come down to the City Hall and Firehouse and look over that bunch of firemen and what they are doing, all free—they don't even get one dollar a month. They are a fine bunch of fellows, in fact our best, so back them up in every way possible.

I looked them over Monday night and listened at the interest they take. They have a new Mack fire engine coming out this month, costing $12,300 and they are going to pay for it—so give them all the support you can, as they want to make this the greatest picnic ever. If you can't come to the picnic, send them a donation, to help make a big payment on that new engine—it may save your home some time.

J. C. Benton bought one of those fence chargers that burn the weeds off the fence when they fall on it. We sold dusters and Paris Green, also liquid Rothone for tobacco worms today, as well as a lot of Bolce paint. Marie Armstrong and some ladies from Richmond, Ind., came in and got their licenses and fish tackle—they went over to the reservoir fishing and caught several fish. Fishing has been very good at the reservoir this month and Roy Branon has done a good job operating it this season. It is all moved off and a road all around it—take your family fishing.

Brewster spent most of the afternoon making and mounting a spray boom on J. C. Benton's Cub tractor. We have sold several of these tractor pumps and booms. Omer Kite was up today, full of troubles—his water pump had a crack in it, his tobacco canner he bought this season was split, his tobacco setter he bought this year had to be remodeled, and the water tank leaked—he said everything was wrong, but he says it always goes that way during a Republican administration, and if things don't change, that rooster will crow again in four years—anyway, Omer bought five pounds of Rotonone to feed those bean beetles, and went home. Mrs. Ora Fry was down today—bought a gallon of Bolce white paint to paint her chicken house.

R. C. Durr started installing parking meters in Walton today and Al Warner is clearing out the trees in the rear of the Dixie Bank so Durr can build a parking lot for those who do not wish to use the meters. This parking lot belongs to the City of Walton, and will be open to the public when finished. Being one of the merchants in Walton, we have had parking troubles for our customers for years. We hope these meters and parking lot will help. It is the customers we are interested in, because we have to have customers to have a town. Every year we have more customers and more cars, so please go along with the merchants of Walton and the Town Council—help us make this a success.

Kirt Richter and wife stopped today to buy a can of paint, but also bought three of my best spring steel lawn chairs and a farm rubber tired wagon. Catherine Feagan came up for a 12x15 Armstrong rug. Mrs. Stella Clutter bought poultry netting. There were several buying shower gifts for Mr. and Mrs. John Maddox. We sell more bolts—of course we carry a very large stock, but once in a while they call for a bolt we do not have. Mr. Willoughby was after a gallon of 2-4-D and a sprayer to kill some of the weeds in his corn.

Tracy Hume came in and bought enough Bolce outside white paint for his house—he will soon have a vacation and will paint his house. Clarence Combs just finished painting his house with Bolce paint. Gilley Smith just finished painting this store with Bolce paint, and William Brown is painting the Baptist Church with Bolce paint—you can nearly look at a house and tell it has Bolce paint on it, because it is slick and whiter than other houses—don't you think so? William and Betty Brown from Piner were in buying masking tape and a thermos bottle filler.

Edith Dorsey bought a cold pack canner—they are getting ready to can berries. I have had several lookers this week at those Perfection electric ranges, the greatest electric range ever made—it has more nice features, the most beautiful body, and it is smooth and snow white with an all white oven on some models, a deep well with a burner that will raise a warmer drawer or storage drawer, one-piece top, no seams to catch dirt, fully automatic oven and cheap to operate—you never go wrong when you buy Perfection.

Claude Adams had Chick make him a spray boom for his tractor sprayer. Junior Hoffman and James Taylor also had Chick make up a spray boom—we have made several of these a lot cheaper than you can buy them ready made. C. E. Baker bought a rubber tired farm wagon for one of his boys. Russell Sparks bought five gallons of Bolce paint. SHOP AT CONRAD'S!

Local Man Seriously Injured In Fall Monday

From Electric Pole On Walton-Nicholson Road

Curfew Brewer, an employee of The Union Light, Heat & Power Company, as a lineman, fell Monday morning from a 33' pole and injured himself seriously.

He and another linemen were doing some line repair on a pole located on the Walton-Nicholson Road, near the farm of Lewis Webster, and during the process, one of Brewer's "hoes" slipped and he spun around, striking the other worker and almost dislodging him, and then fell to the ground. He was immediately removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

After X-rays and observation, it was determined that he had received two breaks in his back, but no injury to the spinal cord. It is believed, and both feet badly broken. Doctors indicated Wednesday that he will probably be in the hospital for some weeks and will probably not be able to work for some months.

Mr. Brewer is married and has one daughter, and they reside on High St., Walton. He has been a lineman for a number of years.

The winning dresses will be sent to compete in the state DAR Dressmaking contest. This is open to Boone County girls only.

128 Enrolled In Wilmington Bible School

A record 128 pupils and workers were enrolled in the Wilmington Baptist Church Vacation Bible School, June 15-26. The attendance reached a high of 113, with a daily average of 105 during the ten days. The school started with a parade on Preparation Day, June 12, and ended with the commencement on Sunday evening, June 28, in the auditorium of the new church building.

Though work on the new church was not finished, the large enrollment required the use of two basement rooms for classes during the school and the auditorium for the approximately 200 people attending the commencement. Twenty-two workers and 80 pupils received certificates at the commencement, the remaining 25 being mailed.

The expenses of the school were amply covered by the offering taken Sunday evening. The children's daily offering of $61.32 was sent to the Cooperative Program of the Southern Baptist Convention. Many donations of materials and refreshments added to the success of the Bible school. The principal, Mrs. W. W. Hanker, and pastor, J. R. Helvey, appreciate the interest of parents and friends.

KENTON CANDIDATES

Two well known Kenton County political figures, "Del" Vaughn, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, and James R. "Tish" McGarry, Democratic candidate for County Attorney, were in the Advertiser office Monday, placing ads in this paper calling attention to the fact they are candidates and seeking support of our Kenton County readers.

Circuit Court Judges Rodney G. Bryson and Joseph P. Goodenough have endorsed Mr. McGarry in his race for County Attorney.

BOONE GARDEN CLUB PICNIC HELD AT DAM NO. 38

The picnic, held at Dam No. 38, July 14, by the Boone Garden Club was quite a success. Highlights were a most delicious lunch, the passing of two boats through the lock, and the donation of an imported azalea plant to every garden club member.

A guest, Dr. T. C. Crume, one of Northern Kentucky's outstanding nurserymen, told the members to call at his home and receive a lovely plant to experiment with.

Plans were discussed for the flower show to be held at the Florence Christian Church, September 17. It was suggested the club have a plant sale in connection with the show. Proceeds to go toward paying expenses of the show. All donations gladly welcomed.

Remember, all amateur flower growers in Boone County are eligible to enter any or all classes of the show. Rules and the program will be published the first of September.

He has been serving for many months in Korea with the famous 25th Infantry Division as leader of a combat regiment. It will be remembered that Lieut. Caldwell is bringing a Korean boy to this country and the lad will go to Dixie Heights High School. This youth has been with Caldwell all the time he spent in Korea.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR TENT REVIVAL

The tent revival, August 10-30, is well under way in plans and program. This evangelistic effort is being sponsored by men of Christian Churches of North Kentucky.

Walton was selected as the place to hold the first tent revival as it is centrally located. There are about 35 Christian Churches and Churches of Christ within a radius of 25 miles of Walton. Most of these churches will cooperate in this program.

"Too Late to Be Sorry," a large size Safety Calendar, which portrays the tragic results of careless driving will be placed in prominent locations throughout this community by the Walton Police Department, according to Chief Herman Simmons.

Chief Simmons says the vivid picture of an automobile accident on the Safety Calendar is an effective means of reminding motorists and pedestrians alike of the need for safe habits.

Nearly half the cities and towns in the U. S. of 1,000 population and over have used the calendar this past year.

The show will begin at 6:30 p. m., July 27. Registration begins at 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, July 28. The program for opening night and all of the following day will move continuously with entertainment, contests, drawings for prizes, a movie, rides for children, exhibition and demonstration booths, and many other features.

For the tickets, there will be a "Kiddieland," offering rides and other forms of recreation, which is a new feature of the farm show.

The latest in both electrical and mechanical appliances, and equipment can be seen at the exhibition and demonstration booths.

Ordinance of Baptism

The ordinance of baptism was observed at the Independence Baptist Church last Sunday evening at the conclusion of the regular service. The Oak Ridge Baptist Church, of which Bro. John Mullins is pastor, also came over and baptised a number of candidates. The new baptistry is beautiful and this service was truly a most impressive one.

WHITES TOWER—By Ernest J. Ryle
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Cavanaugh of Staffordburg Pike, a daughter July 12.

Robert Brumback and family have moved to Georgetown, Ky.

The Staffordburg Homemakers left this morning for a trip to Niagara Falls.

Girl Scout Camp

Last Sunday, our local Girl Scout Troop, headed by Madeline Selman and Bertha Moon, set up camp near their cabin, which is still in the building stage.

Some of the fathers were on hand in the late afternoon to help finish the building. It is now ready for painting.

For some weeks, the Girl Scout leaders were planning for this camping week to be held in their cabin, but with so few of the fathers and helpers showing up for this program, the work slowed down. The leaders report that whenever it is possible the Scouts will have an overnight camp in their cabin.

Drivers' Licenses

Remember folks, Friday, July 31, will be the last day that you may operate your car on last year's drivers' license—that is, for those whose last name starts with the letter "L" through "Z"—the others, last year, were issued for two years. Many of you folks work in town and probably have Saturdays off. George A. Daman, deputy county clerk, at the Courthouse, Independence, is prepared for the rush, and will be able to issue your license with very little delay, this coming Saturday.

Fire Runs

Last week, the Independence Fire Department was called to Pleasure Isle to extinguish a trash fire—it was under control when the firemen arrived, and at Walton-Nicholson Pike to a grass fire—no damage.

Watch Grass Fires

Everyone within the territory of the Independence Volunteer Fire Department, should be careful that grass fires are kept at a minimum. Fire Chief T. Mershon reports that most grass fires are ignited by a careless person who doesn't realize what damage dry grass, a little wind, and poor water supply can cause. With many buildings being grouped together, making small residential areas throughout this section, a grass fire can wipe out one or more of these villages. It is best to be cautious while burning trash, throwing away lighted matches and cigarettes, and above all, those riding by in their autos—they are constructed to hold a particle of fire, safe from everything that may catch fire. So, remember folks, a grass fire can get mighty mean if given a chance. This article applies to everyone, either this territory or any territory where hot and dry weather prevails.

Firemen's Picnic

Friday and Saturday evenings, July 24 and 25, are your nights to attend the firemen's 16th annual picnic, held on the Independence Courthouse grounds.

This year the firemen have extended their attempts to furnish you and yours with every available entertainment possible, so that you may have the most enjoyable evening of the year.

No matter what age limit you may be in, there will be a good time for all. It provides you with a possibility of lining your grocery shelves with plenty of the best foods; your trophy shelf will possess more articles and chances are you may be the lucky winners of one of the five grand prizes that will be raffled off. Tickets are available from any fireman or store in Independence.

Remember folks, the new fire truck will arrive the last month of this year and though it will be a great improvement over the trucks now in use, it must be paid for—your presence at this picnic will help tremendously. See you at the picnic!

Ambulance Run

An ambulance run was made to Atwood, where an auto wreck killed William Carlisle of Demosville.

Sympathy Extended

The people of Independence were sorry to hear of the deaths of William Carlisle and C. E. Rector. We extend our sympathy to members of these families. We hope the sad sorrows and the missing of these loved ones may fade in the passing of time.

COLLEGE CIRCULAR DEALS WITH SOILS

"Productive Soil," Circular 468 of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, was written for farmers who want to know how their soil functions in crop production and the practical measures they must use in building up and maintaining fertility.

Discussions include the nutrients needed for plant growth, how plants use them and what to do when they are deficient. Attention is given to nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and other elements in soils and plants. Soil erosion, soil water and tillage are also treated in the publication.

Copies of the circular may be had of offices of county agents or by writing to the college at Lexington.

More than 60 farmers in the Niagara community of Henderson county were on hand to see a demonstration of the bush hog cutter for grinding up under-brush.

Did you know... that right now, ELECTRICITY, your "Wired Hand," is a bigger bargain than it has ever been?

That's a fact. Possibly you haven't realized that is so, because actually you are using more electricity on your farm today than you were five years ago. And also, your rural rate for electricity has been reduced during the past five years. The result is that the electricity you use to do the hard work on your farm is the biggest bargain you can get.

So, let electricity work for you to make farm work easier and more profitable—farm living more convenient and comfortable.

Can Be Godlike

Lesson for July 26, 1953

A MILLION years from now you will still be a human being. Of course you will not be the same kind of human being you are now. If you are a Christian you can hope to be unimaginably more advanced than you are now. But you will never be an angel; still less will you be God. There is room for only one true God; and he will not resign in your favor. And still, it is the Christian faith that we are destined to be Godlike. He created each of us in his image; that is the same as saying that if we follow God's intention we shall be so much like him that others can actually see God in us. If this seems too bold a thought, then remember that Jesus is called in the New Testament the "first-born of many brethren." Paul speaks of growing into Christ; that is, becoming more and more like Christ. And to become Christlike is to become Godlike.

Dr. Foreman

Like Him in Purpose

This is not all something that happens after death. It is expected to begin now and here, in this life, on this earth. Christian life is growing. "In Christ" means growing "into Christ." Life here and life beyond death are two chapters in the same story, for the Christian. One way we can (and the best Christians do) grow "into the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ" is by becoming more Christlike in our basic purpose in living. Why are we here? is a good question to think over from time to time. Some people can't think of any reason, and so they commit suicide. Others, a step removed from that ultimate despair, cannot see any good reason for existing, but they lack the courage to die; so they drag along from day to miserable day, unable to find any reason either for living or for dying. Others live for a number of different and often conflicting reasons, they live to eat or drink, they live for fame and their names in the papers, they live for Saturday night. Above these are those persons who have consuming ambitions, purposes to which they cling to the bitter end; the Napoleons and Hitlers and Stalin and the world, who know what they want, and get it (for a while) but slaughter millions by their own success. The Christian is one who understands more and more of what Jesus aimed at, and more and more enters into the spirit of Jesus.

Like Him in Power

The Christian grows more Godlike not only in purpose but in power. The Christian is not almighty. To all eternity he will be far less than almighty. The Bible gives us no reason to think that a million years from now you will be at all nearer to being able to create even one speck of dust out of nothing, than you are this moment. You will be no nearer having the infinite knowledge and wisdom of the Most High than you are now. Nevertheless, not in the next life but in this one, you should be growing in Godlike power as you grow into the likeness of your Elder Brother. You will not be able to make water run up-hill, to make ice explode or to teach alligators to sing. God does not want you interfering with his world in such fantastic ways. But you will grow in this: You will be more and more able, by the power of His living Spirit in you, to live, to speak, to act, as true sons of the Most High God. You will be less and less that wretched creature, one who knows what is right but can't begin to do it, and more and more one who lives by the power of God.

Like Him in Personality

If Christ came to your town, would he be such a strange personality that everyone would be a little afraid of him, even think him peculiar enough to need treatment in a hospital? This ought not to be so, if you have some real Christians there. For there is a family resemblance between Christ and all those who grow into his likeness. Just as he reminded men of God, so he reminds us of some Christians. If he lived, in modern clothes, in your town, working at carpentry or teaching just as he used to do, people who watched him at work, or listened to him talk, would think of persons they knew and loved.

GRANDPA'S SCRAPBOOK

It's all there—in Grandpa's Scrapbook. The story of his life. His baptismal certificate, the newspaper clipping about his kicking that winning field goal, the now-yellowed wedding invitation, the snapshot of their house-warming, the announcement of Mama's birth, the blue ribbon that Grandpa's steer won at the county fair.

And, on a page all by itself, is a Children's Day program from our little Church, the day I sang "Jesus Loves Me" with Danny Andrew!

Grandpa always says, "That's the page I like best. It's a blessin' to know yer grandson is goin' in the right direction."

And then with a far-away look in his eyes he says, "You keep up yer fine work in Sunday School, Lad. Whether yer kickin' a field goal, or plantin' yer corn, or servin' God in yer own humble way—you have to keep goin' in the right direction!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) children's sake. (2) For his of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

R. E. A. FAIR

Next week, July 27 and 28, is the Rural Electrification Fair at Verona Lake Ranch—this is supposed to be the largest fair ever put on by the R.E.A., and there will be a lot of entertainment. We will have a large booth and try to show you how our electric appliances operate, which we do not take time to do here at the store—the Perfection Stove Co. man will be there to show you all about Perfection ranges, water heaters and all heaters. The Dayton Water Pump man will also be showing you about Dayton pumps and what size to use for your place. Stanley Fooks was talking today about the Perfection electric range he bought for his wife—he said that is the best appliance they had bought; it just worked perfect. We will have other appliances to show you, as we will have Chick Worthington and Mason Hughes, the largest hardware salesman on the road—he knows all the answers and never runs down. We will see you at the fair. The R.E.A. and the merchants go to a lot of expense to put this on, so come and bring all the neighbors and the children.

Brewster made up a 24' sprayer boom with a paddle pump and mounted it on the Ellis Farm tractor—the manager, George Arnold, really gets the work done—he is the best manager they have had. Earl Jenkins, who is one of my easy customers to wait on—when he comes in he knows what he wants and always buys the best you have, writes you a check and is gone. I suppose that is because he had dealt with the public so long. David Houston bought a rotary rice and a large aluminum kettle for his wife to use in canning. Mrs. Joe Kennedy was in paying Joe's account—he is very sick and has been in bed a month.

Elmo Menefee, treasurer of the Wilmington Baptist Church at Fiskburg, stopped and picked up their new Dayton water pump, a Hoffman electric water heater, a Perfection electric range, and I will deliver them a 54" Murray kitchen sink—all of these go in that new church they have been building—it is about completed and is very nice. Billy Adams was in for some screen wire—he has a new baby boy at his house. We sold more paint today—as we sell paint every day. Mrs. T. C. Pruett bought Flatotone water mix and Balce Interior glass. Sharon Grubbs bought more paint for her apartment, also a white porcelain step-on can.

Everett Jones bought a tank sprayer, paris green, arsenate of lead, and paint. Chink Vest came after bale ties. Ben Dixon came for more liquid rothane to kill those tobacco worms. R. G. Moore was in today checking on what we had to kill tobacco worms. Mase people are using rothane in powder or liquid. Nell Sutton and Jane were up today—they bought everything from fish tackle to plastic water pipe. Mrs. Atha, over in Gallatin county, bought a 4-qt. electric ice cream freezer—these are the thing to make ice cream in—just turn them on, put in a little ice and salt now and then, and soon you can be eating that home made ice cream—nothing like it, only more of it!

We received a few 16" window fans to sell for $26.95 —We also have a few of those better steel lawn chairs for only 4.95. Get some of these before they are all gone. Brewster delivered a lot of fence to Owen Flynn, over at Fiskburg. Gladys Stephenson bought a beautiful 12x15 Armstrong rug. Stanley Fooks was over today looking at the fish tackle—he said the parking meters were just the thing; Tom Watson also thought the meters were just what Walton needed. We had a fine rain Thursday night and a lot of farmers came to town Friday. Howard Moore needed mower sections.

Kircher Johnson was getting more pipe fittings—he is putting in a few new pieces of pipe in their house. Just received another shipment of rubber tired farm wagons. I often wonder where all of these go. We get in four and they are gone. Avalon Walton and the boys stopped in and bought a Mastercut power mower and some rothane for those bean beetles. Russell Sparks bought some more paint and linseed oil today—he must be shining up everything, because he's bought a lot of Balce paint. Tracy Hume bought roof paint and porch enamel. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Linder, over on Bracht and Piner Road bought a Dayton water system and enough pipe and fittings to install it. Eldon Ashcraft bought angle iron, round iron and tools to make a sprayer.

Here comes Omer Speagle—he is the last customer—he wanted sprayer nozzles and pipe fittings—he is also making a sprayer. Mrs. McKilliam and Mrs. Flynn from Fiskburg, were buying rothane and melon dust. Mrs. Flynn was paying for the fence Brewster delivered. Albert Parker also has bean beetles and had to have some rothane. Kirt Richter bought 5 gallons of roof paint. Now is the time to get all the roofs ready for winter. I sold some furnace pipe and had two or three looking at heating stoves—it won't be long now.

Omer Kite was in today looking for Simmons—a car was parked around and Omer couldn't get in to a parking meter—he bought 2 gallons of Balce outside white paint, a gallon of turpentine and went home. He said he couldn't figure out why every other brand of paint cost over $6 per gallon and Balce was only $4.95 per gallon, and it was better paint. William Brown has about finished painting the West Bracht Church—toke a look at it and see what Balce paint will do.

Mrs. Jim Woods just bought 3 gallons of rubber base inside wall paint. Cora Bethel sent up for a new clatern pump and screen wire. They came to CONRAD HARDWARE for most everything—YOU TRY IT!

Democratic Primary Set For Saturday; Expect Large Vote

Saturday is election day. The Democratic primary which, in Boone County, means election to office, will come off August 1. Interesting seems to be running high and a record vote has been predicted. In county races, according to sidewalk conversation, those for sheriff and county attorney to be close, and do seem to be the center of conversation.

The ballot reads off with State Senator, in which Jimmy Cabbage hopes to unseat the incumbent, Alvin Kivela. In the race for State Representative, R. M. Hall opposes Joe Rouse, who is now serving in the General Assembly. In the County Attorney race, Bill McEoy is being opposed by A. D. Yelton. For Boone County Sheriff, Deputy Byron Kinman is being opposed by Irvin Rouse, a former Sheriff. In the running for Tax Commissioner, Gilby Green opposes Wilton Stephens, and in the Coroner's race, R. E. Brugh, incumbent, has Paul F. Nolting, D. O., running against him. In the race for Magistrate in the third district, Tom Carr is opposed by Dale Williamson.

All of the candidates have worked hard for your support, so be sure to vote Saturday, August 1. May the better man win.

County Judge C. L. Cropper, County Clerk C. D. Benson, and Jallor Cecil Presser are unopposed and their names do not appear on the ballot.

New $12,300 Fire Engine Has Arrived In Walton

This is it! Concluding over a year's work in planning, at last we can all see the fruits of our labors. Many hard hours of work go into building a modern fire engine. A fire engine is different from all other equipment, that is, it's custom made, which means that every piece, every part is actually hand made by a highly skilled craftsman—the only thing not actually hand made is the chassis and cab. The various parts and pieces are then fabricated to the chassis and cab.

Every commercial truck is bought to serve a needed service, and this is also true of this engine. This engine was bought for the purpose of giving the rural people around Walton almost as good fire service as those in the town. It has many features that were specifically designed for rural areas, where the problems of water supply, spread of fire to other buildings, storage of every combustible material, such as hay, gasoline and heavy equipment, are most common today.

To name a few of the features on the engine are: (1) 500 gallons of water; (2) a portable pump, which is used to supply water where a big engine cannot go; (3) 1,200 feet of 2½-inch hose; (4) 500 feet of 1½-inch hose; (5) a connection which permits the engine to pump water while moving—this feature is used in grass fires which affumes over several acres of land; (6) two hose reels, each containing 200 feet of 1-inch hard rubber hose, capable of handling the 4- or 500-pounds pressure used in modern fire fighting; (7) new type water nozzles, which can create a fog so thick you can't see through it—this is used where a solid stream of water would damage the furnishings of a house, and (8) all valves are quick opening, which means there is no turning of valves, and therefore precious seconds are saved.

To fully appreciate the looks and many unmentioned features of this engine, you would have to see it. Therefore, we are going to have it at our picnic. Come to the picnic on either Thursday, Friday or Saturday night and see it—really, it is your engine and it was bought to serve you. The only pay the fire department gets is the look on peoples faces when the fire engine pulls away from a fire after doing a good job, such a look of gratitude is worth more than any money we could have. So please come to our picnic, help us keep doing a good job at fires—support your fire department at the picnic; bring your friends; have a good time. REMEMBER, help your fire department to help the people of Walton and vicinity.—Walton Volunteer Fire Department.

Parking Meters In Use Here; More Parking Space; Very Few Complaints

Don't forget to put your money in the meter when parking in Walton. The local Parking Meters were put into use at 8 a. m., last Friday morning, and thus far, everything has gone along very nicely—only a few violations. Among the first violators were Councilman Leon B. Hall and Mayor Russell M. Hall (and this is no gag)—they knew better, so were given a "ticket" by Chief Simmons.

The Walton meters are of the two-hour variety and it costs only 1 cent for each 12-minute period you wish to use them. They are in effect from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., Monday through Friday, and Saturday, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Free parking on Sundays and holidays.

Speeding has been another problem in our town, and the 20-mile speed limit on Bedinger Avenue, Alta Vista Drive, and High Street is going to be enforced. If caught, the penalty will be $19.50.

Chief Simmons said, "If you don't think you'll get arrested for speeding on these streets, try it." Drunks on the streets of Walton will not be tolerated either, Chief Simmons added.

The Parking Meters were purchased from the Michael Art Bronze Company, Covington, are to be paid for from the revenue collected.

CONSERVATION FIELD MEET

On August 5, at 1:00 p. m. (EST) the public is invited to attend a field meeting at the J. Lassing Huey farm, located behind the New Haven School. Five years ago this farm was given a "life lifting" by the Conservation Caravan. Many conservation practices were established, such as meadow and pasture seeding, establishment of small waterways, terraces, diversions and ponds. Mr. Huey and the Boone County Soil Conservation District Supervisors are inviting you back to see the results.

The program will also include a talk on grasses and legumes by George Richardson of the McCullough Seed Co. Mr. W. Qualls, Director of the Division of Soil and Water Resources, will present Master Conservation Awards to the following farmers: J. Lassing Huey, S. W. Eichholz, Joe B. Heizer, Jr., Everett Flynn and Joseph A. Huey. These awards are given for outstanding conservation farming.

After this meeting, the group will be invited to the farm of Mr. Eichholz to see an irrigation system in operation.

"WHO'S WHO" in the young set . . .

Entertainment Planned For All Who Attend

Vernon Myers Drowns

According to information received here Wednesday morning, Vernon Myers was drowned Tuesday at Virginia Beach, Va. It seems as though Mr. Myers had gone out in a boat, and it was several hours after he was missed that the body was found. Particulars are not available at this time. According to the Hamilton Funeral Home, Verona, the body is to arrive here this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers are said to have been vacationing at Virginia Beach. He is the son of Mrs. Lorena Myers of High School Court, and Mrs. Myers is the former Patricia "Patty" Johnson.

Thur., Friday, Saturday At Softball Grounds

It's picnic time again! That is, it's time for the annual picnic sponsored by the Walton Volunteer Fire Department. This big affair will be held on the softball grounds adjacent to the Walton High School, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

Firemen have been working hard all week at things are now in readiness for tonight's crowd.

There will be rides and entertainment for the children; bingo, dancing, merchandise booths and games for adults, and drinks, ice cream and those delicious fish sandwiches for everyone—so come, and bring the family.

The old slogan, "Help Us to Help You," has been revived again this year by the firemen, and that's exactly the situation—you help them at their picnic and they will help you save your home and other property in case of fire. All proceeds will go into the down payment on the new fire engine, which will be on display on the grounds. Come on, let's go!

Boone County 4-H Fair To Be Held Next Week

The Boone County Utopia and 4-H Fair will be held August 6-7-8. The committees have been working hard in setting up the premium list in order that the exhibitors and public may enjoy the best in county fairs in Kentucky.

Registration of exhibits will start at 9 a. m., Thursday, August 6. The judging of all Home Economics, garden, fruit, field crops, corn, 4-H club projects and dairy will be held Thursday. Miss Edith Lacy, Miss Lullie Logan, University of Kentucky, will judge the Home Ec exhibits. All homemakers are urged to open class and dairy show will start on bringing exhibits to the fair. The 4-H and Thursday morning, with Dr. M. D. Seth, Head of the Dairy Department, U. K., will be judge of the dairy show, which is expected to be outstanding.

To The Voters of Boone County:

I wish to thank the people of Boone County for the many courtesies extended me during my campaign. Efforts were made to see as many voters as time would permit and still continue to perform the duties of my office.

During my term of office as County Attorney I have diligently tried to carry out the duties of this office in a manner desirous by the citizens of this county. And if re-elected for another term I shall continue my efforts to perform said duties as in the past four years.

I respectfully request that every voter exercise their privilege to vote and in doing so may I humbly ask your support in my behalf.

Wm. P. "Bill" McEvoy

CANDIDATE FOR THE OFFICE OF

County Attorney

To Boone Citizens:

I wish to extend to the citizens of Boone County my sincere thanks for their courteous treatment extended to me during my campaign for re-election for State Senator from this district. It has been a pleasant duty to serve this district as State Senator for the past twelve years and during that time as Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, we have been able to increase rural road funds from two million dollars to twenty million dollars which has been spent on roads that serve as mail and school bus roads.

We have been able to increase school appropriations from ten million dollars to thirty-five million dollars which is not adequate but we expect to introduce legislation during the coming session which will improve Kentucky's educational facilities. If re-elected, I am slated to become President Pro Tem of the Senate which will make me the third ranking officer of the state which I feel is a high honor for this senatorial district. I was glad to help sponsor the legislation making it possible for the establishment of the Greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone County. As chairman of the Appropriations Committee, old age assistance benefit payments were increased from an average of nine dollars a month to thirty-five dollars a month.

Your support in the Primary next Saturday, August 1, will be very much appreciated and I assure you that I shall look after the interests of my district and The Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Marriage License

A marriage license was issued by Geo. A. Damon, Deputy County Clerk at Independence, to Julian Thomas Puckett, age 19, and Mary Kathryn Guttridge, age 16, both of Morning View.

A Correction

Last week, under the heading "Drivers License" I placed the name of Geo. A. Damon, Deputy County Clerk, in the above item—This should have been Mrs. Edna Kenady, Deputy Circuit Clerk. Mrs. Kenady has jurisdiction over the issuance of drivers licenses.

Dearborn Guests

Richard Dearborn, son of Ernest Dearborn, Wright Road, his wife and two daughters, Barbara and Deborah, Mr. and Mrs. Don Shull and daughters, Marsha and Sandra, and grandson, Jerry Holtke, spent the day at the Dearborn residence. Jerry, age 13, while fishing in the Dearborn lake, caught a 5 1/4-lb. bass.

Firemen's Meeting

Members of the Independence Fire Department will hold their regular meeting Monday, August 3, at 8:00 p. m. All members are urged to attend so that the tickets, ticket money, donations, etc., may be turned in. Many subjects, under new business, will be brought up and will concern all members, new and old. Remember Monday, August 3, at 8 p. m. at the firehouse.

O. E. S. Officers to Meet

There will be an officers' meeting at the Independence Christian Church on Tuesday, August 4, at 8:00 p. m. All officers of Chapter 493 are urged to be present.

Sympathy

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mr. Ed Carr, who died last week after a short illness.

Just A Thought

Golf is a game where a ball, only 1 1/2 inches in diameter is placed on another ball 8,000 miles in diameter. The object is to strike the small ball but not the larger one.

Post Office Movie

The Post Office Department's new 20-minute 16 m.m., black and white sound film, "Pigeon Holes and Progress" is now available for showings before Postal employees and civic, church, school and similar groups.

Graphically portraying the course of a letter through the Postal system from the desk of its writer to the reading by the recipient, with short excursions into interesting features of the handling of mails of other categories, this experimental film has as its objectives:

(1) To take the public behind the scenes and show them how their mail is handled; (2) to stress the need for better mailing habits by the American people in their own self-interest as mail patrons and taxpayers.
"Pigeon Holes and Progress," may be obtained by contacting your local Postmaster, who will make the request to the Distributing Film Service. This film must be run only on 16 m.m. sound equipment.

If your group, church, school or organization is interested in obtaining an educational knowledge of the above subject, this is a sure way of getting a free lesson from a recently made film.

Firemen's Picnic

The long weeks that the firemen worked to prepare for their 16th annual picnic will well worth their labor. Friday evening was a record breaker, even the weather turned cool. Saturday evening was another record breaker and all persons attending enjoyed themselves immensely.

As advertised, the local minister, Rev. Kirtley Jolly, pastor of the Independence Baptist Church, held church services on the Courthouse lawn, which the firemen acknowledged by closing all stands for 15 minutes and had Rev. Jolly use the public address system erected by the Fire Department to give his gospel preaching and special music program, after which the concessions were open for the rushing business they all had throughout the evening.

The firemen spent Sunday cleaning up the Courthouse grounds, taking down and putting away booths and stands, taking inventory of all merchandise that was returnable and getting all refreshment cases ready for the Monday morning pickup.

The Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department and the Ladies Auxiliary wish to express their "thanks" and "appreciation" for the generous help the people of this community gave during the past weekend. One thing for sure, without the help and support of our people, the Independence Fire Department could not have the excellent record it now has. It isn't the firemen only who make the department, its cooperation, good will and the complete backing of this community.

The amount taken in by the firemen isn't known at this time. As soon as all members have reported, bills have been received and paid and all necessary expenses have been adjusted a report will be given in a later issue of this paper.

Personal Interest and Sick List

Miss Alice Holtke of Maderia, Ohio, and Ronald Dearborn of Frankfort, Ky., are spending this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dearborn of Wright Road.

Mrs. Angie Lipscomb is convalescing at home after having spent several days at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mary Ellen Canty is slowly improving at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Sharon Knipfer is nursing a sunburn. She went swimming at Tacoma Park, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Maphet and family left on their vacation last Monday. They are heading for North Carolina, Florida and probably Washington, D. C. Danny Gibson, 6 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gibson of Pleasure Isle, is back home from the hospital after an abdominal operation, and is doing fine. Danny is a great-grandson of Mr. Frank Stafford of Independence Station Road, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Merl B. Appel, Independence.

WHITES TOWER—By Ernest J. Ryle

Miss Mary Ruth Stephenson has returned from a very enjoyable visit with an aunt, Mrs. Echler, of Carrollton.

The blackberry crop has been unusually good this year and the ladies are busy canning and preserving.

Anyone wanting green beans for canning, may contact the writer, as we will have more than enough for our use.

The signing of the "truce" was a cause for rejoicing for several Whites Tower families.

George Walton of Boone County made a flying visit to Whites Tower last week.

Chas. White and family and Late Miller and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bradburn were guests of Ernest Ryle and family last Sunday.

The young folks of Taylor Mill Church of Christ had a very enjoyable time at their "hobo" party Friday night.

Enough soil is lost from our farmlands each year to fill a string of freight cars that would reach around the world 19 times at the equator.

MESSAGE OF THANKS, APPRECIATION AND PROMISE To People of BOONE COUNTY

I want to take this opportunity of expressing my sincere thanks to all you good people of Boone County for the way in which you have received me unto your homes during this campaign. Your friendliness, hospitality, and understanding will never be forgotten. Boone County is one of the best governed counties in the State of Kentucky.

The quality of the County Government is most generally determined by the ideals of its citizens. My record as Sheriff of Boone County speaks for itself. I endeavored at all times, day or night, to carry out the duties of this high office and to keep the County clean from gambling, to apprehend and arrest all law violators.

I promise you the same kind of efficient service for the next four years, if you elect me Sheriff.

May I say thanks again for every consideration you have given me through the years and, regardless of who the Sheriff may be, let us all cooperate and work together in continuing to keep Boone County clean, so we may always be proud to claim it as our home, and residences because of the things its citizenry and County government believe in.

Sincerely,

To The Voters of Boone County:

4In the closing moments of my campaign I want to take this opportunity of expressing my gratitude to the people of Boone County for your courtesies and kindnesses extended to me at all times during my visits in every section of the county.

It will always be a source of warmth and inspiration, as the years go by, to recall with pride the fine conversations with my friends, both old and new.

I hope to be nominated on Saturday. If I am, it will be because you still desire a continuation of the good government you have had, and which I was instrumental in effecting, during the past four years as Deputy Sheriff.

Most sincerely yours,

Byron Kinman

Christian Home

Lesson for August 2, 1953

YOU can have a Christian town more easily than a Christian nation. You can have a Christian one-man business more easily than a Christian corporation. You can have a Christian church more readily than a Christian school. But you can come closest to a Christian group, 100 per cent, in a Christian home than anywhere else in the world.

Home Has Its Problems

A good Christian home is not automatic. Its praises can be sung too loudly. In sentimental moods people talk and write poems and even preach about the home as if it were just naturally a heaven on earth. Nonsense! Like all good things it has to be planned and worked out. Or again, they talk about the Great American Home as if it were a special product of this American nation. But there were homes before America was discovered. There are good homes wherever Christians are—in China, Africa, India, Fiji. There is no magic about America that makes an American home the best on earth. It is Christianity, not race or geography, that makes the best homes. A Christian home in Madagascar is likely to be better than a non-Christian home in Memphis.

But even a Christian home has its problems. How can old and young live happily under the same roof when "happy" doesn't mean the same thing at six, sixteen and sixty? How can you have an Executive Committee (husband and wife) with no one to break a tie vote? How can a father steer between being too strict and not being strict enough? How can a growing child learn independence without wrecking the place? Of course home has its problems. Life has its problems, and you don't get rid of them even when every one concerned is a practicing Christian.

Some Christian Intentions

One reason why a home can be more nearly Christian than any other social group, is that you can come nearer sharing the same basic intentions in that group than in any other. One intention that must be woven into the home is that of permanence. Homes cannot claim to be Christian if they are no more than campsites. If husband and wife are not in it for keeps, they lack the first of all intentions that keep a home together. Further, a home that is Christian will welcome children. If children are accepted grudgingly, if they are thought of mainly as "mouths to feed," "brats," it is not a Christian home. Another Christian intention is the Golden Rule. "Be done by as you did" is somebody else's rule, not Christ's. If you go looking for slights and insults, if you go around insisting always on your "rights," if you have a chronically unforgiving spirit, you don't fit into a Christian home.

Christ in the Home

There is a motto sometimes seen on a wall: "Christ is the Head of This House." What does it mean to have Christ in the house? His picture on the wall won't do it, though it may help. Pious mottoes won't do it unless they express the real heart of those who live there. What does it mean to have Christ, not as an obscure occasional guest, not a stranger, but as Head of the house? He is Head when his ideas are known, followed and loved. He is Head when every one has the habit of thinking, Is this what He would do? He is Head when his spirit is in every heart. He said himself that he came not to be served but to serve; and the Christian home is one where every member of it carries out that purpose of Christ. When in a home there is prayer each day in His name—that is to say, when all the daily prayers of the family are not just "Gimme" prayers but such as Christ Himself would endorse, when time is taken out every day for prayer and all together at least once in the twenty-four hours think quietly about what it means to be Christian, then it is more and more likely that Christ will be truly the Head of that house. The problems will be there, and they will not be easy even for Christians; but no problem of Christian living, even at close range, is impossible when Christians work them out together in His name.

AS SHEEP WITHOUT A SHEPHERD?

The flock may seem to have no shepherd . . . But study the picture again!

Notice that the sheep are moving in a common direction? The several which have paused for a last nibble, and even the couple whose inquisitive heads have turned to gaze at our camera, are still on a path that someone has chosen.

Now look around you in the world. Do men seem as sheep without a shepherd—confused, lost, afraid?

But watch a little longer—you'll see millions moving forward in a common direction. They are sheep who have found The Shepherd. Though they belong to different churches, their common faith in Christ brings order out of chaos in their lives, and gives hope and destiny to their steps.

For you who are tired of wandering and wondering—the Church offers a Path . . . and a Fold.

—H. H. Eklund, Editor Adv. Service, Birmingham, Ala.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Why Don't You Speak, Joe?

Two weeks ago, through this newspaper, your attention was called to three items—

1. Your position on the distribution of school funds.
2. Your action in signing a petition to abort justice as determined by Circuit Court in Union County, Kentucky, and affirmed by all the Appeals Courts in Kentucky, and even the Supreme Court of the United States. WERE YOU ATTEMPTING TO "WOO" THE SUPPORT OF JOHN L. LEWIS' UNITED MINE WORKERS IN THIS ELECTION?
3. Your failure to support the group that were fighting a bill sponsored by the liquor interests. You will remember H.B. 430 passed by the House of Representatives on March 17, 1953. YOU WERE PRESENT ACCORDING TO THE RECORDS, BUT DIDN'T OPPOSE THIS MEASURE.

The people of Boone and Gallatin Counties expect an answer. WHY DON'T YOU SPEAK, JOE?

This Space Bought and Paid for By

R. M. HALL

CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE
BOONE AND GALLATIN COUNTIES

To The Voters of Boone County

I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks to the people of Boone County for the courteous welcome extended to me during my campaign for County Tax Commissioner. This is the first time I have sought public office and I have made every effort to contact each of you. If I have failed to see you it was certainly not intentional.

As I have already mentioned to you, during my campaign, I feel that I am highly qualified to serve you. I am obligated to no one except the good people of Boone County, and I will, if elected, serve you to the best of my ability.

Your continued support and vote on Saturday, August 1, will be greatly appreciated.

Gilby Greene
for Tax Commissioner

TO THE VOTERS of Boone County

When elected, I promise to be an ACTIVE SENATOR, visiting you in your community, assisting whenever and wherever possible, and taking a personal interest in your problems.

1. How many times have you seen your present Senator during the past (3 terms) twelve years?
2. How many times has he interested himself in your problems?
3. Ask my opponent how he voted on the administration sponsored old-age assistance lien law?

The pledges I make to you can be kept, because I am not a CONTROLLED CANDIDATE. I am running to be your state Senator.

I will not be president pro-tem of the Senate. I am not seeking honors of your expense—I am only seeking the opportunity to serve the people of this district and will appreciate your support on August 1.

Respectfully,

James C. Cabbage
for STATE SENATOR

Message to Voters of Boone County

Because this country, the United States of America, is the haven of freedom on earth, voters all over Boone county will go to the polls on Saturday, August 1st, to select their choices for offices of the county government. Because that freedom is a real thing to everyone, every person may go to the primary election of his party choice and, alone in the voting booth, vote exactly as his or her conscience dictates. For over 150 years, events have demonstrated that, the people of this grand county of the greatest state and nation on earth, vote freely, intelligently and just exactly the way they see it.

Because of this we submit to you for your approval, A. D. Yelton, who is seeking nomination to the office of county attorney of Boone county, and give you these facts:

He is a competent, capable attorney, serious and studious in his knowledge of law, devoted and true to his clients, and possessed of the experience in the work and procedures of the courts necessary to the correct and orderly carrying out of the county's legal affairs.

In all of his public life, there has not been even the least breath of suspicion of his professional and personal dealings. We believe that the most ardent supporters of his opponent will admit that as a fact.

Prevented from completing his education at the normal time, he later, while working and supporting his family, educated himself in the processes and procedures of courts, and still while supporting his family, attended University Law School and by dint of hard work and sometimes sheer drudgery, procured a full legal education and a license to practice law in the courts of the commonwealth of Kentucky. One cannot help but appreciate the courage required for a person, out of his youth and on his own, to take on such a load.

One person we know gave what we think is the best reason for our support of this candidate, when he said, "If an issue was brought before A. D. Yelton for him to decide, and there was strong political pressure for him to decide one way, and he knew it was right to decide the other, well, he'd do what he thought was right."

THIS IS THE KIND OF MAN WE WANT!

KENTUCKY

That is a word that is known the world over—you hear people talk about other states, but when Kentucky is mentioned, there is always a good word said for Old Kentucky. I drove to Louisville today and back to Lexington, then home. I don't know where you could travel that many miles in a more prosperous looking country. Corn and tobacco looking good, farm buildings all painted, lots of stock in the fields, and that grass is green and plenty of it. They talk about bluegrass and there is nothing that will put the fat on cattle like bluegrass—it may not be blue as some people say, but it is real grass for livestock.

You drive from Versailles to Lexington, a wonderful four-lane highway, that must be the heart of the world. On one side you see a field full of Hereford cattle, round and fat, then a large field of green tobacco, then a field of Black Angus cattle grazing on that green grass. Then to Lexington, the city of building architects' dream—just drive out in some of those new subdivisions and see houses different from anything else anywhere. Kentucky is a great state and the finest people. It is a fine place to live, don't you think so?

R. L. Sloyback was in town—he bought mowing machine sections and rivets—I cashed his milk check and he went home—Bob don't stay long when he comes to town. I received today two 410 ga. Winchester Pump Guns—getting ready for the squirrel season August 25; also received two 22 cal. Harrington & Richardson pistols—for years I didn't think I could sell pistols, but we sell more pistols than rifles. I sold a fellow I did not know a 1 1/2-gallon ice cream freezer and a gallon Daisy chum. I also sold a .22 Winchester rifle.

Ben Dixon came after screen wire. Brewster made up a spray boom for Eldon Ascraft. Helen Rich bought a very nice Perfection gas range and a Gibson refrigerator—for years I didn't think I could sell pistols, but we sell more pistols than rifles. I sold a fellow I did not know a 1 1/2-gallon ice cream freezer and a gallon Daisy chum. I also sold a .22 Winchester rifle.

I sold a fellow I did not know a 1 1/2-gallon ice cream freezer and a gallon Daisy chum. I also sold a .22 Winchester rifle.

Ruth Worthington bought 25 lbs. white Bondek to paint the walls of her basement. John Sleet brought his tractor down today and Brewster installed a power sprayer on it—John came back later and said it would spray fifty feet wide or you can take off one nozzle and spray your fence rows. Whenever the ladies come in and say I want a quart of Bole's floor enamel or a gallon of Bole's white enamel, you know you are selling good point or they would not specify Bole.

point you can buy for your money is Bole, made right here in Cincinnati, Ohio. It is fresh because we get about two shipments a week.

We put up a large shipment of pipe fittings today—I often wonder where all of these go—they don't last long here. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Steinhilber from over in Kenton county were buying a dairy water pump. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Salmons from Concord community had me make clothes poles out of pipe; they also bought fly spray and light bulbs. Orin and Vera Britt have the best looking daughter, a little young yet, boys—they were all in today—fine folks and Vera is a real farmer, while Orin works in town—of course she has plenty of work for him on his days off.

Brewster was shuffling around today—put two lights in a clothes closet at the Baptist parsonage, put up rangers for blackboard and shorts in new Baptist Sunday school building, repaired a window fan for Mrs. Wm. Upton, put new faucet washers in for Nell Hunt, repaired an iron for Dale Williamson. Chick was getting things ready for the R.E.A. fair. He sold a large Jomeway poultry feeder, but I did not see who got it. Mrs. Claude Adams bought a large flock feeder from me. The people around Walton have changed in the past few years—I hardly know half of my customers.

An insurance reporter came in today with seven reports on people living around Walton, and I only knew one—the others I never heard of. A few years ago you could sell a customer something and had time to get acquainted, but not now—they don't stay that long and we don't have time to talk. Everyone in a hurry. Mr. and Mrs. Gadd bought a 9x12 Armstrong rug, a beautiful floral pattern and a high glass finish, like all Armstrong linoleum. Mr. McCubbin bought his wife a Mirromatic pressure cooker and a dozen pint fruit jars—you know you can put four pint jars in one of these cookers for canning.

Ralph Lucas moved in his new home on Alta Vista—he was finishing the plumbing Saturday—that Nelda has really been a busy woman. John Campbell put in his wiring and plumbing—just about finished and they have a nice home. Kyle Nicholson will soon have Glenn Edens house finished on Alta Vista, and Andy Penn is about finished on Verona Road. I may have missed some, because they go up fast around here—Walton is growing. We sold more tank sprayers, along with Aldrin and Rothene for grasshoppers and tobacco worms. Charles Baker, Jr. came for electric fence knobs and wire. These electric fences are cheap and quick to put up. Robert Blackwell bought shells for his 20 ga. gun, also some fish tackle—he likes to hunt and fish. Mrs. Woodrow Ross bought pots and pans; so did Mrs. Ida Tackett—she was short on pans and muffin tins.

Williamson Defeats
Carr For Magistrate

Another county election in Boone County has come and gone, and the officers for the next four years have been chosen. Those who were winners are: County Judge, C. L. Cropper, who had no opposition; W. P. (Bill) McEvoy, County Attorney; Byron Kinman, Sheriff; Dewey Benson, County Clerk, no opposition; Wilton Stephens, Tax Commissioner; Alvin Kidwell, State Senator; Joe Rouse, State Representative; Dale Williamson, Magistrate, third district, and Cecil Presser, Jailer, unopposed.

Greatest interest was shown in the county attorney's race. Bill McEvoy of Florence, incumbent, who four years ago was nominated to the office by a majority of only 13 votes over the incumbent, John Crigler, Hebron, this year defeated veteran campaigner A. D. Yelton, Burlington, by 349 votes.

Yelton, former Obion Circuit Court Clerk, led McEvoy by 211 votes at the completion of the count in the first five precincts out of the county's total of 17. However, this lead was narrowed to only two votes after completion of the vote counting of Florence precinct 1. Mr. McEvoy was leading by 218 votes after Petersburg, Hebron, Verona and Walton the counting of Florence precinct 2, precincts then brought his majority to 349.

A surprise of the primary was the sweeping victory of Byron Kinman, chief deputy under Sheriff W. H. Easton, over former Sheriff R. L. (Irvin) Rouse, the sheriff's race. Rouse, an employee of the state highway department, an leave during the primary campaign, failed to carry a precinct.

Wilton Stephens, seeking his sixth successive term as county tax commissioner, won handily over his opponent, Gilby Greene, Florence, a mathematics teacher at Dixie Heights High School, by a majority of almost 5 to 1.

Boone County gave Alvin Kidwell, Sparta, seeking renomination as state senator, a majority of 424 votes over James C. Cubbage, Pleasureville. The other six counties in the 26th Senatorial District are Gallatin, Carroll, Oldham, Trimble, Henry and Owen.

R. M. (Coke) Hall, Mayor of Walton and former representative of the 54th Legislative District, who was defeated for renomination two years ago by Joe Rouse, Verona, by a small majority, was trounced by Rouse this time by a majority of 299 votes in Boone County. Hall had a 266 majority in Walton, but lost all but three of the remaining precincts in the county.

C. L. Cropper, candidate for county judge; C. D. Benson, candidate for county clerk, and Cecil Presser, for county jailer, had no opposition. Consequently their names did not appear on the ballot.

Complete returns from all nine precincts in Gallatin County, showed County Judge Earl Spencer victorious in his race for Democratic renomination. It was the judge's eighth bid for county office. Judge Spencer won over Paul Carver, 1075 to 615.

Hubbard Ferguson, former sheriff, took the nomination for sheriff with 1057 votes over James J. Wallace, 592, and Henry Troutman, 532.

Foster Miller, incumbent tax commissioner, was renominated over Roy Sisson, 894 to 773.

For magistrate, Glencoe district, Chas. Skirvin won renomination, 146 to 139, over W. A. Vance. For senator (26th district) Alvin Kidwell had 1055 to James C. Cubbage's 570, and for representative (54th district) Joe Rouse had 994 and R. M. Hall 549.

BAPTIST REVIVAL

Revival services are in progress at the First Baptist Church, Walton, and will continue each evening through Sunday, August 9. Everyone is invited.

Rev. C. N. Taylor, pastor-evangelist, said, "The Lord is really blessing in our services—20 additions the first three nights. Bro. Roland Elder, from the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Macon, Ga., is doing a fine job directing our music."

Grasshoppers and Cornborers Found in Kentucky Corn

A statement from the University of Kentucky says that in some areas the first brood of cornborers and grasshoppers are attacking corn. Following are suggestions of Prof. W. A. Price, entomologist at the Agricultural Experiment Station:

"Where injury is sufficient to warrant treatment it may be desirable to apply DDT for the cornborers and aldrin for grasshoppers. They may be applied simultaneously, since the two chemicals are compatible.

"If this combination is used, the correct dosage is a half-pint of 23% aldrin emulsion concentrate and 3 quarts of 25% DDT emulsion concentrate in enough water to treat an acre. With a tractor-mounted wood-type sprayer, 5 or more gallons of water per acre may be required; with airplane application, less than 2 gallons per acre will be necessary.

"It should be noted that the spray-boom on ground equipment should be elevated to at least 18 inches above the corn."

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION IS NOT COUNTED AS EARNINGS

Social Security monthly retirement payments may be made to insured persons over 65 years of age in every month in which they do not earn over $75 a month. Joseph T. Ware, manager of the local Social Security office at Covington, which serves all of northern Kentucky, states that failure to understand this causes people to lose retirement payments to which they are entitled. Unemployment compensation is not counted as earnings. Any amount of it may be received without preventing the payment of a monthly retirement benefit. Even if the insured person expects to earn over $75 in future months, he can receive his retirement payment for the months in which he does not earn more than $75. When an insured worker is over 65, he should always file a claim for retirement benefits the first month he earns $75 or less; or, if he has already filed a claim, he should notify the Social Security office whenever a month comes in which his earnings are not over $75. Retirement payments are turned on and off as frequently as necessary in order that the worker may receive them when his earnings fall to $75 a month or less, and not receive them when they rise above that figure. However, if the insured person is 75 years of age or older, he may receive monthly retirement benefits no matter how much he earns, or no matter how much his self-employment is.

FFA Camp Week

The week of July 19-25 was State Camp week for officers of all FFA chapters in Kentucky, which was held at Hardinsburg.

The left Simon Kenton High School at 8 a. m., Monday, and arrived at camp in time to receive accommodations and the schedule for the week.

The camp is for the benefit of training all officers for leadership in their respective field or position and allowing them to become better officers and acquire technical knowledge essential in leadership. Each morning, during the week, the officers went for an hour's instruction pertaining to their individual office.

The afternoons were for sports, which every boy participated in—softball, volleyball, horseshoe pitching, shuffleboard and table tennis were among the better selections. Later the boys went swimming until time for the evening meal.

On the return home, Friday, Mr. Gray, who furnished transportation, stopped at Mammoth Cave and he and the boys went for a short tour of the cave. They arrived home early Saturday morning.

To the Home-Buying Veteran

A 32-page guide for vets planning to buy or build homes with GI loans, has been made available at all VA offices. The pamphlet is designed to help WW2 and K-Vets get started on the right foot under the GI home loan program. It discusses such points as what a vet should look for in selecting the neighborhood, the lot and the house itself. Covers the cost of home ownership, the contract of purchase, final settlement or closing the loan, and what to expect before and after moving into a new home; the responsibilities of a vet home owner, and what the VA can and cannot do to assist the veteran.

A copy of the pamphlet will be sent to each veteran applying for a certificate of eligibility for a GI loan. Vets also may obtain copies by writing the nearest VA Regional Office and there is no charge for pamphlet.

Christian's Fight

Lesson for August 9, 1953

"It's a bonny fight," were the last words of a sermon by Rev. Andrew K. Rule; "don't ye want to get in it?" Reverend gentlemen do not always present Christianity in such vigorous terms. One hears more often something to this effect: "It's a water-tight Ark; don't you want to be pulled aboard?" or "It's a wonderful school; don't you want to register?" or "It's a fine laundry; drop in and get clean!" or "It's a great hospital; don't you want some treatment?" Well, of course, Christianity can be presented in all these ways. But A. K. Rule, being (by Dr. Foreman way of New Zealand) a Scotsman, he would present Christianity in terms of what all Celts dearly love—a fight. This is not an original idea. Paul had it long ago. That Apostle spoke of the Christian life as one that has to be lived in battleflesh, as we would say. He even spoke of it as a prize-fight (I Cor. 9). At the end of his life he referred to all of it as a "good fight."

The Nearest Enemy

God himself is presented in the Bible as a battling God. The Greeks might think of him as serene above the sky, untroubled and untroubled; but the saints who wrote the Bible knew God as one who has a fight on his hands and who wages unceasing war on a persistent enemy. Not that the issue is in doubt. The great message of the Bible is that God will win. But meanwhile the fight is on. The Christian is one who has enlisted in the army of God. God's enemies are his enemies. So far as this world is concerned (we have no present concern with any other) our enemies, and God's, are all those forces which tear down and destroy God's purposes, everything that tears and destroys humankind. Now the Christian is bound to fight everything in public and in private life which weakens and corrupts man; but the nearest enemy to every Christian is—himself. It is true that a man is his own best friend; but it is true that he is his own worst enemy. A man can do himself more harm than any one else can him. Many a man has lost the outer battle because he never won the fight with himself.

Fight Against Surrender

There are two opposite ways in which we have to battle with ourselves. These correspond to two kinds of temperament, and yet perhaps no man is entirely free from the need to fight on both these fronts. One is the fight with the drifter in us, the tendency to dream, to drift, to float with the tide, to let other people make all our decisions for us. We are surrounded by a pagan society, and it is not easy to maintain a higher standard. We haven't the energy to "buck" popular opinion. It takes a great deal of energy, it calls for a fighting heart, to make headway against the tide of "everybody says," "everybody does." The Christian who knows the harm which alcohol does to personality, the Christian who wants to live a clean life in this or in other ways, will in many places have to be "made of sterner stuff" than most people are. It is the person who has won a victory over himself who is best able to help others.

Fight for Control

There is another kind of inner battle: the fight against our own wills. The other battle was against our lack of will; this is against will itself. We are not born or made in such a way that we can do whatever we feel like doing and always be right. Indeed if we follow our natural inclinations we may end by being often wrong than right. And just as some temperaments lean to laziness and don't-care, so other temperaments lean too far the other way. If some people are like putty, they will explode any minute. It may be temper; it may be sex; it may be drink; it may be selfishness in any one of its countless forms. We can put it this way: There is in some of us all the time, and in all of us some of the time, the urge to shove every one else and everything else out of the way and make I WANT the rule of action.

MANY PLANTS ARE FATAL TO ANIMALS

Of about 10 different plants growing in Kentucky that may be poisonous to livestock, only about a third are likely to cause serious trouble. So states the new circular, No. 502, "Some Plants of Kentucky Poisonous to Livestock." It is put out by the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Well illustrated litho page-size drawings, the new 60-page circular recommends these points to prevent plant poisoning: Learn to recognize poisonous plants; eradicate them; avoid harvesting them in hay, and avoid over-grazing pastures.

Copies of the circular may be had from offices of county agents or from the college in Lexington.

we started 123 years ago!

THE 8,000-mile Southern is now the largest railway system in the country to be 100 per cent Dieselized. We've "pulled the fire" on our last steam locomotive.

In effect, this fire was started back in 1830—when history-making "Best Friend of Charleston," on a railroad that is now part of the Southern Railway System, became the first steam locomotive to run in regularly scheduled service in America.

Down through the years since 1830, the colorful steam locomotives paced the progress of the South, serving well until they, too, had to step aside for progress.

Today we are serving the South with a fleet of 880 powerful Diesel locomotive units costing $123½ million. This huge sum—which we will be "paying off" for years to come—marks our faith in the future of the South, and underscores our determination to bring to all in the South a great new kind of railroading—modern, streamlined, better than ever.

AUGUST

August starts off with the firemen's picnic and election day for all Democratic candidates, then a week's revival at the Walton Baptist Church, then a big tent meeting at the school grounds for the Christian Church, then my birthday August 13, also a vacation time for lots of people who have to come back home to rest up after a long trip. We had a very quiet election; no fights or even a hot argument—had a lot of loafers out front but they all seemed to agree. One fellow said he liked every man on the ballot, so he just wouldn't vote against any of them and never voted.

It was the hottest day I ever remember on election—thermometers were close to 100 degrees. The candidates all knew when they started that one of them was going to lose. Well, there is nothing like a good loser—that generally shows what kind of a man he is. Now that the election is over and can go back to work and rest up for that campaigning is hard work, or they all said it was. Mr. and Mrs. Souder were in today and bought a Taylor Tot—they are now living in a trailer at Bell's Motel, but have traded the trailer for a house on Edwards Avenue, next to M. O. Jones.

Bruce Ferguson from Union bought a Hansen sprayer to mount on his tractor—this is one of the finest sprayers for $87.50 to spray weed killer, tobacco worms or even put a boom on it for spraying corn, then you can use it for whitewash or a water pump at tobacco setting time—a real piece of equipment and cheap. A lady came in today, I never saw before, and said, I want a gallon of that good Bolce paint—my neighbor used some and it is wonderful. Try it and if it is not good, tell me, because we want you to be a Bolce paint customer for years to come.

Sold another Armstrong rug today, also Mr. McDonald up at Pon-De-Lon Motel, bought a G. E. fan. I have one more left—fans are about gone for this year. Mrs. O. F. Young bought Judy a croquet set for her birthday. Edith Stephenson bought a new metal iron board, two iron skillets and a water pitcher. Walter King bought an aluminum water pitcher and an oil can. It is some big job to keep up all this stock—sure as we run out of one item, we will have several calls for it.

Richard Kelly and mother were in buying a tractor sprayer for those tobacco worms. The R.E.A. fair was a huge success—people from everywhere. Chick and my good salesman from Stratton & Testegger, Mason Hughes, took charge of my booth. Alfred Hume and wife bought that beautiful Perfection oil heater—so we left it at their home, at we brought it in. We took the Perfection electric range to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Phillips—they had bad luck with their other range, as the lightning ran in and damaged it very badly.

We had several prospects on electric ranges and Dayton water pumps. That was our first experience at the fair but it was very nice and we all enjoyed it. The window for me gave away went to Mrs. Bertha Simpson up at Crittenden—she can really use it these hot nights. Lester Wilson from Crittenden came after more Bolce outside white paint—he said that is the best paint I ever used. He gave his house one coat and it was in very bad condition—hadn't been painted for years—his neighbors thought he had finished it, but he told them to wait until he put on the second coat, then see what a real paint job was.

Sam Rich from Piner, was over for some cow bells and collars. John Dorsey and Edith were in, they bought 500 ft. of 1-inch plastic pipe, a lot of fittings and nozzles—they are going to water their tobacco. Rev. J. H. Talley stopped in today with his two sons—he was pastor of the Methodist Church in 1939, here. He now lives close to Baltimore, Md. He bought a Dominion electric fan to take up to his father-in-law's, where they are evicting. Raymond Beach also bought a G. E. electric fan. Dr. Paul Nolting bought a Dominion fan for his office—John Hanks bought his wife a G. E. electric fan. Roy Brown also bought a 12-inch two-speed Dominion fan — you never know about fan sales—we thought we sold all the fans last year, but we sold more this year than last.

I had to call Lexington for more grasshopper killers—I ordered Aldrin and Chlordane—the farmers say both will kill the grasshoppers, but be careful with livestock. Haynes Stephenson stopped in today and bought his wife a square tub Maytag washer—as all Maytag users know a square tub washes faster and cleaner than any other washer. Pascal Bush bought a Black & Decker electric hand saw—he is building a barn and sawing a lot of oak lumber. Some folks traveling through bought some Revere ware for gifts for their relatives down South. We have had a lot of Canadian customers this summer, also from Michigan and Minnesota. Wm. Hess bought a G. E. electric fan—he is from Pendleton county.

Alice McKay and her husband bought an oil heater—they are getting ready for winter. Russell Chapman from Blanchester, Ohio, was in today—he couldn't get in the Advertiser office, so he let his subscription for the paper with me. It doesn't matter where they move to, they always like to know what is going on in and around Walton. It is a wonderful town and we are trying to make it better all the time. Have you been to the revival at the Walton Baptist Church? If not, go just once and hear C. N. Taylor preach—you never heard anything like it in Walton—some say the best ever to preach here. Progress On New School At Standstill

What about that new school? This is the question, and many have asked me or members of the board that same question. I think the people have a right to know what about the school.

Well, in the first place, we were delayed for some time in getting the plans ready and approved. After this was done we had a great deal of difficulty in securing a bid low enough to enable us to build a school for the money we had. At last we got a bid that was low enough to allow us to build the building, then the big item was selling the bonds.

There were some who thought we hit the worst bond market that had hit our nation for years. At the time we tried to sell the bonds, the market price had dropped to the bottom on bond sales. Had we been a month earlier, the bonds would have sold. At the time we tried to sell, even Government bonds were selling below par. The bonds of Kentucky say that a school bond cannot be sold below par. This is a strict adherence of the State Board of Education. When Government bonds can be bought below par, no one will pay full value for school bonds.

Is there a hope for the bonds to sell in the future? Yes, we may be able to sell the bonds this fall or in the Spring. Bonds are gradually regaining their strength and we may be able to sell our bonds before long, and get started on that new school. One of the largest bond houses in Kentucky is now working on our problem. They expect it within the next few weeks and we will once again be on our way to a new school. The school board and superintendent are making every possible effort to get this thing worked out for you. You have been patient with us, but these circumstances are beyond our control, and cannot be helped. We will keep you informed from time to time on the progress of this project. In the meantime, our school is growing in leaps and bounds and we will have to add more teachers to Verano again and may need two teachers for the first grade, and will have to get room for them somewhere. We need a school and need it badly, and you can be assured we will do all we can to get that we possibly can.

Our architect, Mr. Elliott, is hospitalized with a serious heart ailment, and is in an oxygen tent, but he has capable assistants that will come to our assistance when needed.

We are still hoping to get that school for you.—J. O. Ward.

KENTON BAPTIST REVIVAL

Revival services at the Kanton Baptist Church will be held August 17-22, at 8:15 p. m. nightly. The Rev. Thomas Gordon, pastor of the Little Union Baptist Church, Fairfield, Ky., will be the evangelist. He is an outstanding Bible preacher. He preaches an old-fashioned Gospel message.

There will be Gospel singing by the congregation, along with special music from surrounding churches. The pastor, Rev. Frank J. Kurler, Jr., says, "We anticipate a God-sent and Spirit-filled revival in our community. Come, fellowship, and pray with us. To fall to come is to fail to receive the great blessings God has in store for you." The pastor will lead the singing each evening.

STATIONED IN ICELAND

William H. Appel

Word was received this week from William H. Appel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merl B. Appel, Independence, who is stationed with the Air Corps in Iceland, that he is enjoying the weather there at this time, but wonders what it will be like this winter. Billy also said that he was sorry that he missed the Firemen's Picnic at Independence, but hopes to be back for the affair in 1954. Appel entered service September, 1952.

Large Crowds Attending Tent Revival at School

The North Kentucky revival opened Sunday night at the Walton school grounds with a packed tent. Rev. Gilbert E. Counts, Lexington, delivered a soul-stirring sermon and J. B. and Gladys Smith conducted the musical program.

Dr. Harry R. Cooke began preaching Monday night and will continue through Sunday night. His subjects are: Thursday, "Freedom in Christ"; Friday, "Love's Gift of Roses"; Saturday, "Life's Everlasting"; Sunday morning (in the Walton Christian Church) "Crossing the Great Divide"; and Sunday night (in the tent) "Now He is Here." Those who have heard the Smiths and Dr. Cooke have been greatly blessed.

Dr. W. A. Welsh, pastor of the great East Dallas Christian Church, Dallas, Texas, will begin the second week, Monday night. Dr. Welsh is pastor of the greatest missionary giving church among the Disciples of Christ in America. He has over 4,000 members and is a noted author, writer, lecturer and minister. He served for a number of years as head of the New Testament Bible Chair in Texas Christian University. He has assumed Rev. C. A. Vaughn, general chairman, that he is anxious to have the fellowship of the various churches cooperating in this revival and to enjoy the blessings of being in Walton and vicinity for a week.

An overflow crowd heard Mrs. J. B. Smith give her dramatic reading Tuesday evening. If you enjoy singing, you will enjoy singing under the direction of the Smiths. Arrangements have been made to seat in and around the tent a thousand or more people.

WINS NEW AUTOMOBILE

Wesley Burgess, Jr., Walton, won a new Kaiser Monarch automobile Tuesday for correctly identifying the "Voice You Know," over radio station WLW. It was that of former President Herbert Hoover.

Mel Martin at Burlington, Aug. 17

Mel (Dibble) Martin, former WLW-T and NBC radio and TV star, will conduct a "Crusade for Christ" in Northern Kentucky, under the sponsorship of the Baptist Youth for Christ. The Rev. Mel Martin will speak at the Boone County Fairgrounds, Burlington, on Monday evening, August 17, and in Devou Park on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, August 20-21-22. Services will begin at 8:00 nightly.

Mel Dibble, who adopted the stage name of "Mel Martin," when he entered the entertainment world, is the son of a Baptist preacher and evangelist. Mel entered the ministry early in life and became a well-known evangelist and singer. It was a great disappointment to many when he left the field of religion to enter the field of radio and later television. Last April, after hearing Billy Graham preach in Cincinnati, Mel re-dedicated his life to the Lord and resigned his position with WLW. He has now re-entered the field of evangelism.

Rev. Bob Brown, pastor of the Valsallo Baptist Church, is general chairman for the crusade. The advisory committee includes some 50 young people, along with five pastor-advisors, which include

Kindergarten to Be Held In the Methodist Church

The Wa-Na Woman's Club is pleased to announce that arrangements have been made to have a kindergarten this year for the children of the Walton-Verona area. It will be held in the Walton Methodist Church, and it is felt that we have been very fortunate to have engaged Mrs. James S. Webster as the teacher. The group will meet from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m., five days a week, beginning September 14, and at this time we hope that all children who will be five years of age before May 31, 1954 will be eligible to attend, although since we feel that we will not be able to accommodate more than 25 children successfully, it may be necessary to raise the age limit. There will be a small tuition charge to cover expenses. In addition, every effort is being made to provide transportation for the children who will require it.

We of the Wa-Na Club, along with many other members of the community, have long felt the need for a kindergarten in Walton. There have been any number of problems involved with the organization of this undertaking, and were it not for the fine encouragement and support given us by various groups and individuals in the community, we might not have been able to overcome them. We realize now that the parents who are interested in the kindergarten will wish to have detailed information about it, and for that reason we have arranged for a meeting to take place Tuesday evening, August 18, at 7:30 p. m., in the Walton City Building.

Mrs. Webster and the kindergarten committee of the Wa-Na Club will be there to answer questions and to try to work out any difficulties that may arise. We urge all interested parents to attend this meeting. Information may also be had by calling Walton 1815 or 171.—Wa-Na Club.

CD Move-up Mobilization Is Successful

The Civil Defense Move-up Mobilization system, sponsored by the Covington Fire Department, held their demonstration last Sunday afternoon at Pike and Holman, Covington, on the John G. Carlisle school playground.

At 1:00 p. m., linemen of the Safety Department at the Covington Fire Department were on hand erecting the public address system, the speakers' stand and placing guard ropes, which protected the people from the vehicle area.

Promptly at 2:00 p. m., Covington radio station WZIP, announced the time for all fire departments in the Northern Kentucky area to begin their journey to the Pike and Holman Streets area. Covington and its fire stations were the first to arrive, followed by Newport, Park Hills, Ludlow, Ft. Wright and Sautage. The last to arrive, due to the distance to travel, were Taylor Mill, Independence, Walton, Florence, and Silver Grove.

This move-up system showed the people of Northern Kentucky that all the Fire Departments are ready in case of atomic attack or any emergency that could be disastrous to a large community. Your Fire and Police Departments are ready, but are you? Every person should have a thorough knowledge of Civil Defense—for it teaches you how to protect yourself, your family, your community, it teaches first aid, and it gives you a systematic way to handle all emergencies. Pamphlets and booklets are on hand at the demonstration area, Sunday, for all persons interested. They are still available at the Covington Fire Department stations.

Staffordsburg Homemakers Take Tour to Niagara Falls

Members and friends of the Staffordsburg Homemakers completed their annual tour by Greyhound bus to Niagara Falls, this week. They visited the Fort Perry Monument in Erie, Pa., enjoyed lakeshore drive along Lake Erie to Buffalo, N. Y., for a short stopover there, and on to Niagara Falls.

At Niagara Falls, N. Y., a Gray Line Bus was chartered. The group crossed the Rainbow Bridge into Toronto, Canada and from there visited the following scenic points on both the Canadian and American sides of the Falls: Queen Victoria Park, Table Rock, Horseshoe Falls, Scenic Tunnel, Whirlpool Rapids and the Whirlpool, Spanish Aerial Car, which crosses the neck of the whirlpool, in which the water is 150 feet deep—this car runs on a cable above the water. Several of the group took this daring ride. Also visited was the Maid of the Mist elevator, 135 feet below the falls, Goat Island, Lun Island, and Cave of the Winds, in which you don oltskin coats and caps and walk down in under the falls.

The illumination tour included a visit to the Oakes Garden Theater, Carillon Tower, where beautiful chimes are played twice daily, Brock's Monument, and the illuminated falls in all their grandeur. The falls are bathed in electric lights softened with rainbow tints to delight the eyes. They are truly beautiful. An average of 7 million gallons of water flows over the falls every minute, making a person realize why it is one of the Seven Wonders of the World.

Hotel reservations for both nights were made at the Richmond Hotel, Erie, Pa.

The following enjoyed the tour: Mesdames Harry Cooper, J. Lubbe, Paul Biedenhorn and daughter, Barbara, A. Neilhaus, Bess Schneider, Geo. Herweh, W. A series of historical incidents helped keep Kentucky from breaking into national industrial prominence until after World War II. Among them were the annexation of the Philippine Islands in the 1880's, which seriously hampered the state's thriving hemp industry due to a chaptre source of hemp in the islands, and the discovery of the Mesabi range, which provided cheaper and richer iron ore than was being turned out in Kentucky's busy furnaces.

Christ Above All

Lesson for August 16, 1953

THE reader who goes to Sunday school will have noticed that the quarterly never prints all the Scripture that is listed in this column. The reason is the interdenominational committee preparing these lessons selects more Scripture than any quarterly is going to have room to print. This is in the hope that the student will not be content with reading short bits from the Bible at second-hand, but will go on to read more fully in the Bible itself. This particular column is Dr. Foreman's free to use the whole passages selected, not simply the verses reprinted in most quarters.

Christ Pre-eminent

It ought to go without saying that Christ is pre-eminent, that is to say, above all, for the Christian. It does not go without saying, because Christians incline to forget it, or more exactly, they forget him. Paul uses the word "pre-eminent" only once in Colossians 1, but he uses many other ways of declaring that Christ is above all. In Christ we have forgiveness of sins; in him all the fullness of God dwells; he is the head of the church. The Christian has been transferred to Christ's kingdom, through Christ all men may be reconciled to one another; in Christ are "hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge"; the Christian is to be "filled with the knowledge of his will." The Christian receives him, is rooted in him, built up in him, grows to maturity in him; he is the Christian's hope of glory. All this is "in the book"; but is it in life? Does Christ actually loom as large in the life of Christians as he does in the plan of God.

You Received Christ

Speaking of the way the Christian life begins, Paul says, "You received Christ." That is what ought to happen at the very start. If it does not happen, there is no real start. What do we receive at the beginning of the Christian life? A certificate of church membership? Water? The Communion bread and wine? A name like "Methodist" or "Baptist" or "Lutheran"? Even a name like "Christian"? Now, it is true that the Christian life begins with an "I will." There is a vow, a determination, a hope and intention. But unless there is a receiving, all the hopes and intentions go for nothing.

So Live in Him

Paul says the Christian is "rooted" in Christ (as if we were plants) and "built up" in him or on him (as if we were brick walls). He puts these both together when he says "Live in him." If we are like plants "rooted" in Christ, that means he is to us what the soil is to a plant. All our spiritual life comes from him. Not from a book, from a creed, from a set of ideas, least of all from our own thin selves; but from Christ, in whom is "all the fullness of God." Again, if we are "built" on him, that means he sets the line of our lives. Just as a wall cannot lean one way of the other off its foundation, and still stand, so our lives either follow the line that Christ has set or they collapse.

Mature in Christ

Christ is not only the ground and foundation, he is the goal of life for the Christian. Are we walled? He is the blueprint. Are we plants? He is a perfect specimen. Paul wants every Christian—not a few selected saints—to be "mature in Christ." (The older translation "perfect" is misleading, since the Greek word means mature, not perfect nor sinless.) Why is it we are so easily satisfied? Why are so many Christians midlets, permanent babies, in mind and spirit and character, when they ought to be growing up? Once there was a baby whose parents lived at some distance from other families with small children. For more than a year they thought their baby was doing very well. Then they visited another family where there was a normal baby, the same age as their own. For the first time, they realized their own child had not grown as it should. So we Christians compare ourselves with ourselves, or with other imperfect Christians, and we are foolishly content.

LAUGHING POPLARS

The trees whose waving branches droop to the earth are called weeping willows. Why not call these tall fellows, with the firm upward-reaching branches, laughing poplars?

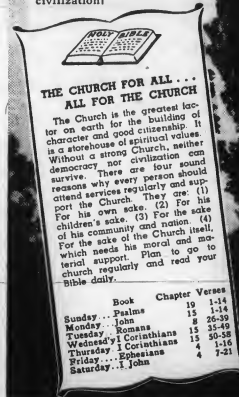

People are like trees. Some droop listlessly under the burden of their own existence. They spend most of their days weeping.

Others stand upright and firm, undaunted by life's threatening storms. They can laugh, and their laughter spreads courage through the world.

Trees never change. The willow remains a willow; the poplar, a poplar.

But people do change. For centuries the Christian religion has been turning man's sorrow into joy, his weakness into strength.

Start worshipping every Sunday, and discover why churches are the backbone of our civilization!

18th Anniversary

August 5th, 18 years ago, Ed Fry asked me if I wanted to buy his half of this hardware store—my Dad already owned the other half, and was home with heart trouble. Mr. Fry also had a bad heart but was still active. He told me what he would take, and explained to me that no one ever got rich in Walton, because there was not that much money circulating, but I could always make a good living and a few dollars extra. I was 28 years old and had just married June 18, previous. I talked it over with my wife, which I have always made a rule—we agreed to borrow the money and buy it.

There was not much surplus money to be found, but Dr. R. E. Ryle came to our rescue—we worked hard, took a lot of Ed Fry's advice and soon paid Dr. Ryle off. Most women are more conservative than men—every man should talk his business deal over with his wife—then if he makes a bad move and goes broke, they will go down together. During the past 18 years, there have been a lot of changes—old and young faces gone, lots of new faces appear. This business has grown—we sell more in one month now than we did in one year in '35, but everything was cheap then.

You could buy an axe for $1.50, but very few had the $1.50; you could buy a roll of barb wire for $3.75, but the same old story, no one had the $3.75 to spare. But as the years went by prices increased, people went to work, salaries rose, farm produce started upward, then labor demanded more money, capital demanded more profit, and it is still going—sometimes I wonder where it will stay. All we can do is wait and see. Was I busy today with Chick on vacation and Brewster out on repair jobs, also putting up new venetian blinds for Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Edens in their new home on Alta Vista.

Kyle Nicholson has the house about finished—it is very nice. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Behymer were in—Bob was having trouble with his fence charger, but after we both got a good shock, we decided it worked. Mrs. Joy Webster was also having a little trouble with her electric churn, but Brewster can fix it. Mrs. Ora Fry brought in her scissors to be sharpened. Robert Durr had blacksmith work for me to do—cut off a piece of angle iron, drill a lot of holes, then thread a lot of bolts.

Mr. Shinkle, down at Elliston, needed eight bolts 22" long—I did not have them. He was going to Covington, so I told him if he couldn't find them, I would make them out of a round bar of iron. Later he came back and said I had more bolts than all of Covington, so I cut and threaded his bolts. Thos. Guard came after a pitman rod and mower sections. There were a lot of other people here but I was going so fast I didn't remember all of them. Raymond Baker bought a 30' extension ladder; Mr. Joy Webster brought a gallon of red wagon paint. Virgil Whaley brought his iron to be repaired but it was burned out inside. Joe Richardson came after pipe fittings—Jhe is working on Wilmington Baptist Church, which is about finished, and a very nice church. Mr. Perkins from Heekin, up in Grant county, stopped and bought a power lawn mower. Louis Schwab bought a 9x12 lineoleum rug—we sell rugs every day. I had an inquiry about Warm Morning cool heaters for winter. We have some in stock and will have lots more. We have already sold some Perfection oil heaters. It is a little early but it won't be long until we can get out all the stoves and start delivering.

Mrs. Blanche Leek bought hardware and Armstrong lineoleum. A fellow from Fowlers Creek Road bought a Dayton water system—took it with him. Virgil Whaley and wife bought a Sunbeam electric iron, as I told you before, their old iron burned out. Brewster put new cords on seven irons today and threaded a mile of pipe—he had that pipe threading machine hot. Joe Collins from Crittenden was down today—he is having water pump trouble, but we decided it was water logged and told him what to do.

Mrs. Alfred Hume bought more lineoleum. Mrs. Lawrence Overboy bought a 9x12 rug and curtain rods. Gentry Coyle bought a gallon of rubber base paint, a mellow cream color—this sure makes a nice wall. We have that Alum roof paint—it is aluminum paint with gilsonite base, a wonderful paint for metal roofs and gutters and only $3.75 per gallon. Shelby Chance from Grant county stopped in and bought a power lawn mower. Mrs. Clara Smith, down at Duck Head filling station, called for a Perfection kerosene water heater—Brewster took one down and installed it for her.

Mrs. Virgil Hensley bought a two-burner hot plate. Rev. Simon Webster from Elliston, bought a one-man saw and a pair of tin snips—he is remodeling a house. John Dorsey and Edith had bad luck after buying all that plastic pipe and sprinklers to water their tobacco—the hail just ruined their tobacco—lots of others had loss by hail but they had not bought all the equipment to irrigate—that was sure a terrible storm and it did a lot of damage.

Omer Dudgeon and Pete Water painted my warehouse roof and gutters today—what about your roof and gutters, are you ready for winter—don't wait until the roof leaks to paint it. We have several kinds of roof paint—black asbestos fiber, aluminum gilsonite base, red roof and green roof. Better check before those fall rains start. Also check your heating system for new furnace pipe, new parts and order early, if you need them. When you need merchandise or service, CALL CONRAD!

1800 Hear Mel Martin At Burlington, Monday

Services at Devou Park Thur., Friday, Saturday

The largest crowd to ever attend a religious service in Boone County gathered at the Boone County Fair Grounds, Monday night to hear Rev. Mel Martin, former WLW television star, Judge C. L. Cropper reported.

The grandstand, which seats 1600 persons, was filled and more than 200 were standing, the judge said.

Judge Cropper introduced the Rev. Mr. Martin to the assembly. Bob Brown, pastor of the Visalia Baptist Church, and a native of Burlington, presided. Robert Campbell, Florence, chairman of the Baptist Youth Council, presented the 50-voice youth choir, under the direction of Tom Cole.

The meeting was held under the sponsorship of the Baptist Youth for Christ in Northern Kentucky, which is sponsored by 52 Baptist Churches in Boone, Kenton and Campbell Counties.

The "Crusade for Christ" will continue tonight, Friday and Saturday at Devou Park. Services begin at 8:00 p. m., and the public is invited.

DIXIE REGISTRATION

The Dixie Heights High School will be open for the registration of new students on September 1, 2, 3, 4, 1953.

Students planning on attending Dixie Heights for the first time, or new students planning to attend, but who are not registered for classes, are urged to report for registration on the above dates.

A record enrollment is expected at Dixie and it will greatly aid the school administration if all the enrollment of students is done before school begins on Tuesday, September 8, 1953.

Willard Shropshire, former coach at Simon Kenton High School, is the new principal at Dixie Heights.

MISSIONARY DAY

Missionary Day will be observed at the Filingsville Tabernacle on Sunday, August 23, with services at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Missionaries from Havana, Cuba, will be present, including Rev. B. T. Right and wife, Rev. R. D. Brant and Rev. Manola Soriano, a native pastor. There will also be special music. You are cordially invited to attend "the friendly church by the side of the road."

HIGHWAY DEATH RATE SHOWS SLIGHT DECLINE

Kentucky's highway death rate for each 100 million vehicle miles traveled during the first five months of 1953 showed a decline from the same period in 1952.

A report issued by the State Police shows that eight deaths occurred each hundred million miles in the January-through-May period this year, while the rate was nine for the first five months of 1952.

Through July 23, the latest date for which Police reports are complete, 377 persons had been killed this year, and through the same date last year, 430 died.

Plan Labor Day Outing Sept. 7 At Woodland

Traditional Labor Day outing sponsored by members of All Saints Church, Walton, and St. Patrick Church, Verona, will be held on Woodland Inn grounds, 2 1/2 miles South of Walton, on the Dixie Highway, September 7, Edward H. Walton, general chairman, and Rev. Chas. E. Donovan, pastor of the two congregations, have announced.

The festivities will be held afternoon and evening. Chicken dinner will be served from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Mr. Walton reported that facilities of the Woodland Inn grounds, together with the help of W. R. Belcher, owner of the site, had been donated for the Labor Day use.

The annual Labor Day hospitalities, sponsored by the two congregations, representing well-known areas of Northern Kentucky, have served as a community homecoming event. There will be diversified amusements and a midway of booths.

HOMEMAKER PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton's lawn was the setting for a picnic of the Verona Homemakers Club, Friday evening. A delicious covered dish supper, including country ham and everything else that made for a picnic meal, was enjoyed by the ladies and their husbands. After supper, a white elephant sale was conducted by Mr. Hamilton, which netted the club $11.00, as well as lots of fun.

Those who enjoyed the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. D. Adams and daughter, Mona, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lane, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fooks and Althea, Mrs. Etta McNamara, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCormick, Corinne McCormick, Sophronia Mills and Bessie Mills.

Building Program At Boone Airport

Bids for a proposed new building at the Greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone County to cost more than $200,000 were received Monday at a meeting of the Airport Board in the office of William Wehrman, Kenton County Judge.

The project will include the initial site development, a cargo building and a mail annex. Six companies submitted bids. They were the Walter Construction Co., $246,400; the Penker Construction Co., $242,972; Jack Seyferth Co., $230,260; R. W. Miller Co., $226,500; Dawson-Evans Construction Co., $222,500, and the J. M. Hemmer Co., $218,800.

The bids were referred for further study. Some of the companies did not list itemized accounts of their work or otherwise conform with specifications, A. A. Hohnhorst, secretary, said.

The board agreed to enter into a contract with the U. S. Postoffice Department for rental of more than 5000 square feet of space in the new building at an annual fee of $1.60 a foot. The contract will be for a five-year period.

American Airlines submitted plans for a $50,000 maintenance depot to be built within 200 feet of the present terminal. Work then may be done on a plane in bad weather.

Fred T. Cocklin Sr., president of the board, suggested that American, TVA and Delta Lines join forces and build a $120,000 hangar for all three lines.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT CHECKING LICENSES

A state-wide compliance check of occupational licenses and coin-operated vending machine licenses is being made by field representatives of the Kentucky Department of Revenue. The investigation is part of the department's policy of increasing its current tax compliance program.

Occupational licenses for restaurants, retail outlets for soft drinks or ice cream, billiard or pool tables, bowling alleys, and retailers or wholesalers of tobacco products must be obtained annually from county court clerks by July 1. Failure to obtain a license results in a penalty and a fine.

All coin-operated vending machines, which afford amusement or music with or without vending any merchandise, requires a $10 license stamp obtained annually from the Department of Revenue, Frankfort, or its field offices, also before July 1.

Tent Meeting Draws Large Crowds Nightly

The first week of the North Kentucky revival, under the leadership of Dr. Harry R. Cooke, Knoxville, Tenn., was a tremendous success, according to reports, and served as an introduction to the second and third weeks of this meeting, sponsored by the men of the Christian Churches and Churches of Christ of Northern Kentucky.

Dr. W. A. Welsh, speaker this week, is pastor of the East Dallas Christian Church, Dallas, Texas. This is one of the largest, most active and greatest missionary churches among the Disciples of Christ. Dr. Welsh is president of all Christian Churches in Texas, and holds high executive leadership in the Disciples of Christ Brotherhood. For a number of years he taught New Testament in Texas Christian University, Brite College of the Bible, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Dr. Welsh began Monday night, with the tent, located on the Walton School grounds, filled. Attendance has steadily grown throughout the week to hear this great minister develop the theme, "New Testament Christianity," with special emphasis upon the doctrine, teaching and history of the Christian Church. Tonight, Thursday, the North Kentucky Chorus, under the leadership of Al Fields, will be special guests and give a selection of four gospel songs. This group of Christian men, representing various churches of the Protestant faith, has a large radio audience over station WNOP, Newport, Mo. Smith will give his fifth dramatic reading tonight, also.

Sunday morning, J. B. and Gladys Smith will conduct the worship program at the Florence Christian Church. Dr. Welsh will speak at 10 o'clock at the Grand Central Christian Church, and will deliver the 11 o'clock sermon at the Walton Christian Church.

AUXILIARY FORMED

A Ladies Auxiliary to the Kenton and Community Volunteer Fire Department was organized Monday evening, August 17, and the following officers named: Mrs. Hugh Mullins, president; Mrs. Wilhelmina Steinkuser, vice president; Mrs. Charles Grizzell, secretary; and Mrs. William Beck, treasurer.

The newly-formed organization will hold a bingo at the Kenton Lodge Hall on Saturday, August 22, at 8:00 p. m.

Boone Countians Expected to Spend $286,000 Repairs

Boone county home owners will spend an estimated $286,000 during 1953 on repairing and modernizing non-farm dwellings.

"As the great postwar home building boom begins to slacken, home repair and modernization will assume major importance to the building trades in every community," said Robert Bailey, chairman of the residential construction committee of the Title Council of America, which released the estimate.

Nearly two of every three home owners here will make some expenditure during the year to improve their property, according to the report. Painting of either the exterior or interior will be the most common repair, with replacing or repairing roofs second.

One of every 11 homes in the U. S. has water pipes repaired, a bathroom tiled or a shower installed in an average year, the report revealed. Six of every 100 have carpentry work done.

The kitchen is the area most families want to improve first. The resulting demand for new major equipment, clay tile for counter tops and drainboards, and kitchen cabinets means prosperity in the community for many concerns and for skilled workmen, the report points out.

Home repair expenditures throughout the nation will total almost $4 billion in 1953, the Title Council report estimated. This will be one of the heaviest outlays in U. S. history for such work.

PMA Elections In Kenton to Be Held August 27

Meetings for the election of Production and Marketing Administration community committees were announced today by Geo. A. Eubanks, chairman of the Kenton County PMA committee.

At these meetings, to be held Thursday, August 27, eligible farmers in each of the designated communities will have an opportunity to elect: (1) A three-member community committee and two alternates, and (2) a delegate to the county convention and an alternate delegate.

Delegates to the county convention will meet on the day after community elections and elect a three-member county PMA committee and two alternates. Both community and county committees will take office Monday, Aug. 31. Farmers will vote at the following polling places: Crescent Springs community at Crescent Springs Firehouse; Independence, Decatur, Towers, and Arvonia communities at the Independence Courthouse; Bracht community at Schuler's Farm Shop, and Piner community at the Piner School. These meetings will start at 8:00 p. m., EST.

PMA commemen are responsible for the determination of acreage allotments on any crops for which allotments are in effect. They also pass on price-support loans for commodities covered by price support.

Local administration of crop insurance with the exception of loss adjustment, is also under committee supervision.

Every farmer who has an interest in a farm—owner, tenant or sharecropper, is eligible to vote if he is participating in any of the programs administered by PMA committees. However, if a farmer is not of legal voting age, he may vote, only if he is "in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm."

Personal Interest and Sick List

Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Galloway are away. They are doing some fishing in the northern states.

Joyce Lower is vacationing in North Carolina. She just missed the hurricane that struck part of that state.

David Maners visited friends in Independence, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Adams (Elizabeth Moore) and Miss Wilma Moore attended evening church services here last Sunday and visited many of their friends.

Bobbie Messingschlager is home from the hospital, convalescing from a fall he received at Rosedale Pool.

Job's Daughters Visit Cave

The Independence Job's Daughters Chapter left last Saturday morning to spend the weekend at Mammoth Cave. Members of the Masonic Order, Eastern Star and Demolays were invited, and transportation was furnished by persons who are members of the above organizations.

Friendship Letters

Yes, folks, your letter, received by a serviceman overseas is like a hand shake and gives him a warm feeling from home. If you know of any person serving in the Armed Forces overseas, sit down and write to him a newsy letter—he will give him a few moments of relaxation, news from home and above all, a letter from a friend.

Another person you should direct your letters to is the boys and girls now leaving or having left recently for active duty—they are making a great contribution and are now receiving a day in life completely different from the life they were used to at home. If you do not know of anyone who recently left for the Armed Forces or serving overseas, contact your church—there are boys in service out of every church in this community and their addresses will be given you immediately. Do this today or within the week. They will appreciate your thoughtfulness more than you ever know.

OES Chapter, 493

Tuesday, August 11, the present officers of the Eastern Star, chapter 493, Independence, held their last regular meeting and initiatory work for their year.

Dorothy Finney, Worthy Matron, presided during the opening, closing and the memorial service, which was in dedication of the Chapter's members who have passed away since the beginning of the Chapter up to the present time. It was lovely and all enjoyed the evening's program. Robert West, Worthy Patron, presided during the initiatory work when two candidates received the degrees of the order. All the officers were commended on their good work and efficient services by Grand Officers of the State Chapter, also by visitors from other of the chapters in Northern Kentucky.

Mrs. Helen Mann, Mrs. Nancy Steger and Mrs. Minnie Letcher were vocalists for the evening, accompanied by Mrs. Anna Roberts, pianist.

After the close of the meeting, lunch was served by the luncheon committee.

The September meeting will compose of election of new officers for the coming year, and all members of Bradford Star Chapter, 493, should attend, so the better persons suitable for the elected offices will be voted on and ready for installation in October. The September meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m., at the Independence Bank Building, September 8. So mark your calendar and make it a date.

Prayer Life

CAN it be true that some Christians have no prayer life? It is true that some church members have none; but what about Christians? Well, can an airplane be without an engine of any kind, or without any motive power? Can deep-water diver keep on at his work if his lifeline to the top is broken in two? Of course not.

An airplane that cannot move may look like a plane, but it is no more use than so much junk. A diver whose lifeline has broken will be brought to the surface a drowned man. His friends may look at the corpse and say, "How natural Kelly looks!" but it isn't Kelly any more. An airplane with no motive power is a dead plane; a diver with no lifeline is a dead diver. And a Christian without prayer is a dead Christian. For prayer is the motive power, prayer is the lifeline of the Christian.

Prayer Habits

It is not true that prayer means less when it is a habit. On the contrary, a Christian is much more likely to pray when he has made a habit of it. All Christians, and many who are not Christians, are aware of the great importance of prayer. Most Christians, if interviewed, would say something like "I know I ought to pray more than I do; but I do not need to be convinced that praying is important. What most of us need is help on how to pray. We pray only when we are in the mood, and the praying mood dries up on us, so to speak. This is where habit helps us. Breathing is essential to life, and if it were not a habit we would often forget to breathe. Prayer can never be as automatic as that, but it can be so much a habit that we never need to be reminded of it. The first thing to do, if you want to develop your prayer life, is to set aside a definite time every day for it. Make it a "must," not something you do if you have time for it. When prayer is something done only "if" there is time, then there never is time, and there seldom is prayer.

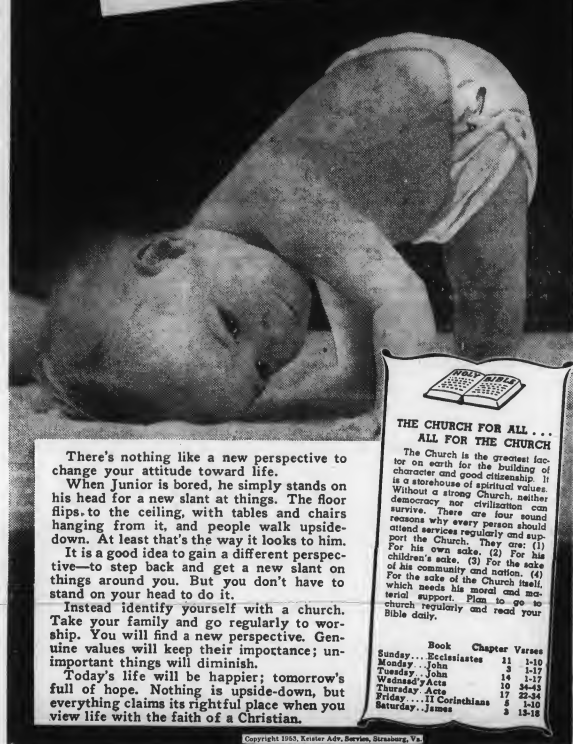

In Season, Out of Season

The mature Christian will pray at regular times; but he also cultivates the habit of praying at irregular times. Do you have a regular time for looking at your watch? Perhaps so; you look at it when you wake up in the morning, you look at it at breakfast time, and so on. But no one who wears a watch looks at it only at regular hours as if it were a medicine. You look at it for any number of reasons. So the Christian acquires the habit of looking to God off and on all through the day, also for a number of reasons. When a happy thing happens, the Christian breathes a prayer of thankfulness. It does not have to be long to be real. When something seems too much to stand, the Christian just asks God, then and there, to help him. When he hears about some one in trouble, he does not content himself with saying "Too bad." If there is anything he can do about it, he will do it. But the Christian does not stop there. In the very midst of helping another, he will offer a prayer to God for him. This is the most important perhaps when the other person is clear out of reach, when nothing we ourselves can say or do will help him at all.

Praying Like A Christian

A person might pray every day and often and yet not pray like a Christian. For a Christian's prayers are not the "gimme" kind. It is not that we should never pray for ourselves. A study of the Lord's Prayer will show that some of the petitions are for ourselves. But for what? For purity of life, for forgiveness, for daily bread—that is, for necessities, not for luxuries. It is a good thing once in a while to ask one's self: How many other persons could join me in this prayer? Am I praying for something that is going to make trouble for other people? Am I praying for something which if I get it will have to be taken away from others who need it just as much as I do? Unselfish praying and unselfish living go together. Christ lived and died "for their sakes" as he said. "For their names" is prayer in his spirit.

A CHANGE IN VIEW

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy, nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field - the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response - right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

I was ahead in every way after this demonstration!

I figured on paying about $200 more for a new car... until I discovered all that Chevrolet offered me.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide* A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

U.S.S. GORDIUS ARL-36

Greetings:

Well, here I am settled again in a new place. I'm so glad to be on the ship. I've been in the Navy and you get plenty of it. When I hit Norfolk, nobody had heard of the ship or knew where it was. I didn't know what to do. I went to every base and dock down here and finally found out that it was in Little Creek, Va. By every manner and mode of transportation, I finally arrived at the right ship riding on the back end of a pick-up truck. I had about two hours to spare before my leave was up. I like the ship well, of course we go to work here. As you can see, it is a small ship compared to the others, but I just lost on it. We sleep in the sick bay, so therefore we have better living conditions than anyone on the ship. The food is the best that I have had in the Navy and you get plenty of it. The cooks keep our ice box well supplied, so we always eat. The corpsmen don't have to do much, but while we are tied up we don't have a Dr. so therefore we have to do all of the medical work. We have a chief and one other corpsman. There are 210 men aboard and they seem to be a pretty good crew. Life here is sure a lot different than that of shore duty in Florida. It is cooler here than it is in Florida, but not nearly as nice. Norfolk doesn't look like much but there are a lot of interesting places around, particularly Virginia Beach and Williamsburg. I haven't been any place yet, as I am afraid I will never find the ship again.

Well, I guess that is enough about the ship. I guess Maynard is getting ready to come home now, and I know that will please you all. Give my regards to all.

SCIENTIST CLAIMS WRONG FOODS MAY CAUSE DRINKING

The alcoholic has an unsatisfied demand for certain foods. When these foods are supplied he may stop drinking. So said a Texas scientist, Dr. Lorenne Lane Rogers, at a workshop in applied nutrition at the University of Kentucky, sponsored by the University's School of Home Economics and the American Red Cross.

The University of Texas, foremost in the study of alcoholism, has uncovered results of wide interest. Said Dr. Rogers: "Experiments conducted in our laboratories on both animals and human beings indicate that the consumption of alcohol is related to the ability of the individual to satisfy his nutritional needs. A potential alcoholic, according to our findings, is a person who has an unusually high demand for certain nutrients. Even when he is eating what might be considered a normal diet he has borderline deficiencies. When these high demands are met continuously, alcoholics are transformed into individuals who have no drinking problems."

"The broad concept which grew out of this alcoholism investigation may be stated thus: many diseases of obscure origin may stem from two causes, the first being an inherited high demand for one or more nutrients, and the second being a failure to meet these demands by commonly consumed foods. When these demands are met by nutritional supplements, the disease should disappear."

Use of dried milk and freezing of foods were featured at the Farm and Home Development program field day at Wallace Pinson's in Pike county. Marvin Cline of Martin county expects to gross about $1,200 an acre from tomatoes.

WALTON

As I have said before, Walton is the best town of 1350 population I have ever seen, and I have traveled some in all directions. I just returned from a trip up through Indiana and Michigan on the west side and back down on the east side, but never saw a town of 1350 that could compare with Walton. Walton has fine churches that are far ahead; its schools are up, even if we do need a new building for one; its streets are far better than any I have seen; its waterworks, for our size town, is fine, and the best fire department in Northern Kentucky.

With our fine group of stores and other businesses in Walton, makes it a trading center for five counties—with our doctors and bank, which draws a lot of people to Walton, there is also our garages and service stations, the Walton Lumber Co. and Walton Block Co., our fine groceries, our dry goods stores, our restaurants, barber shops, drug store, beauty shops, coal and feed dealers, shoe repair shop, Webster's Television, hotels, and tourist courts—I'll bet you did not know how many different businesses there are in Walton, and I know I must have missed some. There are a lot of customers in Walton every week and several dollars are spent.

I had a couple in today from over on Taylor Mill, at Plantation Heights, who had always went to Covington, but it is just as close out there, plenty of room to park and more hardware to select from. I have a lot of good customers from over in Kenton County, as well as other counties around Walton. Robert Behymer from Elliston, bought a Dayton water system and a lot of pipe to put water in his house. Robert Webster had Chick make him some extra hay frame clamps. Charles Colcord from Verona, bought nails and bolts. Eddie Pyles bought chain and snaps—he is building a trailer.

Herbert Baker bought Bolce point—some of that family points every year with Bolce point. I just unloaded from Groger Express another shipment of Bolce point—it sure goes out of here. I have more people come back and tell me what a fine job it did and how easy it is to put on. Jane Sutton, Nell and Rem were looking for a ladder—Jane wanted a stepladder 14 feet long without the back legs on it—she said it hurt her feet to stand on a round step and point, so she wants a flat step to stand on.

Jay Webster was getting mower repairs. Myrich Croux and I had a lot of trouble repairing a pitman rod. Floyd Sebree brought in a broken pitman to be repaired—Brewster put in a door glass and installed a Storm King door closer for Robert Horn. Ralph Vest from Verona, bought chisels and a duster for grasshoppers—they are still eating. We sell more freezer paper, boxes and bags, all kinds of freezer packages every week—some one is going to have a lot to eat this winter.

John Sleet and John Robert bought a Hol-Dem fence charger to fence in more pasture—this is the charger that burns off the weeds and grass when they grow or fall into the fence. Andy Jarman took out another Dayton water system to install up at Ed Walton's house. We sure sell lots of these Dayton systems—why—because we sell them cheap and they are a first grade pump. Tomorrow is August 13 and my birthday, and I am not going to work—the editor, Mark Meadows, and his wife, with my wife and I, are going to Michigan for a few days—just a short vacation and to get away from a few days.

We left Walton, Thursday morning, drove up through Indiana into West Michigan, along Lake Michigan to Saugatuck, a lively resort town with plenty of activity and tourist accommodations. Next day we drove up the lake to Beulah, Mich., a small town on Crystal Lake. This is the town where Meadows held his first job as a printer after he got out of school and college 25 years ago. We then drove up to Traverse City, which is farther north on Lake Michigan. We had to start for home, as we had to get back and get this paper out. We came back through Cadillac, Lansing, Marshall, and stayed at Coldwater, Mich., which is a very nice city of 10,000 on U. S. 112, the main route from Detroit to Chicago, also where U. S. 27 crossed U. S. 112. It is a beautiful city—there are 6,000 large trees in the city between the sidewalk and street. Then we drove to Panogan State Park, which is in Indiana, just a few miles south of the Michigan border. It is a wonderful park—large hotel and all kinds of entertainment. Then we drove to Bern, Ind., which is a Swiss village, very clean and as fine a restaurant as anyone ever ate in—the food was excellent.

Then we drove to Richmond and Cincinnati, and home by Sunday night, 1300 miles and a nice four-day vacation. Think I'll try it again soon. Everyone should take a short vacation or trip and see how the other parts of the country live. Up in Michigan, they grow lots of celery, beans, turnips and most all kinds of vegetables. I never saw enough hogs from the time I left here all through Indiana and Michigan to fill a truck, but did see lots of good cattle, plenty of corn and hay, large fields of red clover, also saw the Morton Salt factory at Manistee, Mich., and the Holland Furnace Co., Holland.

Lots of small industries in West Michigan, as you get to the Central and Eastern part they get larger. Of course in the manufacturing of an automobile, it is hard to tell how many small factories supply that assembly plant to get enough different parts for a complete automobile. So I decided Walton is a very fine place and come home and started selling hardware again.

Basketry Studied By Kenton County Home'ker Leaders

The art of basketry was presented to leaders of the Kenton County Homemakers, Tuesday, August 18, by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilde of the Wildie Kinder, Garten Supply Co., Cincinnati. The training school was the second in the series of a special program on arts and crafts to be given during the year for homemakers.

The leaders learned that making a basket covers a wide field, for the materials from which they are made, as well as the purposes to which they are put, are almost legion. Trays, bowls and casserole containers were made.

Mrs. Edgar Arnett, Erlanger, was hostess to the group. Leaders enjoying her hospitality were: Mrs. Arthur Deister, Mrs. George Musser, Mrs. Stanley Meigs, Mrs. Robert Helleman, Mrs. Homer Wallace, Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. Charles Hattie, Mrs. Edward R. Gabriel, Mrs. Ralph Schilling, Mrs. Howard Rutledge, Mrs. Foster Armstrong, Mrs. John Leslie, Mrs. L. J. Rapp, Mrs. Jack Beall, Mrs. Lloyd Watson, Mrs. D. E. Nehring, Mrs. Dewey Fisk, Mrs. John Meyer, Mrs. Howard Beeson, Mrs. W. H. Ware, Mrs. Orvin Douglas, Mrs. Mildred Jacobs, Mrs. W. F. Meyer, Mrs. Betty Schreck, Mrs. Ralph Thornton, Mrs. John Herring, Mrs. Lawrence Mattingly, Mrs. W. A. Damon, Mrs. F. A. Powers, Mrs. Joe Walton, Mrs. Ira Porter, Mrs. Claude Locke, Mrs. Richard Feldhaus, Mrs. Earl Clutterbuck, Mrs. Edward Busald, and Miss Zelma E. Beverly. Home Demonstration Agent.

Two Fined In Police Court

Tuesday night in Walton Police Court, Judge Worthington fined R. H. Link, New Liberty, Ky., $10.00 and costs for reckless driving, and Flora E. Jackson, Route 3, Covington, was assessed $100 and costs for driving while under the influence of alcohol. The arrests were made by Chief Simmons.

N. M. NORTHCUTT

Nathan Marion Northcutt, well known shoe merchant in Covington for half a century, died August 20 at his home, 2015 Scott St., Covington. He was 90 years old and had been in ill health for some time.

For 25 years he was manager of the Dan Cohen Shoe Store, Covington, and for an equal period was proprietor of his own shoe business in Latonia. He was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge for many years.

Mr. Northcutt was always active in Baptist church circles and was chairman of the building committee for Immanuel Baptist Church, Covington, at the time of construction of the present edifice in 1926. He was also a prominent civic leader in his active days.

His only survivors are a sister, Mrs. Carrie Lee Rouse, Walton, and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held at 9:00 a. m., Saturday, August 22 at the Allison and Rose funeral home, Covington, with burial following in the Walton Cemetery.

HUGHES CHAPEL SERVICES

Worship service will be held at the Hughes Chapel Methodist Church, Sunday, August 30, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., with Sunday School at the regular hour of 10 o'clock. The preaching schedule will be the same as in the past, according to the pastor, Elmer K. Kidwell. Services will be held at Hughes Chapel the second and fourth Sundays, and at Big Bone church the first and third Sundays.

Tent Revival to Close On Sunday; Homecoming Set

Sundays marks the ending of the three-week North Kentucky revival, being held on the Walton school grounds. Women of the local Christian church have planned to have a basket dinner served in Fellowship Hall, Sunday at 1:00 p. m. All ministers and their families cooperating in the revival are invited as special guests of the Walton Christian Church. All families and friends are invited, and are requested to bring a sufficient amount of food for their guests.

A baptismal service will be conducted at 2:30. This will be followed by an executive meeting at 3:00 of all men of Christian Churches and their ministers, to be held in the tent. The closing service of this great revival will begin at 8:00 p. m., where special preparations and seating capacities have been arranged to take care of the large crowd.

Dr. A. Mont Massey, evangelist for the third week and pastor of the First Christian Church, Matton, Ill., will deliver the 11 o'clock sermon in the local church. Rev. Charles Vaughn, pastor of the Walton church, will deliver the 11 o'clock sermon at the Goshen Christian Church, Piner, where Rev. William Blackwell is minister. J. B. and Gladys Smith, long leaders, will conduct the Bible School program and worship services at the Dry Ridge Christian Church. Rev. Smith will deliver the sermon at 11 a. m. Rev. Jack Conady is minister.

Tonight (Thursday) at 8 p. m., the regular revival service will begin and continue for one hour. Following this there will be an hour's concert presented by the Smiths.

Saturday at 8 p. m., has been designated as Youth Night. The youth from all churches will be especially recognized.

"WHO'S WHO" in the young set . . .

Brenda Joyce, 11, and David Lynn, 8 months, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worthington, Morning View.

Wilmington Dedication Sunday

The Wilmington Baptist Church of Flakburg, Ky., will dedicate its new $50,000 building on Sunday, August 30, at 2:00 p. m. Dr. E. K. Judy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Newport, Ky., is to be the guest speaker.

This new structure is the outgrowth of a building program begun in June, 1945, under the ministry of Dr. T. J. Powers, now pastor of the First Baptist Church, Versailles, Ky. In July, 1952, while the church was without a pastor, five trustees: Willard Benson, Foster Bridges, Robert Bridges, Joe Finnell, and Elmo Menefee, were entrusted with the responsibility to build.

The last service in the former building was the homecoming on August 17, 1952. Dismantling began August 18 and was completed August 20, as men and women labored together. No sooner was the dismantling done than the basement was dug. Happy hearts gathered for a cornucopia of food on October 19, 1952. As work continued, they thought of God for the mild winter and use of the Mason's Hall for services. They became anxious as overdue materials delayed progress and time for Vacation Bible school and revival came. But through it all the plans of Alvin Oliver, the architect and member of the church, grew into a reality. The undertaking has been completed during the ministry of Jim Heveloy, who was called as pastor in September, 1952.

The building offers every facility: Central heating system, modern kitchen, soundproof folding partitions for two basement assembly rooms, individual class rooms, baptistry, balcony, vestibule, and a "crying room." New furnishings include pews, pulpit furniture and spinet piano for the auditorium, organ seats for the balcony and choir, chairs and tables for the lower grades and folding chairs for the older grades of the Sunday School.

The actual cost has been approximately only $40,000, because of much donated labor and materials by members and friends. To finish the work, $6,000 was borrowed, but the church hopes to liquidate this debt on Dedication Day.

The Wilmington Baptist Church was organized on June 2, 1804; it affiliated as a member of the Campbell County Baptist Association at its beginning in September, 1827. Services have been conducted in homes and schools, but the church has progressed from a log house in 1842 to a brick building in 1953, though the former frame structure was erected during 1871-1875. While ministering to the needs of its own people it has provided the nuclei for four churches in nearby centers: Crittenden, January, 1850; Liberty of Grant County, 1851; Gordonsville, 1891, and Piner, May, 1952.

We, the Walton Volunteer Fire Department, express thanks to our loyal supporters, to all the volunteer workers of other organizations, and to everyone who worked and supported our picnic, to make it, for all of us, a wonderful success.

The Walton Fire Department realized a profit of $3,815.00 on our three-day annual affair.

In all, the Walton Fire Department will make a payment of $9,320.00 on our new truck. We will have an indebtedness of $3,000, which, with the continued support of this wonderful community, we will pay in the time given.

Again, the Walton Fire Department says thanks, and when the whistle blows we'll be there with the best in man power and equipment to help save your property and ours—Walton Vol. Fire Dept.

Ladies' Society

The Ladies' Society of St. Cecilia Church, Independence, held their monthly social Wednesday afternoon in the church hall.

Vocation

Mrs. Helen E. Collins and children Shirley and Billy spent last week vacationing in Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina. They visited Renfro Valley, Cumberland Falls, Pinnacle Mountain, Gatlin, Tenn., Great Smoky Mountains, Cherokee Indian Reservation, and Asheville, N. C. They reported a very enjoyable time was had, but good Ole Kenton County was good to get back to.

School Days

Well kids, it is getting closer to that time again when you will begin another year of learning, advancing yourselves from Ancient to American History, from Arithmetic to Mathematics, and from English to learning another language that will enable you to prepare yourselves for college days.

No more days to spend at the swimming pool, theaters or sitting at home wondering what to do. Your days and weeks will be planned and each day there will be something new, something more advanced, that will keep you busy.

It will take a month for you to settle down and be a student, then, along comes Halloween, invitations to parties, having fun masquerading. After this is Thanksgiving, when Mom and Dad prepare for the big dinner and having the folks home again. That turkey will look big but it will go, but quick, and will end as turkey hash about four days later.

Your thoughts then are traveling faster because Christmas is near and you will need money to buy cards and stamps, presents for your classmates, and above all, those special gifts you want to purchase for Mom and Dad, that will tell them in a silent way that they are still tops in your book. Another thing, boys and girls, your school days may be long and dry but, in later years, you will look back to your school days and wish you were beginning all over again. Your life now will be the best you ever have.

Firemen's Meeting

At the last meeting of members of the Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department, Richard Campbell was present to read the list of material and parts to be assembled on the new fire truck, which is now in the production stage. With the unanimous vote of all members, it was agreed to order all accessories for the new fire truck, which, when loaded at our fire house in December will be a new piece of fire fighting equipment throughout.

The present two trucks will be kept and maintained as always, making our Fire Department, with three fire trucks and an ambulance, ready for emergency use. With this community growing rapidly, homes being built in subdivisions scattered over the larger territory covered by the Independence Fire Department, the members feel that three trucks will not be too many.

Far more miles per gallon on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide® models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

LEAFLET DEALS WITH TAKING SOIL SAMPLES

If best results are to be obtained from testing the soil and then fertilizing according to recommendations, soil samples must be taken properly and delivered to the soil-testing laboratory in good condition. So says a new leaflet of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Then or more samples of soil should be taken from each field or area. The samples then should be mixed together, and a pint of dirt sent to the laboratory. Copies of the circular can be had at offices of county agents or by writing to the college at Lexington. Ask for leaflet No. 139, "How to Take Good Soil Samples."

HOMECOMING SUNDAY

The annual homecoming at Staffordburg Methodist Church will be held on Sunday, August 30. This is not just a homecoming celebration, but also marks the 75th anniversary of the founding of the church.

Activities will begin with Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. followed by special devotional services at 11:00 a. m. Dr. R. R. Patton, District Superintendent of the Methodist Churches in the Covington District, will be the speaker.

A basket style dinner will be enjoyed in the church basement at noon. There will also be an afternoon program. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Johnson, extends a cordial welcome to everyone to attend this day of thanksgiving and fellowship with friends.

CUTTING TOBACCO

It's tobacco cutting time again in this county, and growers are busy housing their Burley, which is the highest cash crop of Boone County.

There is, on the average, an excellent crop throughout the county even though there has been many diseases and insects to control. This year's crop is of good quality in the field, and providing their is good curing weather, it should be of excellent quality at the time of marketing. Throughout the county it is very dry and a good rain would help the crops. Joe Claxon, County Agent, warns tobacco growers not to cut green tobacco. Let it get ripe before cutting.

that what goes down will come up. According to the records, when William Hume was pastor in 1826, he became so discouraged after two years of labors that he went to a business meeting intending to resign. But three persons presented themselves for membership and so revived the church and pastor that he remained 12 more years.

Leaders

Lesson for August 30, 1953

A "classless society" there can never be, for various reasons. One of the plainest reasons is that there always have to be leaders in any society that is not a sheer mob-and even mobs have to be led. No group rises higher or goes faster than its leaders. This is true of bad societies like gangs of murderers, useless societies like some of the reader can mention, and also of the most important and best groups in the world. The church of God is no exception. No church is better or more progressive than its leaders. The aged Apostle Paul in his letters to Dr. Foreman his young friend Timothy laid down some principles for Christian leaders which have been tested by time and found always to be good.

Not All Good People Make Good Leaders

Leaders do not just spring up out of nowhere. They have to be selected and trained. What is true of the ministers of the church, the "clergy" as they are sometimes called, is just as true of the "lay" leadership, deacons, stewards, wardens or what not, and in general the kind of people you meet at a "Workers' Council" in any type of church. Now nearly everybody knows, sometimes from sad experience, that not everybody makes a good minister. Good intentions won't do it, religious devotion won't do it—though both of these are just as necessary for the effective Sunday school superintendent as for the pastor. Even the feeling, "I have been called to this work," is not enough; for experience has often shown how mistaken such a feeling can be.

How Can You Tell?

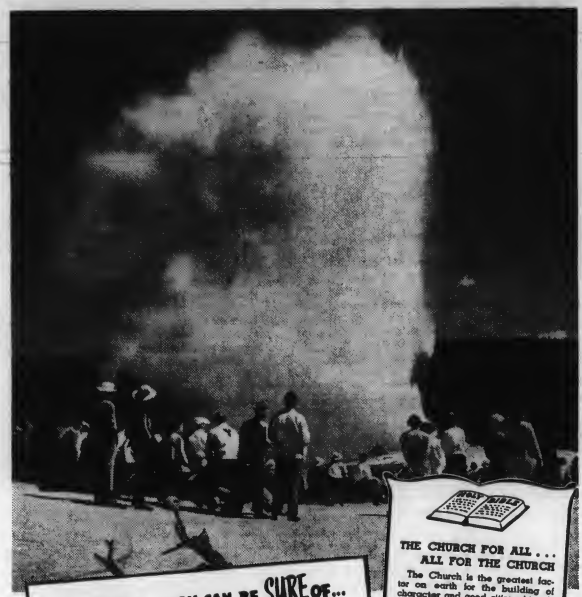

How can you tell whether you or any one else has the qualities needed for leadership? One of the best ways is the simplest: try it out. Paul speaks, for instance, of the religious leader being "apt to teach." The best way to see whether someone will make a good teacher is to let him try it a while. Some church executives make the mistake of not letting young people try their wings because they are "too young." If you will look around the average church you will see some good old saint who has been, let us say, the teacher of a certain class for thirty or forty years. Everybody says, "We don't need young sprouts, we need teachers of long experience like old Mrs. Whatzis." Yes, but when did Mrs. Whatzis get her start? The records will probably show that she started out teaching when she was little Sadie Whozis, aged about sixteen, and it is safe to say that the greynards in the church fifty years ago shook their heads and said little Sadie was much too young to teach!

The Habit of Command

There is one point which Saint Paul insists on strongly. It is that the church leader must have a strong personal character. He must have a good reputation, of course, but character is far deeper. Among other personal points of strength Paul singles out the ability to control himself and others. He must be able to get things done. He must be able to persuade people to do right things. A leader without force of character just can't lead—it's a contradiction in terms. And Paul gives two practical tests for this quality. One is: Can the man control himself? A person who falls easily into temptation, who is "criskey-waskey," who has a "vile temper," who lets emotions run away with him, will never make a good leader. The other test, for a grown man, is: How does he manage his family? If he manages that badly, he is a poor prospect for a church leader.

The Bible and Leadership

Another matter often overlooked, but not overlooked by Paul, is this: The Christian leader must know his Bible, love it and be guided by it. When a church is electing officers, how often this is forgotten! A man will be elected to the official board because he is a prominent citizen or because it is hoped that he will be generous in his gifts, or because he is genial and friendly; but is the question asked: Can we elect as leader of God's people a person who is ignorant of God's Word?

SOMETHING A MAN CAN BE SURE OF...

They say at Yellowstone National Park that you can set your watch by Old Faithful. Before the entranced eyes of countless tourists this famous geyser spouts its steaming fountain every sixty-four minutes.

Too bad there aren't more things in life that a man can be sure of... and more people he can call "faithful."

As we realize the multitude of uncertainties in life we understand the ageless yearning for Christianity. It has satisfied man's yearning for certainty. In Jesus Christ and his teachings we glimpse a God who is FAITHFUL, and whose faithfulness provides the firm foundation of man's FAITH.

Join the millions who are turning to the Church to find the truths a man can be sure of!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Methodist Women's Society

August 13, members of the Woman's Society of the Florence Methodist church and a number of guests assembled at the church at 12:30 for a fellowship covered dish luncheon, which was enjoyed by the group. The regular society meeting followed with invocation by Mrs. Mortimer Moss. Mrs. C. S. West, vice president, introduced Mrs. Eddie Moran, wife of the evangelist who was conducting a revival at the church at that time, who narrated the travels of she and Rev. Moran in foreign countries, including Rome, Egypt, Lebanon, Damascus, Syrian Desert, Israel, Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Bethany, Mars Hill, Greece, Switzerland, London, Belgium, Scotland and others. She related their crude and unsanitary ways of life in some instances and in Egypt, their guide told them their country is hostile toward America and is waiting for the time to join Russia in war against our beloved country. They are probably loaded with propaganda. Mrs. Moran's talk was enjoyed immensely and she closed by saying she is thankful to be an American. The program included the song "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" and prayer by Mrs. Velma Colvin. Reports of officers were heard and the usual business discussion was followed with prayer by Mrs. S. J. Bradley for dismissed members attending were Mesdames Mortimer Moss, S. J. Bradley, Nannie Mitchell, Paul Chaney, A. T. Knox, Eva and Ida Miller, Leila Allen, Sara Jones, Elsie Bethel, C. S. West, and Rev. S. J. Bradley. A number of guests were present, whose names we did not learn.—Pub. Ch.

EXPRESSION OF THANKS—

"Thanks" is a small word to show the appreciation that we feel for the ones who have been so kind to us in our time of sickness, but we do say "thank you" from the bottom of our hearts for all the many cards and acts of kindness shown us. May the Lord bless you for it.

POPULATION KEEPS LEAVING KENTUCKY

A total of 372,988 people left Kentucky from 1940 to 1950, according to Dr. James S. Brown, rural sociologist at the University of Kentucky. This means the state lost as many people as there were in Louisville in 1950. Expressed as a percentage of the 1940 population, this would be a loss of 13 percent during the decade.

Dr. Brown notes that Kentucky had 468,000 more births than deaths from 1940 to 1950. "If we could have held this natural increase," he said, "that is, if migration into the state had equaled migration from the state, the population in 1950 would have been 3,317,794 an increase of 468,099 or 16 percent. Instead, the actual population in 1950 was 2,944,806, an increase of only 95,061 or 3.3 percent."

LABOR DAY

This is next to the last paper before Labor Day, which is the dividing line between summer and fall—of course we have some fine weather after Labor Day, but September is the time to get the roofs and gutters repaired and painted; also a fine time to paint. Get everything ready for winter—check your furnace for repairs and new pipe—how about a new oil or coal heater—get things ready for cold weather before it comes, then you won't have to get out of bed on Sunday morning for a new furnace pipe or your is leaking and you need roof cement.

My roots are ready for winter—how is yours? We have all kinds of roof and gutter paint—a fellow came in today and wanted a gallon of roof cement like his neighbor got here—he said it was the best he had ever used. We try to sell the best—I hate to sell a cheap grade of anything—the best is always the cheapest. Brewster took off today for his vacation—he will be back on Tuesday after Labor Day, and then he can start setting up stoves—we have several sold and some already delivered, but not set up.

Raymond Beach bought a coal circulating heater, and Price Johnson bought the only Anchor heater I had, and they do not make Anchor stoves any more. Mrs. Floyd Chapman bought Armstrong linoleum. I have a friend who wants four or five old Russell Barlow pocket knives with the R on the handle—bring them in and I will give you a new $1.50 knife for them. Roy Elliott bought water pipe and fittings to put water in his house. Erma Stockman sent down for new electric fixtures and water faucets—always something to be repaired.

Harold Dunn came after a new fence charger, the lightning had burned the one he had out. Mrs. Fred Gough from Sherman, bought Bolce paint and a battery for a fence charger. George (Pete) Black bought two Perfection oil heaters and a 150-gallon tank. We have our oil and coal heaters out where you can pick yours out—we have some good buys in used oil and coal heaters, also new Perfection oil heaters and Warm Morning coal heaters. Herbert Baker sent up for bright red paint to trim his house with—a white house with bright red trim, down on U. S. 42—look for it and you will see what a fine job Bolce paint does.

Mrs. Howard bought rubber base wall paint and floor enamel. Nick Trapp and Dora bought a lot of Bolce enamel for Mrs. Trapp's kitchen—Dora is home on vacation and she is going to paint the kitchen to get a little exercise. Grandma Clifton and some of her grandchildren were in today—she bought wire fence, steel posts, a digging bar and toys for the children. A fellow rode up on the bus from Florence to get 100' of 14-2 rubber cord for extension cord—he could not find it in Florence or Erlanger.

We carry so many different items that other hardware stores don't try to carry—some are slow sellers but when my customers call for it, I have it. Of course there are calls for things that we cannot carry in stock—today a man wanted a trunk—first call I had since the war. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Connelly brought over two antique lamps to be wired for electricity, also looked at New Perfection oil heaters and a 150-gallon oil tank. R. L. Slayback brought in a broken pitman rod to have a new stick put in. Brewster hung a new screen door for Lawrence Wilson; he also put in new glass for Model Food Store in their meat case, also one in their window.

Fred Winkle brought in metal sash to have glass put in them. A fellow left some measurements for Chick to make him some large U bolts. Tom Percival brought in his electric iron to be repaired. Jane Sutton had Chick repair her door lock and put in a new spring. This is getting to be a fix-it shop instead of a hardware store. We try to fix everything everybody else fails on. We sometimes don't have the tools to do the job.

We have been selling several spears and tomahawks as the boys are about ready to cut that burley. We have some rubber tired wagons to haul tobacco on—very handy behind that tractor. Brewster took up new light fixtures and hung them for Martha Wallace. Mrs. Hale, over on Park Avenue, bought a cold pack canner and fruit jars. Huber Baker just came in for electric fence post and hot shot battery—he has to fence off more pasture—grass is getting scarce. The electric fence posts are handy, come complete with insulators and brackets, just drive them in the ground—you can pull them up and use them again.

A fellow came in and said I want two gallons of that Bolce outside white paint and a gallon of Bolce porch and deck enamel—once they use Bolce paint they come back and call for it. We sold a lot of shells and cartridges today, also a lot of hunting licenses—Aug. 25 the squirrel law is open, so you had better not stick your head from behind a tree. We have some nice squirrel guns, 410-ga., 20-ga., in single barrel and pump guns.

Now is the time to buy a rubber tired farm wagon to haul that tobacco on—we have several in stock. I also sold some fishing tackle today—you know September is one of the best fishing months. Earnest Price said he had been catching some good ones at the reservoir—he bought four packages of snelled hooks and went back. Ben Menke came after pump tubing. Some lady stopped for a weather vane. We have calls for everything at CONRAD HARDWARE and we have most of their wants.

Training Schools For Homemaker Officers Held

The objectives of Home Demonstration Clubs, the scope of the Homemakers' organization and the elements on which success depends was given special emphasis by Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Kenton County Home Demonstration Agent, while conducting a training school for presidents at the Covington "Y," August 25.

A challenge to become more efficient leaders was made by Miss Byerly as she stressed the need for familiarizing oneself with the "Handbook for Home Demonstration Organization," stating that success depended on good leadership as well as good programs, and that it is therefore a prime requisite that a president be well informed.

An outline of the adult educational program to be presented during 1953-54 promises to be one of the most varied and complete ever submitted to Homemakers in Kenton County. To expedite business Miss Byerly suggested a budget to be planned and adopted at the September club meeting.

A knowledge of parliamentary procedure should be acquired by every member in the organization Miss Byerly stated and to attain that objective, a definite period should be devoted to its study at each meeting.

Twenty-seven presidents attended the session. They were: Mrs. Edith Piper, Mrs. Roy C. Hall, Mrs. Robert Walcott, Mrs. Albert Martin, Mrs. Stanley Moeley, Mrs. Harold Buxton, Mrs. D. E. Nehring, Mrs. Geo. T. Walker, Mrs. Robert Pelstring, Mrs. Russell White, Mrs. Arthur Deister, Mrs. F. M. Powers, Mrs. Roy Price, Jr., Mrs. Glenn Cortwright, Mrs. Clifford Cornett, Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. Joe Leimiller, Mrs. Phillip Schilling, Mrs. Charles Russell, Mrs. W. P. Schwall, Mrs. L. M. Masters, Mrs. W. C. Funk, Mrs. Willis Ruh, Mrs. George Noeth, Mrs. John Dwyer, Mrs. J. A. Keener, Mrs. R. P. Matchett, state president, and Mrs. Lloyd Watson, county president.

A school for secretaries and treasurers was conducted at 1:30 p. m., by Miss Byerly.

Present for the instructions were: Mrs. J. A. Hulsefeld, Mrs. Ed. J. Seisler, Mrs. Thomas J. Ryan, Mrs. Clinton Henry, Mrs. Peter Beers, Mrs. Edward Brownfield, Mrs. John Reed, Mrs. Mel Gramer, Mrs. J. H. Garbough, Mrs. J. W. Brown, Mrs. Harold Clay, Mrs. Paul Champion, Mrs. Henry Weigle, Mrs. George A. Damon, Mrs. Russell Rector, Mrs. Charles Gross, Mrs. George Morris, Mrs. F. M. Powers, Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mrs. Clarence Sexton, Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Harry Euellner, Mrs. R. P. Matchett and Mrs. Lloyd Watson.

The sweepstakes winner in the Flower Show was Mrs. E. J. Goodenough, with 37 points. Mrs. Leslie Wagner was second, and Mrs. Hubert Baird third.

Mr. Wesley R. Burgess, Jr., Walton, Kentucky, happily takes the keys to the 1953 Kaiser Manhattan he won recently when he correctly identified the voice of Herbert Hoover in WLW's "Voices You Know" contest. Brenda Boils, handing him the keys, is visiting editors in the WLW listening area regarding the contest which gives new Raisers to listeners who correctly identify recorded "mystery voices." Burgess identified the former president's voice when he was called by Jean Shepherd on WLW's "Rhythm Room" show, heard Monday through Friday, 11:05 p. m. EST.

The committee plans to show, in the exhibit, the important agricultural products and livestock raised in the county, the main natural resources, and the manufacturing enterprises of the county.

The exhibit will be on display September 11 at the Kentucky State Fair and will remain on display through the fair, which closes September 19. You are urged to visit the exhibit when at the fair.

"In checking over the 1952-53 report on Health and Physical Education, a copy of which I sent you last week, I note that your school district has attained the status of having all pupils enrolled in schools given one hour health examinations. I congratulate you upon this achievement. This affords your teachers an opportunity to teach Health in terms of the needs of the children. You, your faculty and the patrons of your schools are to be congratulated. I am sure that all of those who are in any way responsible will feel that this is an effort in which they have just pride."

The letter was signed by E. B. Whalin, Director Health and Physical Education.

Fire Warning

Independence Fire Chief T. Merishon is making a request that all persons put off burning trash, weeds and brush until we have some rain or you have a good supply of water near. It takes only a second for fire in this hot, dry weather, to get out of control and become a menace to our community. Once you have battled a grass fire you will know that it can leave you weak and sick in a very short time, so why not put off a little longer igniting unnecessary fires.

Don't turn the cow on pasture until the grass has a six-inch start.

Girl Scouts Tour Kentucky

A local Northern Kentucky Girl Scout
Troop enjoyed a 9-day trip camp through Kentucky by automobile. Sleeping in tents and cooking all meals over a camp fire convinced them that the years of preparation to meet the requirements for a trip camp were essential for successful trip. They camped at Audubon State Park, Kentucky Dam, Villages State Park, Mammoth Cave and Bernheim Forest and Wildlife Refuge. This is one of the many troops that are planning to "Tour Kentucky First," and is a dream come true.
More Kentuckians should plan to do the same, for Kentucky can offer as much and maybe more for an ideal vacation.

STAFFORDSBURG

This community, which was her church home, was saddened by the passing of Mrs. Esther Giles. The many floral tributes attested the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends and relatives. She had suffered long but was almost invariably cheerful and until recently was hopeful of ultimate recovery. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon—her last visit to the church she loved. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Johnson, was assisted by Rev. Elmer Kidwell and Rev. James Aweritt. Many were the words of comfort to the family spoken by friends. Let us keep her memory living by emulating her many worthy characteristics—faith, kindness, courage, and devotion being a few.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Finnell, Jr. have named their little daughter, Neva Joe.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Twenhafel visited relatives here the past week and attended the Stephens family reunion at Bethel Grove, Sunday. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp, Mrs. Bess Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Henry and children, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Blinder and son, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rapp and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Parson and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Riley entertained the Parson family with a picnic supper Saturday evening.

The Staffordsborg Homemakers Club was entertained Tuesday for the year's first meeting by Mrs. J. C. Beall at the home of her niece, Mrs. Emil Nehring in Fort Wright.

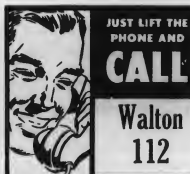

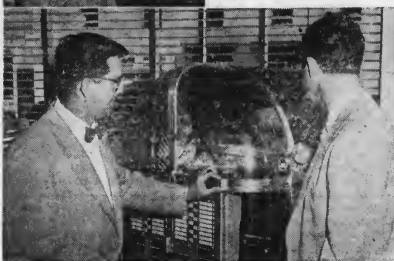

The homecoming and 75th anniversary of the church building here was much enjoyed by all attending. Several other events in adjoining communities took a number who otherwise would have been here, but we enjoyed the fellowship, as well as the spiritual food. Former pastors attending were Rev. W. O. Gilbert of Amelia, Ohio; Rev. Elmer Kidwell of Burlington, and Rev. H. C. Thomas of Dayton, Ky. All gave words of greeting and encouragement. The morning sermon was by Rev. R. R. Patton and it was a challenge to every Christian present. We were flattered to know that Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rapp came from McKees Ark., especially for the homecoming. We can't name all of the visitors, but will list a few—Mrs. Sophronia Mills of Walton, Mrs. Montie Winston of Hebron, Mrs. John Sanders of Latonia, Mrs. David Irvine and daughters of Latonia, the Misses Heileman of Park Hills, Mrs. Bess Schneider, Miss Lavinia Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lipscomb of Cavington. Now that on the 75th year of this building, we have no record of the organization of the church, we became a "station" with a full time pastor, let us put forth every effort to make our church a blessing in this place and a glory to our Christ.

UK CIRCULAR DEALS WITH CURING TOBACCO

The ventilation of the barn should be given first consideration in the curing of burley tobacco, says Jack N. Krueger in a new circular of the University of Kentucky, called "Heating Practices and Equipment for Curing Burley Tobacco."

A third to a half of the barn walls should be ventilated doors. This will give adequate ventilation for air-curing, provided tobacco is not crowded into the barn, it is stated.

"However, if tobacco remains in high case for more than 24 hours, then heat should be used to bring the tobacco down to the correct dryness for proper curing."

The primary purpose of firing is to control humidity in the barn, and then moving in. They should be attended at least twice a day. Control of coke heat is called difficult and heat output is not uniform.

Mr. Krueger discusses the distribution of heat. Uniform heat distribution is achieved by using an adequate number of stoves, each burning at a moderate rate.

Fuels used in curing tobacco include coke, fuel oil, natural gas, and propane gas. Coke is considered inexpensive, but requires a good deal of labor. The stoves are started outside the barn and then moved in. They should be attended at least twice a day. Control of coke heat is called difficult and heat output is not uniform.

Natural gas is considered good fuel for curing tobacco. Its cost is said to be less than that of any other satisfactory fuel. Propane or bottled gas has been successfully used in curing leaf. It costs about three times as much as natural gas.

See a county agent or write to UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington, for circular 496.

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN ON SOWING GRASSES

Farmers planning to sow grasses this fall may be interested in the following statements published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics:

"Fall seeding of Kentucky bluegrass is particularly advisable. September 10 to 20 may be regarded as the most favorable time. Good stands may be obtained, as a rule, by sowing as late as Nov. 1, but the plants may make such a small growth before freezing weather that they may be lifted out of the ground during the winter.

"If young orchard grass is not so winter-hardy as other grasses, and unless the seed is sown by Oct. 1, it is better to wait until late winter.

"Kentucky 31 fescue seeded after Oct. 1, especially if sown alone, may make little growth before winter, and consequently many of the seedlings may be lifted during winter and spring freezes.

"Late-summer seedlings of orchard grass and Ky 31 fescue without a nurse crop provide good ground covering during the winter and much grazing in the spring if soil moisture conditions are good at seeding and during the fall."

Nearly 200 farmers saw the land from the air at this year's soil conservation air tour in Fleming county.

Using Money

Lesson for September 4, 1953

CAN you use $500?" is the way a loan company begins its circular inviting you to borrow from them at a ruinous rate of interest. Yes, indeed, I can use money, everybody thinks. What a man means by that is: I can think of ways to spend it. Give me a hundred dollars and I can guarantee to get rid of it before night. Give me a million and it may take me longer but I can use it, I can make it vanish, I can swap it in for something else. But that is not using money. That may be using it, but maybe not. Money can be spent in wise ways or foolishly; it can be exchanged for something good or something bad or for really nothing at all. Using Dr. Foreman money is something more than merely passing it out of your pocket into somebody else's.

Root Of All Evil

Money is not a bad thing in itself as some have thought. But it can be the root of many bad things. Or to speak more correctly, not money but the love of money is a root of all evils (Paul does not in the original Greek say THE root; he does say A root.) For example, when a murder is committed and the police are trying to solve the mystery, one of the first questions asked is: Who stands to benefit by this murder?—meaning, who is going to strike it rich by this crime? Love of money can be a root of murder, theft, adultery, all the sins on the calendar. We could not abolish crime by abolishing money, to be sure. We could not abolish crime by seeing that every man, woman and child had exactly the same amount of money. The sinful heart has many outlets. But love of money, or in other words greed, selfishness, is one of the easiest and most frequent ways by which man's iniquity comes out in the open.

Rich Toward God

On the other hand, money makes much good possible. If a man is going to be a "good father," he doesn't have to be a pauper. He doesn't have to be rich, but he does have to have money for groceries and education and all that it takes to bring up children. If a man is going to be a good citizen he will pay his taxes, and if the state is a good state those taxes will be wisely used for the benefit of all. A poverty-stricken state is not a good state to live in. A poverty-stricken home is not the kind of home you want your children to grow up in. Or consider all the good done by the church. Much of it is made possible by the contributions of the members. An orphanage, a hospital, an old folks' home, an evangelistic campaign—every part of the church's activity is something that uses money and transforms it into service and happiness. In Jesus' parable of the rich farmer whom God called a fool, no doubt the neighbors (some of them) admired the man for his wealth and his thrift. "He takes good care of what he got," they would say. But Jesus did not think well of the man. His trouble was not that he was well-to-do. Jesus never condemned a man simply for owning property, money or anything else. The rich fool's trouble was that he thought of no one but himself, built his barns for no one but himself. To be "rich toward God" he would have to think about using his wealth for the benefit of some one besides himself.

Bull's Eye

Everybody aims at something in life—everybody, that is, but the aimless, who don't count. We all take aim—but at what? When you pull back the bowstring, or cock the trigger, and look toward the target, what do you see in the bull's eye? What is the very center, the principal aim of living? Some see nothing but the dollar mark. It is a mark that can be hit, and a man's aim can be absolutely accurate. But the trouble with money as a central aim in life, is that the more successful a man is in hitting it, the less satisfied he is likely to be. There are rich people who are happy; but it is not true that a man grows happier with every dollar he adds to his pile; it is not true that the happiest persons in town are the wealthiest. It is generally a fact that if a person is both rich and happy, his happiness comes from other source than his bank account.

DOWN HE GOES!

But he's a gamie little tike, this youngster so well-padded on the North side. Even though his pillow doesn't keep him from falling, it does cushion his falls while he learns how to balance himself, how to stroke, and swing.

It will be that way with his life, too—and yours. As you grow older you often feel the need of something to cushion yourself against the jolts that come suddenly in everyday living.

Since you learn to skate only by skating, and to live only by getting into the thick of life, you have to expect these mishaps.

If you cushion yourself with the true knowledge of God and His ever-present love and watchful care, you will feel these blows less.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOT and DRY

That is the main topic for the past several days—everything is drying up, water is scarce, grass for live stock is getting very scarce, corn is twisting, tobacco must be put in the barn, late gardens are gone. The thermometer went to 100 today, and the weather man says 100 tomorrow. These hot days there is as much evaporation out of a large body of water as there is used. It is hard to tell when we will ever get much rain—we may get a few showers, which will help fall grass, but not make much water.

If it is as cold a winter as it is hot a summer, we had better get ready with a large fuel supply and a good heating system. The weather men say this will be the coldest winter we have had for years—of course they say that every year. We will wait and see. Bruce Cox just came in for pitman rods and new mowing machine tongue. Chas. Prather brought in three electric irons to be repaired—he had one good out of the three. Mrs. Baxter, down at Richwood, took home two gallons of that good Boice paint.

Owen and Bernard Stephenson came in with their tractor and took home a rubber tired wagon—a fine thing to have tobacco on. In about an hour Floyd Whaley's wife came in and said to bring them over a rubber tired wagon—you never know what or when you are going to sell. Howard Denner came after another roll of fence. John Walton, over Burlington way, called for me to send him a Hot-Dem electric fence control—I put it on the Greyhound bus and sent it to Florence, so someone could pick it up there.

We unloaded six 150-gallon fuel oil tanks today—these are just the size for oil heaters. We will point and install them—just give us a call. Nick Trapp came in after more Boice paint. Earnest Haddix bought an Armstrong rug, window shades and a lot of small hardware—he is moving into his new house. I bought all the 100-lb. size Day and Nite coal heaters the company had left and don't know when there will be more—this has always been a good heating stove and a lot cheaper than other magazine-type heaters. The 100-lb. size, setup with new pipe and stove board is only $69.00—get one of these while they last.

Received a lot of new bicycle parts for all types of bicycles. Bob Brugh and Jimmy Huey brought Jimmie's new bicycle in—Bob had us put on a new basket, new horn and set of streamers, for Jimmie's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Doud from Crittenden bought more Boice enamel—they have used a lot of it. Cecil Sebree bought freezer paper to wrap that beef in which he is putting in the locker. Nelda Lucas is still working on that new home—it just shines now, but she keeps right on painting. Thibaut weather keeps right on, but before this paper comes out there will be a change. It always rains in Old Kentucky, sometimes a little far apart, but year after year, we always have a fairly good crop.

I was talking to an old stove salesman today—last year he told me not to buy too many stoves because it would be a mild winter, and it was, but today he said buy heavy because this will be the coldest winter we have had in years. Of course he is selling stoves and has been selling me for 15 years—he hardly ever misses it. So, if he is right, you had better check your heater or heating system and get ready—always be prepared anyway—if we have a mild winter, you will be ahead for the next.

Marian Stephenson was in today—had some rods threaded to make U bolts, and while here she had her account. Then came Russell Baker—he wanted to pay for that Boice paint he bought last week—said it was good paint and would want more soon, as they had time to use it. Elsie Jack was looking at the Perfection oil heaters—they bought one last year and liked it so well they want a smaller size for the kitchen.

John Sleet and John Robert were in, they have all their tobacco in the barn—John sold his account. These are the kind of customers I have told you about before—they keep you in business because you have to have cash to operate, and John pays every month—so does a lot of other customers, but there are some who think you don't need any money. We unloaded a lot of sisal kraft paper and welded mesh fence for silos today—it is about time to start filling silos.

Some time ago there were several wanting 12-gallon pour-in type electric dairy water heaters, and now I have them in stock. I told you last week people were buying heating stoves—Grace Johnson came in and paid for her heater, to be installed later. Tracy Hume also paid for his Perfection oil heater and 275-gallon oil tank, to be installed when the weather cools off. Now is the time to buy and we will set them when you are ready. Edgar Martin just returned home from two weeks training for Uncle Sam—he takes two weeks every year.

They bought a little of most all kinds of small hardware today—lots of shells and hunting licenses, a 20 gauge shotgun, fishing tackle, minnow bucket, rifle cartridges, electric fence charger, hot shot battery, electric fence posts, screen door grilles, window screens, horse shoes, harness, tobacco spurs, tomahawks, pipe and pipe fittings. Sold several of those 9x12 rugs for $4.95 and wessel Armstrong rugs every day.

Blanche Ransom bought a gallon of Boice interior gloss—said she had always had fine luck with Boice paint. Hubert Baker called for 25 steel fence posts—the ground was so dry his electric fence charger would not turn the cattle. Come to CONRAD'S!

Boone DAR Entertained In Burlington Home

Wednesday evening, September 2, at her beautiful colonial home in Burlington, Mrs. Garnett Tolin entertained in compliment to members of the Boone County Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harold Conner, Florence, and Mrs. Clarence Wolfe, Burlington. This was the first meeting of the 1953-54 season.

Mrs. Roy C. Nestor, Florence, who is Regent of the Boone County Chapter, presided. At this meeting, Mr. Preston Sorrell presented to the chapter a beautiful American flag in behalf of the fraternal order of Woodmen of the World, of which he is a member. This organization distributes American flags to churches, schools and worthwhile civic organizations, as well as equipping hospital rooms, play grounds, and has assisted in establishing blood banks. Mr. Sorrell also gave a brief history of our flag.

Guest speaker of the evening was the state senator from the 26th district of Kentucky, the Honorable Alvin Kidwell, Sparta. Before his address, "My Twelve Years of Legislation," Mr. Kidwell eulogized briefly, but beautifully, about the state of Kentucky and of the part she played in the formation of our nation.

Mrs. Harold Conner read from the August issue of the D.A.R. magazine, "The Home and the Common Defense," by Lt. Gen. A. D. Bruce, U.S.A.

A delightful social hour followed the meeting. Those attending were Mesdames Geneva Arnold, Frances Berkshire, Mallie Coyle, Alton Conner, Harold Conner, Sr., Dan Denham, Jr., Virginia Goodridge, Charles Goodridge, Daisy Gaines, Wallace Grubbs, H. S. Haves, Roy C. Nestor, Rufus Tanner, Garnett Tolin, William Tumen, J. B. Wolfe, Clarence Wolfe, Robert C. Woodward, Dean Cator, Joslyn Rice, J. P. Brothers, Henrietta Roberts, Misses Margaret Goodridge, Jeanette Grubbs, Evelyn Tanner, Jean Sleet, and Virginia Royal Nestor, and Mr. Alvin Kidwell.

Burlington Lodge To Celebrate Its 100th Anniversary

Burlington Lodge, No. 264, Free and Accepted Masons will celebrate its 100th anniversary at 8:00 p. m., Saturday, September 19, at the lodge hall in Burlington. Howard Lizer, Master, announced yesterday.

The Burlington lodge, chartered on September 3, 1819, as Burlington Lodge, No. 56, is one of the oldest in Kentucky. It surrendered its charter in 1831 and was restored in 1834. In 1847 it again surrendered its charter. A new charter was received on September 21, 1953, under the name to Burlington Lodge, No. 264, and the lodge has been in existence continuously since that date, even during the trying days of the Civil War, when Boone County's sympathies were strongly pro-Southern.

Mr. Lizer said that a fine program had been arranged by the committee in charge, namely, Raymond Combs, Alvin Clare, and W. Robert Ellis. Edwin E. Freshney, Park Hills, Past Grand Master of Masons in Kentucky, will be the principal speaker. Refreshments will follow.

Mr. Lizer is very anxious to have every lodge in Northern Kentucky, particularly Boone County, represented in force.

CARD OF THANKS—

We want to thank each of our relatives, friends and neighbors for your many kind expressions of sympathy in the sudden passing of our beloved wife and mother, Ora E. Berkshire. We want to especially thank Rev. Wilford C. Butt and Rev. Harold Beamon for conducting the funeral services; those who brought the message in song and music; donors of the beautiful flowers; Chambers and Grubbs for the very efficient manner in which they conducted the funeral, and those who assisted in the grave digging.

May God bless each of you for your many kind deeds shown us in our time of sorrow.

5,339 Autos Assessed In This County

A total of 5,339 automobiles were assessed by Wilton Stephens, Tax Commissioner of Boone County, this year, according to a report from the State Department of Revenue, Frankfort. The number in the county last year was 5,103, a gain of 4.6%. Boone County ranks 19th in the state in the number of automobiles assessed.

In Kenton County, 18,334 automobiles were assessed this year, an increase of 18.8% over the 15,435 listed in 1952. Kenton is third in the state in the number of autos, coming behind Jefferson and Fayette.

The total for the state in 1953 is 536,732, a gain of 21.3% over 1952, when the figure was 442,549. Fayette County showed the largest percentage gain, jumping from 7,530 in 1952 to 21,028 in 1953, a gain of 179.3%.

The large increase in the number of vehicles assessed this year was attributed by the department to 1952 legislation by the General Assembly which provided that county clerks weekly pass copies of vehicle registrations to tax commissioners for property tax purposes.

According to the law, the registration goes to the "appropriate" tax commissioner. Thus, if a person registers his automobile in a county different from his residence, the clerk of that county sends the copy to the commissioner where the owner resides and he is still assessed for the vehicle.

GOOD LIGHT for HOME STUDY

Watch your children as they study. See if they squint, stare, or strain to see. If they do, and if they tire quickly, it may be due to poor lighting in the study area.

The study area should have over all lighting to do away with harsh shadows. In addition to this, a higher level of light at the work area is essential. Where a table or desk is used, the top should be dull in finish and light in color for greatest eye-case. One simple, inexpensive way to accomplish this—use light colored desk blotters.

See your appliance dealer for the latest type of STUDY LAMPS and Lighting Equipment.

Fire Call Sunday

Firemen were called to Independence Hill, Sunday, where an auto was ablaze, down a steep ravine. Fire Chief T. Mer-shon was unable to obtain the owner's name, and did not give the estimated damage to the car.

Labor Day

To me, Labor Day denotes the passing of summer and the official beginning of fall—it is the last holiday that the family can get together for one last fling of summer sports and recreation—it is the beginning of the time when the light coats and jackets are slowly being pulled out of the closet and laid close at hand for the cool mornings and evenings—after the hot weather which has been hanging around lately, it does feel mighty appreciative and acceptable.

Sick List and Personal Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bergman are the proud parents of a baby boy, born at St. Elizabeth Hospital, named William Ben Bergman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nickels were home over the Labor Day weekend. Roy is stationed at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Girl Scouts

Mrs. Bertha Moon, Girl Scout leader for our local troop, reported that all areas in Kenton county is being surveyed by this District's Council in order to obtain leaders for new Girl Scout troops.

Scouting for both girls and boys adds to their knowledge of becoming better citizens, learning to become independent by knowing what to do in times of emergency or every day trial and tribulations, also, giving them the knowledge and understanding of changing over from girls and boys to young women and young men.

If you are interested in this work or hobby, contact your nearest Scout Troop or the District Council, which is listed in your telephone book, and attend some of their meetings. They are interesting and very educational.

TOP GRADE FERTILIZER TERMED THE BEST BUY

Top grades of fertilizer are called the best buys according to Joe Claxon, Boone County Farm Agent. Farmers buying fertilizer for this fall and next season should remember that it is the amount of plant food in fertilizer that counts.

"The cheapness of the fertilizer depends mostly on the price of the plant food in it and not on the price of a bag or ton," Experiment Station men say. "Often fertilizers which are cheapest a bag or ton cost the most for the actual plant food in them."

This example is given: The 4-12-8 grade (24 units of plant food) is a higher grade fertilizer than the 3-9-6 grade (18 units of plant food), and three tons of 4-12-8 contains the same amount of plant food as four tons of 3-9-6.

The cost of bagging, handling and transportation a ton of low grade fertilizer is the same as the cost of high grade fertilizer. Also in the low grades, materials which have no fertilizing value may be put in to make weight.

Having soil tested will help in buying the correct grade of fertilizer that is needed for the crop that is to be grown. Take your samples today and have them tested.

The Marion County 4-H Dairy Club entertained the Lebanon Chambers of Commerce and Kimanis and Rotary clubs at a picnic on the farm of John Peterson.

Christian Courage

Lesson for Sept. 13, 1953

NOBODY loves a coward. But Christian courage is a very special kind. A brave man may be a selfish and cruel man too. But not a brave Christian! Christian courage is not something unconnected with the rest of life. Christian courage is one of a chain of virtues, not a loose jewel by itself. The courage of a Christian is (like that of others) sometimes of the body, sometimes of the mind and spirit. It is different from ordinary courage both in the why and the how.

Why Courage?

Some persons who do not understand Christianity have called this way of life "a slave-morality." Perhaps we Christians are to blame for this, because we have some times rated humility as the top virtue, and also, because we have not always set the example of a courageous life.

But Dr. Foreman a true Christian is not a dis-rag sort of person, a worm without backbone. He finds need for bravery quite as much as any hero in the world. First of all he needs courage for his tasks, as Paul pointed out to his young friend Timothy. The everyday tasks, of course; but Paul meant something specially Christian. Paul was an experienced missionary, and a very brave one; Timothy was a much younger missionary, and apparently not a naturally brave man. The work to which Timothy had been called is, after all, the same to which all Christians are called. Let us name two items: personal witness to Christ, and sharing the gospel with the world. Isn't it just these two tasks that scare the "average" Christian to death? Most church members would rather do almost anything else but go out and make calls on strangers inviting them to unite with Christ.

Lashes and Laughter

The Christian has other needs for courage, as Paul pointed out. One is in order to endure hardship, the other is to endure ridicule. It is tough to be a real Christian. The toughness is not felt always here in comfortable America; but in other lands it can be very tough indeed. There are Mohammedan villages in India where any one who openly becomes a Christian is denied even the use of the public well, and if he is not assassinated he will be left to starve to death or forced to seek a beggar's living in strange villages. There are places in Africa where to be known as a Christian and friend of white missionaries means constant danger of torture and death at the hands of murderous heathen mobs. There are places under the hammer-and-sickle where to be known as a Christian is to be cut off from normal ways of making a living. These things are not done to Christians in America—yet; but there is another weapon many Christians have to face—the saw-edged dagger of laughter. Christians are told by some highly-educated and impressive atheists that all religion is "infantile," that no one can call himself mature if he leans on a God or even believes in one, that all religion including Christianity is a relic of superstitious ignorance. It takes a certain amount of iron in the blood to stand up against this sort of belittling. It takes inner courage to say as Paul did often: "I am not ashamed."

How Courage Comes

Paul would not have helped Timothy if all he had said was: Be brave! He goes on to show him how. He points to himself as an example—not by way of conceit but simply to demonstrate that he knew whereof he spoke. First he says "I know him . . . I am persuaded that he is able . . ." Christian courage is based on God, not ourselves. As John expressed it, "Greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world." Then Paul urges Timothy to look to God, not to man, for final approval. This always works. On the other hand, Christian courage is not hoping God will do it all. We have to combine faith with action. "Stir to a flame," says Paul, "the gift that is in you." God endows us with ability to do all we need to do and to be all we need to be; but it is up to us.

Not by
alone...

A very wise Teacher of the long ago once said, "Man cannot live by bread alone." There are hungers of the mind and soul that things material can never satisfy.

Sometimes they come in the form of trials and sorrows. Sometimes they are aspirations that bid us soar to heights we have never dared attempt. However they appear, they often go unmet because we fail to understand their nature.

The lovely little refugee in the picture is passing through an agony of heart. But she seems to have learned a great secret: that the only source of power adequate for her needs is GOD! And she is looking to Him.

Yes, God and God alone is the answer to the deepest needs that man can know. As we give our best to Him, He gives His best to us! And the God-directed life finds a satisfaction and a joy that can come from no other source.

That God and the individual may be brought together in vital relationship is the purpose of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your bible daily.

SCHOOL DAYS

Do you remember several years ago when you spent your first day in school or your mother took you the first day, then the second you were an your own. Most pupils think they have little and the teacher treats them so awful, but wait until they have to work for a living and mom and pop are not there to hand it out every time. School days are the best years in anyone's life—not a care or worry in the world, carefree and happy. The schools are so full everywhere, I wonder where all of the pupils will go in a few years, if they keep increasing every year. Every school is crowded now and by the time the new ones are finished they will be crowded, too.

Some lady came in, said she had been buying school clothes for four to start to school Tuesday—another lady was outfitting him and they had forgotten several things. Mrs. Ralph Poore bought a lot of Armstrong lineoleum. A lady came in and said, do you know that Bolce paint and enamel is better than you say it is. She bought more white enamel and outside white—if you have not tried it, do so, and you won't be sorry.

Ben Menke stopped for a roll of sisal kraft paper for a silo. We have the paper and the fence to build a silo. Bobby Slayback is home from Ft. Smith, Ark. for a few days—he says it has been hot down there, and no rain. The Army has made a cook out of him—they can make most anything out of a mail carrier—by the way, have you seen our mail carrier's mustache? That could be against Postal regulations, to wear one of those things while on duty. Mrs. Ray Hurd came in after a few items from the hardware and grocery—Chick took her home and brought back an electric fan and two lamps to be repaired—we fixed them and he took them back so she could use the fan.

Mr. Sargent, down at the R. T. Helzer farm, called for us to bring him a rubber tired wagon. Mrs. Walter Whitson called for two metal lawn chairs. We unloaded a whole truck load of Perfection oil heaters today, all sizes. This shipment at the old price, but the salesman told me today they were going up, so get yours early and be ready for those chilly fall days. We also have some 150-gallon tanks for $35.00, which makes a very nice outfit. Just set one of those new Perfections in with a 150-gallon tank of oil and let the snow blow—have your oil man check it once a month—with a large heater, you will burn about 100 gallons per month—of course if you have a hard house to heat; you had better insulate and weather strip or buy one of our Warm Morning coal heaters. Oil heaters are fine, if they are in the right kind of a house—if not, you had better burn coal.

Mrs. Nan Ranson called for a gallon of Bolce paint and a screen door. Miss Mattie Hudson called for three gallons of Bolce paint and a gallon of linseed oil. We have a lot of nice fuel oil 50-gallon drums and some 150-gallon all tanks. We unloaded a large shipment of wood heaters for winter. Well, it rained Friday afternoon and turned cooler. Now you can start thinking about fall and a new heater.

Omer and Nell Dudgeon bought a new Barton washer—they had used their old one 19 years—that was long enough, John and Lucille Moxdock are moving to Louisville, where Lucille can work, and John go to school—he is going to make met a set of teeth some day. Mrs. Leonard Cook came after a large aluminum kettle—she is making tomato juice. Blanch Ransom bought Armstrong lineoleum rug border for a runner. I am still selling power lawn mowers. Geo. Arnold, manager of Ellis Farm, bought another Motterscutt rotary mower. We have sure sold power mowers this year, and have sold three in the last month, and I thought the season was over.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Glenn bought a new Maytag washer. Maytag is still the top washer in the line of washing machines. We very seldom ever have a service call on Maytag. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hensley bought a General Electric clock radio—just set the clock and dial for the kind of music you want to wake up with and you will rise and shine by music every morning. Charles Steers and Chuck bought a croquet set and a set of horse shoes—they are going to have a picnic.

Mrs. Gadd, out on Salem Creek Road, bought a lot of Armstrong lineoleum. Chas. Chambers bought Wolverine gloves and cow spray. I never saw grass green up so fast with so little rain—it never made any water, but did help the grass and cooled the temperature. From now on we will have mostly cool weather, so get that Perfection oil heater or Warm Morning coal heater at CONRAD HARDWARE—you buy them and we will set up all new stoves with new stove pipe and stove board. We just unloaded a truck load of 50-gallon barrels and 150-gallon oil tanks—all for fuel oil. We have several used heaters in oil and coal. It takes several dollars to set up a stove right. I told a lady last year I would take off $10 if she would set up a stove—she thought I was too high on my heaters—she went to Sears and bought a heater—they brought it out and set it on the porch—her neighbor came and asked me if I would set it up for her, so I took Brewster and set it up with pipe, board and draft control, and charging her $3.00 for labor, which made the total bill $11.30, then she found out my price was OK and in line.

I try to stay in line on all prices, make a fair profit, pay my helpers a good salary and keep my bills paid.

Porter Resigns From School Board After 19 Years

The Walton-Verona Board of Education, at a meeting Friday night of last week, was sorry to have to accept the resignation of Robert K. Porter after 19 years faithful service on said board. In offering his resignation, Mr. Porter said that business and the fact that he is engaged in building a new home, and since his son will be away in college, and the lack of help on the farm, he felt that he would not be able to continue as a board member. No successor has been named.

The board has been advised by the State Department of Education that they would agree to let the local board start on a part of a new school building, using what money has been collected and what is due this year. At the best this plan might add five or six new class rooms. The board, after much discussion and due consideration, felt they would wait until after the first of the year and once again make every possible effort to sell the bonds and, if they can sell them, go ahead with the complete new building, as planned. If the bonds do not sell in the Spring, then the board will endeavor to make some decision as to what is best to do for the greatest benefit of all concerned.

Atwood-Nicholson Home'akers

The Atwood-Nicholson Home'akers Club met at the home of Mrs. Roy Dickson with Mrs. R. C. Durr, co-hostess. All members were present. Mrs. Clifford Cornelius, president; Mrs. John Butler, vice president; Mrs. S. C. Fisk, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Alfred B'Hymer, program chairman, were installed for the year 1953-54 with Mrs. Leslie Wagner officiating.

The president and publicity chairman gave the report for the ensuing year. Mrs. Clara Cooke, garden chairman, reported that now is the time to plant cover crops in gardens, also to plant tulips very deep after bone meal had been planted much deeper, to draw the roots downward to be able to withstand the winter frosts.

Mrs. Frank Stagnon presented the club with a gavel in memory of her deceased husband. It was his wish that the Atwood-Nicholson Home'akers Club be given his gavel, which had been given to him by Governor Laffoon, while a sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. H. L. Pitzer gave the final lesson on Swedish embroidery.

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. S. C. Fisk, October 14.

Boone County Soil Tests Show Need of Potash

Soil testing in Boone county has given some results that are of interest to all farmers. The soils tested in the Boone County Soils Laboratory, which is the same as the soils laboratory at the University of Kentucky, Stanley Eichholz is the soils technician for the county.

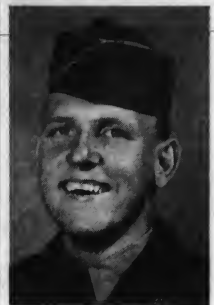

In a summary of soil tested in the spring of 1953, these are some of the outstanding results: For samples tested for tobacco to be grown, 97% showed that there were no need for limestone, 34% showed need of phosphate, while 66% showed high and very high in phosphate with a requirement of 60 to 80 pounds of phosphate per acre.

On fields that had not been in tobacco in previous years, the potash was greatly needed. 54% of the tobacco land was low to medium in potash deficiency. All tobacco is a great user of potash.

The results of the alfalfa land tested showed that 81% needed to have two tons of limestone applied per acre, with only 19% needing no lime. The phosphate test showed 68% of the test needed 80 to 160 pounds of actual phosphate per acre, while only 32% showed no need for phosphate. In potash there was a great deficiency with 87% being medium to very low. This means 60 to 120 pounds of actual potash was needed per acre. For alfalfa hay, with a yield of 4 tons it will remove 180 pounds of potash from the soil.

There were tests made on pasture land, corn and garden. Each showing a need of potash. From these results, it can readily be seen that soil should be tested in order to grow the best crops. Take your soil and have it tested at the county agent's office.

To Inspect New Water Mains In Florence, Saturday

The laying of water mains, in the City of Florence, on Kathryn Avenue, Burlington Pike, Valley Drive extension, U. S. Highway 25, Roger Lane, Edward Avenue, and Circle Drive, has been completed, and on Saturday, September 19, the Water Committee will meet to inspect the work. It is expected that this ordinance will be presented to the Board at its called meeting September 22.

Nearly six hundred cords have been sent to property owners in Florence, according to City Clerk William Fitzgerald, asking for an expression regarding the construction of a sanitary sewer system in the city. To date approximately two hundred cords have been returned. No count of the cords has been made. Mr. Fitzgerald said. At the request of several citizens, Mayor G. R. Scott, has called a meeting of the Sewer Committee at the Town Hall, Tuesday, September 29, at 8:00 p. m., for an official count of the cords.

No one practice or erosion control is likely to be sufficient by itself. A proper combination of practices, mechanical measures, soil treatment and use of vegetation is needed.

CARNIVAL A BIG SUCCESS

The "Kids' Polio Carnival last Saturday evening was quite a success, in spite of the cool weather and the affair netted $185.00 for the polio fund.

Sponsors of the carnival, John Arnold Hartman, Joanna Kent and Byron "Butch" Kent, wish to thank all the merchants and citizens who gave donations and all who helped install the lights and booths, and all who helped by working Saturday night, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Russell Yealey, on whose lawn the carnival was held, and the Walton Volunteer Fire Department for the use of their engine.

It was really a grand gesture on the part of the younger set and we think they deserve "a hand" as well as the adults who aided them.

FIRST CALF BORN IN AMERICA FROM FROZEN SEMEN

The first live calf ever known to have been born in America from frozen semen was "dropped" on the farm of John and Melford Hill of Route 1, Janesville, Wis., Friday morning, May 29, 1953, according to a report released by the Wisconsin Scientific Breeding Institute, an American Breeders Service, in Madison, Wis.

E. O. Conrad, Manager of the Institute, reported that a number of artificial breeding organizations are experimenting with the use of frozen semen in artificial insemination, but to date, as far as is known, this calf is the first in America that has resulted from the frozen semen process. Conrad pointed out that the British were the first to conduct experiments in successfully freezing and thawing semen. They have been successful in keeping semen frozen and of good quality for as long as one year. A number of calves have been born in England.

The Wisconsin Scientific Breeding Institute, a non-profit organization, in cooperation with the American Foundation For the Study of Genetics, a publicly-endowed, research center at Madison, repeated the experiments of the British scientists and have bred over 2,000 cows with frozen semen, some stored as long as four months.

This marvelous discovery can very well make it possible for a single proved bull to have possibly as many as 100,000 offspring through artificial breeding. While now three out of every four cubic centimeters of unfrozen semen is wasted, with frozen semen, every cc could be used. There will be fewer bulls in the stud, but better bulls producing many more offspring. This discovery will make possible a far wider distribution of the influences of great proved sires. It will be possible for the average farmer almost anywhere in the country to have the mating of his cows to the best breeding bulls in the world at probably no more than the regular charge now being made. Semen banks will be the answer. Commercial breeding organizations will build up banks of semen from their sires during the slack breeding season, thus obtaining the most economic use of the bull. These semen banks will make it possible for dairymen to have service from a bull long after he has died. In natural service it is considered good if a bull has a few hundred offspring. Artificial breeding has boosted that figure into the thousands, and now with frozen semen, it could very well be into the hundreds of thousands.

Although frozen semen in the popular sense may seem a simple process, a tremendous amount of research and study is still being actively pursued by the researchers at both the Wisconsin Scientific Breeding Institute and the American Foundation For the Study of Genetics.

Semen to be alive and of good quality must of necessity be frozen carefully through the low temperature range of 40 degrees Fahrenheit to a minus 110 degrees Fahrenheit (temperature of dry ice) and there held until used. The British scientist discovered that this could only be done by using glycerol as a buffer with semen, properly cooled. The action of glycerol in the solution prevents injury to the sperm during the freezing and thawing.

The Wisconsin Scientific Breeding Institute is managed by the American Breeders Service of Chicago, the world's largest privately owned artificial breeding organization. The six ABS studs will breed over 800,000 cows this year with fewer than 150 proved sires. Rock County Breeders, Janesville, Wis., one of the 285 organizations using ABS service, cooperated in the experiment, and their inseminator, Berlyn Gruber, artificially bred the cow having the first calf.

It is known that parents concerned over their children's education make their children happier and better students with more possibility of completing high school.

Last year, as I sat in the Kanton Elementary School's auditorium and noticed that the majority of the few who attend these PTA meetings are mothers, I believe the odds don't consider themselves parents. You do know that for a very little on your part, Junior or Sis would place you on a pedestal as their ideal for a buddy. So why not both parents, for the sake of your boy or girl, plan to be part of a great group—attend your PTA meetings, they are educational and profitable in more ways than one.

Knothole Team

Our local Knothole team, the Independence Cub, enjoyed a turkey dinner, given at the Erlanger Baptist Church last week. This occasion celebrated a good year for the team for they were awarded a trophy for being run-ups in the league, and another trophy was awarded them for sportsmanship. Also at this meeting, members of the team were given patches, to be placed on their uniforms. The champs in the league for this season was St. Henry's Dixie Knothole team.

All parents of pupils attending the Kanton Elementary School and the Independence Grade School are urged to attend. What better time could be had than to get acquainted with your child's teachers and friends, than at these P.T.A. meetings. Try to come.

STAFFORDSBURG

This community was shocked and grieved to learn of an accident which took the bright life of little Beverly Gail Riley on her first day of school. So full of enthusiasm was she that she forgot to look both ways before crossing the street and ran in front of an automobile. She left an ache in the hearts of her parents and relatives and her many friends. We shall ever remember her bright smile and gay manner, the lilt of her voice as she loved to sing, and her readiness to help those younger or more timid than she. There is a reaper, whose name is Death, and with his sickle keen, he reaps the bearded grain at a breath, and the flowers that grow between; shall I have taught that is fair with her; have taught but the bearded grain; though the breath of these flowers is sweet to me, I shall give them all back again. She cannot come to us, but we can go to her.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser attended the funeral on Friday at her aunt, Mrs. Vesta Burlingame.

Mrs. Ralph Howard was on the sick last a few days the past week.

The W.S.C.S. met at the church Wednesday afternoon. An interesting program an rural work was presented. Those present were Mrs. D. Ballinger, Miss Minnie Rapp, Mrs. Howard Barnett and daughter, Janet, Mrs. J. A. Keeney and Mrs. J. L. Barnett. We would be so glad to have some of the other women of the church and community join with us in this worthwhile work.

We forgot to mention in our previous column how we enjoyed the singing of the Melodettes at our homecoming. Now we hear them on the radio—we say, I know them.

Miss Hope Keeney spent a few days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John H. Klette.

Mrs. Flora Summey, who was in the hospital for several days, is now at home. We hope she continues to improve.

The Christian Line

Lesson for Sept. 20, 1953

EVERYBODY knows the phrase, "party line," meaning a kind of ideas, arguments, plans and policies which are approved by a central authority. We hear the phrase most often in Communist connections; but there are also such things as the Republican line, or the Democratic line, and many others. Is there such a thing as the Christian line? In particular, is there a Christian line of behavior, a Christian way of life which is distinct, an ideal for all Christians everywhere? Or is Christian living a more or less do-as-you-please affair?

Christianity Is Respectable

The letter to Titus in the New Testament comes right to this point. Titus was a fairly young missionary in a very tough area, the island of Crete.

Titus may have wished he were in an easier field.

"Lars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons"—that was the reputation of Cretans.

Even when such Dr. Foreman people become Christians there is a lot they have to learn. They do not become complete saints overnight. (Did you?) Paul, writing to his young former assistant Titus, advises him, as an advisor of new Christians, what line to take in teaching and preaching to these unpromising Cretan converts.

Through Titus the Apostle speaks to parents, ministers, Sunday school teachers, of today.

The first thing the modern reader notices is that the Christian line sounds "respectable," like advice from Polonius or Lord Chesterfield. Old men should be temperate, orthodox; old women ought not to gossip; young women should love their husbands and children; young men must exercise self-control; employees, slaves, in Titus' parish must be honest and give satisfaction to their employers. Citizens must be law-abiding. Everybody should have a decent job and save his money for special needs. Really, the reader may ask, what is so special about all this? Is the Christian line just to be a "decent citizen?" Well, of course that is a part of it. Christianity is certainly not DISrespectability!

So the Christian line does not go off in some other direction than respectability; but it is by no means the same thing. There are two vital points where the Christian's way of life is distinctly unique. One is the Christian's attitude to his own respectable conduct. He must never do good in order to show off, neither to man nor to God. He must never be good or do good simply in order to get good in return. He must never think of his own good deeds as a kind of coin by which he pays his way into heaven. Years before "Titus" was written, when Jesus was telling his disciples that they must live above the level of the Pharisees, this demand must have surprised and puzzled his listeners. How could anybody on earth be more respectable than a Pharisee? Well, nobody could. What Jesus was pleading for was (in part) just the difference in attitude toward one's own goodness. The Pharisee was proud of being good; he thought God owed him something. He wanted merit-badges; Jesus called for humility. The Christian's goodness is a response to God, not a demand on God. It is an expression of what we owe to God.

Mercy and Renewal

This brings us to the other point at which the Christian line is on a different plane from ordinary respectability. It is the effect of a new birth inside. There is great difference between lifting ourselves by our own efforts and being lifted by the Holy Spirit, between goodness home-made and heaven-made. Being respectable enough for a good name in society is some distance short of growing into the likeness of Christ. There is an immense gap between respectability like a topcoat, and the goodness which is like the blood, beating through a changed heart. There is a clear difference between the respectability of a man who looks no further ahead than his own obituary, and the deep-reaching spiritual renewal of the man who lives as an "heir in hope of eternal life."

When Life REALLY begins...

It is her first daring venture in the conquest of her own limitations!

We really begin to live when we first try to overcome our weaknesses. And we cease to live the moment we lose the burning desire for self-improvement.

Our most serious limitations are not physical, but spiritual. That is why the Christian Church is indispensable to the life of a child or an adult.

Christianity helps us understand those spiritual shortcomings. Christ teaches the Faith by which alone man overcomes them.

And our daily conquest of these spiritual limitations prepares us for the ultimate goal of living—that LIFE WITHOUT LIMITATIONS which we call Heaven!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) children's sake, (2) for his own sake, (3) for the sake of his community and nation, (4) which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Facts FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS

Better stands of grass and legumes can be obtained by drilling the seed directly over a band of fertilizer placed one inch under the seed. This method of seeding grasses, clover and alfalfa has shown superior results in tests made by the Ohio Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "Band seeding," as the method is known, not only provides better stands than broadcast seedings, but the seedlings grow faster, compete better with weeds and survive the winter better.

"Band seeding" may be done with conventional grain drills equipped with fertilizer and small seed attachments. The fertilizer is drilled in, about 1 1/4" deep and covered. The seed is then dropped in bands over the furrow and covered with the drill chains and cultipacker. The only modifications for the equipment is the addition of short pieces of hose to carry the feed from the hopper to the furrow so it will not be scattered. The failure to get good stands of meadows and pastures contributes greatly to the cost of farming in Kentucky so it is expected that many farmers will try "band seeding" this fall and next spring.

Low prices of livestock may encourage more efficient production practices. Here are two of the most important practices that every Kentucky farmer should consider:

(1) Cull now. It always pays to cull poor producers, whether dairy, beef, sheep, hogs or poultry, but now with lower prices and higher costs its more important than ever to eliminate culs from the herds and flocks. Slow and late breeders, sires or dams that produce poor offspring, rogues, unhealthy and other undesirable animals should be sold for slaughter—even if at a loss—before winter. It's doubly important that breeders of purebreds initiate an intensive culling program. Too many cull purebreds have already been sold into herds as foundation animals.

(2) Utilize pastures better. The maximum use of pastures for livestock feed reduces the cost of production. The development of "accumulated winter pastures," the fuller use of small grain cover crops, the use of sudan grass for drought insurance, and the making of grass silage are all important factors in lowering the cost of livestock production.

Looking Backwards. After World War I, about 33 years ago, hog prices dropped from $20 to $7; wheat from $2.50 to 90c; corn from $1.80 to 42c and other farm products in like proportion. Those are some of the reasons why farmers last month overwhelmingly accepted the wheat control program.

Bailing Point. It made me boil a few days ago when I read and heard reports that the cost of living had gone up again due to higher prices of farm products. At the same time, I see that the farmers' share of the market basket dollar has dropped to 44 cents.

PUBLICATION DETAILS WITH DAIRY CATTLE

A healthy cow, bred to a good bull, will usually produce a strong, healthy calf. It is she who properly fed and managed. So states a new circular on raising calves, published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Suggestions are given on the care of cows before they calve, on the delivery of the calf, and the raising of heifers to make good herd replacements.

A lot of good information for dairymen is included in the circular. Following, for instance, are the minimum ages and weights at which heifers of the various breeds should be bred: Jerseys, 15 months and 500 pounds; Guernseys, 15 months and 550 pounds; Ayrshires, 18 months and 600 pounds; Holsteins, 18 months and 700 pounds; and Brown Swiss, 20 months and 850 pounds.

PERFECTION

A lot of people don't know what that word means—those who have never used a Perfection product. Perfection means perfect, or I would say the best, especially when you talk about stoves. Perfection makes the greatest Electric Range any housewife ever cooked on and one very cheap to operate.

Perfection makes the BEST oil heater on the market the most heat for the least money and a fireproof with a ten year guarantee, but they did not have to guarantee those fireproofs, because we took one heater apart that had been used hard every year for 12 years and the bowl was not even pitted. The oil heater has an automatic blower that runs when your stove gets hot and stops when the temperature cools a little. It is available with thermostat control if you want it, also has a pilot light that will burn three days on a gallon of oil—never have to turn it out.

These Perfection Heaters come in four sizes, but in buying any oil heater always buy one large enough. Perfection also makes the portable oil heater which burns kerosene for cool day both rooms to take the chill off before you start the furnace or put up the large heater. Perfection also makes a very nice small gas heater which we have this year.

And one of the greatest additions to Perfection line is that Electric Water Heater—they may cost you $10.00 more to buy than some other heaters but I'll bet they are worth $50.00 more. Perfection Products are made to last. I don't know how long Perfection Stove Company has been in business but 10 years ago I took a three burner Perfection Cook Stove in on trade that had been used 30 years, put two new burners on it, sold it for $10.00 and it is still in use today.

If you are going to buy an oil heater this fall—Come to CONRAD'S and buy a Perfection. Brewster will do you a wonderful job installing it and we guarantee all Perfection products to do the job. Mrs. Sandlin just came in and bought a Perfection Portable Oil Heater.

George Houston over on Taylor Mill called to bring him a New Perfection Oil Heater and 150 gallon tank. Brewster set up a Perfection Oil Heater for Bobby Benton and wife, on same trip he set up a Seigler Oil Heater for Floyd Shields and wife. Brewster was back on the job today after a two weeks vacation. He put down a floor of Armstrong linoleum for Katherine Robinson who is moving in the Ryle Apartments.

Grandma Clifton and George came in and bought fence and steel posts—Brewster delivered them. Then Elizabeth Cox came after Rathbone to kill tobacco worms—while in the store she was looking at one of those beautiful Perfection electric ranges, and bought one of the best models I had. Brewster will install it tomorrow. Mrs. Robert Hawkins, on Moffett Road, called for me to send her enough Bolce outside wire, linseed oil and turpentine to paint her house. I sent her six gallons of paint, as Bolce paint is thick and it goes a long way. Robert Chesman bought his boy a toy police car to ride in.

Had lots of lookers for heating stoves today. We have sold several, however, the weather is a little too warm yet. Brewster set up two Perfection oil heaters today for George Black at Beaver. Virgie Reed bought a used oil heater—she can't carry coal anymore. Rev. Howard from Gardnersville, drove all the way down here to get a cup leather for his pitcher pump. He had tried several places but they did not carry that size, but CONRAD had it. Come to CONRAD when you fail other places, but why try other places and waste your time. Come to CONRAD'S in the first place.

Thurman Poe, over between Dry Ridge and Owenton, stopped and called me away from the supper table to get a water pump to pump water out of Eagle Creek for his cattle—he had tried everywhere in Covington, and could not find what he wanted, but when he stopped at CONRAD'S he found just what he wanted. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges, down at Beaver, bought Bolce ground coat and Bolce floor enamel to paint around her rug. Everett Jones bought stove pipe, bolts, glass and loaded up his passengers—he has a load every day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Houston, over on Taylor Mill, were in today looking at Perfection oil heaters and a 150-gallon oil tank. Mrs. Alvin New from Decoursey stopped in for three gallons of red roof paint—Mr. New, who has been one of my best paint customers, is sick in bed—Doc says he had a light stroke—we hope he gets out soon. I saw Chick carrying out more linoleum rugs today—I wonder where they all go. Bolce brought down another shipment of paint today—we sure are selling that paint this year. Mr. Baker from over in Gallatin county bought pipe fittings, cow bells and a gallon of aluminum paint.

Groger brought in six Day and Nite coal heaters—this is a fine coal heater and sells for less money than other magazine type coal heaters. Omer Kite and Ed Kennedy blew in today in a hurry—Omer bought squirrel shells and back home they went. J. V. Walton also bought squirrel shells, then he found a bathroom scale and he bought them. Kenneth Connelly and wife brought in some road signs for chick to mount on galvanized pipe—the homesteaders over in their neighborhood are sponsoring this designating different roads in their community—every county should have these signs on every road.

New Equipment Will Improve Rural Service

The Walton Volunteer Fire Department each year offers Rural Fire Protection to persons living in the area around Walton, at annual rates. According to Chief Russell Groger, this service is now being offered for the coming year.

Since the department has purchased a new Mack pumper, with a 500-gallon booster tank, the service will be greatly increased. This new pumper will be used on all country runs, if possible, which also carries a portable pump for use in ponds and cisterns.

Chief Groger announces the following boundaries which are eligible for service: To a point on U. S. Highway 25, 4 miles South of Walton; East on the Branch-Piner Road, 2 miles; West on Ky. 16 to Eads Road; North to Froggton Road; West to Duck Head, on U. S. Highway 42, and Walton-Nicholson Road to Green Road. Circulars will be distributed to all in this area the first of next week, giving details.

By special arrangement, all the patrons of this service in the Holly exchange may call Walton firemen by asking for Walton Fire Department 2000.

Rates, as announced, are: New members, first year, three buildings or more, $15.00, two buildings $10.00, and one building $5.00. If you are a member, renewal rates are, three buildings $5.00, two buildings $3.00, and one building $2.00. The fiscal year for this protection is from October 1, 1953 to September 30, 1954.

Persons Retiring Should Consult Soc. Sec. Office

Self-employed persons over age 65 who have retired January 1953, or expect to retire before January 1954, would do well to consult with their social security office before the end of September, according to Joseph T. Ware, manager of the Covington social security office. In some cases, Ware indicated, a delay in filing an application until the last three months of the year may result in somewhat lower monthly old-age insurance payments. But, he emphasized, the problem is limited to only a few of the self-employed persons retiring this year, and does not at all affect individuals who intend to continue operating their businesses after this year.

Social Security payments are tied in to the individual's average monthly earnings over the years since 1950 when social security coverage was extended to the self-employed. Average earnings are figured by dividing the total earnings covered by social security by the number of months elapsed after 1950. Since under the law, earnings from self-employment are reported and counted only once a year—after the individual has filed his income tax return—the 1953 earnings of a self-employed person filing this year cannot be counted in figuring his average earnings.

If application is made before the end of September, the situation is eased somewhat by the fact that under the law a period of up to six months before the calendar quarter in which the application is filed may be ignored in the calculation of average earnings. This means that the individual's total net income from self-employment for the two calendar years, 1951 and 1952, will be divided by a corresponding 24 months. If application is filed after September, however, the same total net income in most cases must be divided by 27 months. Therefore, Ware suggests that self-employed persons who have retired this year or who plan to retire before January, visit the Covington social security office before the end of this month. Members of his staff will be glad, Ware said, to discuss with each the advantages of his filing during this month or waiting until later.

Stay SOUTH, Young Man!

It's FALL — and that means back to school again.
Perhaps this is your last year — so you'll bear down on the books a little more. You'll look ahead as you haven't before — pulling your dreams for the future out of the clouds and bringing them down to earth.
Hold fast to those dreams, young man. Stay South and see them come true! For right here at home, in the Southland you know and live in and love, a great new "opportunity land" is coming of age, where dreams can take root and grow into reality.
In Southern industry, agriculture and commerce, new frontiers are opening up on every hand. Here, horizons are limitless for young men of courage, competence and vision. You are the youth of the South today. You will be the leaders of the South tomorrow.
Look ahead — stay South, young man!

WHEAT SOWN WHEN HESSIAN FLY GONE

Growing wheat for grain requires that seeding be delayed until after Hessian flies are gone, according to the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

In general, these dates are: Northern Kentucky, after Oct. 6; Central Kentucky, after Oct. 9, and for southern counties, after Oct. 12.

If wheat is grown only for pasture, it may be sown any time. In fact, it should be sown rather early, so as to make a good growth in early fall.

For grain, recommended varieties for Kentucky are Vigo, Thorne and Clorkan. Almost any variety may be grown for pasture.

Nearly 300 farmers attended two irrigation demonstrations in Whitley county.

BY DR. KENNETH F. FOREMAN

Scripture: Philimon.
Brotherhood Reading: Isaiah 61:1-3, 10-11.

Higher Brotherhood

Lesson for Sept. 27, 1953

ONE small note, from one Christian gentleman to another, was saved and a copy of it included in the collection of letters and stories that became our New Testament. The writer, gentleman though he was, wrote from a jail in the capital city; the addressee had never seen the writer, though he must have heard of him. The letter was not mailed, but carried by hand, by a slave named Onesimus, which means "Useful" or "Valuable." It did not seem the right name for this slave, because he had run away from his master and thought he could hide in the great city. Some- Dr. Foreman how or other he got into jail, and had met a more famous prisoner Paul. Through Paul's influence (the never thought any one beneath his notice) this Onesimus had become a Christian, and Paul had persuaded him to go back where he belonged, taking to his master Philemon the little note that bears his name.

How Reform Comes

This little letter, showing Paul at his charming best, suggests thought along three lines. One is the way Christianity comes to transform society. Christian religion, given its freedom, will do more than transform individuals; it will change society. When Paul wrote this letter, slavery was taken for granted everywhere. Some of Paul's best friends were slave owners as Philemon was. Paul had no intention of encouraging Onesimus to stay in Rome. Indeed it would seem he had challenged the slave to prove that his conversion was genuine, by going back and giving himself up. That was (say) around 62 A. D. Nowadays in our America slavery is a thing of the past, so far as law and enlightened public opinion are concerned. Christians north and south are glad it is gone. Philemon, or rather the ideas in the letter to Philemon, sowed the seed that resulted in the vanishing of slavery. There we learn that all Christians are brothers; that even a slave (this would have been news to many Romans and Greeks) was a human soul with human responsibilities and rights. Not even a slave is or can be a thing. Once that idea took hold of people, slavery was done for. It can flourish today only in lands like Russia where Christian religion has been crushed.

Christ and the Individual

Though Christ converts society more slowly than individuals, he converts society through converted individuals. The letter to Philemon shows what happens to one man, now, when Christ takes hold of him. Before his conversion, Onesimus had been a thief, a fugitive from duty. Afterwards, he was willing to go back, make good his theft, and take what was coming to him. Paul pleads that he may be taken back no longer just as a slave, but as a brother-Christian; but Onesimus did not know, of course, whether Philemon would take this advice. But he was willing to take his chance. A pagan owner and a pagan slave made a bad combination. A Christian owner and a pagan slave, or the other way around, would not be a good combination. But when they were both brother-Christians the whole relationship would be different. Once Christianize master and slave, and the end of slavery was in sight.

What Christian Brotherhood Is

People talk of the brotherhood of man; but the brotherhood of Christians is a higher brotherhood, indeed the highest possible. Christians recognize in one another not simply that they are all human, which is true enough, but that they are all Christ's brothers, they accept God for their Father—which goes much deeper than singing about him. Accepting the brotherhood of man, one can look at any man anywhere and think: He too is a man as I am; we belong to one race. But accepting the brotherhood of Christ, one can look at any Christian anywhere and think: He too is a man for whom Christ died as he died for me; we belong to one family. How deeply this enters into the heart, only Christians who have begun to realize this kind of brotherhood can know.

Personal

If someone in your family doesn't go to Church, please DO NOT SHOW that person this message. The folks to whom it is addressed will probably use it themselves, and they'll prefer to think about it personally.

To the member of the family who stays home on Sunday:

We want to help you, and those you love! We are the churches of the community; and our sole purpose in existing is to help every family to find the happiness and strength which comes through faith in God.

But, if someone in a family ignores us, that person becomes a kind of stumbling block. His example hinders others... makes it harder for the family to build a Christian home.

He may be "all for the churches" but, if he hasn't taken his own place in our worship and work, his moral support has the same effect as indifference.

Please think this over seriously and let us have your reply next Sunday. We need your help just as you need ours.

VERONA

Mr. and Mrs. Arlyn Davenport of Falmouth, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. John Scott, and Mr. Scott and family.

Rev. and Mrs. Kelly Kennedy and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Mayro Hayden and daughter were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilson.

Mrs. Susie Glone was calling on Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Farrell, Sunday afternoon. We are glad Lawrence is home from the hospital and getting along nicely.

Johnny Borders of Erlanger, spent from Thursday until Sunday, the past week, with the John Scott family.

Mrs. America Sturdivant, Mrs. Uro Roberts, Mrs. Lizzie Noel, Mrs. Pearl Lamm, and Mrs. Pattie Waller attended the Associational meeting at Elsmere Baptist Church, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Greenwell of Elsmere, and Mrs. Fionnie Edgington of Verona, went to Harrodsburg, and visited the old fort there. It is a nice place for the younger generation to visit to just see how the older generation had to live. They just don't realize how much difference there is unless they can see it, and it is well worth anyone's time to go there just to see this historic spot.

Mrs. Vevie Webster attended the Association at Elsmere Baptist Church on Thursday and was calling on her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hobart Greenwell, until time for the meeting that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamm attended the 84th birthday of Mrs. Lamm's brother, Charlie Baker, at the home of his oldest daughter, Mrs. Landy Young. There were 120 present for the occasion. All left late wishing Mr. Baker many more happy birthdays.

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

This entire community was sorry to learn of Mrs. Mayo Smith and her nephew, Lee Giles, being in auto accident near Crestwood, Ky. We were very sorry to learn Lee has a broken limb and was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

We are glad to learn Mrs. Will House has returned home from St. Elizabeth Hospital and is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Madrox of Crittenden, and were accompanied home by his sister, Nonnie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett called on their daughter, Mary, and family, Sunday afternoon, who live near Hebron.

Mrs. Joe Sweeney and daughter, Thelma, had as guests last Wednesday for dinner, Mrs. Herman Oberjohn, Mrs. Mintie Winston, Mrs. Carraton Winston and children, all of Hebron, Mrs. Earl Hanna and Mrs. Joe Levesque and little son of Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kelley and children of Oak Ridge, entertained Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Wynford Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Riley and son, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Parsons and little son.

Paul Damon, our former superintendent of the Starfordsburg Sunday School, was presented a very nice Bible, Sunday, from the school. Mr. Damon served as superintendent for the past six years, and was always there in his place, never absent a Sunday unless sickness prevented him from being there. We wish to congratulate Mr. Damon on his faithful service to his Sundayschool and church. We are sorry to see him resign, but he thought a younger person should have his place. His son, Leslie, is now filling the place of his father and let's all pray for him that he can give as good a service as his father.

Mrs. Ora Stone, Mrs. Flo Summey and Lloyd Armstrong, all of Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Armstrong of Lexington, and Mrs. Lena Pelley of Michigan, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger.

CARD OF THANKS—

It seems like the word "thanks" is so little to say to the ones that have been so nice to me in time of need. But I want to show my appreciation to my friends and relatives for every act of kindness and worthy deed shown me during my recent illness and a special "thanks" to those who so tenderly cared for my home and family, the many cards, fruit, food, visits and last but not least prayers which mean so much. We know prayer has divided seas, rolled up flowing rivers, made flinty rocks gush into fountains, quenched flames of fire, muzzled lions, disarmed vipers, burst open iron gates, recalled souls from eternity, conquered the strongest devils, commanded legions of angels down from heaven. Prayer has bridled and changed the raging passion of man and destroyed vast armies of proud, daring, blustering atheists. Prayer has brought one man from the bottom of the sea and carried another in a chariot of fire to heaven. What has not prayer done! Let us all join in prayer and make this a better world to live in. 11-39* —ERMA STOCKMAN

TIME TO REPAIR

When I drive through the country and around town here and see the roofs that need painting—when $10 worth of paint will save a $200 roofing bill—but some never paint until it is too late—then I see houses and barns just rotting down, and I know these people can buy paint to put on them. Some put up new gutters and never paint them—in a few years they put up new ones again. Time to check your furnace pipe—you know the soot eats them up during the summer—get ready for winter, it is drawing near.

Have you tried our rubber base floor enamel for your porch floor—it really covers and has much more body than regular floor enamel. We sell lots of Chief asbestos fiber roof coating for roof roofing and old metal roofing—it covers and seals and is very cheap. If your furnace needs new pipe, give us a call, we'll install it for you. Brewster just put up new pipe for Mr. Forest Thompson and the Zion Baptist Church. We will set up and clean out your heater. Joe C. Kennedy bought a White Mountain ice cream freezer, so they can have ice cream all the time.

Don Murray bought a large Perfection oil heater and a 150-gallon oil tank. Brewster will install them tomorrow, September 16, one of those hot, dry summer days with fall coming in next week—not many people in town. Marford Craft is putting a new metal roof on his house that he bought from the Walton Lumber Co. He bought a gallon of roof cement from me to flash around the chimney. Mrs. Clifford Cooke was in getting pipe to make legs for a fuel oil tank. Mrs. Betty Adams took home furnace pipe for Billy to put up.

George and William Ruth were down getting more Bolce paint—they have used Bolce paint for years. Omar Kite was in today—bought several pairs of gloves and complained a little about the gun shells he bought last week—said there were no shot in them and wouldn't even kill a squirrel—do you suppose it was the shells or Omar? Carroll Johnson was over from Verona—he got Wyr-O-Glass and a Perfection portable oil heater. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Franks from Sherman, bought a large size stove board to go under their oil heater.

Leonard Cook sent up for five more gallons of that Bolce white paint. Vera Wright came after more Bolce outside white paint—she is painting her store. George Clifton came after angle iron, bolts, cold sheets, hack saw blades and files—he is making a truck flat. I have had several calls for aluminum scap shovels and dairy barn scoops—we received a shipment of them today. I sold another one of those paddle pumps today—these have proven very successful this year and we have sold several of them. Floyd Seabree bought the largest Warm Morning heater made for his grocery store.

He has to keep those vegetables from freezing and that big stove will do it, as he has had one of them for years. Elmer Richards was in today, just taking it easy and resting—he works hard and if you don't think laying that linoleum isn't hard work, just try it. Kyle Nicholson and his crew just finished building me a garage—they sure do a nice job—concrete block, concrete floor with steel overhead door—I am very proud of it—should have built it 10 years ago, as I have paid out enough storage to pay for it.

I bought Brewster a new Chevrolet truck so he can keep right on giving you the good service he has in the past. Mrs. Edwin Johnston couldn't understand how he can clean an oil heater and not get any soot on the floor, but he can. When you need merchandise or service Call 23—Conrad Hardware will be there.

Have you ever tried the new modern way to burn your plant bed next year by using Dowfume MC2 Chemical. You buy a heavy plastic cover 10 1/2 feet wide and 104 feet long, three plastic tubes and nine cans of Dowfume MC2 for $40.00 for first year but the second year all you buy is nine cans of Dowfume for each 100 feet and that cost only $7.65. You can use this cover year after year for you only have to leave it on bed for 48 hours then you can roll it up and put it away—Try it and you will always use Dowfume. Saturday started off very slow but improved as the day went by. Mr. John Clark from over on Riggs Road in Kenton County came in and said I want three gallons of that Bolce Outside White Paint, two quarts of shatter green and a gallon of turpentine—now he has used Bolce Paint before and knows how good Bolce Paint is, as I have told you over and over again.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hon stopped in to look at Perfection Oil Heaters, they were just what anyone would want if they took time to inspect, so they bought the large size. If anyone would compare Perfection with other makes of oil heaters they could see where they get more for their money when they buy Perfection. James Messmer bought roof cement to repair the gutters. Mike Link bought 10 gallons of Asbestos fiber roof coating. Omar Kite came after pump tubing to repair his cistern pump, he sure was talking today. Mr. Obermeier over on LLL Highway was in getting a lift pump for his milk house. Brewster set up Walter Hon's Perfection Oil Heater he bought last week.

We received a large shipment of 3/4-inch and 1/2-inch soft copper tubing and fittings. We also carry some 3/4-inch copper.

We have several new customers over on Taylor Mill, and Riggs Road—Why don't you try CONRAD HARDWARE instead of going to Covington.

Man Killed by Train At Kensington, Sat'day

Northbound Freight Hits Gullion Jeep

Ezra Gullion, 47, of Percival Road, near Walton, was killed Saturday night by a northbound freight on the Southern Railroad at the Kensington Lake crossing, just off Route 25, about two miles north of Walton. He was driving a jeep. R. E. Brugh, Boone County coroner, said the train that struck Mr. Gullion was a fast freight, headed toward Cincinnati. Mr. Brugh said the engineer said he blew the whistle for the crossing as Mr. Gullion approached the tracks, but the driver proceeded, apparently without hearing anything.

Coroner Brugh said Mr. Gullion suffered a skull fracture and a left leg fracture as well as other injuries.

Mr. Gullion, a carpenter, and member of Concord Baptist Church, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ella Gullion; a brother, Robert Gullion of Verona, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, September 29, at 2:00 p. m., in the Pleasant View Baptist Church, Cincinnati, following in the Pleasant View Cemetery.

Hamilton Funeral Home, Verona, had charge of arrangements.

Home Furnishing Leaders Meet In Covington

Fifty-four home furnishings leaders from the 27 clubs affiliated with the Kenton County Homemakers Association assembled at the YMCA, Covington, last Tuesday, for the first training school of the year, which was presented by Mrs. Myra Button, home furnishings specialist from the Extension Service, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

"Broided Rugs" was the subject for discussion. The morning session was devoted to a demonstration of materials and tools needed for making a rug. Each leader planned a rug. Mrs. Button advised using only wool material and stated that it took $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ pound of medium weight material for each square foot of rug.

Materials for rugs may be purchased from clothing factories, mill ends from woolen mills, remnants, old and used clothing.

Bearcats Defeat New Haven For First Football Win

The Walton-Berona Bearcats lost their second six-man football game of the season, September 17, to Hebron by the score of 45-20. Playing without the services of two regulars, Roberts and Lay, who were injured in an auto accident, the "Cats played inspired ball most of the game.

Last Friday night, the Walton-Berona Bearcats played their third football game of the season and defeated the New Haven Tigers by the score of 50-0.

Coach Durham says the team has improved considerably on defense. Touchdowns were scored by the following: R. Chipman 2, W. Ryan 3, C. Roberts 1, and D. Courtney 1. Roberts scored three out of five tries for extra point by place kicking.

During the last half, Coach Durham played his second team: Lipscomb, Durham, Cook, Beach, J. Scott, and Grubbs. B. Poole also substituted on this team. They held the New Haven regulars scoreless the last half.

The defensive line play of Brown, Courtney, and George Scott was outstanding. These boys playing their first season as regulars have showed constant improvement.

D. A. R. Hears Description Of The Coronation

After the usual summer recess, the first meeting of the Capt. John Lillard Chapter, D. A. R., was held September 19, at the home of the new Regent, Mrs. Charles Alshin, Crittenden, with Mrs. Lloyd Watson, Miss Carol Brown and Mrs. Lois Allen as co-hostesses.

The Regent announced that Miss Barbara Blackburn and Barbara Norton would represent the chapter as guests at the district meeting at Mayville, Oct. 2, and appointed Mrs. W. O. Blackburn chairman of the chapter for POW Day, October 3. Bringing out the point that Citizenship is a nation's greatest gift, Miss Louise Conrad, National Defense Chairman, gave much information of interest in her report.

Mrs. Lloyd Watson, program chairman, asked Miss Laura Dickerson, State program chairman, to introduce the speakers for the meeting.

Miss Martha Blaine, corresponding secretary, reviewed very effectively an article on the Constitution of the United States of America, taken from the D.A.R. magazine. It was pointed out that our Constitution, signed September 17, 1787, is the oldest written document still functioning in the world today, and its survival is proof of its value.

Thirteen colonies of four million people on the Atlantic coast have grown into a mighty nation of over 150 million, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with the highest standard of living upon earth and the greatest technological advancement, yet so well in the main has the Constitution fitted economic, social, and political changes that only twenty-two amendments have been added, and these include the ten in the original Bill of Rights. Others are needed, but any needed amendments can be added without destroying the document. Communists are taught that change must come through violence and revolution, but in America there is no need for those who want change to resort to revolution, for under the supreme law of the land there is an orderly and legal method of adjusting the powers of the government to the will of the people." In closing, Miss Blaine read James J. Metcalfe's poem, "Our Constitution."

A vivid eyewitness description of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth was included in a most interesting and informative talk on her travels abroad by the guest speaker, Mrs. Gilbert Rowland, Williamstown. She and her husband visited England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Portugal and the Azores. The reason for their trip was the wedding of their son, a sergeant in the Air Corps, who married an English girl. Mrs. Rowland displayed articles acquired on the trip, showed pictures and related many entertaining experiences.

Others attending the meeting were: Mesdames Watson Tranter, Robt. Hume, John Jett, W. O. Blackburn, R. F. DeMolay, Abram Hodges, J. W. Bennett, Flora Maddox, Nancy True, T. A. Perry, Gayle Lusby, Evan Hance, Guy Conrad, Otis Lanier, Alva Randall, John Ranker, Floyd Conrad, Mabel Walden, F. K. Struve, Sally Odor, and Misses Florence Conrad, Elizabeth Fiege, Mary Martin, and Louise Fiege.

Son For Readnours

Mr. and Mrs. James "Buddy" Readnour have a new son, born Saturday, September 26, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He has been named James Allen.

Local Firemen to Make Inspections

School, civic and religious organizations in Kentucky were urged today by State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood, Jr., to support Fire Prevention Week programs in their cities. The week will be October 4-10.

"The toll of fire in Kentucky reached an all-time high of $13,812,434 in 1952," the fire marshal said. "Carelessness was the principal cause. Ninety per cent of these fires would never happen if we could eliminate carelessness."

"Careless smoking habits, electrical circuits that have been added to until they are overloaded, and faulty heating equipment are the prime causes of fire. Proper attention given to these matters can reduce tremendously the needless loss of life and property."

In Boone county reported fire losses last year totaled $9,951 for a per capita loss of 77 cents.

A statewide radio fire drill and poster contest is being staged for the schools as a feature of Fire Prevention Week.

Walton Fire Department will send out Fire Prevention committee, which will inspect all local business houses and look over their fire extinguishers and make recommendations as to fire safety. All business places complying with the committee's suggestions will be awarded "a certificate" denoting their compliance. If you have a fire extinguisher in your home, now is time to have it recharged or get a new one.

Open House Monday

Monday night, October 5, Walton Fire Department will hold open house and all residents are invited to inspect all equipment. Refreshments will be served. Come—your presence will encourage your firemen!

National Letter Writing Week

Here is your chance to bring happiness to many folks you knew but never have the chance to see. By writing them a letter holds that friendship that can slip away very easily as time goes by.

National Letter Writing Week begins October 4 and ends October 10, and is ample time for you to find those addresses you have stored away and write those people a letter. You will be surprised what a nice newsy letter can do. Give it a try, mail your special letter in that week.

A Free Movie

The Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department has gone all out to obtain enough films for an enjoyable evening for you, and one that will educate you on fire prevention and the exact meaning of Fire Prevention Week, which will be observed October 4-10.

The name of these movies are, "Triangle of Fire," and "Stupid Carelessness, the Clown," with one or two more films, if they are available.

These movies will be shown at Simon Kenton High School's auditorium, Thursday, October 8 at 8 p. m. It is essential that you attend to help make this Fire Prevention Week a great success in our community. This is given for your pleasure and the Fire Department's pleasure. Please attend.

Girl Scout Leaders

Any person interested in obtaining a leadership in the Girl Scout organization, either in this locality or other parts of this county, should contact the Licking Valley Girl Scout Council, 403 York St., Newport, Ky., or call Juniper 2275. More girls are joining this organization each year, causing an overload on the present leaders and is causing these new members to be slighted in obtaining the idea of Scouting and the principal functioning of a Girl Scout Troop.

It is amazing what a few weeks training can do to an adult to make them proficient in training these girls to have a wonderful time in the winter, during little get-togethers and during the summer when camping, hiking and sightseeing is the topic. Every one of these occasions is an education to both the leader and the Scout. So, if you are interested, contact your local Scout leader and they will show you what a wonderful time can be had.

Faster Mail

The Post Office has announced that some of the first class mail is moving by the air mail method, but it does not mean that you may place a 3c stamp on an air mail envelope. This is a trial for mail moving either way between Washington and Chicago, and between Chicago and New York. It is expected to bring faster deliveries to people within 150 miles of those cities. First claim to plane space goes to regular air mail, passengers and cargo, then, if there is room left, the experimental mail.

Engineering Salaries

If your boy is engineer-minded and looking for career ideas, he may want to think about chemical engineering. Salaries in this field top those of all other engineers, a study by the National Society of Professional Engineers shows, and others, in order: Mining and metallurgical, mechanical, electrical, civil. Nine out of ten engineers earned last year $5,120 last year. Twenty-five percent made more than $10,980, and 10% more than $17,190.

Hay production in Anderson county is considered the best in three seasons, and enough to winter all livestock.

TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

When epidemic strikes and takes its sudden and deadly count of the young, it tears at our heartstrings for there is so little we can do about it. Such tragedies may occur once in a year or two. But the highway toll of young innocents produces a casualty list every day, year after year. There is much we can do about it, for we are responsible.

In one year 4,300 young lives are snuffed out, over 200,000 injured and maimed for life. Three out of every four of these lives sacrificed to carelessness are from 5 to 14 years of age. Too young to die!

School safety patrols are holding down the casualties of children going to or coming from school. Two out of three are killed while outside of school supervision. That's the big reason why it's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, to protect little children. Be alert for the unpredictable actions of youngsters at play, crossing streets, chasing balls and riding bikes.

Little ones are thoughtless of danger; perhaps, too, they trust grown folks to guard them. Don't be the one to carry on your conscience the life of a child. Slow down, be alert where children may be at your mercy.

SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

farm facts FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS

by Wm. C. Johnstone
AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE
KENTUCKY BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Conserve Cattle and Feed—Feed supplies in Kentucky are "spotty"—in some areas they are adequate or abundant, in other places there is no hay or silage, and little corn. Pastures are going into the winter in poor condition and with no surplus growth. It will be a problem for many farmers to carry even a part of their breeding herd through a severe winter. I consulted Ray Hopper, U. of K. Beef Cattle Specialist, about the problem and he came up with some very useful suggestions for wintering beef cattle. In some cases, he says, cattle can be carried over on ground corn-cobs, fodder, straw or rough hay with 1½ to 2½ pounds of high-powered supplement such as can be mixed or bought commercially. See your County Agent or write to the College of Agriculture in Lexington for the mimeograph entitled, "Suggestions for Wintering Beef Cattle."

For Late Seeding Use Wheat or Rye—Many thousands of acres of land prepared last summer for alfalfa, pastures and small grains are still unseeded because of the dry weather. It is already too late to sow legumes, and the danger of winter killing of oats and barley increases rapidly after early October. As the season progresses wheat and rye become the most dependable kinds of grain to sow and some farmers will seed them even as late as Thanksgiving rather than leave their land unprotected. Even when seeded late, wheat and rye, if properly fertilized, may provide early spring grazing and produce a profitable grain crop in 1954.

Fertilizer and Limestone Are Still the Cheapest productive materials that the farmer has to buy—provided that he buys only the kinds that he needs and uses them efficiently. According to figures recently released by one of the experiment stations, the income from a can of milk today will buy 30% less labor, 15% less machinery and 50% more lime or fertilizer than it did in 1940.

Fall Applications of Fertilizers on pastures will help revive the growth when rain starts and provides food reserves for winter survival and early spring growth. Three hundred or more pounds to the acre of a fertilizer such as a 5-10-10 is effective on most Kentucky soils.

The Naming of Bullock Pen Creek

—By A. M. Yealey—

How did "Bullock Pen Creek" receive its name? During the year 1898 I passed five months of my time near this creek and asked old people, who lived near by, why it was so called. Many and different answers were given, so I did some research study and I think my answer is satisfactory.

When Kentucky was admitted as a state in 1792, the legislature realized that something should be done about the water courses in the state. Therefore, many acts were passed from 1792 up to 1844, which pertained to the decending navigation of these rivers by removal of rock, snags, logs and trees.

The Licking river being one of these, an early survey was made, 1794, and during the next six years the river was cleared of its main obstructions, but branches of the river still carried much debris into the main stream, and another act was passed by the Legislature, 1804, allowing companies to be chartered to improve not only the main river source but also made provisions for clearing the tributaries of the river.

The first company chartered was known as the Kentucky River Company in 1804, and the Governor appointed 10 commissioners to have the work done. David Bullock had charge of the Licking river. In preparing for clearing the river and its branches it became necessary to use oxen and horses to move the great piles of rubbish that had gathered along their banks. In order to accomplish this task Mr. Bullock had pens erected along this small stream in order to keep them out of reach of high water and the flat lands had more grass for them to graze upon. These pens often extended into the stream inclosing eddies of water so as the animals could quench their thirst. By this method animals not in use every day required little attention.

The reader should know that there are two of these small streams by the same name. One is in Kenton county and the other in Grant county. The one in Kenton is a branch of Banklick Creek, which is a tributary of the Licking river. The one in Grant is a branch of Ten Mile creek, which is a tributary of Eagle creek. The pens built by Bullock became models and patterns and quite a number were built along or near the old Ridge road where a water course was available. This gave the stock that was driven to market from the upper counties a period of rest before reaching Covington markets.

Find the correct use for each acre of land. Make a plan for your farm that will put each acre to work at its best use. Your Soil Conservation District can help you do this.

Kentucky's Burley Tobacco Crop is reported as generally good this year with growers in the middle of the cutting season. Here tobacco is being piled after cutting and before being taken in for hanging.

Natural Bridge State Park is a good place to spend an autumn day and this observation point affords a wonderful view of the park, which is mostly a forest area. Overnight accommodations at the park will be kept open until November 1.

ELECTRICAL TIPS FOR THE HOME

FLOOR OUTLETS are the answer to home owners who want electrical connections in unorthodox places. Use them for island furniture groupings; near room dividers which may contain a study desk, radio, TV; or in front of a floor-to-ceiling glass area which prohibits the use of wall outlets.

WINDOW OUTLETS If you're building or remodeling, consider a window outlet for valance lighting. Have the outlet placed at the top of the window frame and as near to it as possible so that the valance will cover the device. Switch control can be on the valance itself or from the door.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union
Sunday School Lesson
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

World Planning

Lesson for October 4, 1953

THE man who invented the word "Utopia" knew what he was doing. Sir Thomas More first used the name as the title of a book in which he described the island of Utopia, a place where everything is perfect—climate, laws, schools, people, everything. But Sir Thomas was having his little joke, for "Utopia" comes from two Greek words meaning No Place. He knew there is no real place in this world where everything is perfect; being a saint and a sensible man he suspected there never would be. No Christian has ever expected to see a perfect world this side of heaven.

Why Christians Plan
Nevertheless, Sir Thomas More lived an active life, working hard to make the England of his day more like the Utopia of his dreams—or rather, more like the heaven of which Utopia might have been a suburb. For he was a Christian, and Christians either accept the world as it is and imitate it, or even deny it again; all critics; or they run away from it, shutting themselves away from it, leaving it to dirt, disease and the devil. (It might be asked, are such persons Christian at all? That is another question.) Almost all Christians plan on a small scale. Most of us live in a rather small world, and in the tiny world of our daily life we like to make plans that are Christian. In the home, for example: an unplanned home, higgledy-piggledy, with everything in a continual uproar, is not the kind of home we want to live in. Christian young people plan to make their marriage and their home as near like heaven as they can—and that takes planning and hard work too.

Widening Circles
Are we of today better Christians than our ancestors were? John Ballie asks the question in his "The Belief in Progress." His answer is No, if you mean by the question: Are Christians today more devoted, more saintly, than eight or eighteen centuries ago? If we have advanced beyond our forefathers, it is not in being better men personally. But John Ballie thinks, and it is a thought worth pondering, that we can and sometimes do have a wider view of the area of Christian action. Let us ask the question: Are we cleaner than our ancestors were? No, if you mean devotion to the ideal of "cleanliness next to Godliness." But while the citizen of 1800 was personally as clean as the soap of those days would permit, his kitchen and his streets and his water supply were not clean by our standards. Now planning for cleanliness includes such things as mosquito extermination and bonds for a sewer system. So it is with Christian planning. If you want to keep your home Christian you will need to do some thinking about all those wider circles that affect the home: schools, government, business life, war and peace.

Suppose We Don't Plan?
A Christian who wants a Christian home but will not join nor work in his local P.T.A. is missing one of his best chances to work toward the home he wants. If you want a Christian home and take no interest in politics, you may by your very neglect be turning over the control of your community to crooks and exposing your children to the kind of community that crooks operate. If you want a Christian home but think that government is no concern of yours, you may find your congressman voting for measures and policies that produce or hasten war, and you know very well that war can break up homes faster and more painfully than any other thing unless it is liquor. We must never forget that the devil is planning all the time, and his henchmen are planning. If Christians do not do some counter-planning, we are fools. Furthermore, we must remember that God has a plan for this world which he made and loves and has not forsaken. The Bible gives us the lines along which God's servants have always worked.

SUPPER FOR THREE

Three men ate supper together one night in the little town of Emmaus, near Jerusalem.

Two of them were sorrowing disciples whose Master had been crucified.

The third was the risen Christ. Himself, though His dejected companions had not recognized Him.

At the table Jesus broke bread as He had in the Upper Room. Suddenly, the eyes of the disciples were opened. They beheld their Master!

Next Sunday is WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY. Christians the world over will gather in their churches to celebrate the Lord's Supper. Again in the breaking of bread men will realize that Christ lives—that He stands in our midst today.

And the joy of the disciples at Emmaus will be multiplied a millionfold in every city cathedral, every village chapel.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of a better world. It is a storehouse of spiritual values, a source of strength, a source of inspiration. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) children's sake. (2) For his own sake. (3) For his of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself. The Church needs your personal support. Plan to go to Bible study.

SAYS STATE NEEDS MORE SHADE TREES

Trees are one of the richest heritages of Kentucky, says Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky, in a circular called, "How to Plant Shade Trees."

Unless plantings are made on a wide scale, he continues, there will soon be a scarcity of good trees in many sections of the state. Many of the old trees are dying, and only by extensive plantings will it be possible to prevent the loss of one of the state's principal attractions.

In the fall, after the leaves have matured and most of them have fallen, is one of the best times to plant trees. See a county agent or write to the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington, for a copy of the circular, No. 371.

WALTON

There are several towns in the U. S. A. by the name of Walton, but you will not find one like Walton, Ky. Its location, size and the number of business places for a city of 1,350. You enter Walton from the North you see DeMoisey Gas plant, one of Walton's largest business places, then Guy St. Clair's Service Station, then Billy Acree's Service Station, then the Bussemeyer Flower Shop, then to the right is the Rouse Sign Service, and Yealey, the plumber, then B-M Garage, Walton Locker Plant, Beigle Bros. Food Market, Rice Calendar's Blacksmith Shop, Walton Feed Mill, Emerson Young's Restaurant and Store, Walton Tie Factory, operated by Evelyn Sizemore, which employs 40 women, then the C. Pruett Skating Rink, Groger Express Co., who serves the whole town and our main source of service from Cincinnati. Then Jas. E. Fells' Theater, Service Station and Oil Distributor, Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, now to Thos. Griffin, the best shoe repairman anywhere, then to Sturgeon Electric Shop, Dixie Chevrolet Sales—I must not forget the new City Building and Fire House, which all Walton is proud of, then Beatrice Cream Station, "Butch" Linton's Barber Shop, Merchants Cream Station, Henry Lipscomb Coal & Feed, Phoenix Restaurant, Ryan Dry Goods and Hardware, Blackburn's Grocery, Dixie State Bank, second largest in the county.

Then to Conner's Insurance Agency, Walton Advertiser, the fastest-growing paper in Northern Kentucky, T. O. Ballard, the barber for over 30 years, the Evalob Harp Dress Shop, Bob & Jo's Restaurant, Walton Garage, where Sook is still selling those Chrysler and Plymouth cars—he has been selling automobiles a long time; then Webster's Television Shop—when in trouble, call Doc Webster; across the street is one of the oldest business places in town, it was started before 1890 by Edwards Bros., then Franks & Fry and new Conrad Hardware; now to Mrs. Newton's Walloonian Hotel; Riddell's Food Market across the street; O. J. Struve, cabinets and sinks; Billy Acree's Ice Cream Shop, and Goodpastor's Pool Hall, Lunch Room and Liquor Store.

I must get across the street for Cameron Brakefield's Drug Store, and the Union Light, Heat & Power office, and next is the Post Office; Modern Dry Cleaners, Stephens Restaurant, Model Food Store, Walton Lumber Co., another one of our largest business places, also R. E. Brugh's Walton Black Plant, Co-Par Ready-Mix Concrete, Otis Readnour Coal & Feed; then to Lawrence Wilson's Service Station; Dunn's Service Station, and last, on the South end, is Hiner Losey's Service Station. I forgot Bell's Lunch Room and Tourist Court, also Conrad's Grocery on High Street, the Perry Tourist Court on North Main Street! also Dr. J. M. Huey, Dr. D. L. Maddox, and Dr. Paul Nolting.

John L. and Walter Vest, our attorneys, also all our Electricians, Plumbers, Building Contractors, and I know I must have missed some—I did not know it would be such a job to go through town and name all the different business places. I overlooked Matthew Sleef's Restaurant on Church Street, and Mrs. Griffin's Ice House on Depot Street, also Jammam, the plumber, at Verona Road and Main Street. You know we have the largest number of mechanics you will find in any city our size—plumbers, electricians, brick layers, carpenters, for most any job you have to do.

Walton also has lots of nice homes, churches and schools. It also has a fine water works, good streets, a fire department second to no city our size, our parking problem is under control, our police department is on the job. We are located on one of the main highways in the U. S. A. and we draw customers from five counties, besides our tourist trade. We are 20 miles from one of the greatest cities in the U. S. A., and only 60 miles from the heart of the Bluegrass Country. Wouldn't you like to live in a small city like this—if so, see Mr. Forest Thompson, our real estate man. I just about forgot C. O. Carlisle and John Hartman, oil distributors.

A fellow just came in with a fitting out of a tractor—it was a brass pipe fitting and he had been everywhere looking, but when he got to CONRAD his troubles were over because I just went to the bin and handed him one and only 15 cents—we take care of customers or try awfully hard. Nick Trapp drove in with his water pump out of order—I took him an hour to fix it, but Nick went home satisfied. Bewster has set up about ten large Perfection Oil Heaters, so now we have ten more satisfied customers. Why do you waste your money and buy oil heaters made by companies you never heard of, when everyone knows what Perfection is and they are no higher and are manufactured by the greatest stove company in the U. S. A.

Its the some with Warm Morning coal heaters, they are tops and they are "the heater" when it comes to coal. A fellow came in today for a stove grate—he bought this stove from a mail order house—he had no record, no name or number, which would be needed to get repairs. Repairs are harder to get all the time—be careful what you buy. Mr. and Mrs. Alvo Woods from Big Bone bought the best Warm Morning coal heater I had—they always buy the best. Mrs. Woods had a white enamel coal range to sell cheap—she cooks with electric. Brewster just Lawrance Menefee's furnace pipe, up at Crittenden, stopped on the way back, cleaned out John Sleef's oil heater, then set up a used oil heater for Wm. Ross at Verona. SHOP AT CONRAD'S!

Round-Up Time At Verona Lake Ranch, Sunday

It will be round-up time at Verona Lake Ranch this Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p. m., when the big Western horse show gets under way. Riding and roping Western style with Western games on horseback will provide plenty of thrills and perhaps spills during the two-hour afternoon performance. Some of the contests expected to be exciting are the Pole Bending race, Pony Express race, Wild Horse race, and the ever popular Musical Chair. There will be one event judged strictly on horsemanship for the children, 12 years and under. All contestants for the entire show who are under twenty-one (21) years of age must have their parents' consent.

Cash prizes of $5, $3 and $2, including ribbons, will be awarded for first, second and third in each event. This will be a wide open contest for anyone and many local people from Northern Kentucky are expected to try their luck. Featured in this Western round-up will be the popular Northern Kentucky Saddle Club, whose members have been seen at several local county fairs.

Many Western horse lovers are intensely interested to see how well this round-up will be attended, as Bill Scroggin, owner of Verona Lake Ranch, has great plans to make this a huge annual affair, thereby making the stakes high enough to draw contestants from far and near. At any rate, a good show has been arranged for this Sunday afternoon.

Prices will be 85 cents and 35 cents. No charge under six years. The very popular disc jockey, Marty Roberts, from radio station WCKY, will be one of the judges.

CARD OF THANKS—

Words fail to express our deep and sincere feeling toward our many friends and neighbors who have remembered us at this time. We extend special "thanks" to all those who took part in and supported the benefit softball game. We also wish to express our appreciation for the many cards and letters received. Again we say thanks to everyone who has remembered us in any way.

District Y-Teen Meet Held At Butler State Park

One hundred four Y-Teens, Y.W.C.A. members and leaders attended the Northern Area weekend conference at Butler State Park, September 25-26. Jackie Morgan, Simon Kenton High School, Area President, presided.

Highlights of the Friday meeting were the pot-luck supper at 5:30, and the group sing and stunt program at 7:00 p. m. Hebrew Y-Teens led the group in a vesper service before the girls went to their cabins for the night.

Saturday morning, at 9:15, the group assembled on the observation point of the park, which overlooks the beautiful Ohio river. The morning worship, which was led by the Morgan Y-Teens, was an inspiration to all.

During the business session at 10:15, Mrs. Mary Dan Thomas, Kentucky District Y.W.C.A. Secretary, greeted the conference. Edna Miller, Simon Kenton Y-Teens, reported on her experiences at Camp Hi-Lake, Quebec, Tennessee, last June.

The group decided to hold the Spring conference on the first Saturday in May at Blue Licks State Park. The following officers for the Spring conference were elected: President, Mary Godwin; Vice President, Jesse Caldwell; Treasurer, Bonnie Schenck; Correspondent, Dale Webster; Simon Kenton.

Mrs. Barton Johnson, Madison Avenue Christian Church, Covington, addressed the girls at 10:45 on the topic, "A Y-Teen In Today's World." Four discussion groups followed Mrs. Johnson's talk. Consultants for the groups were: Mrs. Ruby Caldwell, School Nurse, Boone County; Mrs. Helen Ruth McElroy, Home Economics Teacher, Simon Kenton; Mrs. Mary Dan Thomas and Mrs. Barton Johnson.

The theme of the luncheon at 12:30 was "Y-Teens Around the World." The delegates assembled at 1:30 to hear a panel report of the discussion groups given by the group chairman and group recorders.

The installation of the new officers by the retiring officers was a beautiful and enlightening service led by the Carrollton Y-Teens. After the installation, the girls enjoyed free time recreation in the park.

The Y-Teens joined in a friendship circle as they broke camp to go home. They hope all Y-Teen Clubs of the Northern Area can join together at Butler Park in September, 1954, for another weekend of inspiration, fellowship, program planning and fun.

Record Is Better So Far This Year

October was the high month for highway accidents deaths in 1952 and is traditionally a dangerous month for motorists, C. B. Jones, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee for Highway Safety, Frankfort, warned today.

In October, last year, 85 persons died on highways within the state, which was a rise from 64 killed last September. There were 795 highway deaths during all of 1952.

Mr. Jones said there is no apparent for October being more dangerous for motorists than other months but warned of congested highways on weekends when football fans and persons looking at fall foliage are out in force. Also, twilight driving is especially hazardous this time of year, he said.

Kentucky has a good chance of bettering its 1952 accident record if it gets by October with fewer accidents than last year, Jones said. For the last two or three months the highway death total has been running about 30 behind last year. On September 30 the total was 546, compared to 576 last September 30.

Florence Board of Trustees Are Kept Quite Busy

The Florence Board of Trustees met on September 22, and the following items came before the group for action:

A resolution was passed leading to legislation providing for the laying of water mains on U. S. Highway 42, from the end of the present main to Scott Drive; thence north on Scott Drive to Center Street; on Ash Street from Scott Drive to its end. The resolution provided for extending the water main on New Lin Avenue about 400 feet. An ordinance will be presented at a later meeting ordering the laying of these water mains.

At a meeting October 8, an ordinance will be presented ordering the laying of water mains on Circle Drive, Meadow Lane, Orchard Drive, a portion of Roger Lane, Burk Avenue, and a portion of Edward Avenue.

Ear Wax and Bugs

Advice from an ear specialist at a meeting of the International College of Surgeons: The wax in your ears belongs there—leave it alone. It acts as a protective lubricant, helps keep down fungus troubles and infections. Another tip—best way to get a bug out of your ear is to shine a flashlight into it—attracted by the light, the bug will crawl out.

Plentiful Foods

You can expect this in foodstuffs during October, says the Department of Agriculture: Potatoes, large supplies and lower prices than last year; onions, plentiful, prices down from a year ago; beef, peak supplies of lower-priced cuts as grass fed cattle move to market; also plenty of turkeys and dairy products, especially cheese.

Country Living

There's a new booklet out that will help you to do some spare time vegetable growing, or perhaps raise a few cattle. It's "Part-Time Farming," available from the Office of Information, Department of Agriculture, Washington, 25, D. C. Supply of free copies limited.

WHITES TOWER—By Ernest Ryle

Perhaps a small description of our little village would be interesting to our readers, so heretofore: Whites Tower consists of 13 residences, two garages, one cafe and two groceries. Four of the residences, one garage and one grocery have been built in the last nine years. The largest farm in this area is John Shaw's, which is around 200 acres; the next two largest farms are Ralph Howard's and Charles Dorsey's. Mr. Dorsey specializes in purebred Hampshire hogs, with a nucleus of 25 head, and a modern hoghouse of which he is very proud; also a 12' deep lake, stocked with bass and bluegill. Whites Tower got its name from a Mr. White who, 50 years ago, built a large tower here which, by the way, is the highest joint in Kenton county, and would go to the top of this tower and, with a telescope, could see for miles in every direction. Portions of the tower were seen up to a few years ago but now has all disappeared by disintegration.

Miss Mary Ruth Stevenson spent the past week with friends in Whites Tower. Several residents of our village purchased deep freezers the past week. Wedding bells will be ringing here pretty soon, a little bird tells me.

Recommendations For Storing Corn

There have been inquiries at the county agent's office concerning recommendations for protection of corn in storage, according to Joe Claxton, Boone County Farm Agent.

There are several points to consider in storing corn. They are as follows: Provide dry bins; moist corn attracts insects and promotes their development. Clean cribs and destroy crop residues in which insect pests may be living. Screen and shield the building to exclude rats, mice and birds. Spray bins with DDT or Methoxychlor. Fumigate grain that is to be held over. Harvest corn as soon as the crop is dry enough to store. Insect stored corn monthly during the warm period of the year. Turn heated corn or corn out of condition, and artificially dry it if possible.

The control of insects is: Mix shelled seed corn with DDT or Methoxychlor at the rate of 1 pound of 3 percent dust to each bushel of grain. Caution: These mixtures should be used on seed corn only. Treat empty cloth bags with 10 percent DDT in solution with carbon tetrachloride. (See Ky. Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin No. 571). Grain that is free of insects when placed in the treated bags will be protected for a period of about 18 months. Treat empty cloth bags with pyrethrin along of synergized pyrethrins. The finished cloth should contain 10 mg. of pyrethrin per square foot. Fumigate racks of bagged corn in the same manner as the prescribed for wheat and other small grains.

Unfortunately, there is no completely satisfactory treatment for ear corn with insecticides to prevent or infestation of insects or to halt one already established. The use of synergized pyrethrum dusts, applied at cribbing time, may suppress the spread of insects and check damage for a short period of time. Fumigation is, therefore, the recommended treatment. Corn in a crib that is air-tight on the bottom and sides can be fumigated intact. If cribs are slatted and cannot be made air-tight on the bottom and sides then the corn should be moved to a suitable room or bin for the application of fumigants as suggested for wheat and other small grain.

Some tobacco in Oldham county was injured by using insecticides at too heavy a rate or by spraying in the heat of the day.

Despite dry weather, Clyde Linville of Rockcastle county expects a yield of 2,200 pounds an acre of Ky 57 burley tobacco.

Shortage of water and grass forced some farmers in Bell county to sell cattle one to two months earlier than they had planned.

International Day was observed by Ohio county homemakers at their 21st annual meeting.

At the annual flower show held by the Simpsonville Homemakers Club of Shelby county, blooms were entered in 56 classes.

John Lebus, Harrison county, irrigated 10 acres of tobacco, putting on 3 inches of water at three different times.

DISTRICT D.A.R. MEET

More than 250 women from Northern Kentucky attended the Fifth District meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held in the Presbyterian Church, Maysville, Ky., October 2. Delegates from all but one of the 15 chapters in the district attended the one-day meeting.

Mrs. Collis P. Hudson, State Regent, and principal speaker of the morning, urged the assembled women to promote a more vigorous American citizenship to combat the idea of world government. She also urged all members to vote in all elections and delve into the character of the prospective civic office holders before voting for them.

Members were told that the national society and the John Fox Memorial Library at Duncan Tavern, Paris, were free of debt, also that the DAR makes possible the education of 9,000 boys and girls in schools sponsored by the DAR, with assistance to 2,000 students in settlement schools in Kentucky. A new committee has been inaugurated by the President General, Miss Carroway, that of American Red Cross.

The highlight of the day was the talk by Miss Edith Davis, Maysville, who gave a word picture of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

After this interesting talk, announcement was made that the District meeting next year would be held at Paris, with the Jimmie Johnson Chapter serving as host, Mrs. Cassius Clay, Regent.

SUCCESSFUL AUCTION

The Roy Elliott dairy herd, sold at auction on the Bracht-Piner Road, Saturday, by Harry F. Johnson, brought a very good price. The top cow sold for $315, and the herd average was $207. A large crowd was present.

DEADLY WEEK-ENDS

Pleasure time is no time for accidents and sudden death, but unfortunately that is when the grim specter works overtime.

On the average week-end about 290 persons are killed and more than 13,600 injured. In a year's time, week-end and holiday casualties climb to the numbing total of 15,000 dead, 750,000 injured, or about 41 percent of all lives lost annually in traffic accidents.

With a week-end or holiday coming up, families and vacation parties swarm the roads to places of recreation, traffic is congested, driving strain increased—and then the fatal count begins.

Millions of good, bad and indifferent drivers speeding, cutting in, weaving, ignoring the rules of courtesy, challenging traffic controls, provide the lethal ingredients for crashing and killing. Add to this the potion of the drinking driver and the mixture is deadly.

When you plan week-end driving be doubly cautious. Try to avoid peak hours of travel and congested routes. Start early, return before or after the rush. Watch your driving, keep your temper, don't contest the right-of-way—and watch the other driver!

Slow down—take a little longer and bring your family home alive.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union Sunday School Lessons BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: Jeremiah 31:31-34; Malachi 4:1-5; Mark 10:20-22; John 1:1-5; Philippians 4:13; 1 Peter 1:13-22; Devotional Reading: John 3:1-11.

God's New Men

Lesson for October 11, 1953

WHAT would it take to make an ideal world? Or if that seems too large an order, what will it take to improve the world we have? Of course any little thing may improve it a little. A better climate where you live; better laws, a more efficient police force, better equipment for schools and more adequate salaries for teachers; better trade relations with other nations, better government; all these would probably improve the world somewhat. But all the schemes for the improvement of society have struck one rock: the jagged fact of human nature.

Wanted: New Men!

Everybody knows that, to be sure. So when Christians say that what the world needs more than anything else, to make it a better world, is better people, we don't get an argument from anybody who has thought about it. Everybody says, Amen! We do get an argument over the question: How do we get our new men to build the new world? Christians above all should be interested in this question, and indeed they should be working at it. It is not one of these questions that just solves itself if you let it alone.

Consider some of the wrong answers to the problem of how men can be produced. One is the lazy answer: Just leave the human race alone, they'll do all right; human beings just naturally have so much good in them that if the "De-gooders" will just keep their hands off, everything will keep right on improving. Of course that's nonsense, as any one can tell who will take a close look at any part of the world that has been left alone for some time. A world full of people left to do as they please will soon be a mess. Another wrong answer is: Improve the breed.

Take care of heredity, weed out the unfit, let laws of eugenics improve humanity. Well, that won't work, because all that careful breeding can accomplish is no more than improving people's bodies and minds.

God's Design

Not that eugenics isn't a good thing so far as it goes. So is anything that really improves people, as even barber and beauty shops do, a little. But nothing that works on man from the outside will improve him on the inside as he needs to be improved. In fact, what the Bible tells us is the simple truth that man needs not so much to be improved as to be made over.

We don't need revised men, revamped men, re-conditioned men; we need new men. The Bible tells us the truth, that man's nature has been so affected by sin that nothing short of a radical operation will effect a cure. Madame Perkins tells a story of F. D. Roosevelt, that once over a weekend he took home with him some book by Soren Kierkegaard a crabbed but honest Christian philosopher. F. D. R. turned up Monday morning with what to him was a brand-new idea which he had learned from Kierkegaard. "Now I know what's the matter with people," he said. "They're bad!"

The odd thing about that was that F. D. R. was an Episcopalian, and at his own church he must often have joined in the General Confession: "We have left undone those things which we ought to have done, and we have done those things which we ought not to have done, and there is no health in us." No wonder Jesus said: "Ye must be born again!"

The Secret

The secret in a way is simple, but it seems so simple that many persons miss it. How is a man born again? What does he have to do to be born again? The truth is: Nothing. The secret is: God in the heart. What do you do to make your home bright? You just pull up the shades. What do you do to have God's Spirit in your heart? Ask him. Open the door.

You do not have to create the sun, it is out there ready to come in. You can keep it out if you insist but you never have to coax it; you can't pay it to come in. Just raise the shades and in it pours. But just as there is no substitute for sunshine, there is no substitute for God. You, Without God, are part of the problem of the world. You, with God, you, changed by Him, are part of God's design for his better world.

There comes a time in the lives of most children when they lose interest in purely childish things and their minds turn to the serious side of life.

When that happens, they lay aside their toys, begin to read something besides "story books," listen to the conversation of older people, and take pride in their ability to accomplish things. This is the borderland between childhood and youth.

Parents should recognize these symptoms, and should endeavor to give the child the right slant on life. It is the period when characters are shaped.

What better influence could be desired than that of religion? A knowledge of God, the influence and associations of the Church, the thoughts of great teachers—these are the foundations of character that will stand any test.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible daily.

OCTOBER RAIN

Tomorrow is October first, the month with the harvest moon, frost on the pumpkins and corn in the crib. We are selling fodder twine and corn knives, molasses buckets and lard cans. Mrs. Geo. Ruth wanted some five-inch nickel plated stove pipe for her gas stove—I went to at least ten places in Cincinnati and Covington—no five-inch pipe, but all tried to sell me four-inch, and insisted I was wrong in the size, so I came home empty-handed until I found out what size stove really is. While I was in town I tried to buy a hat—I was worse than some woman buying hats—I tried on and looked until I was tired, then decided I had better looking hats at home, so I didn't buy any. I had a bad afternoon.

Chick repaired W. B. Jones' bicycle, the one that was hit by a car. Brewster repaired two electric irons and a blower for an oil heater. I found some coal Hot Blast heaters at last—they will be here in a few days. Brewster installed a Seigler oil heater with outside tank for Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shields, then put up new furnace pipe for Mrs. Emma Flynn. Chick overhauled two more used oil heaters—we go over all trade-ins and clean them out, also put in new parts where needed.

I never aim to sell anything that won't give service. I would rather miss a sale than to have a dissatisfied customer, because they tell their neighbors and I will lose more than if I had not made a sale. There is no better advertising than a satisfied customer. Chick sold John Morgan, from Corinth, a roll of welded fence and a roll of silk kraft paper to build an outdoor silo—better save all the feed you can. Grace Ryan bought a 6x9 piece of linoleum to go under her heating stove.

Brewster and Chick set up an oil heater for Mr. Afterkirk over by Nicholson. Brewster set up a coal heater for Raymond Beach. We are sure selling the heating stoves, and I have had more compliments on what a fine job Brewster does installing them. Lawrence Menefee came in and paid for his furnace pipe, Brewster put on his furnace—he said it was a very nice job, and he was more than satisfied. Chick remodeled two more used oil heaters and made them ready to sell—he remodels the used ones and uncrates the new ones—we both sell them, and Brewster installs them.

Robert Bokelo came in for 5 gallons of Boke outside white paint, a gallon of linseed oil, and a gallon of turpentine—you know you always have to thin Boke paint, which does keep you warm day and night in cold weather. Brewster set up a large cabinet Warm Morning heater for Mr. and Mrs. Alva Woods today. Chick delivered Oakley Easton a Dayton water system and a large Perfection oil heater. Agnes Sleet bought two quarts of tan floor enamel.

Last week in my article about Walton and the different business places, I forgot Buck Gross trucking business, who hauls for farmers and the horse farms—I hope I did not miss anyone else. I received a nice letter from the sales manager of Perfection Stove Co. telling me what a nice article I had about Perfection stoves—I meant every word I said about Perfection stoves—they are in a class high above the other stoves—try one and you will never be sorry. I received several compliments on last week's article about the City of Walton. Some time when I get a lot of nerve, I am going to write about the widows of Walton, and find out what happened to all the men—men just don't live long in Walton.

Just start at one end of town and count the widows through Walton—I know because we work for most all of them—they are a fine bunch of ladies, but there is sure a shortage of men. Saturday was a hot, dry day and very few in town, but what did come bought and went home. Carl and Ultha Justice bought Bolce outside white paint. Oakley Easton came after pipe and fittings to install that new Dayton pump he just bought.

Mrs. Geo. Earl Johns from Gallatin county bought a lot of flex-o-glass and screen glass for her back porch to keep the cold out. Everett Jones loaded up with binder twine and lard cans, also linoleum—those ladies really tell Everett—they just tell him to bring them a piece of linoleum—he picks out the color—it must suit, he never brings any back. Roger Arnold was buying carpenter tools—he is remodeling a house for someone. Mrs. Owen Flynn and mother from Fiskburg, were buying plumbing supplies. Les Ryle from down on the Ohio bought four gallons of Boke red barn paint.

Joy Webster came in for electric fence knobs and No. 14 galvanized wire to put up electric fence. These dry times they have to find more pasture—Joy said he was walking down through the field with one of his foxhounds on a chain, that hound wagged his tail against the electric fence, then got the chain tangled up with the fence wire and did he take off—Joy said he tore down 100 yards of electric fence, and has not been seen since—Joy said when that charge of electricity hit that dog's tail you never saw one have such fits, of course Joy turned him loose—wouldn't you?

I have to many strangers who buy here—today I sold wood heaters, stove pipe, water pipe, gas heaters for the bathroom, screen glass for windows and doors, caulking compound to put around the windows. Mr. Galloway and son, the contractors from Independence, were in—I had not seen them for a long time. Well, it did rain, and will rain more—always rains in October, which is too late to do grass or crops any good—it will help what and we, also make some water, which is really scarce.

Bearcats Down Burlington 18-14

Ryan Scores 3 Touchdowns

—By Ora Crowe—

The Walton-Vernon football team upset the favored Burlington team last Friday night by an 18-14 score.

Burlington pushed over two touchdowns early in the game, but with about two minutes to go in the first half Ryan returned a kickoff 70 yards for Walton's first score. Then about three plays later he intercepted a Burlington pass and went over for Walton's second touchdown, just as the half ended, with the score 14-12 Burlington, the locals having failed on both tries for extra point.

The second half was all Walton-Vernon. Ryan scored his third touchdown shortly after the half began, putting the Bearcats out in front. Burlington never seriously threatened in the final period.

The defensive play of the whole team was outstanding, with Brown and Scott making numerous tackles in Burlington's backfield. Courtney, the only senior on Walton's club, also was a defensive stalwart.

The ball carrying of Chipman and Ringer showed improvement. Chipman also threw several key blocks in aiding the ball carrier make long gains. Pole and Howard played well on offense.

This victory put Walton-Vernon, with two wins and two losses in the conference, into a tie with Hebron and Burlington for second place. Florence climbed into first place last week by defeating New Haven 98-0.

Coach Durham and the football team were treated to a free dinner at the Walton school luncheon Wednesday, by the school, as a reward for their victory over Burlington.

The Cats have only two more games this season. The next one will be Thursday night with New Haven, at Burlington. Friday they go to Austin Traction for their last game.

RYLAND HOMEMAKERS

A most interesting lesson on "Helping the Child to Develop Wholesome Habits," was given by Mrs. F. W. Hermes and Mrs. Everett Wilson at the October meeting of the Ryland Homemakers, held in the home of Mrs. Alfred Damon. They emphasized that parents should realize that it takes years of definite training by the family and by the influences in the community to instill desired character traits in their children. Children are great imitators, therefore, it is essential for the older members of the family to set the proper example for formation of good habits. Poor habits may influence the entire life of a child, thus resulting in a poorly adjusted, unhappy and inefficient adult.

Mrs. Everett Wilson and Miss Ruth Schmidt were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. J. H. Lawson, garden leader, explained that now is the time for planting bulbs for spring blooming. Narcissus, tulips, daffodils, crocus and hyacinths are suggested for an attractive, colorful spring garden. There are many varieties of each available. November is the month for transplanting trees and shrubs.

The first lesson in the making of braided rugs was given by Mrs. William Schwall and Mrs. J. H. Lawson, leaders.

Miss Zelma E. Byerly, home demonstration agent, urged that all who could, attend the annual meeting and luncheon of the homemakers at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel, October 21.

Others attending were: Mesdames Edward Houser, Harold Hoffarth, William Bagby, Oliver Gee, William Barnes, William Damon, O. J. Williams, R. G. Christman, members, and Mrs. H. W. Bratton and Mrs. G. W. Mason, Jr., guests.

The November meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. William Barnes, Kenton.

GEORGE M. COX

Services will be held today (Thursday) at 2:00 p. m. at the Swindler funeral home, Independence, for George M. Cox, 83, lifelong resident of Kenton county, and retired farmer, who died Monday at his home in Independence. Burial will be in Independence Cemetery.

Mr. Cox leaves his widow, Mrs. Linda Ballinger Cox; a daughter, Mrs. Irene Murphy of Lexington; four grandsons, and four great-grandchildren.

JOSEPH B. HEIZER

Services for Joseph B. Heizer, widely known Boone County farmer, were held Monday at his home, Locustbrook Farm, Burialwood Road and U. S. Highway 42. Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Fort Mitchell.

Mr. Heizer, who was 59 years old, died last Thursday in Holmes Hospital, Cincinnati.

A former in Cincinnati and Boone County for the past 30 years, he had received the award certificate of master conservationist last July from the Kentucky Department of Soil Conservation.

The son of the late Joseph and Emma Heizer, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucille Slater Heizer, and a brother, Raymond T. Heizer, Fort Mitchell.

Films Shown at Woman's Club Meet Monday

The adventures of Rear Admiral Richard E. Bird, the Samoa Islands, Saint Augustine, when founded in 1565, and the city as it is today, shown on the screen by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wallace, provided an interesting and informative program for the October meeting of the Walton Woman's Literary Club in the Walton Methodist Church. Mr. Wallace showed the orange groves, the cultivation of the trees and the preparation of the fruit for market.
